his hands, <sup>34</sup>so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, <sup>35</sup>who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt unto its purity; <sup>36</sup>and he placed Jews therein, <sup>37</sup>and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and <sup>38</sup>made high the walls of Jerusalem: <sup>39</sup>and king Demetrius <sup>40</sup>confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, <sup>41</sup>and made him one of his <sup>42</sup>Friends, and honoured him with great honour; <sup>43</sup>for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans <sup>44</sup>friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honourably; <sup>45</sup>and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, <sup>46</sup>until there should arise a faithful prophet; <sup>47</sup>and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, <sup>48</sup>and that he should be obeyed by all, and that <sup>49</sup>all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that <sup>50</sup>he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; <sup>51</sup>and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear <sup>52</sup>a buckle of gold; <sup>53</sup>but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. <sup>54</sup>All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; <sup>55</sup>and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be <sup>56</sup>high priest, and to be captain and <sup>57</sup>governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

of the Jews, greeting: <sup>3</sup>Forasmuch as <sup>v</sup>certain pestilent fellows <sup>2</sup>have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; <sup>4</sup>moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish <sup>a</sup>them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: <sup>5</sup>Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions <sup>b</sup>which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: <sup>6</sup>and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, <sup>7</sup>but <sup>c</sup>that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and <sup>d</sup>the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: <sup>8</sup>and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted unto thee: <sup>9</sup>moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that thy glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them. <sup>20</sup>Moreover it seemed good to us to receive the shield of them. <sup>21</sup>If therefore any <sup>v</sup>pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law.

Ye hold possession of <sup>c</sup>Joppa and <sup>d</sup>Gazara, and <sup>e</sup>the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. <sup>29</sup>The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and <sup>f</sup>got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. <sup>30</sup>Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judæa: <sup>31</sup>or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

<sup>32</sup>And Athenobius the king's <sup>b</sup>Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and <sup>h</sup>his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. <sup>33</sup>And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of <sup>t</sup>the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time. <sup>34</sup> But we, having opportunity, hold fast the inheritance of our fathers. <sup>35</sup> But as touching <sup>c</sup>Joppa and <sup>d</sup>Gazara, which thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give <sup>e</sup>a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, <sup>36</sup> but returned in a rage to the king, and reported unto him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was exceeding wroth. <sup>37</sup> But <sup>k</sup>Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled to the stronghold: <sup>9</sup> at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto <sup>x</sup>Kidron, which <sup>q</sup>Cendebeus had built; <sup>10</sup> and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of <sup>y</sup>Azotus; and <sup>z</sup>he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judæa in peace.

<sup>14</sup> Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to <sup>d</sup>Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in <sup>e</sup>the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month <sup>f</sup>Sebat: <sup>15</sup> and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. <sup>16</sup> And when Simon and his sons <sup>g</sup>had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and <sup>h</sup>his two sons, and certain of his servants.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

I <sup>1</sup>THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judæa, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace; <sup>2</sup>and may God do good unto you, and <sup>3</sup>remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; <sup>3</sup>and give you all a heart to worship him and do his pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; <sup>4</sup>and <sup>5</sup>open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, <sup>5</sup>and hearken to your supplications, and <sup>6</sup>be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. <sup>6</sup>And now we here are praying for you. <sup>7</sup>In the reign of <sup>d</sup>Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that <sup>e</sup>Jason and his company revolted from <sup>f</sup>the holy land and the kingdom, <sup>8</sup>and set <sup>g</sup>the <sup>2</sup>gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and <sup>h</sup>we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the <sup>8</sup>shewbread. <sup>9</sup>And now see that ye keep the days of <sup>i</sup>the feast of tabernacles of the month <sup>j</sup>Chisleu. <sup>10</sup>Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judæa and <sup>k</sup>the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, <sup>l</sup>king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the <sup>m</sup>anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. <sup>11</sup>Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against <sup>n</sup>a king, we thank him greatly. <sup>12</sup>For himself cast forth into <sup>o</sup>Persia them that arrayed themselves <sup>4</sup>against us in <sup>p</sup>the holy city. <sup>13</sup>For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanæa by the treachery of Nanæa's priests. <sup>14</sup>For <sup>q</sup>Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his <sup>r</sup>Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. <sup>15</sup>And when the priests of Nanæa's temple had set <sup>5</sup>the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: <sup>16</sup>and opening the secret door of the panelled cieling, they threw stones and <sup>6</sup>struck down the prince, and they hewed <sup>7</sup>him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. <sup>17</sup>Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

<sup>18</sup>Whereas we are now about to keep <sup>8</sup>the purification of the temple in the month <sup>j</sup>Chisleu, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that <sup>9</sup>ye also may keep <sup>2</sup>a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the temple and the altar. <sup>19</sup>For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, <sup>u</sup>the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. <sup>20</sup>Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, <sup>v</sup>having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, <sup>21</sup>he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when <sup>9</sup>the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests <sup>w</sup>to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon. <sup>22</sup>And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. <sup>23</sup>And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, <sup>x</sup>Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. <sup>24</sup>And the prayer was after this manner: O Lord, Lord God, <sup>y</sup>the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, <sup>25</sup> who alone <sup>26</sup> suppliest every need, who <sup>27</sup> alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: <sup>28</sup> accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard <sup>29</sup> thine own portion, and consecrate it. <sup>30</sup> Gather together our <sup>31</sup> Dispersion, <sup>32</sup> set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and <sup>33</sup> let the heathen know that thou art our God. <sup>34</sup> Torment them that oppress us and in arrogance shamefully entreat us. <sup>35</sup> Plant thy people in <sup>36</sup> thy holy place, even <sup>37</sup> as Moses said.

<sup>1</sup> It is also found in the records, that 2 Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, <sup>2</sup> as hath been signified above: <sup>3</sup> and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither <sup>4</sup> be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. <sup>5</sup> And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. <sup>6</sup> And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, <sup>7</sup> when he went forth into the mountain <sup>8</sup> where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>10</sup> Jeremiah came and found <sup>11</sup> a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and <sup>12</sup> the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. <sup>13</sup> And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. <sup>14</sup> But when <sup>15</sup> Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown <sup>16</sup> until God <sup>17</sup> gather the people again together, and mercy come: <sup>18</sup> and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and <sup>19</sup> the glory of the Lord shall be seen, <sup>20</sup> and the <sup>21</sup> cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses; as also Solomon <sup>22</sup> besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, <sup>23</sup> and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, <sup>24</sup> offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. <sup>25</sup> As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and <sup>26</sup> the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; <sup>27</sup> <sup>28</sup> and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest; <sup>29</sup> and <sup>30</sup> Solomon kept the eight days.

these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. <sup>15</sup>And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar <sup>v</sup>in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him <sup>w</sup>that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. <sup>16</sup>And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. <sup>17</sup>For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him. <sup>18</sup>And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. <sup>19</sup>And the women, <sup>x</sup>girt with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some <sup>y</sup>to the <sup>1</sup>gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. <sup>20</sup>And all, <sup>z</sup>stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. <sup>21</sup>Then it would have pited a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. <sup>29</sup>And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, <sup>30</sup>they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

7 But when <sup>w</sup> Seleucus was deceased, and <sup>w</sup> Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, <sup>v</sup> Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, <sup>8</sup> having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents; <sup>9</sup> and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him <sup>4</sup> through the king's authority to set him up <sup>2a</sup> a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem <sup>as citizens</sup> of Antioch. <sup>10</sup> And when the king <sup>b</sup> had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. <sup>11</sup> And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of <sup>c</sup> Eupolemus, who went on the embassy to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: <sup>12</sup> for he eagerly established <sup>2a</sup> a Greek place of exercise under <sup>d</sup> the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. <sup>13</sup> And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, <sup>e</sup> and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; <sup>14</sup> so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to <sup>5</sup> enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palaestra, after the summons <sup>6</sup> of the discus; <sup>15</sup> making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. <sup>16</sup> By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them.

things, it came to pass that they of <sup>v</sup>Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. <sup>3</sup>The king therefore came to <sup>w</sup>Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his <sup>1</sup>deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. <sup>32</sup>And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, <sup>2</sup>presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into <sup>y</sup>Tyre and the cities round about. <sup>33</sup>And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproveth him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by <sup>2</sup>Antioch. <sup>34</sup>Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him <sup>2</sup>to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and <sup>3</sup>being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he <sup>4</sup>despatched him without regard of justice. <sup>35</sup>For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. <sup>36</sup>And when the king was come back again <sup>a</sup>from the places in <sup>w</sup>Cilicia, the Jews that were <sup>5</sup>in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. <sup>37</sup>Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of <sup>b</sup>the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; <sup>38</sup>and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's <sup>c</sup>purple robe, and <sup>d</sup>rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord <sup>e</sup>rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon <sup>e</sup>Lysimachus and them that were with him; <sup>42</sup>by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside <sup>g</sup>the treasury.

with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. <sup>6j</sup> And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor <sup>k</sup> so much as confess himself to be a Jew. <sup>7</sup> And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint <sup>l</sup> to eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of <sup>m</sup> Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of <sup>n</sup> Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. <sup>8</sup> And there went out a decree <sup>n</sup> to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of <sup>o</sup> Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; <sup>9</sup> and that they should <sup>p</sup> slay such as did not choose to go over to <sup>q</sup> the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: <sup>10r</sup> for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. <sup>11</sup> And others, <sup>s</sup> that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to <sup>t</sup> Philip were all burnt together, <sup>u</sup> because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

<sup>12</sup> I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, <sup>v</sup> but for the chastening of our race. <sup>13</sup> For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. <sup>14</sup> For in the case of the other nations <sup>w</sup> the Sovereign Lord doth with long-suffering forbear, until that he punish them when <sup>x</sup> they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, <sup>15</sup> that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, <sup>16</sup> when we be come unto the <sup>y</sup> height of our sins. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but <sup>z</sup> though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. <sup>17</sup> Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; <sup>a</sup> but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste. <sup>21</sup> But they that had the charge of that forbidden <sup>c</sup> sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king; <sup>22</sup> that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them <sup>d</sup> might be treated kindly. <sup>23</sup> But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and <sup>e</sup> the gray hairs <sup>e</sup> which he had reached with honour, and his excellent <sup>f</sup> education from a child, <sup>7or</sup> rather that became the holy <sup>8</sup> laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades. <sup>24</sup> For it cometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto <sup>f</sup> an alien religion; <sup>25</sup> and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, <sup>9</sup> and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age. <sup>26</sup> For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I <sup>9</sup> not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine old age, <sup>28</sup> and <sup>10</sup> leave behind <sup>a</sup> a noble example to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. <sup>29</sup> <sup>11</sup> And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because <sup>12</sup> these words of his were, as they thought, <sup>1</sup> sheer madness, <sup>30</sup> and when he was at the point to die <sup>j</sup> with the <sup>13</sup> stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, <sup>k</sup> whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body <sup>j</sup> by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. <sup>31</sup> So this man also died after this manner, <sup>l</sup> leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

cords, to compel them to taste of <sup>m</sup> the abominable swine's flesh. <sup>n</sup> But one of them made himself <sup>n</sup> the spokesman and said, What wouldst thou ask and learn of us? <sup>o</sup> for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. <sup>p</sup> And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons: <sup>q</sup> and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. <sup>r</sup> And when he was utterly <sup>r</sup> maimed, <sup>s</sup> the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: <sup>t</sup> The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is <sup>t</sup> intreated for us, as Moses declared in <sup>t</sup> this song, which witnesseth against <sup>t</sup> the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be <sup>t</sup> intreated for his servants.

<sup>x</sup> And after him was the third made a mockingstock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, <sup>y</sup> and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I condemn these; and from him I hope <sup>y</sup> to receive these back again: <sup>z</sup> insomuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; <sup>ae</sup> but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, <sup>ae</sup> how it will torture thee and thy seed.

<sup>af</sup> And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, <sup>af</sup> for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; <sup>ag</sup> but think not thou <sup>ag</sup> that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed <sup>ag</sup> to fight against God.

<sup>am</sup> But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, <sup>am</sup> and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to <sup>am</sup> him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that <sup>am</sup> he would enrich him and <sup>am</sup> raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the <sup>am</sup> customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his <sup>am</sup> Friend and intrust him with affairs. <sup>an</sup> But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. <sup>ao</sup> And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. <sup>ap</sup> But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus <sup>ap</sup> in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. <sup>aq</sup> I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God <sup>aq</sup> made them not of things that were, and <sup>aq</sup> that the race of men in this wise cometh into being. <sup>ar</sup> Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God <sup>f</sup>I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

<sup>30</sup> But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. <sup>31</sup> But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against <sup>g</sup>the Hebrews, <sup>h</sup>shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. <sup>32</sup> For we are suffering because of our own sins; <sup>33</sup> and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered <sup>i</sup>a little while, yet shall he again be <sup>k</sup>reconciled with his own servants. <sup>34</sup> But thou, O unholly man and of all most vile, <sup>l</sup>be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; <sup>35</sup> <sup>m</sup>for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God <sup>n</sup>that seeth all things. <sup>36</sup> For these our brethren, <sup>o</sup>having endured a <sup>1</sup>short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now <sup>2</sup>died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, <sup>3</sup>shalt receive in just measure the penalties of justice arrogancy. <sup>37</sup> But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become <sup>4</sup>gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues <sup>5</sup>mayest confess that he alone is God; <sup>38</sup> and that in me and my brethren <sup>4</sup>thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, <sup>q</sup>which hath been justly brought upon our whole race, <sup>39</sup> But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. <sup>40</sup> So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

<sup>42</sup> Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

<sup>8</sup> But <sup>i</sup>Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. <sup>2</sup> And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on <sup>3</sup>the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; <sup>3</sup> and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood <sup>v</sup>that cried unto him; <sup>4</sup> and to remember also <sup>w</sup>the lawless <sup>5</sup>slaughter of the innocent infants, and <sup>6</sup>the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. <sup>5</sup> And when Maccabæus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, <sup>6</sup>for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. <sup>6</sup> And coming unawares <sup>7</sup>he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, <sup>7</sup>he specially <sup>8</sup>took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

<sup>12</sup> But tidings came to Judas <sup>i</sup>concerning the inroad of <sup>c</sup>Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, <sup>13</sup>they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God <sup>10</sup>ran away and left the country. <sup>14</sup> And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold <sup>as</sup> slaves by the impious <sup>c</sup>Nicanor or ever he met them; <sup>15</sup> and <sup>this</sup>, if not for their own sakes, yet for the <sup>k</sup>covenants made with their fathers, and because <sup>h</sup>he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. <sup>16</sup> And Maccabæus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, <sup>m</sup>and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, <sup>17</sup>setting before their eyes the outrage that had been law-lessly perpetrated upon <sup>a</sup>the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. <sup>b</sup>For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but <sup>c</sup>we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. <sup>d</sup>And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both <sup>e</sup>the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, <sup>f</sup>and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against <sup>g</sup>the <sup>h</sup>Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that the Macedonians being hard pressed, the <sup>i</sup>six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. <sup>j</sup>And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die <sup>k</sup>for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; <sup>l</sup>and appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, <sup>m</sup>Simon and <sup>n</sup>Joseph and <sup>o</sup>Jonathan, giving each the command of hundred hundred men, <sup>p</sup>and moreover <sup>q</sup>Eleazar also; then, having read aloud the sacred book, and <sup>r</sup>having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, <sup>s</sup>he joined battle with Nicanor. <sup>t</sup>And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand,

and wounded <sup>u</sup>and disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee; <sup>v</sup>and they took the money of <sup>w</sup>those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some <sup>x</sup>distance, they returned,
being constrained by the time of the day; <sup>y</sup>for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. <sup>z</sup>And <sup>aa</sup>when they had gathered <sup>ab</sup>the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off <sup>ac</sup>their spoils, <sup>ad</sup>they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. <sup>ae</sup>And after the sabbath, when they had given of <sup>af</sup>the spoils to the <sup>ag</sup>maimed, and to <sup>ah</sup>the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children.

<sup>ai</sup>And when they had accomplished
these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought <sup>aj</sup>the merciful Lord to be wholly <sup>ak</sup>reconciled with his servants.

<sup>al</sup>And having had an encounter with the forces of <sup>am</sup>Timotheus and <sup>an</sup>Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the <sup>ao</sup>maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. <sup>ap</sup>And <sup>aq</sup>when they had gathered the arms <sup>ar</sup>of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem.
<sup>as</sup>And they killed the <sup>at</sup>phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholly man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. <sup>au</sup>And as they kept the feast of victory in the <sup>av</sup>city of their fathers, they burned those that had <sup>aw</sup>set the sacred <sup>ax</sup>gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into <sup>ay</sup>an outhouse; and so they received <sup>az</sup>the meet reward of their impiety.

who had brought the thousand merchants <sup>bc</sup>to buy the Jews for slaves, being <sup>bd</sup>through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and passing through the midland, <sup>be</sup>shunning all company
like a fugitive slave, arrived at <sup>bf</sup>Antioch, <sup>bg</sup>having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his host was destroyed. <sup>bh</sup>And he that had taken upon him <sup>bi</sup>to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem <sup>bj</sup>published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that <sup>bk</sup>because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

order from the region of Persia.
<sup>bp</sup>For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob <sup>bq</sup>a temple and to hold down the city.
Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and <sup>br</sup>Antiochus and his men turned to make defence with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke up his camp with disgrace.
<sup>bu</sup>news was brought him what had happened unto <sup>bv</sup>Nicanor and the forces of

Wherefore, <sup>2</sup> the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem <sup>3</sup> a common graveyard of Jews, when I come there. 5 But <sup>4</sup> the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a <sup>5</sup> fatal and invisible stroke; <sup>6</sup> and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; 6 and <sup>7</sup> that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. 7 But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogance, <sup>8</sup> breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. 8 And he that but now supposed himself <sup>9</sup> to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought <sup>10</sup> to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried <sup>11</sup> in a litter, <sup>12</sup> shewing unto all that the power was manifestly God's; <sup>13</sup> so that out of the body of the impious man <sup>14</sup> worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. <sup>15</sup> And the man that a little afore supposed himself <sup>16</sup> to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. <sup>17</sup> Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken <sup>18</sup> in spirit, and to come to knowledge unto the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. <sup>19</sup> And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right <sup>20</sup> to be subject unto God, <sup>21</sup> and that one who is mortal should not <sup>22</sup> be minded arrogantly. <sup>23</sup> And the vile man vowed unto the <sup>24</sup> Sovereign Lord, who now <sup>25</sup> no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: <sup>26</sup> that <sup>27</sup> the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to <sup>28</sup> make it <sup>29</sup> a common graveyard, he would declare free; <sup>30</sup> and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens	of <sup>31</sup> Athens; <sup>32</sup> and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore <sup>33</sup> all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and <sup>34</sup> out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; <sup>35</sup> and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. <sup>36</sup> But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect: <sup>37</sup> To the worthy Jews, <sup>38</sup> this fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. <sup>39</sup> May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, <sup>40</sup> I remembered with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning <sup>41</sup> out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, <sup>42</sup> not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. <sup>43</sup> But considering that my father also, at what time <sup>44</sup> he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, <sup>45</sup> to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they <sup>46</sup> that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; <sup>47</sup> and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, <sup>48</sup> I have appointed my son Antiochus <sup>49</sup> to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. <sup>50</sup> I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance <sup>51</sup> the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. <sup>52</sup> For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence. <sup>53</sup> So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. <sup>54</sup> And <sup>55</sup> Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body <sup>56</sup> home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to <sup>57</sup> Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.	<sup>1</sup> Cp. ch. 6. 1. <sup>2</sup> ch. 5. 16. <sup>3</sup> See ch. 3. 3. <sup>4</sup> Cp. ch. 4. 9, 19 &amp; 5. 23. <sup>5</sup> ver. 1. <sup>6</sup> Cp. 1 Macc. 3. 37. <sup>7</sup> See 1 Macc. 1. 10. <sup>8</sup> See ver. 14 —16. <sup>9</sup> Cp. 1 Macc. 6. 16. <sup>10</sup> 1 Macc. 6. 14, 55, 63. <sup>11</sup> ch. 4. 21. IO <sup>1</sup>And Maccabæus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, <sup>2</sup>recovered the temple and the city; <sup>3</sup>and they pulled down <sup>4</sup>the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred inclosures. <sup>5</sup>And <sup>6</sup>having cleansed the sanctuary <sup>7</sup>they made another altar of sacrifice; and <sup>8</sup>striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, <sup>9</sup>and burned incense, and <sup>10</sup>lighted lamps, and set forth the shewbread. <sup>11</sup>And when they had done these things, <sup>12</sup>they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, <sup>13</sup>they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. <sup>14</sup>Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is <sup>15</sup>Chisleu. <sup>16</sup>And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that <sup>17</sup>not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. <sup>18</sup>Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, <sup>19</sup>and fair boughs, and <sup>20</sup>palms also, <sup>21</sup>they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. <sup>22</sup>They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year. <sup>23</sup>And <sup>24</sup>such was the end of <sup>25</sup>Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes. <sup>26</sup>But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named <sup>27</sup>Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the <sup>28</sup>successive evils of the wars. <sup>29</sup>For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one <sup>30</sup>Nysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Coele Syria and Phenicia. <sup>31</sup>For <sup>32</sup>Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to <sup>33</sup>conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms. <sup>34</sup>Whereupon being accused by the king's <sup>35</sup>Friends before <sup>36</sup>Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned <sup>37</sup>Cyprus which <sup>38</sup>Philometor had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto <sup>39</sup>Antiochus called Epiphanes, and <sup>40</sup>failing to uphold the honour of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for a refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. <sup>29</sup> But when the battle waxed strong, e there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; <sup>1</sup> and two of them, f leading on the Jews, <sup>30</sup> and taking Maccabæus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. <sup>31</sup> And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

<sup>32</sup> But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called g Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, h Chæreas being in command there. <sup>33</sup> But Maccabæus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. <sup>34</sup> And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. <sup>35</sup> But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabæus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with <sup>2</sup> furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. <sup>36</sup> And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires <sup>1</sup> burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. <sup>37</sup> And they slew f Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chæreas, and Apollonaphanes. <sup>38</sup> And when they had accomplished these things, k they blessed the Lord <sup>1</sup> with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

and drawing near to a Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about <sup>4</sup> five leagues, he pressed it hard. <sup>6</sup> But when Maccabæus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord <sup>7</sup> to send a good angel to save Israel. <sup>7</sup> And Maccabæus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. <sup>8</sup> And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared <sup>8</sup> at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing <sup>9</sup> weapons of gold. <sup>9</sup> And they all together praised <sup>10</sup> the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to <sup>6</sup> assail not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, <sup>10</sup> they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. <sup>11</sup> And hurling themselves <sup>11</sup> like lions upon the enemy, <sup>11</sup> they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. <sup>12</sup> But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. <sup>13</sup> But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that <sup>13</sup> the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again unto them, <sup>14</sup> and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and <sup>15</sup> promised <sup>15</sup> that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. <sup>15</sup> And Maccabæus gave consent upon all the conditions which <sup>16</sup> Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever requests Maccabæus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. <sup>16</sup> For the letters written unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

Lysias unto the <sup>8</sup> people of the Jews, greeting. <sup>17</sup> John and <sup>18</sup> Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the <sup>9</sup> petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. <sup>18</sup> What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. <sup>19</sup> If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your good. <sup>20</sup> <sup>10</sup> And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you.

<sup>22</sup> And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus unto his <sup>a</sup> brother Lysias, greeting. <sup>23</sup> Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom <sup>24</sup> should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, <sup>24</sup> we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose <sup>b</sup> to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request <sup>c</sup> that the customs of their law be allowed unto them,—<sup>25</sup> choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from <sup>8</sup> disturbance, we determine that their temple <sup>d</sup> be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. <sup>26</sup> Thou wilt therefore do well to send messengers unto them and give them <sup>e</sup> the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

King Antiochus to <sup>f</sup> the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. <sup>28</sup> If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. <sup>29</sup> <sup>g</sup> Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. <sup>30</sup> They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our <sup>4</sup> friendship, with full permission <sup>31</sup> that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. <sup>32</sup> Moreover I have sent <sup>g</sup> Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. <sup>33</sup> <sup>h</sup> Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the people of the Jews, greeting. <sup>35</sup> In regard to the things which <sup>j</sup> Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. <sup>36</sup> But as for the things which he judged <sup>k</sup> should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to <sup>l</sup> Antioch. <sup>37</sup> Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. <sup>38</sup> <sup>h</sup> Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

inhabited by a mixed multitude of diverse nations; and it was named Caspin. <sup>14</sup> But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. <sup>15</sup> But Judas and his company, calling upon <sup>w</sup> the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war <sup>2</sup> hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; <sup>16</sup> and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

will <sup>6</sup> be shewn to these. <sup>25</sup> So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

39 And on the day following, <sup>1</sup>at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, <sup>2</sup>and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back unto the sepulchres of their fathers. <sup>3</sup>But under the garments of each one of the dead they found <sup>4</sup>consecrated tokens of the idols of <sup>5</sup>Jamnia, <sup>6</sup>which the law forbids the Jews to have again to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. <sup>7</sup>All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, <sup>8</sup>the righteous Judge, <sup>9</sup>who maketh manifest the things that are hid, <sup>10</sup>betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. <sup>11</sup>And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand <sup>12</sup>drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer <sup>13</sup>a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took thought for <sup>14</sup>a resurrection. <sup>15</sup>For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. <sup>16</sup>And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that <sup>17</sup>die <sup>18</sup>in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made <sup>19</sup>the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a <sup>35</sup>gallery <sup>36</sup>descending sheer on every side into the ashes. <sup>37</sup>Here him that is <sup>38</sup>guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they <sup>39</sup>all push forward into destruction. <sup>40</sup>By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, <sup>41</sup>Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as <sup>42</sup>a grave in the earth, and <sup>43</sup>that right justly; <sup>44</sup>for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins <sup>45</sup>against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

<sup>46</sup>Now the king, <sup>47</sup>inraged in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. <sup>48</sup>But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, <sup>49</sup>beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, <sup>50</sup>and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. <sup>51</sup>So when they had all done the same thing together, <sup>52</sup>beseeching <sup>53</sup>the merciful Lord <sup>54</sup>with weeping and fastings and <sup>55</sup>prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for service. <sup>56</sup>And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judæa and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter <sup>57</sup>in fight <sup>58</sup>by the help of <sup>59</sup>God. <sup>60</sup>And committing the decision to <sup>61</sup>the <sup>62</sup>Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death <sup>63</sup>for laws, temple, city, country, <sup>64</sup>commonwealth, he pitched his camp by <sup>65</sup>Modin. <sup>66</sup>And <sup>67</sup>having given out to his men the watchword, VICTORY IS GOD'S, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp <sup>68</sup>by night and penetrated to the king's <sup>69</sup>tent, and slew <sup>70</sup>of the <sup>71</sup>army as many as two thousand men, and <sup>72</sup>brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the <sup>73</sup>tower upon him. <sup>74</sup>And at last they filled the <sup>75</sup>army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. <sup>76</sup>And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of <sup>77</sup>the Lord's protection that gave <sup>78</sup>Judas help.

turned back, failed, was defeated. <sup>20</sup> And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were within.

<sup>17</sup> But one <sup>18</sup> Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times <sup>19</sup> when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, came to king <sup>20</sup> Demetrius <sup>21</sup> in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him <sup>22</sup> a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of <sup>23</sup> the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; <sup>24</sup> but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto, <sup>25</sup> Those of the Jews that be called <sup>26</sup> Hasidæans, whose leader is Judas Maccabeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore, having laid aside mine <sup>28</sup> ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come <sup>29</sup> hither; <sup>30</sup> first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. <sup>31</sup> But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which <sup>32</sup> is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. <sup>33</sup> For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. <sup>34</sup> And when he had spoken such words as these, at once <sup>35</sup> the rest of the king's <sup>36</sup> Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. <sup>37</sup> And forthwith appointing <sup>38</sup> Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judea, he sent him forth, <sup>39</sup> giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him and to set up <sup>40</sup> Alcimus as high priest of the <sup>41</sup> great temple. <sup>42</sup> And <sup>43</sup> those in Judea that <sup>44</sup> had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

<sup>53</sup> Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. <sup>54</sup> Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. <sup>55</sup> So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the <sup>56</sup> troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. <sup>57</sup> And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; <sup>58</sup> Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, <sup>59</sup> lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. <sup>23</sup>Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. <sup>24</sup>And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; <sup>25</sup>he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

<sup>26</sup>But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, <sup>1</sup>and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto <sup>2</sup>Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed <sup>3</sup>that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. <sup>27</sup>And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabæus prisoner unto <sup>4</sup>Antioch in all haste. <sup>28</sup>And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; <sup>29</sup>but because there was no dealing against the king, <sup>30</sup>he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. <sup>31</sup>But Maccabæus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruder in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

should be set among us; <sup>36</sup>so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house <sup>14</sup>that hath been lately cleansed.

<sup>38</sup>For in the former times <sup>17</sup>when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been <sup>18</sup>accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. <sup>39</sup>And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; <sup>40</sup>for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. <sup>41</sup>But when the <sup>19</sup>troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, <sup>42</sup>choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: <sup>43</sup>but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. <sup>44</sup>But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of <sup>20</sup>his side. <sup>45</sup>And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, <sup>46</sup>when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of <sup>21</sup>the life and the <sup>22</sup>spirit <sup>23</sup>to restore him <sup>24</sup>these again, he thus died.

<sup>25</sup>But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of <sup>26</sup>Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. <sup>27</sup>And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he <sup>28</sup>that beholdeth all things <sup>29</sup>hath <sup>30</sup>honoured and hallowed above other days; <sup>31</sup>then <sup>32</sup>the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were <sup>33</sup>a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sabbath day. <sup>34</sup>And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. <sup>18</sup> For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; <sup>17</sup> but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. <sup>19</sup> And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

<sup>6</sup> And Nicanor, <sup>6</sup> bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: <sup>7</sup> but Maccabeus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>7</sup> he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the <sup>4</sup> inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind <sup>6</sup> the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; <sup>9</sup> and comforting them out of <sup>7</sup> the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. <sup>10</sup> And when he had roused their <sup>6</sup> spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. <sup>11</sup> And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream <sup>6</sup> worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. <sup>12</sup> And the vision of that dream was this: He saw <sup>10</sup> Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, <sup>13</sup> with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews; <sup>13</sup> thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: <sup>14</sup> and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and <sup>15</sup> the holy city, <sup>15</sup> Jeremiah the prophet of God: <sup>15</sup> and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, <sup>16</sup> Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:— 'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:— 'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tindale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:— 'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—‘The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.’ This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should ‘be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,’ which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—‘No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.’ Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—‘The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as high as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.’ The Translators had also the liberty, in ‘any place of special obscurity,’ to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek Text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek Text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are, — Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatic peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated, — the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament, — all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that His favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in His name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

which is, being interpreted, God <sup>ar</sup> with us. <sup>24</sup> And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his wife; <sup>25</sup> and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and <sup>as</sup> he called his name Jesus.

scribes of the people, he inquired of them where <sup>p</sup>the Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa: for thus it is written <sup>1</sup>by the prophet,

6 <sup>q</sup>And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,

Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

For out of thee shall come forth a governor,

Which shall be <sup>r</sup>shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the <sup>2</sup>wise men, and learned of them carefully <sup>3</sup>what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found <sup>him</sup>, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him. 9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother: and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures <sup>s</sup>they offered unto him gifts, <sup>t</sup>gold and <sup>u</sup>frankincense and <sup>v</sup>myrrh. 12 And <sup>w</sup>being warned of <sup>God</sup> <sup>x</sup>in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 Now when they were departed, behold, <sup>y</sup>an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt; 15 and was there until the death of Herod: <sup>z</sup>that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the <sup>2</sup>wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the <sup>2</sup>wise men. 17 <sup>b</sup>Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>1</sup>by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 <sup>c</sup>A voice was heard in Ramah, Weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; And she would not be comforted, because they <sup>d</sup>are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,

20 saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for <sup>e</sup>they are dead that sought the young child's life. 21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judæa in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and <sup>f</sup>being warned of <sup>God</sup> in a dream, he withdrew into the parts of Galilee, 23 and came and dwelt in a city called <sup>g</sup>Nazareth: <sup>h</sup>that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>1</sup>by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

"The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

"Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had <sup>p</sup>his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was <sup>q</sup>locusts and <sup>r</sup>wild honey. 5 Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region round about Jordan; 6 and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, <sup>s</sup>confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of <sup>t</sup>the Pharisees and <sup>u</sup>Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, <sup>v</sup>Ye offspring of <sup>w</sup>vipers, who warned you to flee from <sup>x</sup>the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruit <sup>y</sup>worthy of <sup>z</sup>repentance: 9 and think not to say within yourselves,

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,
 Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

 Toward the sea, beyond Jordan,

 The people which sat in darkness

Saw a great light,
 And to them which sat in the region and <sup>v</sup> shadow of death,
 To them did light spring up.

<sup>18</sup> And walking by <sup>d</sup> the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea ; for they were fishers. <sup>19</sup> And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you <sup>e</sup> fishers of men. <sup>20</sup> And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. <sup>21</sup> And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, <sup>11</sup> James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets ; and he called them. <sup>22</sup> And they

it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. <sup>14</sup> Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. <sup>15</sup> Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. <sup>16</sup> Even so let your light shine before men, <sup>17</sup> that they may see your good works, and <sup>18</sup> glorify your Father which is in heaven.

till thou have paid the last farthing.

27<sup>1</sup> Ye have heard that it was said, <sup>m</sup>Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 but I say unto you, that <sup>n</sup>every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. 29<sup>o</sup> And if thy right eye <sup>p</sup>causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into <sup>q</sup>hell. 30<sup>r</sup> And if thy right hand <sup>r</sup>causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into <sup>s</sup>hell. 31<sup>t</sup> It was said also, <sup>u</sup>Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32<sup>v</sup> but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and <sup>w</sup>whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, <sup>x</sup>ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, <sup>y</sup>Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but <sup>z</sup>thou shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 but I say unto you, <sup>a</sup>Swear not at all: neither by the heaven, for <sup>b</sup>it is the throne of God; 35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor <sup>c</sup>by Jerusalem, for it is <sup>d</sup>the city of the great King. 36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. 37<sup>e</sup> But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and <sup>f</sup>whatsoever is more than these is of <sup>g</sup>the evil one.

43<sup>t</sup> Ye have heard that it was said,

2<sup>j</sup> When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may <sup>k</sup>have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have <sup>l</sup>received their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: 4 that thine alms may be in secret: <sup>m</sup>and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love <sup>n</sup>to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. <sup>o</sup>Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, <sup>p</sup>enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, <sup>q</sup>and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. 7 And in praying use not vain repetitions, as <sup>r</sup>the Gentiles do: for <sup>s</sup>they think that they shall be heard <sup>t</sup>for their much speaking. 8 Be not therefore like unto them: <sup>u</sup>for <sup>v</sup>your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. 9<sup>w</sup> After this manner therefore pray ye: <sup>x</sup>Our Father which art in heaven, <sup>y</sup>Hallowed be <sup>z</sup>thy name. 10<sup>a</sup> Thy kingdom come. <sup>b</sup>Thy will be done, <sup>c</sup>as in heaven, so on earth. 11<sup>d</sup> Give us <sup>e</sup>this day <sup>f</sup>our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. 13 And <sup>r</sup>bring us not into temptation, but <sup>s</sup>deliver us from <sup>12</sup>the evil one.<sup>2u</sup> 14 <sup>v</sup>For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 <sup>w</sup>But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover <sup>x</sup>when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. <sup>y</sup>Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, <sup>z</sup>anoint thy head, and wash thy face: 18 that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: <sup>a</sup>and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

24 <sup>j</sup>No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and <sup>k</sup>mammon. 25 <sup>l</sup>Therefore I say unto you, <sup>m</sup>Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 <sup>n</sup>Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. <sup>o</sup>Are not ye of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his <sup>p</sup>stature? 28 And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 yet I say unto you, that <sup>q</sup>even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, <sup>r</sup>shall he not much more clothe you, <sup>s</sup>O ye of little faith? 31 Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do <sup>t</sup>the Gentiles seek; <sup>u</sup>for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But <sup>v</sup>seek ye first <sup>w</sup>his kingdom, and his righteousness; <sup>x</sup>and all these things shall be added unto you. 34 <sup>y</sup>Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

6 <sup>d</sup>Give not that which is holy unto <sup>e</sup>the dogs, neither cast your <sup>f</sup>pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 <sup>g</sup>Ask, <sup>h</sup>and it shall be given you; <sup>i</sup>seek, and ye shall find; <sup>j</sup>knock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for <sup>k</sup>a loaf, will give him <sup>l</sup>a stone; 10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, <sup>m</sup>being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall <sup>n</sup>your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? 12 <sup>1</sup>All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is <sup>2</sup>the law and the prophets.

13 <sup>3</sup>Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide <sup>4</sup>is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. 14 <sup>5</sup>For narrow is the gate, and straitened <sup>6</sup>the way, that leadeth unto life, and <sup>7</sup>few be they that find it.

15 <sup>8</sup>Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are <sup>9</sup>ravens wolves. 16 <sup>10</sup>By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? 17 Even so <sup>11</sup>every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. 18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Therefore <sup>12</sup>by their fruits ye shall know them. 21 <sup>13</sup>Not every one that <sup>14</sup>saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall <sup>15</sup>enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that <sup>16</sup>doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22 <sup>17</sup>Many will say to me <sup>18</sup>in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not <sup>19</sup>prophesy by thy name, and <sup>20</sup>by thy name cast out <sup>21</sup>devils, and by thy name do many <sup>22</sup>mighty works? 23 <sup>23</sup>And then will I profess unto them, I <sup>24</sup>never knew you: <sup>25</sup>depart from me, <sup>26</sup>ye that work iniquity. 24 <sup>27</sup>Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto <sup>28</sup>a wise man, which built his house upon the rock: 25 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock. 26 And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto <sup>29</sup>a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: 27 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, <sup>1</sup>the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: 29 <sup>2</sup>for he taught them as <sup>3</sup>one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 <sup>1</sup>And when he was come down from the mountain, <sup>2</sup>great multitudes followed him. 2 And behold, there came to him a leper and <sup>3</sup>worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 3 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus saith unto him, <sup>5</sup>See thou tell no man; but go thy way, <sup>6</sup>shew thyself to the priest, and <sup>7</sup>offer the gift that Moses commanded, <sup>8</sup>for a testimony unto them.

5 And <sup>9</sup>when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, 6 and saying, Lord, my <sup>7</sup>servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. 7 And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not <sup>9</sup>worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but <sup>10</sup>only say <sup>11</sup>the word, and my <sup>12</sup>servant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man <sup>13</sup>under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my <sup>14</sup>servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 And when Jesus heard it, <sup>15</sup>he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, <sup>16</sup>I have not found so great <sup>17</sup>faith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, that <sup>18</sup>many shall come from the east and the west, and shall <sup>19</sup>sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 but the sons of the kingdom <sup>20</sup>shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: <sup>21</sup>there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; <sup>22</sup>was thou hast believed, <sup>23</sup>so be it done unto thee. <sup>24</sup>And the <sup>25</sup>servant was healed in that hour.

wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he <sup>a</sup> touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many <sup>1b</sup> possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits <sup>c</sup> with a word, and healed all that were sick: 17 <sup>d</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>2</sup> by Isaiah the prophet, saying, <sup>e</sup> Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

23 <sup>k</sup> And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but <sup>l</sup> he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, <sup>m</sup> Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye <sup>n</sup> fearful, <sup>o</sup> O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and <sup>p</sup> rebuked the winds and the sea; and <sup>q</sup> there was a great calm. 27 And the men <sup>r</sup> marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even <sup>s</sup> the winds and the sea obey him?

the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine; and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were <sup>1z</sup> possessed with devils. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, <sup>a</sup> they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

ciples of John, saying, <sup>1</sup>Why do we and <sup>2</sup>the Pharisees fast <sup>1</sup>oft, but thy disciples fast not? <sup>15</sup>And Jesus said unto them, <sup>16</sup>Can the sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but <sup>17</sup>the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and <sup>18</sup>then will they fast. <sup>16</sup>And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. <sup>17</sup>Neither do men put new wine into old <sup>18</sup>wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

<sup>18</sup>While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came <sup>19</sup>a ruler, and <sup>20</sup>worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. <sup>19</sup>And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. <sup>20</sup>And behold, a woman, <sup>21</sup>who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched <sup>22</sup>the border of his garment: <sup>21</sup>for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be <sup>23</sup>made whole. <sup>22</sup>But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, <sup>24</sup>be of good cheer; thy faith hath <sup>25</sup>made thee whole. <sup>24</sup>And the woman was <sup>26</sup>made whole from that hour. <sup>23</sup>And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw <sup>27</sup>the flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, <sup>24</sup>he said, Give place: for <sup>28</sup>the damsel is not dead, but <sup>29</sup>sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. <sup>25</sup>But <sup>30</sup>when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and <sup>31</sup>took her by the hand; and the damsel arose. <sup>26</sup>And <sup>32</sup>the fame hereof went forth into all that land.

<sup>27</sup>And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, <sup>28</sup>thou son of David. <sup>28</sup>And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. <sup>29</sup>Then touched he their eyes, saying, <sup>30</sup>According to your faith be it done unto

you. <sup>30</sup>And their eyes were opened, and Jesus <sup>31</sup>strictly charged them, saying, <sup>32</sup>See that no man know it. <sup>31</sup>But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

<sup>35</sup>And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. <sup>36</sup>But <sup>37</sup>when he saw the multitudes, <sup>38</sup>he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, <sup>39</sup>as sheep not having a shepherd. <sup>37</sup>Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. <sup>38</sup>Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he <sup>39</sup>send forth labourers into

for "the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. 12 And as ye enter into the house, <sup>o</sup>salute it. 13 And if the house be <sup>p</sup>worthy, let <sup>q</sup>your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let <sup>q</sup>your peace <sup>r</sup>return to you. 14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, <sup>s</sup>shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, <sup>t</sup>It shall be more tolerable for <sup>t</sup>the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. 27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak ye in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, proclaim upon <sup>q</sup>the housetops. 28 And <sup>r</sup>be not afraid of them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him <sup>s</sup>which is able to destroy both soul and body in <sup>t</sup>hell. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father: 30 but <sup>u</sup>the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Fear not therefore; <sup>v</sup>ye are of more value than many sparrows. 32 <sup>v</sup>Every one therefore who shall confess <sup>w</sup>me before men, <sup>x</sup>him will I also confess before my Father which is in heaven. 33 But <sup>x</sup>whosoever shall deny me before men, <sup>y</sup>him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 <sup>z</sup>Think not that I came to <sup>z</sup>send peace on the earth: <sup>a</sup>I came not to <sup>z</sup>send peace, but a sword. 35 <sup>a</sup>For I came <sup>b</sup>to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law: 36 <sup>c</sup>and a man's foes <sup>c</sup>shall be they of his own household. 37 <sup>d</sup>He that loveth father or mother more than me is not <sup>e</sup>worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And <sup>f</sup>he that doth not take his cross and <sup>g</sup>follow after me, is not worthy of me. 39 <sup>h</sup>He that <sup>h</sup>findeth his <sup>i</sup>life shall lose it; and he that <sup>i</sup>loseth his <sup>i</sup>life for my sake shall find it.

40 <sup>j</sup>He that receiveth you receiveth me, and <sup>j</sup>he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 <sup>k</sup>He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And <sup>l</sup>whosoever shall give to drink unto one of <sup>m</sup>these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath. <sup>3</sup> But he said unto them, <sup>1</sup> Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him; <sup>4</sup> how he entered into the house of God, and <sup>1</sup> did eat <sup>m</sup> the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? <sup>5</sup> Or have ye not read <sup>n</sup> in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? <sup>6</sup> But I say unto you, <sup>o</sup> that <sup>2</sup> one greater than the temple is, here. <sup>7</sup> But if ye had known <sup>p</sup> what this meaneth, <sup>q</sup> I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. <sup>8</sup> For <sup>r</sup> the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

Neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets.

dance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 35 The good man out of his good treasure bringeth forth good things: and the evil man out of his evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. 36 And I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgement. 37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, 1 Master, we would see a sign from thee. 39 But he answered and said unto them, 2 An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet: 40 for as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the 3 whale; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. 41 The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, 42 a greater than Jonah is here. 43 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, 44 a greater than Solomon is here. 45 But the unclean spirit, when he is gone out of the man, passeth through waterless places, seeking rest, and findeth it not. 46 Then he saith, I will return into my house whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. 47 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more evil than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man cometh worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this evil generation.

48 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him. 49 And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee. 50 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? 51 And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 52 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

1 On that day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. 3 And he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow; 4 and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. 7 And others fell upon the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: 8 and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 He that hath ears, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? 11 And he answered and said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. 14 And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross,

And their ears are <sup>a</sup>dull of hearing;

And <sup>a</sup>their eyes they have closed;

Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,

And hear with their ears,

And <sup>a</sup>understand with their heart,

And <sup>a</sup>should turn again, And I should heal them.

16 But <sup>w</sup>blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, <sup>x</sup>that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not;

and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

18 Hear then ye the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of <sup>a</sup>the kingdom, and <sup>a</sup>understandeth it not, then cometh <sup>b</sup>the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart.

This is he that was sown by the way side.

20 And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway <sup>c</sup>with joy receiveth it;

21 yet hath he not root in himself, but <sup>d</sup>endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway <sup>e</sup>he stumbleth.

22 And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth the word; and <sup>f</sup>the care of <sup>g</sup>the <sup>h</sup>world, and <sup>i</sup>the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and <sup>a</sup>understandeth it; who verily <sup>j</sup>beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some <sup>k</sup>a hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 Another parable set he before them, saying, <sup>l</sup>The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field:

25 but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed <sup>m</sup>tares also among the wheat, and went away.

26 But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 And the <sup>n</sup>servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said unto them, <sup>o</sup>An enemy hath done this. And the <sup>p</sup>servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but <sup>q</sup>gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, <sup>r</sup>The kingdom of heaven is like unto <sup>a</sup>a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32 which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

34 All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing unto them:

35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>w</sup>by the prophet, saying,

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into <sup>ab</sup>the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying,

37 And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are <sup>ad</sup>the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are <sup>ae</sup>the sons of the evil one;

39 and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and <sup>af</sup>the harvest is <sup>ag</sup>the end of the world; and the reapers are angels.

40 As therefore the tares <sup>ah</sup>are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in <sup>ai</sup>the end of the world.

tudes to <sup>1</sup>sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and <sup>2</sup>looking up to heaven, <sup>3</sup>he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. <sup>20</sup> And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full. <sup>21</sup> And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

<sup>22</sup> And straightway he <sup>b</sup>constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send the multitudes away. <sup>23</sup> And after he had sent the multitudes away, <sup>c</sup>he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when <sup>d</sup>even was come, he was there alone. <sup>24</sup> But the boat <sup>2</sup>was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves; for the wind was contrary. <sup>25</sup> And <sup>d</sup>in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking upon the sea. <sup>26</sup> And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, <sup>e</sup>they were troubled, saying, It is <sup>f</sup>an apparition; and they cried out for fear. <sup>27</sup> But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, <sup>g</sup>Be of good cheer; it is I; <sup>h</sup>be not afraid. <sup>28</sup> And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee upon the waters. <sup>29</sup> And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and <sup>h</sup>walked upon the waters, <sup>3</sup>to come to Jesus. <sup>30</sup> But when he saw the wind <sup>4</sup>, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, <sup>i</sup>Lord, save me. <sup>31</sup> And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, <sup>j</sup>O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou <sup>k</sup>doubt? <sup>32</sup> And when they were gone up into the boat, <sup>4</sup>the wind ceased. <sup>33</sup> And <sup>l</sup>they that were in the boat <sup>m</sup>worshipped him, saying, <sup>n</sup>Of a truth thou art <sup>o</sup>the Son of God.

were sick; <sup>36</sup> and they besought him that they might only touch <sup>s</sup>the border of his garment: and <sup>t</sup>as many as touched were made whole.

I <sup>1</sup>Then there come to Jesus <sup>v</sup>from Jerusalem Pharisees and <sup>w</sup>scribes, saying, <sup>2</sup>Why do thy disciples transgress <sup>x</sup>the tradition of <sup>y</sup>the elders? <sup>3</sup>for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. <sup>4</sup>And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? <sup>5</sup>For God said, <sup>a</sup>Honour thy father and thy mother: and, <sup>b</sup>He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him <sup>5</sup>die the death. <sup>6</sup>But ye say, Who-soever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is given to God; <sup>6</sup>he shall not honour his father <sup>6</sup>. And ye have <sup>c</sup>made void the <sup>7</sup>word of God because of your tradition. <sup>7</sup>Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

But their heart is far from me.

Teaching as their <sup>f</sup>doctrines the precepts of men.

<sup>10</sup> And he called to him the multitude, and said unto them, <sup>g</sup>Hear, and understand: <sup>11</sup>Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man. <sup>12</sup> Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were <sup>8</sup>offended, when they heard this saying? <sup>13</sup> But he answered and said, <sup>h</sup>Every <sup>9</sup>plant which my heavenly Father planted not, <sup>k</sup>shall be rooted up. <sup>14</sup> Let them alone: <sup>l</sup>they are blind guides. And <sup>m</sup>if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit. <sup>15</sup> And Peter answered and said unto him, <sup>n</sup>Declare unto us the parable. <sup>16</sup> And he said, <sup>o</sup>Are ye also even yet without understanding? <sup>17</sup> Perceive ye not, that <sup>p</sup>whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? <sup>18</sup> But <sup>q</sup>the things

<sup>32</sup> <sup>p</sup> And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, <sup>q</sup> I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. <sup>33</sup> And the disciples say unto him,

Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? <sup>34</sup> And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, <sup>r</sup> Seven, and a few small fishes. <sup>35</sup> And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; <sup>36</sup> and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he <sup>s</sup> gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. <sup>37</sup> And <sup>t</sup> they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, seven baskets full. <sup>38</sup> And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children. <sup>39</sup> And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of <sup>u</sup> Magadan.

13<sup>n</sup> Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say <sup>o</sup> that the Son of man is?

14 And they said, Some say <sup>p</sup> John the Baptist; some, <sup>q</sup> Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, <sup>r</sup> Thou art <sup>s</sup> the Christ, <sup>t</sup> the Son of <sup>u</sup> the living God.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, <sup>v</sup> Blessed art thou, <sup>w</sup> Simon Bar-Jonah: for <sup>x</sup> flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, <sup>y</sup> but my Father which is in heaven.

19 I will give unto thee <sup>af</sup> the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and <sup>ag</sup> whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20<sup>ah</sup> Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21<sup>ai</sup> From that time began <sup>aj</sup> Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that <sup>ak</sup> he must go unto Jerusalem, and <sup>al</sup> suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and <sup>am</sup> the third day be raised up.

22 And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, <sup>an</sup> Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, <sup>ao</sup> Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art <sup>ap</sup> a stumblingblock unto me: for thou <sup>aq</sup> mindest not the things of God, but the things of men.

24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him <sup>ar</sup> deny himself, and <sup>as</sup> take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For <sup>at</sup> who-soever would save his <sup>au</sup> life shall lose it: and who-soever shall lose his <sup>av</sup> life for my sake shall find it.

26 For <sup>aw</sup> what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his <sup>ax</sup> life? or <sup>ay</sup> what shall a man give in exchange for his <sup>az</sup> life?

28<sup>be</sup> Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise <sup>bf</sup> taste of death, <sup>bg</sup> till they see the Son of man <sup>bh</sup> coming in his kingdom.

3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him.

4 And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three <sup>bo</sup> tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.

5 While he was yet speaking, behold, <sup>bp</sup> a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, <sup>bq</sup> a voice out of the cloud, saying, <sup>br</sup> This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased;

6<sup>bs</sup> hear ye him. 6 And when <sup>bt</sup> the disciples heard it, <sup>bu</sup> they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and <sup>bv</sup> touched them and said, Arise, and <sup>bw</sup> be not afraid.

8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.

9<sup>bx</sup> And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, <sup>by</sup> Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes <sup>bz</sup> that Elijah must first come?

11 And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and <sup>ca</sup> shall restore all things: <sup>cb</sup> but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but <sup>cc</sup> did unto him whatsoever they listed.

12<sup>cd</sup> Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them.

13<sup>ce</sup> Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14<sup>cf</sup> And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is <sup>e</sup>epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and <sup>u</sup>they could not cure him. 17 And Jesus answered and said, O <sup>u</sup>faithless and <sup>v</sup>perverse generation, <sup>w</sup>how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus <sup>u</sup>rebuked him; and the <sup>1</sup>devil went out from him: and <sup>u</sup>the boy was cured from that hour. 19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? 20 And he saith unto them, <sup>2</sup>Because of your little faith: for <sup>a</sup>verily I say unto you, <sup>b</sup>If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, <sup>c</sup>ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and <sup>d</sup>nothing shall be impossible unto you.<sup>2</sup>

22 And while they <sup>3</sup>abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men; 23 and they shall kill him, and <sup>4</sup>the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And <sup>5</sup>when they were come to Capernaum, they that received <sup>6</sup>the <sup>4</sup>half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not your <sup>5</sup>master pay the <sup>4</sup>half-shekel? 25 He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, <sup>6</sup>What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive <sup>7</sup>toll or <sup>7</sup>tribute? from their sons, or from strangers? 26 And when he said, From strangers; Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. 27 But, lest we <sup>8</sup>cause thee to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a <sup>6</sup>shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 <sup>1</sup>In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is <sup>1</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, 3 and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye <sup>u</sup>turn, and <sup>w</sup>become as little children, ye <sup>o</sup>shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 <sup>2</sup>Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the <sup>7</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And <sup>u</sup>whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6 but <sup>u</sup>whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that <sup>8</sup>a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and <sup>u</sup>that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe unto the world because of <sup>u</sup>occasions of stumbling! <sup>1</sup>for it must needs be that the occasions come; <sup>u</sup>but woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 8 And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into <sup>w</sup>the eternal fire. 9 And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the <sup>9</sup>hell of fire. 10 See that ye despise not <sup>u</sup>one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven <sup>u</sup>their angels do always <sup>2</sup>behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.<sup>10</sup> 12 How think ye? <sup>b</sup>if any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14 Even so <sup>c</sup>it is not <sup>11</sup>the will of <sup>12</sup>your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And if thy brother sin <sup>18</sup>against thee, <sup>e</sup>go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast <sup>7</sup>gained thy brother. 16 But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that <sup>7</sup>at the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may be established. <sup>17</sup> And if he refuse to hear them, <sup>a</sup>tell it unto the <sup>1</sup>church: and if he refuse to hear the <sup>1</sup>church also, <sup>b</sup>let him be unto thee as <sup>c</sup>the Gentile and <sup>d</sup>the publican. <sup>18</sup> Verily I say unto you, <sup>e</sup>What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. <sup>19</sup> Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall <sup>f</sup>agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, <sup>g</sup>it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. <sup>20</sup> For where two or three are <sup>h</sup>gathered together in my name, <sup>i</sup>there am I in the midst of them.

ceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. <sup>32</sup> Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked <sup>a</sup>servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besougest me: <sup>33</sup> <sup>b</sup>shouldst not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? <sup>34</sup> <sup>c</sup>And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, <sup>d</sup>till he should pay all that was due. <sup>35</sup> <sup>e</sup>So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother <sup>f</sup>from your hearts.

eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, <sup>2</sup> which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

have? <sup>28</sup> And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration <sup>r</sup> when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, <sup>s</sup> ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, <sup>t</sup> judging the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>29</sup> <sup>u</sup> And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, <sup>v</sup> or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive <sup>5</sup> a hundredfold, and shall <sup>w</sup> inherit eternal life. <sup>30</sup> But <sup>w</sup> many shall be last <sup>x</sup> that are first; and <sup>y</sup> first that are last. <sup>1</sup> For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a

20 man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. <sup>2</sup> And when he had agreed with the labourers for <sup>a</sup> a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. <sup>3</sup> And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; <sup>4</sup> and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. <sup>5</sup> Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. <sup>6</sup> And <sup>2</sup> about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? <sup>7</sup> They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>a</sup> when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his <sup>b</sup> steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. <sup>9</sup> And when they came that <sup>were</sup> hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a <sup>c</sup> penny. <sup>10</sup> And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a <sup>c</sup> penny. <sup>11</sup> And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, <sup>12</sup> saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and <sup>c</sup> the scorching heat. <sup>13</sup> But he answered and said to one of them, <sup>d</sup> Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a

1 penny? 14 Take up <sup>e</sup> that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or <sup>g</sup> is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So <sup>k</sup> the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, 18 Behold, <sup>j</sup> we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall <sup>k</sup> condemn him to death, 19 and shall <sup>i</sup> deliver him unto the Gentiles <sup>m</sup> to mock, and to scourge, and <sup>n</sup> to crucify; and <sup>o</sup> the third day he shall be raised up.

20 Then came to him <sup>e</sup> the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, <sup>r</sup> worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him. 21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons <sup>s</sup> may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, <sup>t</sup> in thy kingdom. 22 But Jesus answered and said, "Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able <sup>v</sup> to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. 23 He saith unto them, <sup>u</sup> My cup indeed <sup>x</sup> ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, <sup>y</sup> but it is for them for whom it hath been <sup>z</sup> prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, "Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles <sup>a</sup> lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 <sup>c</sup> Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among you shall be your <sup>d</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> minister; 27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your <sup>e</sup> 3<sup>e</sup> servant: 28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but <sup>f</sup> to minister, and <sup>g</sup> to give his life a ransom for <sup>h</sup> many.

29 And as they went out from

Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou <sup>j</sup> son of David. 31 And the multitude <sup>k</sup> rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

1 And when they drew 21 nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto <sup>m</sup> the mount of Olives, then Jesus <sup>n</sup> sent two disciples, 2 saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 Now this is come to pass, <sup>o</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>p</sup> by the prophet, saying,

5 <sup>q</sup> Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, <sup>r</sup> Meek, and riding upon an ass, And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, 7 and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 And the most part of the multitude <sup>s</sup> spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, "Hosanna to <sup>t</sup> the son of David: "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna <sup>u</sup> in the highest. 10 And <sup>v</sup> when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is <sup>w</sup> the prophet, Jesus, <sup>x</sup> from Nazareth of Galilee.

12<sup>a</sup> And Jesus entered into the temple <sup>1</sup>of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and <sup>2</sup>overthrew the tables of <sup>a</sup>the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold <sup>b</sup>the doves; <sup>13</sup> and he saith unto them, It is written, <sup>c</sup>My house shall be called a house of prayer: but <sup>d</sup>ye make it a den of robbers. <sup>14</sup> And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them. <sup>15</sup> But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, <sup>e</sup>Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation, <sup>16</sup> and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: <sup>f</sup>did ye never read, <sup>g</sup>Out of the mouth of <sup>h</sup>babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? <sup>17</sup> And <sup>i</sup>he left them, and <sup>k</sup>went forth out of the city to <sup>l</sup>Bethany, and lodged there.

18<sup>m</sup> Now in the morning as he returned to the city, <sup>n</sup>he hungered. <sup>19</sup> And seeing <sup>o</sup>a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. <sup>20</sup> And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig tree immediately wither away? <sup>21</sup> And Jesus answered and said unto them, <sup>p</sup>Verily I say unto you, <sup>q</sup>If ye have faith, and <sup>r</sup>doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, <sup>s</sup>Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall be done. <sup>22</sup> And <sup>t</sup>all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, <sup>u</sup>believing, ye shall receive.

23<sup>v</sup> And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him <sup>w</sup>as he was teaching, and said, <sup>x</sup>By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? <sup>24</sup> And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one <sup>y</sup>question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>25</sup> The baptism of John, <sup>z</sup>whence was it?

<sup>y</sup>from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, <sup>2</sup>Why then did ye not believe him? <sup>26</sup> But if we shall say, From men; <sup>a</sup>we fear the multitude; for all hold John as <sup>b</sup>a prophet. <sup>27</sup> And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. <sup>28</sup> But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, <sup>4</sup>Son, go work to-day in <sup>d</sup>the vineyard. <sup>29</sup> And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he <sup>e</sup>repented himself, and went. <sup>30</sup> And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. <sup>31</sup> Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that <sup>f</sup>the publicans and <sup>g</sup>the harlots go into <sup>h</sup>the kingdom of God before you. <sup>32</sup> For John came unto you <sup>i</sup>in the way of righteousness, and <sup>j</sup>ye believed him not: but <sup>k</sup>the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even <sup>l</sup>repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

33<sup>l</sup> Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted <sup>m</sup>a vineyard, <sup>n</sup>and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and <sup>o</sup>let it out to husbandmen, and <sup>p</sup>went into another country. <sup>34</sup> And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his <sup>q</sup>servants to the husbandmen, <sup>r</sup>to receive <sup>s</sup>his fruits. <sup>35</sup> And the husbandmen took his <sup>t</sup>servants, and beat one, and killed another, and <sup>u</sup>stoned another. <sup>36</sup> Again, he sent other <sup>v</sup>servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. <sup>37</sup> But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. <sup>38</sup> But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, <sup>w</sup>This is the heir; come, <sup>x</sup>let us kill him, and take his inheritance. <sup>39</sup> And they took him, and <sup>y</sup>cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. <sup>40</sup> When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husband-men? <sup>41</sup> They say unto him, <sup>a</sup> He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and <sup>v</sup> will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. <sup>42</sup> Jesus saith unto them, <sup>z</sup> Did ye never read in the scriptures,

The same was made the head of the corner:

This was from the Lord,
And it is marvellous in our eyes?

<sup>16</sup>Woe unto you, <sup>v</sup>ye <sup>a</sup>blind guides, which say, <sup>r</sup>Whosoever shall swear by the <sup>11</sup>temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the <sup>11</sup>temple, he is <sup>12</sup>a debtor. <sup>17</sup>Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or <sup>a</sup>the <sup>11</sup>temple that hath sanctified the gold? <sup>18</sup>And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by <sup>t</sup>the gift that is upon it, he is <sup>12</sup>a debtor. <sup>19</sup>Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or <sup>a</sup>the altar that sanctifieth the gift? <sup>20</sup>He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. <sup>21</sup>And he that sweareth by the <sup>11</sup>temple, sweareth by it, and by <sup>v</sup>him that dwelleth therein. <sup>22</sup>And he that sweareth by <sup>w</sup>the heaven, sweareth

25 <sup>g</sup>Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for <sup>h</sup>ye cleanse the outside of <sup>i</sup>the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from <sup>j</sup>extortion and excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of <sup>k</sup>the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 <sup>l</sup>Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto <sup>m</sup>whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of <sup>n</sup>all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also <sup>o</sup>outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of <sup>p</sup>hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 <sup>q</sup>Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of the righteous, and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are <sup>r</sup>sons of them that slew the prophets. 32 <sup>s</sup>Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 33 Ye serpents, <sup>t</sup>ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judgement of <sup>u</sup>hell? 34 <sup>v</sup>Therefore, behold, "I send unto you <sup>w</sup>prophets, and wise men, and <sup>x</sup>scribes: <sup>y</sup>some of them shall ye kill and crucify; and <sup>z</sup>some of them shall ye <sup>a</sup>scourge in your synagogues, and <sup>b</sup>persecute from city to city: 35 that upon you may come all <sup>c</sup>the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of <sup>d</sup>Abel the righteous unto the blood of <sup>e</sup>Zachariah son of Barachiah, <sup>f</sup>whom ye slew between <sup>g</sup>the sanctuary and <sup>h</sup>the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, <sup>i</sup>All these things shall come upon this generation.

'which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! <sup>k</sup>How often would I have <sup>l</sup>gathered <sup>m</sup>thy children together, <sup>n</sup>even as a hen gathereth her chickens <sup>o</sup>under her wings, and <sup>p</sup>ye would not! 38 Behold, <sup>q</sup>your house is left unto you <sup>r</sup>desolate. 39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, <sup>s</sup>Blessed <sup>t</sup>is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

1 <sup>u</sup>And Jesus went out from 24 the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the build- ings of the temple. 2 But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, <sup>v</sup>There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on <sup>w</sup>the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him <sup>x</sup>privately, saying, Tell us, <sup>y</sup>when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy <sup>z</sup>coming, and of <sup>a</sup>the end of the world? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, <sup>b</sup>Take heed that no man lead you astray. 5 For <sup>c</sup>many shall come in my name, saying, I am <sup>d</sup>the Christ; and shall lead many astray. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye <sup>e</sup>be not troubled: for <sup>f</sup>these things <sup>g</sup>must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 7 For <sup>h</sup>nation shall rise against nation, and <sup>i</sup>kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be <sup>j</sup>famines and earthquakes in divers places. 8 But all these things are the beginning of <sup>k</sup>travail. 9 Then <sup>l</sup>shall they deliver you up <sup>m</sup>unto tribulation, and <sup>n</sup>shall kill you: and <sup>o</sup>ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. 10 And then shall many stumble, and shall <sup>p</sup>deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many <sup>q</sup>false prophets shall arise, <sup>r</sup>and shall lead many astray. 12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, <sup>s</sup>the love of the many shall wax cold. 13 <sup>t</sup>But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And <sup>u</sup>this gospel of the kingdom <sup>v</sup>shall be preached in the whole <sup>w</sup>world <sup>x</sup>for a testimony unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (let him that readeth understand), flee then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: 17 let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: 18 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. 19 But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: 21 for then shall be a great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. 23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe it not. 24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. 25 Behold, I have told you beforehand. 26 If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe it not. 27 For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the coming of the Son of man. 28 Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together. 29 But immediately, after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And he shall send forth his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 33 even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that he is nigh, even at the doors. 34 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. 35 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. 36 But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, neither the Son, but the Father only. 37 And as were the days of Noah, so shall be the coming of the Son of man. 38 For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39 and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall be the coming of the Son of man. 40 Then shall two men be in the field; one is taken, and one is left: 41 two women shall be grinding at the mill; one is taken, and one is left. 42 Watch therefore: for ye know not on what day your Lord cometh. 43 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. 44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not the Son of man cometh. 45 Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? 46 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 47 Verily I say unto you, that he will set him over all that he hath. 48 But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord tarrieth; 49 and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and shall eat and drink with the drunken; 50 the lord of that servant shall come in a day when

thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. <sup>21</sup> His lord said unto him, Well done, good and <sup>z</sup> faithful <sup>a</sup> servant: <sup>b</sup> thou hast been faithful over a few things, <sup>c</sup> I will set thee over many things: enter thou into <sup>d</sup> the joy of thy lord. <sup>22</sup> And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. <sup>23</sup> His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful <sup>e</sup> servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. <sup>24</sup> And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art <sup>f</sup> a hard man, reaping <sup>g</sup> where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: <sup>25</sup> and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, <sup>h</sup> thou hast thine own. <sup>26</sup> But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou <sup>i</sup> wicked and <sup>j</sup> slothful <sup>k</sup> servant, thou knowest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter; <sup>27</sup> thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. <sup>28</sup> Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. <sup>29</sup> For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. <sup>30</sup> And <sup>l</sup> cast ye out <sup>m</sup> the unprofitable <sup>n</sup> servant into the outer darkness: <sup>o</sup> there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

6 <sup>v</sup> Now when Jesus was in <sup>w</sup> Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, 7 there came unto him a woman having <sup>z</sup> an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat. 8 But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste ? 9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and <sup>a</sup> given to the poor. 10 But <sup>b</sup> Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman ? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For <sup>c</sup> ye have the poor always with you ; but <sup>d</sup> me ye have not always. 12 For in that she <sup>e</sup> poured this ointment upon my body, she did it <sup>f</sup> to prepare me for burial. 13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever <sup>g</sup> this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of <sup>h</sup> for a memorial of her.

14 <sup>i</sup> Then one of the twelve, who was called <sup>j</sup> Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, 15 and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you ? And they <sup>k</sup> weighed unto him <sup>l</sup> thirty pieces of silver. 16 And from that time he sought opportunity <sup>m</sup> to deliver him unto them.

17 <sup>n</sup> Now on <sup>o</sup> the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the passover ? 18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, <sup>p</sup> The <sup>q</sup> Master saith, <sup>r</sup> My time is at hand ; I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them ; and they made ready the passover. 20 <sup>s</sup> Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with the twelve <sup>t</sup> disciples ; 21 and as they were eating, <sup>u</sup> he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. 22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every one, Is it I, Lord ? 23 And he answered and said, <sup>v</sup> He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. 24 The Son of man goeth, <sup>w</sup> even as it is written of him : but <sup>x</sup> woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed ! <sup>y</sup> good were it <sup>z</sup> for that man if he had not been born. 25 And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, 'Rabbi? He saith unto him,

'Thou hast said. 26<sup>v</sup> And as they were eating, Jesus took <sup>1</sup> bread, and <sup>w</sup> blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; <sup>x</sup> this is my body. 27 And he took 2<sup>a</sup> a cup, and <sup>y</sup> gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; 28 for <sup>x</sup> this is my <sup>z</sup> blood of <sup>3</sup> the <sup>4</sup> covenant, which is shed for <sup>a</sup> many <sup>b</sup> unto remission of sins.
29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you <sup>c</sup> in my Father's kingdom.

30<sup>d</sup> And when they had sung a hymn, <sup>e</sup> they went out unto <sup>f</sup> the mount of Olives.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them,
All ye shall be <sup>g</sup> offended in me
this night: for it is written, I will <sup>h</sup> smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. 32 But after I am raised up, <sup>i</sup> I will go before you into Galilee. 33 But <sup>j</sup> Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be <sup>g</sup> offended in thee, I will never be <sup>g</sup> offended. 34<sup>k</sup> Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, <sup>l</sup> before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. 35<sup>m</sup> Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, <sup>n</sup> yet will I not deny thee.
Likewise also said all the disciples.

36<sup>n</sup> Then cometh Jesus with them
<sup>e</sup> unto <sup>a</sup> a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go yonder and pray.
37 And he took with him <sup>o</sup> Peter and <sup>p</sup> the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and sore troubled. 38 Then saith he unto them, <sup>q</sup> My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: abide ye here, and <sup>r</sup> watch with me. 39 And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, <sup>s</sup> and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let <sup>t</sup> this cup pass away from me:
<sup>u</sup> nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. 40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them
sleeping, and saith unto Peter,
What, could ye not watch with me
one hour? 41<sup>r</sup> Watch and <sup>v</sup> pray, that ye <sup>w</sup> enter not into temptation:
the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 42 Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, <sup>x</sup> thy will be done. 43 And he came again and found them sleeping, for <sup>y</sup> their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them again, and went away, and prayed <sup>z</sup> a third time, saying again

the same words. 45 Then cometh
he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, <sup>a</sup> the hour is at hand, and <sup>b</sup> the Son of man is betrayed
into the hands of sinners. 46 Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47<sup>c</sup> And while he yet spake, lo, <sup>d</sup> Judas, one of the twelve, came,
and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. 49 And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, <sup>e</sup> Rabbi;
and <sup>f</sup> kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, <sup>g</sup> Friend, <sup>h</sup> do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his <sup>i</sup> sword, and smote the <sup>j</sup> servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear.
52 Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place:
for <sup>k</sup> all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. 53 Or <sup>k</sup> thinkest thou that I cannot be-seem my Father, and he shall even now send me <sup>l</sup> more than twelve <sup>m</sup> legions of angels? 54<sup>n</sup> How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? 55 In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? <sup>o</sup> I sat daily in the temple <sup>p</sup> teaching, and ye took me not.
56 But <sup>n</sup> all this is come to pass,
that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. <sup>q</sup> Then all the disciples left him, and fled.

57<sup>r</sup> And <sup>s</sup> they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of <sup>t</sup> Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. 58 But <sup>u</sup> Peter followed him afar off, unto <sup>v</sup> the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with <sup>v</sup>the officers, to see the end. 59 Now the chief priests and the whole <sup>w</sup>council <sup>x</sup>sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; 60 and they found it not, <sup>y</sup>though many false witnesses came. But afterward <sup>z</sup>came <sup>a</sup>two, 61 and said, This man said, <sup>b</sup>"I am able to <sup>b</sup>destroy the <sup>1</sup>temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 63 <sup>c</sup>But Jesus held his peace. <sup>d</sup>And the high priest said unto him, <sup>e</sup>"I adjure thee by <sup>f</sup>the living God, that thou <sup>g</sup>tell us whether thou be <sup>h</sup>the Christ, <sup>i</sup>the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, <sup>j</sup>"Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth <sup>k</sup>ye shall see the Son of man <sup>l</sup>sitting at the right hand of power, and <sup>m</sup>coming on the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high priest <sup>n</sup>rent his garments, saying, <sup>o</sup>"He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: 66 what think ye? They answered and said, <sup>p</sup>"He is <sup>q</sup>worthy of death. 67 Then <sup>r</sup>did they spit in his face and buffet him: <sup>s</sup>and some <sup>t</sup>smote him <sup>u</sup>with the palms of their hands, 68 saying, Prophecy unto us, thou <sup>v</sup>Christ: who is he that struck thee? 69 <sup>w</sup>Now Peter was sitting without <sup>x</sup>in the court; and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilæan. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another <sup>y</sup>maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus <sup>z</sup>the Nazarene. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. 73 And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art <sup>a</sup>one of them; for <sup>b</sup>thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, <sup>x</sup>"Before the cock crow, thou shalt <sup>y</sup>deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

3 Then <sup>e</sup>Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, <sup>f</sup>repented himself, and brought back <sup>g</sup>the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed <sup>h</sup>innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? <sup>i</sup>See thou to it. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver into <sup>j</sup>the sanctuary, and departed; and <sup>k</sup>he went away and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into <sup>l</sup>the <sup>m</sup>treasury, since it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore <sup>n</sup>that field was called, The field of blood, <sup>o</sup>unto this day. 9 <sup>p</sup>Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>q</sup>by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, <sup>r</sup>"And <sup>s</sup>they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, <sup>t</sup>whom <sup>u</sup>certain of the children of Israel did price; 10 and <sup>v</sup>they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 <sup>w</sup>Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou <sup>x</sup>the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, <sup>y</sup>"Thou sayest. 12 <sup>z</sup>And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. 13 Then saith Pilate unto him, <sup>a</sup>"Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? 14 And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: inasmuch that the governor marvelled greatly. 15 <sup>b</sup>Now at <sup>1</sup>the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or <sup>w</sup> Jesus which is called Christ? <sup>18</sup> For he knew that <sup>x</sup> for envy they had delivered him up. <sup>19</sup> And while he was sitting on <sup>y</sup> the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with <sup>z</sup> that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day <sup>a</sup> in a dream because of him. <sup>20</sup> Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should <sup>b</sup> ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. <sup>21</sup> But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. <sup>22</sup> Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? <sup>c</sup> They all say, Let him be crucified. <sup>23</sup> And he said, Why, <sup>d</sup> what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. <sup>24</sup> So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that <sup>e</sup> a tumult was arising, he took water, and <sup>f</sup> washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent <sup>1</sup> of the blood of <sup>g</sup> this righteous man: <sup>h</sup> see ye to it. <sup>25</sup> And all the people answered and said, <sup>i</sup> His blood be on us, and <sup>j</sup> on our children. <sup>26</sup> Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he <sup>k</sup> scourged and delivered to be crucified.

with them, that he might <sup>e</sup> bear his cross. <sup>33</sup> And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, <sup>34</sup> they gave him wine to drink mingled with <sup>y</sup> gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. <sup>35</sup> And when they had crucified him, <sup>z</sup> they parted his garments among them, casting lots: <sup>36</sup> and they sat and <sup>a</sup> watched him there. <sup>37</sup> And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS <sup>b</sup> THE KING OF THE JEWS. <sup>38</sup> Then are there crucified with him two <sup>c</sup> robbers, <sup>d</sup> one on the right hand, and one on the left. <sup>39</sup> And <sup>e</sup> they that passed by <sup>f</sup> railled on him, <sup>g</sup> wagging their heads, <sup>40</sup> and saying, <sup>h</sup> Thou that destroyest the <sup>i</sup> temple, and buidest it in three days, save thyself: <sup>j</sup> if thou art <sup>k</sup> the Son of God, come down from the cross. <sup>41</sup> In like manner also the chief priests mocking <sup>him</sup>, with the scribes and elders, said, <sup>42</sup> <sup>k</sup> He saved others; <sup>l</sup> himself he cannot save. <sup>m</sup> He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. <sup>43</sup> <sup>n</sup> He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. <sup>44</sup> <sup>o</sup> And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

<sup>57</sup> And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: <sup>58</sup> this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. <sup>59</sup> And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, <sup>60</sup> and <sup>j</sup>laid it in his own new tomb, <sup>k</sup> which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled <sup>l</sup>a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. <sup>61</sup> And Mary Magdalene was there, and <sup>m</sup>the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

28 <sup>1</sup> Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and <sup>u</sup>the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

of Jesus Christ, <sup>2</sup> the Son of God.

<sup>3</sup> Even as it is written <sup>4</sup> in Isaiah
the prophet,

<sup>5</sup> Behold, I send my messenger
before thy face,

Who shall prepare thy way;

<sup>6</sup> The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

<sup>7</sup> Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight;

<sup>8</sup> John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached <sup>9</sup> the

sion of sins. <sup>12</sup> And there went out unto him all the country of Judæa,

and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river

Jordan, <sup>13</sup> confessing their sins. <sup>14</sup> And John was <sup>15</sup> clothed with camel's hair, and <sup>16</sup> had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat <sup>17</sup> locusts and

saying, <sup>20</sup> There cometh after me he

that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not <sup>21</sup> worthy to stoop down and unloose. <sup>22</sup> I baptized you <sup>23</sup> with water; but <sup>24</sup> he shall baptize you <sup>25</sup> with the <sup>26</sup> Holy Ghost.

<sup>27</sup> And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus <sup>28</sup> came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John <sup>29</sup> in the Jordan. <sup>30</sup> And straightway coming up out of the water, he <sup>31</sup> saw <sup>32</sup> the heavens rent asunder, and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: <sup>33</sup> and <sup>34</sup> a voice came out of the heavens,

<sup>35</sup> Thou art my beloved Son, in thee
I am well pleased.

<sup>36</sup> And straightway the Spirit
driveth him forth into the wilderness. <sup>37</sup> And he was in the wilderness forty days <sup>38</sup> tempted of <sup>39</sup> Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and <sup>40</sup> the angels ministered unto him.

livered up, Jesus <sup>42</sup> came into Galilee, preaching <sup>43</sup> the gospel of God,

and <sup>46</sup> the kingdom of God is at hand:

<sup>47</sup> repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

<sup>48</sup> And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting

a net in the sea: for they were fishers.
<sup>49</sup> And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become <sup>50</sup> fishers of men. <sup>51</sup> And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. <sup>52</sup> And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. <sup>53</sup> And straightway he called them: and they left their father

Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

and straightway <sup>55</sup> on the sabbath

day <sup>56</sup> he entered into the synagogue and taught. <sup>57</sup> And <sup>58</sup> they were astonished at his teaching: <sup>59</sup> for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. <sup>60</sup> And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean

spirit; and he cried out, <sup>61</sup> saying, <sup>62</sup> What have we to do with thee,

thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? <sup>63</sup> I know thee

God. <sup>65</sup> And Jesus <sup>66</sup> rebuked <sup>67</sup> him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. <sup>68</sup> And the unclean spirit, <sup>69</sup> tearing him and <sup>70</sup> crying with a loud voice, came out of him.

somuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this?

he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. <sup>28</sup> And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.

<sup>35</sup> And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and <sup>e</sup> there prayed. <sup>36</sup> And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; <sup>37</sup> and they found him, and say unto him, <sup>f</sup> All are seeking thee. <sup>38</sup> And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for <sup>g</sup> to this end came I forth. <sup>39</sup> And <sup>h</sup> he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out <sup>3</sup> devils.

<sup>40</sup> And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, <sup>5</sup> and <sup>k</sup> kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, <sup>i</sup> If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. <sup>41</sup> And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. <sup>42</sup> And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. <sup>43</sup> And <sup>m</sup> he <sup>6</sup> strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, <sup>44</sup> and saith unto him, <sup>n</sup> See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, <sup>o</sup> shew thyself to the priest, and <sup>p</sup> offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, <sup>q</sup> for a testimony unto them. <sup>45</sup> But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the <sup>r</sup> matter, inso-much that <sup>8</sup> Jesus could no more openly enter into <sup>9</sup> a city, but was without in <sup>s</sup> desert places: and <sup>t</sup> they came to him from every quarter.

And when he entered again <sup>2</sup> into <sup>v</sup> Capernaum after some days, it was noised that he was <sup>10</sup> in the house. <sup>2</sup> And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room <sup>for them</sup>, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them. <sup>3</sup> And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four. <sup>4</sup> And when they could not <sup>11</sup> come nigh unto him for the crowd, <sup>w</sup> they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay. <sup>5</sup> And Jesus <sup>x</sup> seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, <sup>12</sup> Son, <sup>y</sup> thy sins are forgiven. <sup>6</sup> But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, <sup>7</sup> Why doth this man thus speak? <sup>z</sup> he blasphemeth: <sup>a</sup> who can forgive sins but one, even God? <sup>8</sup> And straightway Jesus, <sup>b</sup> perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? <sup>9</sup> Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? <sup>10</sup> But that ye may know that <sup>c</sup> the Son of man hath <sup>13</sup> power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy), <sup>11</sup> I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. <sup>12</sup> And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; inso-much that they were all amazed, and <sup>d</sup> glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples <sup>7</sup>began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. <sup>24</sup> And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, <sup>u</sup>why do they on the sabbath day <sup>v</sup>that which is not lawful? <sup>25</sup> And he said unto them, <sup>w</sup>Did ye never read <sup>x</sup>what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? <sup>26</sup> How he entered into the house of God <sup>8</sup>when <sup>y</sup>Abiathar was high priest, and did eat <sup>z</sup>the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with him? <sup>27</sup> And he said unto them, <sup>a</sup>The sabbath was made for man, and <sup>b</sup>not man for the sab-

James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, <sup>c</sup>Sons of thunder: <sup>18</sup>and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and <sup>d</sup>Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the <sup>1</sup>Cananean, <sup>19</sup>and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh <sup>20</sup>into a house. <sup>20</sup>And the multitude cometh together again, <sup>h</sup>so that they could not so much as eat bread. <sup>21</sup>And when <sup>j</sup>his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He <sup>k</sup>is beside himself. <sup>22</sup>And <sup>l</sup>the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, <sup>m</sup>He hath Beelzebub, and, <sup>n</sup>By the prince of the <sup>4</sup>devils casteth he out the <sup>4</sup>devils. <sup>23</sup>And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? <sup>24</sup>And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. <sup>25</sup>And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. <sup>26</sup>And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. <sup>27</sup>But <sup>o</sup>no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and <sup>p</sup>then he will spoil his house. <sup>28</sup>Verily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: <sup>29</sup>but whosoever shall <sup>r</sup>blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: <sup>30</sup>because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

<sup>31</sup>And there come his mother and his <sup>4</sup>brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. <sup>32</sup>And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. <sup>33</sup>And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother and my brethren? <sup>34</sup>And <sup>u</sup>looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! <sup>35</sup>For <sup>v</sup>whosoever shall <sup>w</sup>do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

And again <sup>x</sup>he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, <sup>y</sup>so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. <sup>2</sup>And <sup>z</sup>he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his teaching, <sup>3</sup>Hearken: Behold, <sup>a</sup>the sower went forth to sow: <sup>4</sup>and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured it. <sup>5</sup>And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no deepness of earth: <sup>6</sup>and <sup>b</sup>when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, <sup>c</sup>it withered away. <sup>7</sup>And other fell among <sup>d</sup>the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. <sup>8</sup>And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and <sup>e</sup>a hundredfold. <sup>9</sup>And he said, <sup>f</sup>Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

<sup>10</sup>And <sup>g</sup>when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. <sup>11</sup>And he said unto them, <sup>h</sup>Unto you is given <sup>i</sup>the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto <sup>j</sup>them that are without, all things are done in parables: <sup>12</sup>that <sup>k</sup>seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they <sup>m</sup>should turn again, and it should be forgiven them. <sup>13</sup>And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? <sup>14</sup>The sower soweth <sup>p</sup>the word. <sup>15</sup>And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been sown in them. <sup>16</sup>And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it <sup>q</sup>with joy; <sup>17</sup>and they have no root in themselves, but <sup>r</sup>endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway <sup>s</sup>they stumble. <sup>18</sup>And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they that have heard the word, <sup>19</sup>and <sup>t</sup>the cares of <sup>u</sup>the <sup>v</sup>world, and <sup>w</sup>the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. <sup>20</sup> And those are they that were sown upon the good ground; such as hear the word, and accept it, and <sup>w</sup> bear fruit, <sup>x</sup> thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

<sup>35</sup> <sup>p</sup> And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. <sup>36</sup> And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, <sup>q</sup> even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. <sup>37</sup> And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves <sup>r</sup> beat into the boat, inso-much that the boat was now filling. <sup>38</sup> And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, <sup>s</sup> Master, carest thou not that we perish? <sup>39</sup> And he awoke, and <sup>t</sup> rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and <sup>u</sup> there was a great calm. <sup>40</sup> And he said unto them, Why are ye <sup>v</sup> fearful? have ye not yet faith? <sup>41</sup> And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, <sup>w</sup> Who then is this, that even <sup>x</sup> the wind and the sea obey him?

in the sea. <sup>14</sup> And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass.

<sup>19</sup> And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and <sup>1</sup> tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee.

<sup>20</sup> And he went his way, and began to publish in <sup>4</sup> Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him : and all men did marvel.

<sup>21</sup> And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him : and he was by the sea.

I pray thee, that thou come and <sup>n</sup> lay thy hands on her, that she may be <sup>3</sup> made whole, and live.

<sup>24</sup> And he went with him ; and a great multitude followed him, and they <sup>o</sup> thronged him.

<sup>25</sup> And a woman, <sup>p</sup> which had an issue of blood twelve years, <sup>26</sup> and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, <sup>27</sup> having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment.

<sup>29</sup> And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up ; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her <sup>4r</sup> plague.

<sup>30</sup> And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that

<sup>a</sup> the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments ?

<sup>31</sup> And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me ?

<sup>32</sup> And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

<sup>33</sup> But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

<sup>38</sup> And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue ; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly.

<sup>40</sup> And they laughed him to scorn. But he, <sup>b</sup> having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was.

<sup>42</sup> And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked ; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement.

and, What is the wisdom that is given unto this man, and what mean such <sup>1</sup>mighty works wrought by his hands? <sup>3</sup>Is not this <sup>2</sup>the carpenter, the son of Mary, and <sup>1</sup>brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And <sup>m</sup>they were <sup>2</sup>offended in him. 4 And Jesus said unto them, <sup>a</sup>A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. 5 And <sup>o</sup>he could there do no <sup>2</sup>mighty work, save that <sup>p</sup>he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. 6 And <sup>q</sup>he marvelled because of their unbelief.

is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. <sup>19</sup>And Herodias <sup>h</sup>set herself against him, and desired to kill him; and she could not; <sup>20</sup>for Herod <sup>i</sup>feared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he <sup>9</sup>was much perplexed; and he <sup>j</sup>heard him gladly. <sup>21</sup>And when a convenient day was come, that Herod <sup>k</sup>on his birthday <sup>l</sup>made a supper to his lords, and the <sup>10</sup>high captains, and the chief men of Galilee; <sup>22</sup>and when <sup>11</sup>the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, <sup>12</sup>she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. <sup>23</sup>And he swore unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, <sup>m</sup>unto the half of my kingdom. <sup>24</sup>And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John <sup>8</sup>the Baptist. <sup>25</sup>And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John the Baptist. <sup>26</sup>And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. <sup>27</sup>And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, <sup>28</sup>and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. <sup>29</sup>And when <sup>n</sup>his disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

And <sup>z</sup>they say unto him, <sup>y</sup>Shall we go and buy two hundred <sup>2</sup>pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat? 38 And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, <sup>3</sup>Five, and two fishes. 39 And he commanded them that all should <sup>4</sup>sit down by companies upon the green grass. 40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and <sup>a</sup>looking up to heaven, <sup>b</sup>he blessed, and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. 42 And they did all eat, and were filled. 43 And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls, and also of the fishes. 44 And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men.

53 And when they had <sup>s</sup>crossed over, they came to the land unto <sup>t</sup>Gennesaret, and moored to the shore. 54 And when they were come out of the boat, straightway <sup>u</sup>the people <sup>v</sup>knew him, 55 and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about <sup>w</sup>on their beds <sup>x</sup>those that were sick, where they heard he was. 56 And wheresoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, <sup>y</sup>they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but <sup>z</sup>the border of his garment: and <sup>a</sup>as many as touched <sup>b</sup>him were made whole.

7 And there are gathered together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, <sup>c</sup>which had come from Jerusalem, 2 and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with <sup>d</sup>defiled, that is, unwashen, hands. 3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands <sup>e</sup>diligently, eat not, holding <sup>f</sup>the tradition of <sup>g</sup>the elders: 4 and <sup>h</sup>when they come from the marketplace, except they <sup>i</sup>wash themselves, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have received to hold, <sup>j</sup>washings of <sup>k</sup>cups, and pots, and brasen vessels <sup>l</sup>. 5 And the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, Why walk not thy disciples according to <sup>m</sup>the tradition of <sup>n</sup>the elders, <sup>o</sup>but eat their bread with <sup>p</sup>defiled hands? 6 And he said unto them, Well did Isaiah prophesy of you <sup>q</sup>hypocrites, as it is written,

But their heart is far from me.

God, and hold fast the tradition of men. <sup>9</sup>And he said unto them, Full well do ye <sup>h</sup>reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. <sup>10</sup>For Moses said, <sup>i</sup>Honour thy father and thy mother; and, <sup>j</sup>He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him <sup>1</sup>die the death: <sup>11</sup>but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is <sup>k</sup>Corban, that is to say, Given to God; <sup>12</sup>ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; <sup>13</sup>making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things ye do. <sup>14</sup>And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, <sup>m</sup>Hear me all of you, and understand: <sup>15</sup>there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. <sup>16</sup>And when he was entered <sup>n</sup>into the house from the multitude, <sup>o</sup>his disciples asked of him the parable. <sup>18</sup>And he saith unto them, <sup>p</sup>Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot defile him; <sup>19</sup>because it goeth not into his heart, <sup>q</sup>but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? <sup>r</sup>This he said, making all meats clean. <sup>20</sup>And he said, <sup>s</sup>That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man. <sup>21</sup>For from within, out of the heart of men, <sup>t</sup>evil thoughts proceed, fornications, <sup>22</sup>thefts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, <sup>u</sup>lasciviousness, <sup>v</sup>an evil eye, <sup>w</sup>railing, <sup>x</sup>pride, <sup>y</sup>foolishness: <sup>23</sup>all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.

<sup>24</sup>And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre <sup>4</sup>and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he could not be hid. <sup>25</sup>But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. <sup>26</sup>Now the woman was a <sup>5</sup>Greek, <sup>6</sup>a Syrophenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the <sup>6</sup>devil out of her daughter. <sup>27</sup>And he said unto her, Let the children <sup>7</sup>first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's <sup>8</sup>bread, and <sup>9</sup>cast it to the dogs. <sup>28</sup>But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's <sup>h</sup>crumbs. <sup>29</sup>And he said unto her, For this saying <sup>i</sup>go thy way; the <sup>6</sup>devil is gone out of thy daughter. <sup>30</sup>And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the <sup>6</sup>devil gone out.

thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set them before the multitude. 7 And they had a few small fishes: and <sup>u</sup>having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And <sup>u</sup>they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, <sup>w</sup>seven baskets. 9 And they were about four thousand: and he sent them away. 10 And straightway he entered into <sup>a</sup>the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of <sup>b</sup>Dalmanutha.

14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, <sup>k</sup>be ware of <sup>l</sup>the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of <sup>m</sup>Herod. 16 And they reasoned one with another, <sup>n</sup>saying, <sup>o</sup>We have no bread. 17 And <sup>p</sup>Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? <sup>q</sup>do ye not yet perceive, <sup>r</sup>neither understand? <sup>s</sup>have ye your heart hardened? 18 <sup>t</sup>Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake <sup>u</sup>the five loaves among the five thousand, how many <sup>v</sup>baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? And they say unto him, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, Do ye not yet understand?

22 And they come <sup>y</sup>unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. 23 And <sup>z</sup>he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when <sup>aa</sup>he had <sup>ab</sup>spit on his eyes, and <sup>ac</sup>laid his hands upon him, he asked him,

Seest thou aught? 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I be-hold <sup>ad</sup>them as trees, walking. 25 Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw all things clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his home, saying, <sup>ae</sup>Do not even enter into the village.

27 <sup>af</sup>And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsa-rea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying, <sup>ag</sup>John the Baptist: and others, <sup>ah</sup>Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. 29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith unto him, <sup>ai</sup>Thou art <sup>aj</sup>the Christ. 30 <sup>ak</sup>And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. 31 <sup>al</sup>And he began to teach them, that <sup>am</sup>the Son of man must <sup>an</sup>suffer many things, and <sup>ao</sup>be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and <sup>ap</sup>after three days rise again. 32 And he spake the saying <sup>aq</sup>openly. And Peter took him, and began to re-buke him. 33 But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, <sup>ar</sup>Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou <sup>as</sup>mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 34 And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him <sup>at</sup>deny himself, and <sup>au</sup>take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For <sup>av</sup>whosoever would save his <sup>aw</sup>life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his <sup>ax</sup>life for my sake <sup>ay</sup>and the gospel's shall save it. 36 <sup>az</sup>For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his <sup>ba</sup>life? 37 For <sup>bb</sup>what should a man give in exchange for his <sup>bc</sup>life? 38 For <sup>bd</sup>whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this <sup>be</sup>adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, <sup>bf</sup>when he cometh in the glory of his Father with <sup>bg</sup>the holy angels. 1 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There be some here of them that stand <sup>bh</sup>by, which shall in no wise "taste of death," till they see the kingdom of God come w with power.

2<sup>x</sup> And after six days Jesus taketh with him <sup>y</sup>Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was <sup>z</sup>transfigured before them: 3 and <sup>a</sup>his garments became glistering, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, <sup>b</sup>Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three <sup>1c</sup>tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 6 For <sup>d</sup>he wist not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 7 And there came <sup>e</sup>a cloud overshadowing them: and there came <sup>e</sup>a voice out of the cloud, <sup>f</sup>This is my beloved Son: <sup>g</sup>hear ye him. 8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9<sup>h</sup> And as they were coming down from the mountain, <sup>i</sup>he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, <sup>j</sup>save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. 10<sup>k</sup> And they kept the saying, <sup>l</sup>questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, <sup>m</sup>The scribes say <sup>m</sup>that Elijah must first come. 12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and <sup>n</sup>re-streth all things: and <sup>o</sup>how is it written of the Son of man, that he should <sup>p</sup>suffer many things and <sup>q</sup>be set at nought? 13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and <sup>r</sup>they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.

14<sup>s</sup> And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, <sup>t</sup>were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered him, <sup>u</sup>Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath <sup>v</sup>a dumb spirit; 18 and where-

soever it taketh him, it <sup>d</sup>dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and <sup>v</sup>they were not able. 19 And he answereth them and saith, O <sup>w</sup>faithless generation, <sup>w</sup>how long shall I be with you? <sup>w</sup>how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit <sup>5x</sup>tare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but <sup>v</sup>if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, <sup>v</sup>If thou canst! <sup>2</sup>All things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said <sup>6</sup>, I believe; <sup>a</sup>help thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that <sup>b</sup>a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, <sup>c</sup>Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out, and <sup>5a</sup>torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; inasmuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus <sup>a</sup>took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come <sup>e</sup>into the house, his disciples asked him privately, <sup>7</sup>saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer<sup>8</sup>.

30<sup>f</sup> And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, <sup>g</sup>after three days he shall rise again. 32<sup>h</sup> But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And <sup>i</sup>they came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house <sup>j</sup>he asked them, What were ye reasoning in the way? <sup>34</sup> But they held their peace: for <sup>k</sup> they had disputed one with another in the way, who <sup>was</sup> the <sup>1</sup> greatest. <sup>35</sup> And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, <sup>i</sup> If any man would be first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all. <sup>36</sup> And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them: and <sup>m</sup> taking him in his arms, he said unto them, <sup>37</sup> <sup>n</sup> Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and <sup>n</sup> whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. <sup>20</sup> And he said unto him, <sup>1</sup> Master, <sup>2</sup> all these things have I observed from my youth. <sup>21</sup> And Jesus <sup>3</sup> looking upon him <sup>4</sup> loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, <sup>5</sup> sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have <sup>6</sup> treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. <sup>22</sup> But his countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

they shall <sup>5</sup> condemn him to death, and shall <sup>6</sup> deliver him unto the Gentiles: <sup>34</sup> and they shall <sup>7</sup> mock him, and shall <sup>8</sup> spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and <sup>9</sup> after three days he shall rise again.

he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. <sup>49</sup> And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, <sup>o</sup> Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth thee. <sup>50</sup> And he, casting away his <sup>p</sup> garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. <sup>51</sup> And Jesus answered him, and said, <sup>q</sup> What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, <sup>r</sup> Rabboni, that I may receive my sight. <sup>52</sup> And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; <sup>s</sup> thy faith hath <sup>1</sup> made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

II <sup>1</sup> And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and <sup>v</sup> Bethany, at <sup>w</sup> the mount of Olives, he sendeth <sup>x</sup> two of his disciples, <sup>2</sup> and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, <sup>y</sup> whereon no man ever yet sat; loose him, and bring him. <sup>3</sup> And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he <sup>2</sup> will send him <sup>3</sup> back hither. <sup>4</sup> And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him. <sup>5</sup> And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? <sup>6</sup> And they said unto them even as Jesus had said: and they let them go. <sup>7</sup> And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him. <sup>8</sup> And many <sup>z</sup> spread their garments upon the way; and others <sup>4</sup> branches, which they had cut from the fields. <sup>9</sup> And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, <sup>a</sup> Hosanna; <sup>b</sup> Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: <sup>10</sup> Blessed is <sup>c</sup> the kingdom that cometh, <sup>d</sup> the kingdom of <sup>e</sup> our father <sup>f</sup> David: <sup>g</sup> Hosanna <sup>h</sup> in the highest.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>i</sup> And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round upon all things, it being now eventide, <sup>h</sup> he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee this authority to do these things? <sup>29</sup> And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one <sup>1</sup> question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>30</sup> The baptism of John, was it <sup>k</sup> from heaven, or from men? answer me. <sup>31</sup> And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, <sup>l</sup> Why then did ye not believe him? <sup>32</sup> But should we say, From men — <sup>m</sup> they feared John to be <sup>n</sup> a prophet. <sup>33</sup> And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28<sup>j</sup> And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered, The first is, <sup>k</sup>Hear, O Israel; <sup>1</sup>The Lord our God, <sup>1</sup>the Lord is one: 30 and thou shalt love the Lord thy God <sup>2</sup>with all thy heart, and <sup>2</sup>with all thy soul, and <sup>2</sup>with all thy mind, and <sup>2</sup>with all thy strength. 31<sup>m</sup> The second is this, <sup>2</sup>Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment <sup>g</sup>greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, <sup>8</sup>Master, thou hast well said that <sup>1</sup>he is one; and <sup>p</sup>there is none other but he: 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all <sup>q</sup>the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, <sup>r</sup>is much more than all <sup>s</sup>whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. <sup>t</sup>And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35<sup>u</sup> And Jesus answered and said, as <sup>u</sup>he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that <sup>w</sup>the Christ is the son of David? 36 David himself said <sup>w</sup>in the Holy Spirit, <sup>v</sup>The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies <sup>z</sup>the footstool of thy feet.

37 David himself calleth him Lord; and <sup>z</sup>whence is he his son? And <sup>b</sup>the common people <sup>b</sup>heard him gladly.

41<sup>h</sup> And he sat down over against <sup>i</sup>the treasury, and beheld how the multitude <sup>j</sup>cast <sup>k</sup>money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. 42 And there came <sup>s</sup>a poor widow, and she cast in two <sup>m</sup>mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, <sup>m</sup>This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: 44 for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her <sup>n</sup>want did cast in all that she had, <sup>o</sup>even all her <sup>o</sup>living.

shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and <sup>1</sup> cause them to be put to death. <sup>13</sup> And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: <sup>2</sup> but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh: <sup>29</sup> even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that <sup>30</sup> he is nigh, even <sup>31</sup> at the doors. <sup>32</sup> Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, until all these things be accomplished. <sup>33</sup> Heaven and earth shall pass away: but <sup>34</sup> my words shall not pass away. <sup>35</sup> But of that day or that hour <sup>36</sup> knoweth no one, not even the angels in heaven, <sup>37</sup> neither the Son, <sup>38</sup> but the Father. <sup>39</sup> Take ye heed, <sup>40</sup> watch <sup>41</sup> and pray: for ye know not when the time is. <sup>42</sup> It is as when a man, <sup>43</sup> sojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his <sup>44</sup> servants, <sup>45</sup> to each one his work, commanded also <sup>46</sup> the porter to watch. <sup>47</sup> Watch therefore: for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh, whether <sup>48</sup> at even, or <sup>49</sup> at midnight, or <sup>50</sup> at cockcrow, or <sup>51</sup> in the morning; <sup>52</sup> lest <sup>53</sup> coming suddenly he <sup>54</sup> find you sleeping. <sup>55</sup> And what I say unto you I say unto all, <sup>56</sup> Watch.

hath done what she could : she hath anointed my body aforehand for <sup>b</sup>the burying. <sup>9</sup>And verily I say unto you, Whosoever <sup>c</sup>the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of <sup>d</sup>for a memorial of her.

unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest : <sup>b</sup> it is enough ; <sup>c</sup> the hour is come ; behold, <sup>d</sup> the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise, let us be going : behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 <sup>e</sup> And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh <sup>f</sup> Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he ; take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, <sup>g</sup> Rabbi ; and <sup>h</sup> he kissed him. 46 And they laid hands on him, and took him. 47 But a certain one of them that stood by drew his <sup>i</sup> sword, and smote the <sup>j</sup> servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me ? 49 <sup>k</sup> I was daily with you in the temple <sup>l</sup> teaching, and ye took me not : but <sup>m</sup> this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. 50 <sup>n</sup> And they all left him, and fled.

53 <sup>q</sup> And <sup>r</sup> they led Jesus away to the high priest : and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

55 Now the chief priests and the whole <sup>y</sup> council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death ; and found it not. 56 <sup>z</sup> For many bare false witness against him, and their witness <sup>a</sup> agreed not together. 57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 <sup>b</sup> We heard him say, <sup>c</sup> I will destroy this <sup>d</sup> temple <sup>e</sup> that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another <sup>f</sup> made without hands. 59 And not even so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing ? what is it which these witness against thee ? 61 But <sup>g</sup> he held his peace, and answered nothing.

62 Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou <sup>h</sup> the Christ, the Son of <sup>i</sup> the Blessed ? 63 And Jesus said, I am : and <sup>j</sup> ye shall see the Son of man <sup>k</sup> sitting at the right hand of power, and <sup>l</sup> coming with the clouds of heaven.

67 And as Peter was beneath in <sup>w</sup> the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest ; 68 and seeing Peter <sup>x</sup> warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with <sup>y</sup> the Nazarene, even Jesus. 69 But he denied, saying, <sup>z</sup> I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest : and he went out into the <sup>a</sup> porch ; <sup>b</sup> and <sup>c</sup> the cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is <sup>d</sup> one of them. 70 But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art <sup>e</sup> one of them ; for thou art a Galileean.

71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And straightway <sup>f</sup> the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, <sup>g</sup> Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt <sup>h</sup> deny me thrice. 73 And when he thought thereon, he wept.

4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, <sup>o</sup>Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. 5 But Jesus <sup>o</sup>no more answered anything; inasmuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 <sup>a</sup>Now at <sup>1</sup>the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. 7 And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had <sup>1</sup>made insurrection, <sup>1</sup>men who in the insurrection had committed murder. 8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. 9 And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he perceived that <sup>k</sup>for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him <sup>1</sup>whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify him. 14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, <sup>m</sup>what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. 15 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had <sup>n</sup>scourged him, to be crucified.

21 <sup>y</sup>And they <sup>z</sup>compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and <sup>z</sup>Rufus, to go with them, that he might <sup>z</sup>bear his cross. 22 <sup>z</sup>And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him wine mingled with <sup>o</sup>myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And they crucify him, and <sup>a</sup>part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. 25 And <sup>e</sup>it was the third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, <sup>f</sup>THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two <sup>o</sup>robbers; <sup>h</sup>one on his right hand, and one on his left. 29 And <sup>i</sup>they that passed by railed on him, <sup>j</sup>wagging their heads, and saying, <sup>k</sup>Hal <sup>1</sup>thou that destroyest the <sup>l</sup>temple, and buildest it in three days, 30 save thyself, and come down from the cross. 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocking <sup>h</sup>him among themselves with the scribes said, <sup>m</sup>He saved others; <sup>n</sup>himself he cannot save. 32 Let <sup>o</sup>the Christ, <sup>p</sup>the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may <sup>q</sup>see and believe. <sup>r</sup>And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole <sup>s</sup>land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus <sup>s</sup>cried with a loud voice, <sup>t</sup>Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, <sup>u</sup>why hast thou forsaken me? 35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. 36 And one ran, and filling a sponge full of <sup>v</sup>vinegar, put it on a reed, <sup>v</sup>and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to take him down. 37 And Jesus <sup>w</sup>uttered a loud voice, and <sup>x</sup>gave up the ghost. 38 And <sup>y</sup>the veil of the <sup>z</sup>temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. 39 <sup>z</sup>And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he <sup>10</sup>so gave up the ghost, he said, <sup>a</sup>Truly this man was <sup>11</sup>the Son of God. 40 And there were also <sup>a</sup>women beholding <sup>a</sup>from afar: among whom were both <sup>e</sup>Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James <sup>f</sup>the <sup>12</sup>less and of Joses, and <sup>g</sup>Salome; 41 who, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and <sup>e</sup>ministered unto him; and many other

42<sup>i</sup> And when even was now come, because it was <sup>j</sup> the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of <sup>k</sup> honourable estate, who also <sup>l</sup> himself was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him <sup>m</sup> the centurion, he asked him whether he <sup>n</sup> had been any while dead. 45 And when he learned it of <sup>m</sup> the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. 46 And he bought <sup>n</sup> a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and <sup>o</sup> laid him in a tomb <sup>p</sup> which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled <sup>q</sup> a stone against the door of the tomb. 47 And <sup>r</sup> Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Josès beheld where he was laid.

and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

12<sup>c</sup> And after these things <sup>i</sup> he was manifested in <sup>j</sup> another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. 13<sup>d</sup> And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward <sup>k</sup> he was manifested <sup>l</sup> unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their <sup>m</sup> unbelief and <sup>n</sup> hardness of heart, because <sup>o</sup> they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. 15 And he said unto them, <sup>p</sup> Go ye into all the world, and <sup>q</sup> preach the gospel to <sup>r</sup> the whole creation. 16<sup>e</sup> He that believeth and <sup>s</sup> is baptized <sup>t</sup> shall be saved; but <sup>u</sup> he that <sup>v</sup> disbelieveth shall be condemned. 17 And <sup>w</sup> these signs shall follow them that believe: <sup>x</sup> in my name shall they cast out <sup>y</sup> devils; <sup>z</sup> they shall speak with <sup>aa</sup> new tongues; 18<sup>f</sup> <sup>ab</sup> they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; <sup>ac</sup> they shall lay hands <sup>ad</sup> on the sick, and they shall recover.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LUKE.

I FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which <sup>a</sup>have been <sup>1</sup>fulfilled among us, <sup>2b</sup>even as they <sup>c</sup>delivered them unto us, which <sup>d</sup>from the beginning were <sup>e</sup>eyewitnesses and <sup>f</sup>ministers of <sup>g</sup>the word, <sup>3</sup>it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee <sup>h</sup>in order, <sup>i</sup>most excellent <sup>j</sup>Theophilus; <sup>4</sup>that thou mightest know <sup>k</sup>the certainty concerning the <sup>l</sup>things <sup>m</sup>wherein <sup>n</sup>thou wast instructed.

thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and <sup>j</sup>thou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall <sup>k</sup>rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be <sup>l</sup>great in the sight of the Lord, and <sup>m</sup>he shall drink no wine nor <sup>n</sup>strong <sup>o</sup>drink; and <sup>p</sup>he shall be <sup>q</sup>filled with the <sup>r</sup>Holy Ghost, <sup>s</sup>even from his mother's womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. 17 And <sup>t</sup>he shall <sup>u</sup>go before his face <sup>v</sup>in the spirit and power of Elijah, <sup>w</sup>to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and <sup>x</sup>the disobedient <sup>y</sup>to walk in the wisdom of the just; <sup>z</sup>to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. 18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, <sup>a</sup>Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife <sup>b</sup>well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am <sup>c</sup>Gabriel, <sup>d</sup>that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. 20 And behold, <sup>e</sup>thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled <sup>f</sup>while he tarried in <sup>g</sup>the <sup>h</sup>temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in <sup>i</sup>the <sup>j</sup>temple: and <sup>k</sup>he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, <sup>l</sup>when the days of his <sup>m</sup>ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee. 29 But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. 31 And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: 33 and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also that which is to be born shall be called holy, the Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her that was called barren. 37 For no word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? 44 For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And blessed is she that believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said,

My soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath looked upon the low estate of his handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; And holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is unto generations and generations On them that fear him.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arm;

He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart.

52 He hath put down princes from their thrones,

And hath exalted them of low degree.

53 The hungry he hath filled with good things; And the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen Israel his servant,

That he might remember mercy

(As he spake unto our fathers)

Toward Abraham and his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him

Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; <sup>v</sup> but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62 And <sup>z</sup> they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 63 And he asked for <sup>a</sup> a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, <sup>v</sup> His name is John. And they marvelled all. 64 <sup>b</sup> And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue <sup>c</sup> loosed, and he spake, <sup>d</sup> blessing God. 65 And <sup>e</sup> fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all <sup>f</sup> the hill country of Judæa. 66 And all that heard them <sup>g</sup> laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For <sup>h</sup> the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias <sup>i</sup> was filled with the Holy Ghost, and <sup>j</sup> prophesied, saying,

For he hath <sup>m</sup> visited and wrought <sup>n</sup> redemption for his people,

69 And <sup>o</sup> hath raised up <sup>p</sup> a horn of salvation for us

70 (<sup>r</sup> As <sup>s</sup> he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began),

71 <sup>t</sup> Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

72 <sup>u</sup> To shew mercy towards our fathers,

And <sup>v</sup> to remember his holy <sup>w</sup> covenant;

73 <sup>x</sup> The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,

74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies

Should serve him <sup>y</sup> without fear,

76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called <sup>b</sup> the prophet of <sup>c</sup> the Most High:

For <sup>d</sup> thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people

<sup>e</sup> In the remission of their sins,

78 Because of the <sup>f</sup> tender mercy of our God,

79 To <sup>l</sup> shine upon <sup>m</sup> them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death;

To guide our feet into <sup>n</sup> the way of <sup>o</sup> peace.

80 <sup>p</sup> And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was <sup>q</sup> in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

<sup>f</sup> to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child.

<sup>g</sup> And it came to pass, <sup>h</sup> while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered.

<sup>m</sup> And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping <sup>n</sup> watch by night over their flock.

it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, <sup>1</sup>sitting in the midst of <sup>2</sup>the <sup>3</sup>doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: <sup>4</sup>and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. <sup>5</sup>And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, <sup>6</sup>Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, <sup>7</sup>thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. <sup>8</sup>And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that <sup>9</sup>I must be <sup>10</sup>in my Father's house? <sup>11</sup>And <sup>12</sup>they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. <sup>13</sup>And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and <sup>14</sup>his mother kept all <sup>15</sup>these <sup>16</sup>sayings in her heart.

<sup>20</sup>And the crooked shall become straight,

and begin not to say within yourselves, <sup>31</sup>"We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of <sup>32</sup>these stones to raise up children unto Abraham." <sup>33</sup>And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: <sup>34</sup>"every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire." <sup>35</sup>And the multitudes asked him, saying, <sup>36</sup>"What then must we do?" <sup>37</sup>And he answered and said unto them, <sup>38</sup>"He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise." <sup>39</sup>And <sup>40</sup>there came also <sup>41</sup>publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, <sup>42</sup>"Master, <sup>43</sup>what must we do?" <sup>44</sup>And he said unto them, <sup>45</sup>"Extort no more than that which is appointed you." <sup>46</sup>And <sup>47</sup>soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, <sup>48</sup>"what must we do?" And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither <sup>49</sup>exact <sup>50</sup>anything wrongfully; and be content with your <sup>51</sup>wages.

 20 And he closed the <sup>1</sup>book, and gave it back to the attendant, and <sup>2</sup>sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were <sup>3</sup>fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, To-day <sup>4</sup>'hath <sup>5</sup>this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at <sup>6</sup>the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, <sup>7</sup>Is not this <sup>8</sup>Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, <sup>9</sup>Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done <sup>10</sup>at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, <sup>11</sup>No prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when <sup>12</sup>the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah sent, <sup>13</sup>but only to <sup>14</sup>Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And <sup>15</sup>there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, <sup>16</sup>but only Namaan the Syrian. 28 And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; 29 and they rose up, and <sup>17</sup>cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he <sup>18</sup>passing through the midst of them went his way.

And when the <sup>1</sup>devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 36 And <sup>2</sup>amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is <sup>3</sup>this word? <sup>4</sup>for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 37 And <sup>5</sup>there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 <sup>6</sup>And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And <sup>7</sup>Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 39 And he stood over her, and <sup>8</sup>rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and <sup>1</sup>he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 <sup>2</sup>And <sup>3</sup>devils also came out from many, <sup>4</sup>crying out, and saying, Thou art <sup>5</sup>the Son of God. And rebuking them, <sup>6</sup>he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was <sup>7</sup>the Christ.

42 <sup>8</sup>And when it was day, he came out and went <sup>9</sup>into a desert place: and <sup>10</sup>the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 43 But he said unto them, <sup>11</sup>I must <sup>12</sup>preach the <sup>13</sup>good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

1 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by <sup>1</sup>the lake of Gennesaret; <sup>2</sup>and he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were <sup>3</sup>washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And <sup>4</sup>he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. 4 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, <sup>5</sup>Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a

And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. <sup>8</sup> But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, <sup>p</sup> Depart from me; for <sup>q</sup> I am a sinful man, O Lord. <sup>9</sup> For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; <sup>10</sup> and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt <sup>1</sup> catch men. <sup>11</sup> And when they had brought their boats to land, <sup>e</sup> they left all, and followed him.

<sup>17</sup> And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and <sup>c</sup> doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem: and <sup>d</sup> the power of the Lord was with him <sup>2</sup> to heal. <sup>18</sup> And behold, men bring <sup>f</sup> on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him. <sup>19</sup> And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to <sup>g</sup> the housetop, and let him down <sup>h</sup> through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>i</sup> seeing their faith, he said, Man, <sup>j</sup> thy sins are forgiven thee. <sup>21</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh <sup>k</sup> blasphemies? <sup>l</sup> Who can forgive sins, but God alone? <sup>22</sup> But Jesus <sup>m</sup> perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, <sup>n</sup> What reason ye in your hearts? <sup>23</sup> Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? <sup>24</sup> But that ye may know that <sup>o</sup> the Son of man hath <sup>p</sup> power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house, <sup>q</sup> glorifying God. <sup>25</sup> And amazement took hold on all, and they <sup>q</sup> glorified God; and they were filled <sup>r</sup> with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

shall be taken away from them, <sup>e</sup> then will they fast in those days. 36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old <sup>1</sup> wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is <sup>2</sup> good.

6 <sup>1</sup> Now it came to pass on a sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples <sup>h</sup> plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 But certain of the Pharisees said, 'Why do ye <sup>j</sup> that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? 3 And Jesus answering them said, <sup>k</sup> Have ye not read even this, <sup>l</sup> what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; <sup>m</sup> how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat <sup>n</sup> the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; <sup>o</sup> which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? 5 And he said unto them, <sup>p</sup> The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass on another sabbath, that <sup>q</sup> he entered into the synagogue <sup>r</sup> and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and the Pharisees <sup>s</sup> watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; <sup>t</sup> that they might find how to accuse him. 8 But <sup>u</sup> he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. 9 And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, <sup>v</sup> Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? 10 And <sup>w</sup> he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And <sup>x</sup> he did so: and his hand was restored. 11 But they were filled with <sup>y</sup> madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that <sup>z</sup> he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, <sup>a</sup> he called his disciples: <sup>b</sup> and <sup>c</sup> he chose from them twelve, whom also he named <sup>d</sup> apostles; 14 Simon, <sup>e</sup> whom he also named Peter, and <sup>f</sup> Andrew his brother, and <sup>g</sup> James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, 15 and <sup>h</sup> Matthew and Thomas, and James <sup>i</sup> the son of Alphæus, and Simon which was called <sup>j</sup> the Zealot, 16 and <sup>k</sup> Judas the <sup>l</sup> son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; 17 and <sup>m</sup> he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and <sup>n</sup> a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of <sup>o</sup> Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18 and <sup>p</sup> they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. 19 And all the multitude <sup>q</sup> sought to touch him: for <sup>r</sup> power came forth from him, and healed <sup>s</sup> them all.

that curse you, <sup>a</sup> pray for them that despitefully use you. <sup>29</sup> <sup>k</sup> To him that <sup>l</sup> smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloke withhold not thy coat also. <sup>30</sup> <sup>m</sup> Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. <sup>31</sup> And <sup>n</sup> as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. <sup>32</sup> And <sup>o</sup> if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. <sup>33</sup> And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. <sup>34</sup> And <sup>p</sup> if ye <sup>q</sup> lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. <sup>35</sup> But <sup>r</sup> love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, <sup>s</sup> never <sup>t</sup> despairing; and your reward shall be great, and <sup>u</sup> ye shall be sons of <sup>v</sup> the Most High: for <sup>w</sup> he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. <sup>36</sup> <sup>x</sup> Be ye merciful, even as <sup>y</sup> your Father is merciful. <sup>37</sup> <sup>z</sup> And <sup>a</sup> judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: <sup>b</sup> release, and ye shall be released: <sup>38</sup> <sup>c</sup> give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give <sup>d</sup> into your bosom. For <sup>e</sup> with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

to my <sup>1</sup>servant, Do this, and he doeth it. <sup>9</sup>And when Jesus heard these things, <sup>a</sup>he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great <sup>v</sup>faith, no, not in Israel. <sup>10</sup>And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the <sup>1</sup>servant whole.

<sup>11</sup>And it came to pass <sup>2</sup>soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. <sup>12</sup>Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, <sup>2</sup>the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. <sup>13</sup>And when the Lord saw her, <sup>a</sup>he had compassion on her, and <sup>b</sup>said unto her, Weep not. <sup>14</sup>And he came nigh and touched <sup>c</sup>the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, <sup>d</sup>Arise. <sup>15</sup>And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And <sup>e</sup>he gave him to his mother. <sup>16</sup>And fear took hold on all: and <sup>f</sup>they glorified God, saying, <sup>g</sup>A great prophet is arisen among us: and, <sup>h</sup>God hath visited his people. <sup>17</sup>And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

<sup>18</sup>And <sup>j</sup>the disciples of John told him of all these things. <sup>19</sup>And John calling unto him <sup>3</sup>two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou <sup>k</sup>he that cometh, or <sup>l</sup>'look we for another? <sup>20</sup>And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou <sup>k</sup>he that cometh, or <sup>l</sup>'look we for another? <sup>21</sup>In that hour <sup>m</sup>he cured many of diseases and <sup>n</sup>plagues and evil spirits; and <sup>o</sup>on many that were blind he bestowed sight. <sup>22</sup>And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; <sup>p</sup>the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, <sup>q</sup>the lepers are cleansed, and <sup>r</sup>the deaf hear, <sup>s</sup>the dead are raised up, <sup>t</sup>the poor have <sup>6</sup>good tidings preached to them. <sup>23</sup>And blessed is he, whosoever shall <sup>u</sup>find none occasion of stumbling in me.

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

<sup>28</sup>I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is <sup>6</sup>but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. <sup>29</sup><sup>2</sup>And all the people when they heard, and <sup>a</sup>the publicans, justified God, <sup>7</sup>and being baptized with <sup>b</sup>the baptism of John. <sup>30</sup><sup>c</sup>But the Pharisees and <sup>d</sup>the lawyers <sup>e</sup>rejected for themselves <sup>f</sup>the counsel of God, <sup>8</sup>being not baptized of him. <sup>31</sup>Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? <sup>32</sup>They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not weep. <sup>33</sup>For John the Baptist is come <sup>g</sup>eating no bread <sup>h</sup>nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a <sup>9</sup>devil. <sup>34</sup>The Son of man is come <sup>i</sup>eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, <sup>j</sup>a friend of publicans and sinners! <sup>35</sup>And <sup>k</sup>wisdom <sup>10</sup>is justified of all her children.

<sup>36</sup>And <sup>l</sup>one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. <sup>37</sup><sup>m</sup>And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought <sup>n</sup>an alabaster cruse of ointment, <sup>38</sup>and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and <sup>o</sup>wiped them what to say unto thee. And he saith, <sup>3</sup> Master, say on. 41 A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred <sup>4</sup> pence, and the other fifty. 42 When they had not wherewith to pay, he <sup>5</sup> forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most.

And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, <sup>6</sup> thou gavest me no water for my feet: but <sup>7</sup> she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. 45 <sup>8</sup> Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to <sup>9</sup> kiss my feet. 46 <sup>9</sup> My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee,
Her sins, <sup>a</sup> which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, <sup>b</sup> Thy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say <sup>c</sup> within themselves, <sup>c</sup> Who is this that even forgiveth sins?
50 And he said unto the woman, <sup>d</sup> Thy faith hath saved thee; <sup>e</sup> go in peace.

8 <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about <sup>f</sup> through cities and villages, preaching and <sup>g</sup> bringing the <sup>g</sup> good tidings of the kingdom of God, and with him the twelve, <sup>2</sup> and <sup>h</sup> certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, <sup>3</sup> Mary that was called Magdalene, <sup>4</sup> from whom seven <sup>4</sup> devils had gone out,
3 and <sup>5</sup> Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto <sup>5</sup> them of their substance.

4 <sup>1</sup> And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: <sup>5</sup> <sup>5</sup> The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed,
some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it.
6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, <sup>6</sup> it withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst <sup>7</sup> the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked
it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit <sup>8</sup> a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, <sup>9</sup> He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him what this parable might be. <sup>10</sup> And he said, <sup>10</sup> Unto you it is given <sup>10</sup> to know <sup>10</sup> the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; <sup>11</sup> that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.
11 <sup>11</sup> Now the parable is this: The seed is <sup>11</sup> the word of God. 12 And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not <sup>12</sup> believe and be saved. 13 And those on the rock <sup>13</sup> are they which, when they have heard, receive the word <sup>14</sup> with joy; and these have no root, which <sup>14</sup> for a while believe, and in time of temptation <sup>15</sup> fall away.
14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and <sup>15</sup> as they go on their way they are choked with <sup>16</sup> cares and riches and pleasures of this life,
and bring no fruit to perfection.
15 And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and <sup>16</sup> bring forth fruit <sup>17</sup> with patience.

16 <sup>17</sup> And <sup>17</sup> no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed;
but putteth it on a stand, that they
which enter in may see the light.
17 <sup>18</sup> For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. 18 <sup>19</sup> Take heed therefore how ye hear: <sup>19</sup> for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall

19<sup>k</sup> And there came to him his mother and<sup>i</sup> brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. 20 And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these<sup>m</sup> which hear the word of God, and do it.

22<sup>n</sup> Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of<sup>o</sup> the lake: and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on<sup>o</sup> the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and<sup>p</sup> rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm. 25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being<sup>r</sup> afraid they<sup>s</sup> marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that<sup>t</sup> he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

26<sup>u</sup> And they arrived at the country of the<sup>2</sup> Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had<sup>3</sup> devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in<sup>any</sup> house, but in the tombs. 28 And when he saw Jesus, he<sup>w</sup> cried out, and fell down before him, and<sup>w</sup> with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of<sup>4</sup> the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. 29 For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For<sup>4</sup> oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the<sup>5</sup> devil<sup>a</sup> into the deserts. 30 And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, Legion; for many<sup>3</sup> devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into<sup>c</sup> the abyss. 32 Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. 33 And the<sup>3</sup> devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into<sup>d</sup> the lake, and were choked. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. 35 And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the<sup>3</sup> devils were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind,<sup>f</sup> at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. 36 And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with<sup>3</sup> devils<sup>g</sup> was<sup>6</sup> made whole. 37 And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about<sup>h</sup> asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 38 But the man from whom the<sup>3</sup> devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thy house, and declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude<sup>j</sup> welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. 41<sup>k</sup> And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was<sup>l</sup> a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; 42 for he had<sup>m</sup> an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes<sup>n</sup> thronged him.

said, <sup>1</sup>and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press thee and crush thee. <sup>46</sup>But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that <sup>2</sup>power had gone forth from me. <sup>47</sup>And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. <sup>48</sup>And he said unto her, Daughter, <sup>3</sup>thy faith hath <sup>2</sup>made thee whole; <sup>2</sup>go in peace.

<sup>19</sup>And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? <sup>20</sup>And they answering said, <sup>j</sup>John the Baptist; but others say, <sup>2</sup>Elijah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. <sup>21</sup>And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? manded them to tell this to no man; <sup>22</sup> saying, <sup>k</sup> The Son of man must <sup>l</sup> suffer many things, and <sup>m</sup> be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and <sup>n</sup> the third day be raised up. <sup>23</sup> And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him <sup>o</sup> deny himself, and <sup>p</sup> take up his cross <sup>q</sup> daily, and follow me. <sup>24</sup> For <sup>r</sup> whosoever shall save his <sup>1</sup> life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his <sup>1</sup> life for my sake, the same shall save it. <sup>25</sup> For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self? <sup>26</sup> For <sup>s</sup> whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, <sup>t</sup> when he cometh in <sup>u</sup> his own glory, and <sup>v</sup> the glory of the Father, and of <sup>w</sup> the holy angels. <sup>27</sup> But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise <sup>x</sup> taste of death, <sup>y</sup> till they see the kingdom of God.

<sup>37</sup> And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. <sup>38</sup> And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, <sup>7</sup> Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for <sup>q</sup> he is mine only child: <sup>39</sup> and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it <sup>r</sup> teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. <sup>40</sup> And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and <sup>s</sup> they could not. <sup>41</sup> And Jesus answered and said, O <sup>t</sup> faithless and perverse generation, <sup>u</sup> how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. <sup>42</sup> And as he was yet a coming, the <sup>v</sup> devil <sup>w</sup> dashed him down, and <sup>x</sup> tare him grievously. But Jesus <sup>y</sup> rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and <sup>z</sup> gave him back to his father. <sup>43</sup> And they were all astonished at <sup>a</sup> the majesty of God.

<sup>49</sup> And John answered and said, Master, we saw one <sup>m</sup> casting out devils in thy name; and <sup>n</sup> we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. <sup>50</sup> But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: <sup>a</sup>for he that is not against you is for you.

57 And as they went <sup>s</sup>in the way, <sup>2a</sup>a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. <sup>58</sup>And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have <sup>4w</sup>nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. <sup>59</sup>And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. <sup>60</sup>But he said unto him, Leave <sup>v</sup>the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and <sup>w</sup>publish abroad the kingdom of God. <sup>61</sup>And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; <sup>x</sup>but first suffer me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. <sup>62</sup>But Jesus said unto him, <sup>y</sup>No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

6 And if <sup>h</sup>a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon <sup>7</sup>him: but if not, <sup>i</sup>it shall turn to you again. <sup>7</sup>And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for <sup>j</sup>the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. <sup>8</sup>And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you: <sup>9</sup>and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, <sup>k</sup>The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. <sup>10</sup>But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof and say, <sup>11</sup>Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that <sup>m</sup>the kingdom of God is come nigh. <sup>12</sup><sup>a</sup>I say unto you, <sup>o</sup>It shall be more tolerable in <sup>p</sup>that day for Sodom, than for that city. <sup>13</sup>Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the <sup>8</sup>mighty works had been done in <sup>9</sup>Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. <sup>14</sup>Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for <sup>9</sup>Tyre and Sidon in the judgement, than for you. <sup>15</sup>And thou, Capernaum, <sup>s</sup>shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be brought down unto <sup>h</sup>Hades. <sup>16</sup>He that heareth you heareth me; and <sup>v</sup>he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and <sup>w</sup>he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

joined <sup>11</sup>in the Holy Spirit, and said, I <sup>2</sup>thank thee, O Father, <sup>3</sup>Lord of heaven and earth, that <sup>4</sup>thoudidst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst <sup>5</sup>reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; <sup>6</sup>for so <sup>7</sup>it was well-pleasing in thy sight. <sup>22</sup>All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, <sup>23</sup>save the Father; and who the Father is, <sup>24</sup>save the Son, and he <sup>25</sup>to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. <sup>23</sup>And turning to the disciples, he said privately, <sup>24</sup>Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: <sup>24</sup>for I say unto you, <sup>25</sup>that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

and took care of him. <sup>35</sup>And on the morrow he took out two <sup>36</sup>pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. <sup>36</sup>Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? <sup>37</sup>And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

r And it came to pass, as II he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, <sup>1</sup>even as John also taught his disciples. <sup>2</sup>And he said unto them, <sup>3</sup>When ye pray, say, <sup>4</sup>Our Father, <sup>5</sup>Hallowed be <sup>6</sup>thy name. <sup>7</sup>Thy kingdom come. <sup>8</sup>Give us <sup>9</sup>day by day <sup>10</sup>our daily bread. <sup>4</sup>And <sup>5</sup>forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And <sup>6</sup>bring us not into temptation <sup>13</sup>.

<sup>5</sup>And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall <sup>6</sup>go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; <sup>7</sup>for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; <sup>8</sup>and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? 8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, <sup>v</sup> because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him <sup>a</sup> as many as he needeth. 9 And I say unto you, <sup>w</sup> Ask, and <sup>x</sup> it shall be given you; <sup>y</sup> seek, and ye shall find; <sup>z</sup> knock, and it shall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 11 And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask <sup>a</sup> a loaf, and he give him <sup>a</sup> a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? 12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? 13 If ye then, <sup>b</sup> being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father <sup>c</sup> give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 And he was casting out a <sup>d</sup> devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the <sup>e</sup> devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled. 15 But some of them said, <sup>f</sup> 16 By Beelzebub the prince of the <sup>g</sup> devils casteth he out <sup>h</sup> devils. 17 And others, <sup>i</sup> tempting him, sought of him <sup>a</sup> a sign from heaven. 18 But he, <sup>j</sup> knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; <sup>k</sup> and a house divided against a house falleth. 19 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out <sup>l</sup> devils <sup>m</sup> by Beelzebub. 20 And if I <sup>n</sup> by Beelzebub cast out <sup>o</sup> devils, <sup>p</sup> by whom do <sup>q</sup> your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 21 But if I by <sup>r</sup> the finger of God cast out <sup>s</sup> devils, then is <sup>t</sup> 22 the kingdom of God come upon you. 23 When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in peace: 24 <sup>u</sup> but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and <sup>v</sup> overcome him, he taketh from him his <sup>w</sup> whole armour wherein he trusted, and <sup>x</sup> divideth his spoils. 25 <sup>y</sup> He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 26 <sup>z</sup> The unclean spirit when <sup>a</sup> he is gone out of the man, passeth through <sup>b</sup> waterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, <sup>c</sup> he saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. 27 And when <sup>d</sup> he is come, <sup>e</sup> he findeth it swept and garnished. 28 Then goeth <sup>f</sup> he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than <sup>g</sup> himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and <sup>h</sup> the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

29 And it came to pass, as he said these things, <sup>i</sup> a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, <sup>j</sup> Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. 30 But he said, Yea rather, <sup>k</sup> blessed are they <sup>l</sup> that hear the word of God, and <sup>m</sup> keep it.

31 And <sup>n</sup> when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, <sup>o</sup> This generation is an evil generation: <sup>p</sup> it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah. 32 For even as <sup>q</sup> Jonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. 33 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and <sup>r</sup> shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, <sup>s</sup> 34 a greater than Solomon is here. 35 The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and <sup>t</sup> shall condemn it: for <sup>u</sup> they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, <sup>v</sup> 36 a greater than Jonah is here.

37 No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 38 The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when it is <sup>w</sup> evil, thy body also is full of darkness. 39 Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. 40 If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, <sup>x</sup> as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

41 Now as he spake, <sup>y</sup> a Pharisee asketh him to <sup>z</sup> dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled <sup>a</sup> that he had not first washed before <sup>b</sup> dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, <sup>c</sup> Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of <sup>d</sup> extortion and wickedness. 40 <sup>e</sup> Ye foolish ones, <sup>f</sup> did not he that made the outside make the inside also? 41 Howbeit <sup>g</sup> give for alms those things which <sup>h</sup> are within; and behold, <sup>i</sup> all things are clean unto you.

42 <sup>j</sup> But woe unto you Pharisees! for <sup>k</sup> ye tithe the mint and rue and every herb, and pass over <sup>l</sup> judgement and <sup>m</sup> the love of God: <sup>n</sup> but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for <sup>o</sup> ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in <sup>p</sup> the market-places. 44 Woe unto you! <sup>q</sup> for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over <sup>r</sup> them know it not.

45 And one of <sup>s</sup> the lawyers answering saith unto him, <sup>t</sup> Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you <sup>u</sup> lawyers also! for <sup>v</sup> ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 <sup>w</sup> Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 <sup>x</sup> So ye are witnesses and <sup>y</sup> consent unto the works of <sup>z</sup> your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build <sup>a</sup> their tombs. 49 Therefore also said <sup>b</sup> the wisdom of God, <sup>c</sup> I will send unto them <sup>d</sup> prophets and apostles; <sup>e</sup> and some of them they shall <sup>f</sup> kill and persecute; <sup>g</sup> so that <sup>h</sup> the blood of all the prophets, which was shed <sup>i</sup> from the foundation of the world, may be <sup>j</sup> required of this generation; <sup>k</sup> 51 from the blood of <sup>l</sup> Abel unto the blood of <sup>m</sup> Zachariah, who perished between <sup>n</sup> the altar and <sup>o</sup> the <sup>p</sup> sanctuary: yea, I say unto you, it shall be <sup>q</sup> required of this generation. 52 Woe unto you <sup>r</sup> lawyers! <sup>s</sup> for ye took away the key of <sup>t</sup> knowledge: ye <sup>u</sup> entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And when he was come out from thence, the scribes and the Pharisees began to <sup>a</sup> press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of <sup>b</sup> many things; 54 <sup>c</sup> laying wait for him, <sup>d</sup> to catch something out of his mouth.

1 In the mean time, <sup>e</sup> when <sup>f</sup> the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to <sup>g</sup> say unto his disciples first of all, <sup>h</sup> Beware ye of <sup>i</sup> the leaven of the Pharisees, <sup>j</sup> which is hypocrisy. 2 <sup>k</sup> But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known. 3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in <sup>l</sup> the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon <sup>m</sup> the house-tops. 4 And I say unto you <sup>n</sup> my friends, <sup>o</sup> Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, <sup>p</sup> which after he hath killed hath <sup>q</sup> power to cast into <sup>r</sup> hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and <sup>s</sup> not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. 7 But <sup>t</sup> the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: <sup>u</sup> ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 And I say unto you, <sup>v</sup> Every one who shall confess <sup>w</sup> me before men, <sup>x</sup> him shall the Son of man also confess <sup>y</sup> before the angels of God: <sup>z</sup> 9 but <sup>a</sup> he that denieth me in the presence of men <sup>b</sup> shall be denied <sup>c</sup> in the presence of the angels of God. 10 And <sup>d</sup> every one who shall speak a word <sup>e</sup> against the Son of man, <sup>f</sup> it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that <sup>g</sup> blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven. 11 <sup>h</sup> And when they <sup>i</sup> bring you before the synagogues, and <sup>j</sup> the rulers, and <sup>k</sup> the authorities, <sup>l</sup> be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 <sup>m</sup> for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.

said unto him, <sup>1</sup>Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. <sup>14</sup>But he said unto him, <sup>o</sup>Man, <sup>a</sup>who made me a judge or a divider over you? <sup>15</sup>And he said unto them, <sup>a</sup>Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: <sup>2</sup>for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. <sup>16</sup>And he spake a parable unto them, saying, <sup>j</sup>The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: <sup>17</sup>and he reasoned within himself, saying, <sup>k</sup>What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits? <sup>18</sup>And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my <sup>1</sup>barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. <sup>19</sup>And I will say to my <sup>s</sup>soul, <sup>s</sup>Soul, thou hast much goods laid up <sup>m</sup>for many years; take thine ease, <sup>n</sup>eat, drink, be merry. <sup>20</sup>But God said unto him, <sup>o</sup>Thou foolish one, <sup>m</sup>this night <sup>a</sup>is thy <sup>s</sup>soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, <sup>a</sup>whose shall they be? <sup>21</sup>So is he <sup>r</sup>that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

<sup>u</sup>49 I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is already kindled? <sup>v</sup>50 But <sup>w</sup>2 I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how <sup>x</sup>am I straitened till it be accomplished! <sup>y</sup>51 Think ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? <sup>d</sup>54 And he said to the multitudes also, <sup>e</sup>When ye see <sup>f</sup>a cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh to pass. <sup>g</sup>55 And <sup>h</sup>when ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be <sup>i</sup>a scorching heat; and it cometh to pass. <sup>j</sup>56 Ye hypocrites, <sup>k</sup>ye know how to <sup>l</sup>interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to <sup>m</sup>interpret this time? <sup>n</sup>57 And why even <sup>o</sup>of yourselves <sup>p</sup>judge ye not what is right? <sup>q</sup>58 For <sup>r</sup>as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the <sup>s</sup>officer, and the <sup>t</sup>officer shall cast thee into prison. <sup>u</sup>59 I say unto thee, <sup>v</sup>Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last <sup>w</sup>c mite.

<sup>i</sup>6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had <sup>j</sup>a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. <sup>k</sup>7 And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none; <sup>l</sup>cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? <sup>m</sup>8 And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it; <sup>n</sup>9 and if it bear fruit thenceforth, <sup>o</sup>well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? 17 And as he said these things, <sup>u</sup>all his adversaries were put to shame: and <sup>v</sup>all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 <sup>w</sup>He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? 19 It is like unto <sup>x</sup>a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. 20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in <sup>z</sup>three <sup>1</sup>measures of meal, till it was <sup>a</sup>all leavened.

22 <sup>b</sup>And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and <sup>c</sup>journeying on unto Jerusalem. 23 And one said unto him, Lord, are they few <sup>d</sup>that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 <sup>e</sup>Strive <sup>f</sup>to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be <sup>2</sup>able. 25 <sup>g</sup>When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, <sup>h</sup>Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, <sup>i</sup>I know you not whence ye are; 26 then shall ye begin to say, <sup>j</sup>We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; 27 and he shall say, I tell you, <sup>k</sup>I know not whence ye are; <sup>l</sup>depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. 28 <sup>m</sup>There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see <sup>n</sup>Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and <sup>o</sup>yourselves cast forth without. 29 And <sup>p</sup>they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and <sup>q</sup>shall <sup>r</sup>sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, <sup>s</sup>there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go <sup>t</sup>hence: for <sup>u</sup>Herod would fain kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out <sup>v</sup>devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day <sup>w</sup>I am perfected. 33 Howbeit <sup>x</sup>I <sup>y</sup>must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that <sup>z</sup>a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 34 <sup>a</sup>O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, <sup>b</sup>which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! <sup>c</sup>how often would I have <sup>d</sup>gathered <sup>e</sup>thy children together, <sup>f</sup>even as a hen gathereth her own brood <sup>g</sup>under her wings, and <sup>h</sup>ye would not! 35 Behold, <sup>i</sup>your house is left unto you <sup>j</sup>desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, <sup>k</sup>Blessed <sup>l</sup>is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

1 And it came to pass, <sup>m</sup>when <sup>n</sup>he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were <sup>o</sup>watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto <sup>p</sup>the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, <sup>q</sup>Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, <sup>r</sup>Which of you shall have <sup>s</sup>an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 <sup>t</sup>And they could not answer again unto these things.

7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he marked <sup>u</sup>how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, <sup>v</sup>sit not down in the chief seat; <sup>w</sup>lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, <sup>x</sup>and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. 9 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; <sup>y</sup>that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. 10 For <sup>z</sup>every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled;

and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. 13 But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: 14 and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 But he said unto him, A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many: 17 and he sent forth his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 And the servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 Whosoever doth not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? 29 Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, 30 saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions of peace. 33 So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 Salt therefore is good: but if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Now all the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him to hear him. 2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 And he spake unto them this parable, saying, 4 What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost. 7 I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, which need no repentance.

her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of <sup>b</sup>the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12 and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me <sup>c</sup>the portion of <sup>1</sup>thy substance that falleth to me. And <sup>d</sup>he divided unto them <sup>e</sup>his living. 13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with <sup>f</sup>riotous living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. 16 And he <sup>g</sup>would fain have been filled with

<sup>2</sup>the husks that the swine did eat; and no man gave unto him. 17 But <sup>h</sup>when he <sup>i</sup>came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with hunger! 18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, <sup>j</sup>I have sinned against <sup>k</sup>heaven, and in thy sight: 19 <sup>l</sup>I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. 20 And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and <sup>m</sup>ran, and <sup>n</sup>fell on his neck, and <sup>o</sup>kissed him. 21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: <sup>p</sup>I am no more worthy to be called thy son. 22 But the father said to his <sup>q</sup>servants, Bring forth quickly <sup>r</sup>the best robe, and put it on him; and put <sup>s</sup>a ring on his hand, and <sup>t</sup>shoes on his feet: 23 and bring <sup>u</sup>the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and <sup>v</sup>make merry: 24 for this my son <sup>w</sup>was dead, and is alive again; he <sup>x</sup>was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called to him one of the servants, and inquired what these things might be. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 28 But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and intreated him. 29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might <sup>y</sup>make merry with my friends: 30 but when this thy son came, <sup>z</sup>which hath devoured <sup>aa</sup>thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the fatted calf. 31 And he said unto him, <sup>ab</sup>Son, <sup>ac</sup>thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. 32 But it was meet <sup>ad</sup>to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother <sup>ae</sup>was dead, and is alive again; and <sup>af</sup>was lost, and is found.

16 <sup>1</sup>And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had <sup>ag</sup>a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy <sup>ah</sup>stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. 3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred <sup>ai</sup>measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy <sup>aj</sup>bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. 7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred <sup>ak</sup>measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy <sup>al</sup>bond, and write fourscore. 8 And his lord commended <sup>am</sup>to the unrighteous steward because he had done <sup>an</sup>wisely: for the sons of this <sup>ao</sup>world are for their own generation <sup>ap</sup>wiser than <sup>aq</sup>the sons of the light. 9 And I say unto you, <sup>ar</sup>Make to yourselves friends <sup>1</sup> by means of <sup>a</sup> the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. <sup>10</sup> He that is <sup>f</sup> faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. <sup>11</sup> If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? <sup>12</sup> And if ye have not been faithful in <sup>k</sup> that which is another's, who will give you that which is <sup>2</sup> your own? <sup>13</sup> No <sup>3</sup> servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and <sup>h</sup> cool my tongue; for <sup>i</sup> I am in anguish in this flame. <sup>25</sup> But Abraham said, <sup>j</sup> Son, remember that <sup>k</sup> thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. <sup>26</sup> And <sup>l</sup> beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. <sup>27</sup> And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; <sup>28</sup> for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. <sup>29</sup> But Abraham saith, They have <sup>m</sup> Moses and the prophets; <sup>n</sup> let them hear them. <sup>30</sup> And he said, Nay, <sup>o</sup> father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. <sup>31</sup> And he said unto him, If they hear not <sup>p</sup> Moses and the prophets, <sup>q</sup> neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

<sup>11</sup>And it came to pass, <sup>3c</sup>as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that <sup>d</sup>he was passing <sup>4</sup>through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. <sup>12</sup>And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, <sup>e</sup>which stood afar off: <sup>13</sup>and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. <sup>14</sup>And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and <sup>f</sup>shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. <sup>15</sup>And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice <sup>g</sup>glorifying God; <sup>16</sup>and <sup>h</sup>he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was <sup>i</sup>a Samaritan. <sup>17</sup>And Jesus answering said, Were not <sup>j</sup>the ten cleansed? but where are the nine? <sup>18</sup><sup>5</sup>Were there none found that returned <sup>k</sup>to give glory to God, save this <sup>6</sup>stranger? <sup>19</sup>And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: <sup>m</sup>thy faith hath <sup>7m</sup>made thee whole.

he suffer many things and <sup>w</sup>be rejected of this generation. <sup>26</sup><sup>x</sup>And as it came to pass in the days of <sup>y</sup>Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. <sup>27</sup><sup>z</sup>They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. <sup>28</sup>Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of <sup>a</sup>Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; <sup>29</sup><sup>b</sup>but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: <sup>30</sup>after the same manner shall it be <sup>c</sup>in the day that the Son of man is revealed. <sup>31</sup>In that day, <sup>d</sup>he which shall be on <sup>e</sup>the house-top, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. <sup>32</sup><sup>f</sup>Remember Lot's wife. <sup>33</sup><sup>g</sup>Whosoever shall seek to <sup>h</sup>gain his <sup>10</sup>life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose <sup>his</sup> <sup>10</sup>life shall <sup>11</sup>preserve it. <sup>34</sup>I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men on one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. <sup>35</sup><sup>j</sup>There shall be two women <sup>k</sup>grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. <sup>37</sup>And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, <sup>l</sup>Where the body is, thither will the <sup>13</sup>eagles also be gathered together.

18 <sup>1</sup>And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought <sup>m</sup>always to pray, and not <sup>n</sup>to faint; <sup>2</sup>saying, There was in a city a judge, which <sup>o</sup>feared not God, and regarded not man: <sup>3</sup>and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, <sup>4</sup>Avenge me of mine adversary. <sup>4</sup>And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, <sup>5</sup>Though I fear not God, nor regard man; <sup>5</sup>yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she <sup>15v</sup>wear me out by her continual coming. <sup>6</sup>And the Lord said, Hear what <sup>16r</sup>the unrighteous judge saith. <sup>7</sup>And <sup>s</sup>shall not God avenge <sup>t</sup>his elect, <sup>u</sup>which cry to him day and night, and <sup>v</sup>he is long suffering over them? 8 I say unto you, that he will <sup>w</sup>avenge them <sup>w</sup>speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, <sup>x</sup>shall he find <sup>1</sup>faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain <sup>y</sup>which trusted <sup>z</sup>in themselves that they were righteous, <sup>a</sup>and set <sup>2</sup>all others at nought: 10 Two men <sup>b</sup>went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. 11 The Pharisee <sup>c</sup>stood and prayed <sup>d</sup>thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. 12 <sup>e</sup>I fast twice in the week; <sup>f</sup>I give tithes of all that I get. 13 But the publican, <sup>g</sup>standing afar off, <sup>h</sup>would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but <sup>i</sup>smote his breast, saying, God, <sup>j</sup>be merciful to me <sup>k</sup>a sinner. 14 I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for <sup>l</sup>every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

18 <sup>q</sup>And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good <sup>r</sup>Master, what shall I do to <sup>r</sup>inherit eternal life? 19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God. 20 Thou knowest the commandments, <sup>s</sup>Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and mother. 21 And he said, <sup>t</sup>All these things have I observed from my youth up. 22 And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: <sup>u</sup>sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have <sup>v</sup>treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 23 <sup>w</sup>But when he heard these things, he became exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich. 24 And Jesus seeing him said, <sup>x</sup>How hardly shall they that have riches enter into <sup>y</sup>the kingdom of God! 25 For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into <sup>y</sup>the kingdom of God. 26 And they that heard it said, Then who can be saved? 27 But he said, <sup>z</sup>The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. 28 And Peter said, Lo, <sup>a</sup>we have left <sup>b</sup>our own, and followed thee. 29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, <sup>b</sup>There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 who shall not receive <sup>c</sup>manifold more <sup>d</sup>in this time, and in <sup>e</sup>the <sup>f</sup>world to come eternal life.

31 <sup>g</sup>And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, <sup>h</sup>we go up to Jerusalem, and <sup>h</sup>all the things that are written <sup>h</sup>by the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man. 32 For he shall be <sup>i</sup>delivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be <sup>j</sup>mocked, and shamefully entreated, and <sup>k</sup>spit upon: 33 and they shall scourge and kill him: and <sup>l</sup>the third day he shall rise again. 34 <sup>m</sup>And they understood none of these things; and <sup>n</sup>this saying was hid from them, and they perceived not the things that were said.

35 <sup>o</sup>And it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain <sup>p</sup>blind man sat by the way side begging: 36 and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. 37 And they told him, that <sup>q</sup>Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. 38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, <sup>r</sup>thou son of David, have mercy on me. 39 And they that went before <sup>s</sup>rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. 40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 <sup>t</sup>What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. 42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy

19 And <sup>1</sup>he entered and was passing through Jericho. <sup>2</sup>And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was rich. <sup>3</sup>And <sup>2</sup>he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature. <sup>4</sup>And he ran on before, and climbed up into <sup>a</sup>a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. <sup>5</sup>And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day <sup>b</sup>I must abide at thy house. <sup>6</sup>And he made haste, and came down, and <sup>c</sup>received him joyfully. <sup>7</sup>And when they saw it, they all <sup>d</sup>murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. <sup>8</sup>And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods <sup>e</sup>I give to the poor; and if I have <sup>f</sup>wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore <sup>g</sup>fourfold. <sup>9</sup>And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as <sup>h</sup>he also is a son of Abraham. <sup>10</sup>For <sup>i</sup>the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

<sup>11</sup>And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and <sup>j</sup>because <sup>k</sup>they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear. <sup>12</sup>He said therefore, <sup>l</sup>A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. <sup>13</sup>And he called <sup>m</sup>ten <sup>n</sup>servants of his, and gave them ten <sup>o</sup>pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye <sup>p</sup>herewith <sup>q</sup>till I come. <sup>14</sup>But <sup>r</sup>his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us. <sup>15</sup>And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these <sup>s</sup>servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. <sup>16</sup>And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more. <sup>17</sup>And he said unto him, Well done, thou good <sup>t</sup>servant: because thou wast found <sup>u</sup>faithful in a very little, <sup>v</sup>have thou authority over ten cities. <sup>18</sup>And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds. <sup>19</sup>And he said unto him also, Be thou also over five cities. <sup>20</sup>And <sup>w</sup>another came, saying, Lord, behold, <sup>x</sup>here is thy pound, which I kept laid up in <sup>y</sup>a napkin: <sup>21</sup>for I feared thee, because thou art <sup>z</sup>an austere man: thou takest up <sup>a</sup>that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. <sup>22</sup>He saith unto him, <sup>b</sup>Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, <sup>c</sup>thou wicked <sup>d</sup>servant. Thou knewest that I am <sup>e</sup>an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; <sup>23</sup>then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and <sup>f</sup>I at my coming should have required it with interest? <sup>24</sup>And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. <sup>25</sup>And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. <sup>26</sup>I say unto you, that <sup>g</sup>unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. <sup>27</sup>Howbeit <sup>h</sup>these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and <sup>i</sup>slay them before me.

<sup>28</sup>And when he had thus spoken, <sup>j</sup>he went on before, <sup>k</sup>going up to Jerusalem.

Why loose ye the colt? <sup>34</sup> And they said, The Lord hath need of him. <sup>35</sup> And they brought him to Jesus: and they threw their garments upon the colt, and set Jesus thereon. <sup>36</sup> And as he went, they spread their garments in the way. <sup>37</sup> And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, <sup>38</sup> the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice <sup>39</sup> for all the mighty works which they had seen; <sup>40</sup> saying, 'Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and <sup>41</sup> glory in the highest. <sup>42</sup> And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, <sup>43</sup> Master, rebuke thy disciples. <sup>44</sup> And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, <sup>45</sup> the stones will cry out.

<sup>46</sup> And when he drew nigh, he saw the city and wept over it, <sup>47</sup> saying, <sup>48</sup> If thou hadst known in this day, even thou, the things which belong unto peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. <sup>49</sup> For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies shall cast up a bank about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, <sup>50</sup> and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

<sup>51</sup> And he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold, <sup>52</sup> and began to cast out them that sold, <sup>53</sup> saying unto them, It is written, <sup>54</sup> And my house shall be a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of robbers.

<sup>55</sup> And he was teaching daily in the temple. <sup>56</sup> But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal men of the people sought to destroy him: <sup>57</sup> and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

or who is he that gave thee this authority? <sup>63</sup> And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a question; and tell me: <sup>64</sup> The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? <sup>65</sup> And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why did ye not believe him? <sup>66</sup> But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet. <sup>67</sup> And they answered, that they knew not whence it was. <sup>68</sup> And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

<sup>69</sup> And he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country for a long time. <sup>70</sup> And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: <sup>71</sup> but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. <sup>72</sup> And he sent yet another servant: and him also they beat, and handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. <sup>73</sup> And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth. <sup>74</sup> And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him. <sup>75</sup> But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, This is the heir: let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. <sup>76</sup> And they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? <sup>77</sup> He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid. <sup>78</sup> But he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written,

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner?

<sup>79</sup> Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust.

priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them.

callesth <sup>i</sup> the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. <sup>38</sup> Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all <sup>j</sup> live unto him. <sup>39</sup> And certain of the scribes answering <sup>k</sup> said, <sup>1</sup> Master, thou hast well said. <sup>40</sup> For <sup>i</sup> they durst not any more ask him any question.

things <sup>m</sup> must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

20 But <sup>j</sup> when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that <sup>k</sup> her desolation is at hand. <sup>21</sup> Then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. <sup>22</sup> For these are <sup>l</sup> days of <sup>m</sup> vengeance, <sup>n</sup> that all things which are written may be fulfilled. <sup>23</sup> <sup>o</sup> Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the <sup>p</sup> land, and <sup>q</sup> wrath unto this people. <sup>24</sup> And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and <sup>r</sup> shall be led captive into all the nations: and <sup>s</sup> Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, <sup>t</sup> until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. <sup>25</sup> And <sup>u</sup> there shall be signs in sun and moon <sup>v</sup> and stars; and upon the earth <sup>w</sup> distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the billows; <sup>26</sup> men

29 And he spake to them a parable: Behold the fig tree, and all the trees: <sup>30</sup> when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know <sup>b</sup> of your own selves that the summer is now nigh. <sup>31</sup> Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. <sup>32</sup> <sup>c</sup> Verily I say unto you, this generation shall not pass away, till all things be accomplished. <sup>33</sup> <sup>d</sup> Heaven and earth shall pass away: but <sup>e</sup> my words shall not pass away.

34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply <sup>f</sup> your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and <sup>g</sup> cares of this life, and <sup>h</sup> that day come on you suddenly <sup>i</sup> as a snare: <sup>35</sup> for so shall it come <sup>j</sup> upon all them that dwell on the face of all the earth. <sup>36</sup> But <sup>k</sup> watch ye at every season, <sup>l</sup> making supplication, that ye may <sup>m</sup> prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and <sup>n</sup> to stand before the Son of man.

37 And <sup>o</sup> every day he was teaching in the temple; and <sup>p</sup> every night he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called <sup>q</sup> the mount of Olives. <sup>38</sup> And <sup>r</sup> all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

3 <sup>u</sup> And <sup>v</sup> Satan entered into <sup>w</sup> Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. <sup>4</sup> And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and <sup>x</sup> captains, how he might deliver him unto them. <sup>5</sup> And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. <sup>6</sup> And he consented, and sought opportunity to <sup>1z</sup> deliver him unto them <sup>1z</sup> in the absence of the multitude.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>a</sup> And <sup>b</sup> the day of unleavened bread came, on which the passover must be sacrificed. <sup>8</sup> And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and make ready for us the passover, that we may eat. <sup>9</sup> And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we make ready? <sup>10</sup> And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth. <sup>11</sup> And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, <sup>c</sup> The <sup>2</sup> Master saith unto thee, Where is <sup>d</sup> the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? <sup>12</sup> And he will shew you <sup>e</sup> a large upper room furnished: there make ready. <sup>13</sup> And they went, and found <sup>f</sup> as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

<sup>14</sup> <sup>g</sup> And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. <sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: <sup>16</sup> for I say unto you, I will not eat it, <sup>h</sup> until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. <sup>17</sup> And he received a cup, and <sup>i</sup> when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: <sup>18</sup> <sup>j</sup> for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, <sup>k</sup> until the kingdom of God shall come. <sup>19</sup> <sup>k</sup> And he took <sup>3</sup> bread, and <sup>l</sup> when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, <sup>l</sup> This is my body <sup>4</sup> which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. <sup>20</sup> And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, <sup>m</sup> This cup is <sup>m</sup> the new <sup>5n</sup> covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you. <sup>21</sup> <sup>o</sup> But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is <sup>p</sup> with me on the table. <sup>22</sup> For the Son of man indeed goeth, <sup>q</sup> as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is betrayed! <sup>23</sup> And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

is accounted to be <sup>6</sup> greatest. <sup>25</sup> <sup>r</sup> And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles <sup>t</sup> have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called <sup>u</sup> Benefactors. <sup>26</sup> <sup>v</sup> But ye shall not be so: but <sup>w</sup> he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. <sup>27</sup> For whether is greater, <sup>w</sup> he that <sup>7</sup> sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that <sup>7</sup> sitteth at meat? but <sup>x</sup> I am in the midst of you as he that serveth. <sup>28</sup> But ye are they which have continued with me <sup>y</sup> in my temptations; <sup>29</sup> and <sup>z</sup> I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed unto me, <sup>30</sup> <sup>a</sup> that ye may eat and drink at my table <sup>b</sup> in my kingdom; and <sup>c</sup> ye shall sit on thrones judging <sup>c</sup> the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>31</sup> Simon, Simon, behold, <sup>d</sup> Satan <sup>e</sup> asked to have you, <sup>e</sup> that he might sift you as wheat: <sup>32</sup> but <sup>f</sup> I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not; and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, <sup>g</sup> establish thy brethren. <sup>33</sup> And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both <sup>h</sup> to prison and <sup>i</sup> to death. <sup>34</sup> <sup>j</sup> And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

<sup>35</sup> And he said unto them, <sup>k</sup> When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. <sup>36</sup> And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: <sup>10</sup> and he that hath none, let him sell his cloke, and buy a sword. <sup>37</sup> For I say unto you, that <sup>l</sup> this which is written must be fulfilled in me, <sup>m</sup> And he was reckoned with transgressors: for <sup>n</sup> that which concerneth me hath <sup>11</sup> fulfilment. <sup>38</sup> And they said, Lord, behold, here are two <sup>o</sup> swords. And he said unto them, <sup>p</sup> It is enough.

them, <sup>v</sup>Pray that ye <sup>w</sup>enter not into temptation. <sup>41</sup> And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and <sup>2</sup>he kneeled down and prayed, <sup>42</sup> saying, <sup>v</sup>Father, if thou be willing, remove <sup>2</sup>this cup from me: <sup>3</sup>nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. <sup>43</sup> <sup>1</sup>And there appeared unto him <sup>b</sup>an angel from heaven, strengthening him. <sup>44</sup> And <sup>v</sup>being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. <sup>45</sup> And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, <sup>46</sup> and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and <sup>c</sup>pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

said, Thou also art <sup>one</sup> of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. <sup>59</sup> And after the space of about one hour another <sup>o</sup>confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilæan. <sup>60</sup> But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. <sup>61</sup> And the Lord turned, and <sup>p</sup>looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, <sup>q</sup>Before the cock crow this day, thou shalt <sup>r</sup>deny me thrice. <sup>62</sup> And he went out, and wept bitterly.

he asked whether the man were a Galilæan. <sup>7</sup> And when he knew that he was of <sup>o</sup> Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

<sup>13</sup> And Pilate called together the chief priests and <sup>w</sup> the rulers and the people, <sup>14</sup> and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, <sup>x</sup> as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, <sup>y</sup> having examined him before you, <sup>z</sup> found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: <sup>15</sup> no, nor yet Herod: for <sup>a</sup> he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. <sup>16</sup> <sup>b</sup> I will therefore chastise him, and release him. <sup>17</sup> <sup>c</sup> But they cried out all together, saying, <sup>d</sup> Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: <sup>18</sup> one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and <sup>e</sup> for murder, was cast into prison. <sup>19</sup> And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus; <sup>20</sup> but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify him. <sup>21</sup> And he said unto them the third time, Why, <sup>f</sup> what evil hath this man done? <sup>22</sup> <sup>g</sup> I have found no cause of death in him: <sup>23</sup> <sup>h</sup> I will therefore chastise him and release him. <sup>24</sup> But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. <sup>25</sup> And Pilate <sup>i</sup> gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. <sup>26</sup> And he released him that <sup>j</sup> for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for;

<sup>26</sup> <sup>l</sup> And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

<sup>32</sup> <sup>u</sup> And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

50 And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a righteous 51 (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who <sup>17</sup>was looking for the kingdom of God: 52 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and <sup>18</sup>laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, <sup>19</sup>where never man had yet lain. 54 And it was the day of <sup>20</sup>the Preparation, and the sabbath <sup>21</sup>drew on, 55 And <sup>22</sup>the women, <sup>23</sup>which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and how his body was laid. 56 And they returned, and <sup>24</sup>prepared spices and ointments.

26 But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, <sup>27</sup>bringing the spices which they had prepared. 28 And they found <sup>29</sup>the stone rolled away from the tomb. 29 And they entered in, and found not the body <sup>30</sup>of the Lord Jesus. 30 And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, <sup>31</sup>two <sup>32</sup>men stood by them in dazzling apparel: 33 and as they were <sup>34</sup>afrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye <sup>35</sup>the living among the dead? 36 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you <sup>37</sup>when he was yet in Galilee, <sup>38</sup>7 saying that the Son of man <sup>39</sup>must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and <sup>40</sup>be crucified, and <sup>41</sup>the third day rise again. 39 And <sup>42</sup>they remembered his words, and returned <sup>43</sup>from the tomb, and <sup>44</sup>told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. 40 Now they were <sup>45</sup>Mary Magdalene, and <sup>46</sup>Johanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them told these things unto the apostles. 41 And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk; and <sup>47</sup>they disbelieved them. 42 <sup>48</sup>But <sup>49</sup>Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth <sup>50</sup>the linen cloths by themselves; and he <sup>51</sup>departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

43 And behold, <sup>52</sup>two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. 44 And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. 45 And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. 46 But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. 47 And he said unto them, <sup>53</sup>What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. 48 And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto him, <sup>54</sup>Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days? 49 And he said unto them, What things? priests and <sup>m</sup>our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. <sup>21</sup> But we hoped that it was he <sup>n</sup>which should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now <sup>o</sup>the third day since these things came to pass. <sup>22</sup> Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, <sup>p</sup>having been early at the tomb; <sup>23</sup> and <sup>q</sup>when they found not his body, they came, saying, that <sup>r</sup>they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. <sup>24</sup> <sup>s</sup>And certain of them that <sup>t</sup>were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. <sup>25</sup> And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe <sup>u</sup>in all that the prophets have spoken! <sup>26</sup> <sup>v</sup>Behoved it not <sup>w</sup>the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into <sup>x</sup>his glory? <sup>27</sup> And <sup>y</sup>beginning from <sup>z</sup>Moses and from <sup>1</sup>all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. <sup>28</sup> And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and <sup>2</sup>he made as though he would go further. <sup>29</sup> And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and <sup>a</sup>the day is now far spent. And he went in to abide with them. <sup>30</sup> And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, he took the <sup>b</sup>bread, and <sup>b</sup>blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. <sup>31</sup> <sup>c</sup>And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and <sup>d</sup>he vanished out of their sight. <sup>32</sup> And they said one to another, <sup>e</sup>Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he <sup>f</sup>opened to us the scriptures? <sup>33</sup> And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and <sup>g</sup>found the eleven gathered together, and <sup>h</sup>them that were with them, <sup>34</sup> saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and <sup>i</sup>hath appeared to Simon. <sup>35</sup> And they rehearsed the things <sup>j</sup>that happened in the way, and <sup>k</sup>how he was known of them in <sup>k</sup>the breaking of the bread.

<sup>44</sup> And he said unto them, <sup>v</sup>These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, <sup>w</sup>how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and <sup>x</sup>the psalms, concerning me. <sup>45</sup> Then <sup>y</sup>opened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures; <sup>46</sup> and he said unto them, Thus <sup>z</sup>it is written, <sup>a</sup>that the Christ should suffer, and <sup>a</sup>rise again from the dead the third day; <sup>47</sup> and that <sup>b</sup>repentance <sup>b</sup>and remission of sins should be preached <sup>c</sup>in his name <sup>d</sup>unto all the <sup>e</sup>nations, <sup>e</sup>beginning from Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> <sup>f</sup>Ye are witnesses of these things. <sup>49</sup> And behold, I send forth <sup>g</sup>the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city, until ye <sup>h</sup>be clothed with <sup>h</sup>power <sup>j</sup>from on high.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. JOHN.

Receiving of the God.

Gen. 1. 1. 1<sup>a</sup> In the beginning was <sup>b</sup>the I Word, and <sup>c</sup>the Word was with God, and <sup>d</sup>the Word was God.
2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3<sup>e</sup> All things were made by him; and without him <sup>f</sup>was not anything made that hath been made. 4<sup>g</sup> In him was life; and <sup>h</sup>the life was the light of men. 5 And <sup>i</sup>the light shineth in the darkness;
and the darkness <sup>j</sup>apprehended it not. 6 There came a man, <sup>k</sup>sent from God, whose name was <sup>l</sup>John.
7 The same came <sup>m</sup>for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe through him.
8<sup>n</sup> He was not the light, but came <sup>o</sup>that he might bear witness of the light. 9<sup>p</sup> There was <sup>q</sup>the true light, even the light which light-eth <sup>r</sup>every man, <sup>s</sup>coming into the world. 10 He was in the world, and <sup>t</sup>the world was made <sup>u</sup>by him,
and <sup>v</sup>the world knew him not.
11 He came unto <sup>w</sup>his own, and <sup>x</sup>they that were his own <sup>y</sup>received him not. 12 But as many as received him, <sup>z</sup>to them gave he the right <sup>a</sup>to become <sup>b</sup>children of God, even to them <sup>c</sup>that believe on his name: 13 which <sup>d</sup>were <sup>e</sup>born, <sup>f</sup>not of <sup>g</sup>blood, <sup>h</sup>nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 14 And <sup>i</sup>the Word <sup>j</sup>became flesh, and <sup>k</sup>dwelt among us (and <sup>l</sup>we beheld his glory, glory as of <sup>m</sup>the only begotten from the Father), full of <sup>n</sup>grace and <sup>o</sup>truth.
15<sup>p</sup> John beareth witness of him, and crieth, saying, <sup>q</sup>This was he of whom I said, <sup>r</sup>He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was <sup>s</sup>before me. 16 For <sup>t</sup>his fulness we all received, and <sup>u</sup>grace for grace. 17 For <sup>v</sup>the law was given <sup>w</sup>by Moses; <sup>x</sup>grace and truth came <sup>y</sup>by Jesus Christ. 18<sup>z</sup> No man hath seen God at any time; 19<sup>a</sup> the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, <sup>b</sup>he hath declared him.

19 And this is the witness of John,
when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, <sup>c</sup>Who art thou? 20 And <sup>d</sup>he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ.
21 And they asked him, What then?
<sup>e</sup>Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou <sup>f</sup>the prophet?
And he answered, No. 22 They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? 23 He said, I am <sup>g</sup>the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. 24<sup>h</sup> And they had been sent from the Pharisees. 25 And they asked him, and said unto him, <sup>i</sup>Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the prophet? 26 John answered them, saying, <sup>j</sup>I baptize <sup>k</sup>with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not, <sup>l</sup>even <sup>m</sup>he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to un-loose. 28 These things were done in <sup>n</sup>16<sup>o</sup> Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, <sup>p</sup>the Lamb of God, which <sup>q</sup>17<sup>r</sup> taketh away the sin <sup>s</sup>of the world! 30 This is he of whom I said, <sup>t</sup>After me cometh a man which is become before me: for he was <sup>u</sup>before me. 31 And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, <sup>v</sup>for this cause came I baptizing <sup>w</sup>with water. 32 And John <sup>x</sup>bare witness, saying, <sup>y</sup>I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven;
and <sup>z</sup>it abode upon him. 33 And I

35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; 36 and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and saith, Behold, <sup>j</sup>the Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. 38 And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, <sup>k</sup>What seek ye? And they said unto him,

<sup>l</sup>Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, <sup>m</sup>Master), where abidest thou? 39 He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour. 40 <sup>m</sup>One of the two that heard John <sup>n</sup>speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41 He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found

43 On <sup>s</sup>the morrow he was minded <sup>t</sup>to go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me. 44 Now <sup>u</sup>Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip findeth <sup>v</sup>Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom <sup>w</sup>Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus <sup>x</sup>of Nazareth, <sup>y</sup>the son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said unto him, <sup>z</sup>Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, <sup>a</sup>an Israelite indeed, <sup>b</sup>in whom is no guile! 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence <sup>c</sup>knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. 49 Nathanael answered him, <sup>d</sup>Rabbi, <sup>e</sup>thou art the Son of God; thou art <sup>f</sup>King of Israel. 50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. 51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see <sup>g</sup>the heaven opened, and <sup>h</sup>the angels of God ascending and descending upon <sup>i</sup>the Son of man.

And <sup>j</sup>the third day there was <sup>k</sup>a marriage in <sup>l</sup>Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 and Jesus also was bidden, and <sup>m</sup>his disciples, to the marriage. 3 And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. 4 And Jesus saith unto her, <sup>n</sup>Woman, <sup>o</sup>what have I to do with thee? <sup>p</sup>mine hour is not yet come. 5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there <sup>q</sup>after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three <sup>r</sup>firkins apiece. 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the <sup>s</sup>ruler of the feast. And they bare it. 9 And when the ruler of the feast tasted <sup>t</sup>the water <sup>u</sup>now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom, 10 and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when <sup>v</sup>men have drunk freely, <sup>w</sup>then that which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now. 11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested <sup>x</sup>his glory; and <sup>y</sup>his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and <sup>z</sup>his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And <sup>a</sup>the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus <sup>b</sup>went up to Jerusalem. 14 <sup>c</sup>And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out

3. 1-3.

1 Or, in 2 Or, Teacher 3 That is, Anointed. 4 Gr. Joanes: called in Matt. 16. 17, Jonah. 5 That is, Rock or Stone. 6 Or, steward 7 Or, that it had become of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; <sup>16</sup>and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not <sup>17</sup>my Father's house a house of merchandise. <sup>17</sup>His disciples remembered that it was written, <sup>18</sup>The zeal of thine house shall eat me up. <sup>18</sup>The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, <sup>19</sup>What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? <sup>19</sup>Jesus answered and said unto them, <sup>20</sup>Destroy this <sup>1</sup>temple, and in three days <sup>21</sup>I will raise it up. <sup>20</sup>The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this <sup>1</sup>temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? <sup>21</sup>But he spake of <sup>2</sup>the <sup>1</sup>temple of his body. <sup>22</sup>When therefore he was raised from the dead, <sup>23</sup>his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed <sup>24</sup>the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

<sup>22</sup>After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and <sup>38</sup>baptized. <sup>23</sup>And John also was baptizing in <sup>39</sup>Ænon near to <sup>40</sup>Salim, because there <sup>41</sup>was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. <sup>24</sup>For <sup>42</sup>John was not yet cast into prison. <sup>25</sup>There arose therefore a questioning on c

part of John's disciples with a Jew about <sup>a</sup>purifying. <sup>26</sup>And they came unto John, and said to him, <sup>c</sup>Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, <sup>d</sup>to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and <sup>e</sup>all men come to him. <sup>27</sup>John answered and said, <sup>f</sup>A man can receive nothing, <sup>g</sup>except it have been given him <sup>h</sup>from heaven. <sup>28</sup>Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, <sup>i</sup>I am not the Christ, but, that <sup>j</sup>I am sent before him. <sup>29</sup><sup>m</sup>He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but <sup>n</sup>the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, <sup>o</sup>rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. <sup>30</sup><sup>p</sup>He must increase, but I must decrease.

<sup>31</sup><sup>q</sup>He that cometh from above
<sup>r</sup>is above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth, and of the earth <sup>s</sup>he speaketh: <sup>t</sup>he that cometh from heaven <sup>u</sup>is above all. <sup>32</sup><sup>v</sup>What he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth witness; <sup>w</sup>and no man receiveth his witness. <sup>33</sup>He that hath received his witness <sup>x</sup>hath set his seal to <sup>y</sup>this, <sup>z</sup>that God is true. <sup>34</sup>For he whom <sup>a</sup>God hath sent speaketh
 the words of God: for he giveth not the Spirit <sup>b</sup>by measure. <sup>35</sup><sup>c</sup>The Father loveth the Son, and <sup>d</sup>hath given all things unto his hand. <sup>36</sup><sup>e</sup>He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but <sup>f</sup>he that <sup>g</sup>obeyeth not the Son shall not <sup>h</sup>see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

<sup>1</sup>When therefore the Lord
<sup>4</sup>knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and <sup>a</sup>baptizing more disciples than John <sup>b</sup>(although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), <sup>3</sup>he left Judæa, and departed <sup>c</sup>again into Galilee. <sup>4</sup>And <sup>d</sup>he must needs pass through Samaria. <sup>5</sup>So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground
<sup>f</sup>that Jacob gave to his son Joseph:
<sup>6</sup>and Jacob's <sup>g</sup>well was there.
 Jesus therefore, <sup>h</sup>being wearied with his journey, sat <sup>i</sup>thus by the <sup>j</sup>well. It was about the sixth hour.
<sup>7</sup>There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, <sup>k</sup>Give me to drink. <sup>8</sup>For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. <sup>9</sup>The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him,

 How is it that thou, being a Jew,
 askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? (<sup>5</sup><sup>m</sup>For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) <sup>10</sup>Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee <sup>n</sup>living water. <sup>11</sup>The woman saith unto him, <sup>o</sup>Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep:
 from whence then hast thou that living water? <sup>12</sup><sup>p</sup>Art thou greater than our father Jacob, <sup>q</sup>which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and his cattle?
<sup>13</sup>Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again: <sup>14</sup>but <sup>r</sup>whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him <sup>s</sup>shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become <sup>t</sup>in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. <sup>15</sup>The woman saith unto him, <sup>u</sup>Sir, <sup>v</sup>give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. <sup>16</sup>Jesus saith unto her, Go, <sup>w</sup>call thy husband, and come hither. <sup>17</sup>The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband: <sup>18</sup>for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. <sup>19</sup>The woman saith unto him, <sup>o</sup>Sir, I perceive that <sup>p</sup>thou art <sup>q</sup>a prophet. <sup>20</sup>Our fathers worshipped in <sup>r</sup>this mountain; and ye say, that <sup>s</sup>in Jerusalem is <sup>t</sup>the place where men ought to worship. <sup>21</sup>Jesus saith unto her, <sup>u</sup>Woman, believe me, <sup>v</sup>the hour cometh, when <sup>w</sup>neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. <sup>22</sup><sup>x</sup>Ye worship that which ye know not:
<sup>y</sup>we worship that which we know:
 for <sup>z</sup>salvation is <sup>a</sup>from the Jews.
<sup>23</sup>But <sup>b</sup>the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father <sup>c</sup>in spirit and

1 Some ancient authorities read he that cometh from heaven beareth witness of what he hath seen and heard. 2 Or, believeth not. 3 Or, spring; and so in ver. 14; but not in ver. 11, 12. 4 Or, as he was. 5 Some ancient authorities omit For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans. 6 Or, Lord. 7 Or, for such the Father also seeketh.

7 Cp. ch. 6. 44. <sup>h</sup> seek to be his worshippers. 24 <sup>1</sup> God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. 25 The woman saith unto him, I know that <sup>i</sup> Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, <sup>o</sup> he will declare unto us all things. 26 Jesus saith unto her, <sup>o</sup> I that speak unto thee am <sup>he</sup>. 27 And upon this <sup>o</sup> came his disciples: and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? 28 So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, <sup>o</sup> which told me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ? 30 They went out of the city, and were coming to him. 31 In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, <sup>o</sup> Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. 33 The disciples therefore said one to another, <sup>o</sup> Hath any man brought him ought to eat? 34 Jesus saith unto them, <sup>o</sup> My meat is <sup>t</sup> to do the will of him that sent me, and <sup>o</sup> to accomplish his work. 35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, <sup>v</sup> that they are <sup>2</sup> white already unto harvest. 36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that <sup>o</sup> he that soweth and <sup>o</sup> he that reapeth <sup>o</sup> may rejoice together. 37 For herein is the saying true, <sup>2</sup> One soweth, and another reapeth. 38 I sent you to reap <sup>o</sup> that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, <sup>o</sup> and ye are entered into their labour. 39 And <sup>o</sup> from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him <sup>o</sup> because of the word of the woman, <sup>o</sup> who testified, He told me all things that ever I did. 40 So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: and he abode there two days. 41 And many more believed <sup>o</sup> because of his word: 42 and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for

43 And after <sup>j</sup> the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself testified, <sup>h</sup> that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. 45 So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, <sup>h</sup> having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for <sup>o</sup> they also went unto the feast. Second sign

46 He came therefore again unto <sup>o</sup> Cana of Galilee, <sup>o</sup> where he made the water wine. And there was a certain <sup>o</sup> nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus <sup>o</sup> was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought <sup>him</sup> that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death. 48 Jesus therefore said unto him, <sup>o</sup> Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe. 49 The <sup>o</sup> nobleman saith unto him, <sup>o</sup> Sir, come down <sup>o</sup> ere my child die. 50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his <sup>o</sup> servants met him, saying, that his son lived. 52 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, <sup>o</sup> and his whole house. 54 <sup>t</sup> This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

5 <sup>1</sup> After these things there was <sup>o</sup> a <sup>o</sup> feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by <sup>o</sup> the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew <sup>1</sup> Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, <sup>o</sup> withered <sup>o</sup>. 5 And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. 6 When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made whole? <sup>7</sup> The sick man answered him, <sup>1</sup> Sir, I have no man, <sup>a</sup> when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. <sup>8</sup> Jesus saith unto him, <sup>v</sup> Arise, take up thy bed, and walk. <sup>9</sup> <sup>v</sup> And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

<sup>z</sup> Now it was the sabbath on that day. <sup>10</sup> So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and <sup>it</sup> is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed. <sup>11</sup> But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. <sup>12</sup> They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? <sup>13</sup> But he that was healed wist not who it was: for <sup>b</sup> Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place. <sup>14</sup> Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: <sup>c</sup> sin no more, <sup>d</sup> lest a worse thing befall thee. <sup>15</sup> The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. <sup>16</sup> And for this cause did the Jews <sup>e</sup> persecute Jesus, <sup>f</sup> because he did these things on the sabbath. <sup>17</sup> But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. <sup>18</sup> For this cause therefore the Jews <sup>g</sup> sought the more to kill him, <sup>h</sup> because he not only <sup>i</sup> brake the sabbath, but also called God <sup>j</sup> his own Father, <sup>k</sup> making himself equal with God.

Father judge any man, but he <sup>v</sup> hath given all judgement unto the Son; <sup>23</sup> that all may honour the Son, even as they <sup>w</sup> honour the Father. <sup>x</sup> He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. <sup>24</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>y</sup> He that heareth my word, and <sup>z</sup> believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and <sup>a</sup> cometh not into judgement, but <sup>b</sup> hath passed out of death into life. <sup>25</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>c</sup> The hour cometh, and now is, when <sup>d</sup> the dead shall hear <sup>e</sup> the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear <sup>f</sup> shall live. <sup>26</sup> For as the Father hath life in himself, <sup>g</sup> even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: <sup>27</sup> and he <sup>h</sup> gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is <sup>i</sup> the Son of man. <sup>28</sup> Marvel not at this: for <sup>j</sup> the hour cometh, in which <sup>k</sup> all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, <sup>29</sup> and shall come forth; <sup>l</sup> they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have <sup>m</sup> done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

<sup>30</sup> <sup>i</sup> I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and <sup>n</sup> my judgement is righteous; because <sup>o</sup> I seek not mine own will, <sup>p</sup> but the will of him that sent me. <sup>31</sup> If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. <sup>32</sup> It is <sup>q</sup> another that beareth witness of me; and <sup>r</sup> I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. <sup>33</sup> Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. <sup>34</sup> But <sup>s</sup> the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved. <sup>35</sup> He was the lamp that burneth and <sup>t</sup> shineth: and <sup>u</sup> ye were willing to rejoice for a season in his light. <sup>36</sup> But <sup>v</sup> the witness which I have is greater than <sup>w</sup> that of John: for <sup>x</sup> the works which the Father hath given me <sup>y</sup> to accomplish, the very works that I do, <sup>z</sup> bear witness of me, that <sup>a</sup> the Father hath sent me. <sup>37</sup> And the Father which sent me, <sup>b</sup> he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, <sup>c</sup> nor seen his form. <sup>38</sup> And <sup>d</sup> ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he sent, him ye believe not. <sup>39</sup><sup>1c</sup> Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and <sup>40</sup> these are they which bear witness of me; <sup>41</sup> and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life. <sup>42</sup> I receive not glory from men. <sup>43</sup> But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in yourselves. <sup>44</sup> I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: <sup>45</sup> if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. <sup>46</sup> How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from the only God ye seek not? <sup>47</sup> Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, on whom ye have set your hope. <sup>48</sup> For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for he wrote of me. <sup>49</sup> But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

6 After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. <sup>2</sup> And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick. <sup>3</sup> And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. <sup>4</sup> Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. <sup>5</sup> Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto Philip, Whence are we to buy bread, that these may eat? <sup>6</sup> And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. <sup>7</sup> Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. <sup>8</sup> One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are these among so many? <sup>9</sup> Jesus said, Make the people sit down. <sup>10</sup> Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. <sup>11</sup> Jesus therefore took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the fishes as much as they would.

<sup>12</sup> And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that nothing be lost. <sup>13</sup> So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had eaten. <sup>14</sup> When therefore the people saw the sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh into the world.

<sup>15</sup> Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain himself alone.

<sup>16</sup> And when evening came, his disciples went down unto the sea; <sup>17</sup> and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. <sup>18</sup> And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew. <sup>19</sup> When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat: and they were afraid. <sup>20</sup> But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. <sup>21</sup> They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.

<sup>22</sup> On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone <sup>23</sup> (howbeit there came boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks): <sup>24</sup> when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. <sup>25</sup> And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled. 27<sup>i</sup> Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for <sup>u</sup>the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which <sup>v</sup>the Son of man shall give unto you: for <sup>w</sup>him the Father, even God, hath <sup>x</sup>sealed. 28 They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work <sup>y</sup>the works of God? 29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, <sup>z</sup>that ye believe on him whom <sup>1a</sup>he hath sent. 30 They said therefore unto him, <sup>b</sup>What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what workest thou? 31<sup>c</sup> Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, <sup>d</sup>He gave them bread out of heaven to eat. 32 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is <sup>e</sup>that which cometh down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the world. 34 They said therefore unto him, <sup>f</sup>Lord, evermore give us this bread. 35 Jesus said unto them, <sup>g</sup>I am the bread of life: <sup>h</sup>he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. 36 But <sup>i</sup>I said unto you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe not. 37<sup>j</sup> All that which <sup>k</sup>the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and <sup>l</sup>him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. 38 For <sup>m</sup>I am come down from heaven, not to do <sup>n</sup>mine own will, but <sup>o</sup>the will of him <sup>o</sup>that sent me. 39 And <sup>p</sup>this is the will of him that sent me, that of <sup>q</sup>all that which he hath given me <sup>r</sup>I should lose nothing, but <sup>s</sup>should raise it up at the last day. 40 For this is the will of my Father, that every one that <sup>t</sup>beholdeth the Son, and <sup>u</sup>believeth on him, <sup>v</sup>should have eternal life; and <sup>2</sup>I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, <sup>w</sup>I am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, <sup>x</sup>Is not this Jesus, <sup>y</sup>the son of Joseph, whose father and mother <sup>z</sup>we know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? 43 Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me <sup>a</sup>draw him: and <sup>b</sup>I will raise him up in the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, <sup>c</sup>And they shall all be <sup>d</sup>taught of God. <sup>e</sup>Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. 46<sup>f</sup> Not that any man hath seen the Father, save <sup>g</sup>he which is from God, he <sup>h</sup>hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>i</sup>He that believeth hath eternal life. 48<sup>j</sup> I am the bread of life. 49<sup>k</sup> Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and <sup>l</sup>they died. 50<sup>m</sup> This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, <sup>n</sup>and not die. 51 I am the living bread <sup>o</sup>which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is <sup>p</sup>my flesh, <sup>q</sup>for the life of the world.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is <sup>a</sup>a hard saying; who can hear <sup>b</sup>it? 61 But Jesus <sup>c</sup>knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? 62 What then if ye should behold <sup>d</sup>the Son of man <sup>e</sup>ascending <sup>f</sup>where he was before? <sup>63</sup> It is the spirit that quickeneth; <sup>k</sup> the flesh profiteth nothing: <sup>l</sup> the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. <sup>64</sup> But <sup>m</sup> there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus <sup>j</sup> knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and <sup>n</sup> who it was that should betray him. <sup>65</sup> And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, <sup>o</sup> that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

fore <sup>n</sup> sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? <sup>12</sup> And there was much <sup>o</sup> murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: <sup>p</sup> some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he <sup>q</sup> leadeth the multitude astray. <sup>13</sup> Howbeit no man spake openly of him <sup>r</sup> for fear of the Jews.

know not. 29<sup>e</sup> I know him; because I am <sup>f</sup>from him, and <sup>g</sup>he sent me. 30<sup>h</sup> They sought therefore to take him; and <sup>i</sup>no man laid his hand on him, <sup>j</sup>because his hour was not yet come. 31<sup>k</sup> But <sup>l</sup>of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, <sup>m</sup>"When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done?" 32<sup>n</sup> The Pharisees heard the multitude <sup>o</sup>"murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent <sup>p</sup>officers to take him. 33<sup>q</sup> Jesus therefore said, <sup>r</sup>"Yet a little while am I with you, and <sup>s</sup>"I go unto him that sent me. 34<sup>t</sup> <sup>u</sup>"Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. 35<sup>v</sup> The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? <sup>w</sup>will he go unto <sup>x</sup>the Dispersion <sup>y</sup>among <sup>z</sup>the Greeks, and teach the Greeks?" 36<sup>a</sup> What is this word that he said, <sup>b</sup>"Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?"

37<sup>c</sup> Now <sup>d</sup>on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, <sup>e</sup>"If any man thirst, let him <sup>f</sup>come unto me, and drink. 38<sup>g</sup> He that believeth on me, <sup>h</sup>"as the scripture hath said, <sup>i</sup>"out of his belly shall flow rivers of <sup>j</sup>living water. 39<sup>k</sup> But <sup>l</sup>the spake he of the Spirit, <sup>m</sup>"which they that believed on him were to receive: 2<sup>n</sup>" for the Spirit was not yet <sup>o</sup>given: <sup>p</sup>"because Jesus was not yet <sup>q</sup>"glorified. 40<sup>r</sup> <sup>s</sup>Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth <sup>t</sup>the prophet. 41<sup>u</sup> Others said, This is <sup>v</sup>"the Christ. But some said, What, <sup>w</sup>doth the Christ come out of Galilee? 42<sup>x</sup> Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh <sup>y</sup>of the seed of David, and <sup>z</sup>from Bethlehem, the village <sup>a</sup>where David was? 43<sup>b</sup> So there arose <sup>c</sup>a division in the multitude because of him. 44<sup>d</sup> And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45<sup>e</sup> The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? 46<sup>f</sup> The officers answered, <sup>g</sup>"Never man so spake. 47<sup>h</sup> The Pharisees therefore answered them, <sup>i</sup>"Are ye also led astray? 48<sup>j</sup> Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? 49<sup>k</sup> But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. 50<sup>l</sup> Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), 51<sup>m</sup> <sup>n</sup>Doth our law judge a man, except it first <sup>o</sup>hear from himself and know what he doeth? 52<sup>p</sup> They answered and said unto him, <sup>q</sup>"Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and <sup>r</sup>see that <sup>s</sup>"out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53<sup>t</sup> [And they went every man unto his own house: <sup>u</sup>but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. 2<sup>v</sup> And <sup>w</sup>early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and <sup>x</sup>he sat down, and taught them. 3<sup>y</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, 4<sup>z</sup> they say unto him, <sup>a</sup>"Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. 5<sup>b</sup> Now <sup>c</sup>in the law Moses commanded us <sup>d</sup>"to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? 6<sup>e</sup> And this they said, <sup>f</sup>"tempting him, <sup>g</sup>"that they might have <sup>h</sup>whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 7<sup>i</sup> But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, <sup>j</sup>"He that is without sin among you, let him <sup>k</sup>first cast a stone at her. 8<sup>l</sup> And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 9<sup>m</sup> And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, <sup>n</sup>even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst. 10<sup>o</sup> And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? 11<sup>p</sup> And she said, Noman, Lord. And Jesus said, <sup>q</sup>"Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth <sup>r</sup>"sin no more.]

12<sup>a</sup> Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, <sup>v</sup>I am the light of the world: he that <sup>2</sup>followeth me shall not <sup>a</sup>walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, <sup>b</sup>Thou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, <sup>c</sup>my witness is true; for I know <sup>d</sup>whence I came, and <sup>e</sup>whither I go; but <sup>f</sup>ye know not whence I come, or whither I go. 15<sup>g</sup> Ye judge after the flesh; <sup>h</sup>I judge no man. 16 Yea and if I judge, <sup>i</sup>my judgement is true; for <sup>j</sup>I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. 17 Yea and <sup>k</sup>in your law it is written, that the witness of two men is true. 18 I am he that beareth witness of myself, and <sup>l</sup>the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, <sup>m</sup>Ye know neither me, nor my Father: <sup>n</sup>if ye knew me, ye would know my Father also. 20 These words spake he in <sup>o</sup>the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and <sup>p</sup>no man took him; because <sup>q</sup>his hour was not yet come. 21 He said therefore again unto them, <sup>r</sup>I go away, and <sup>s</sup>ye shall seek me, and <sup>t</sup>shall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 The Jews therefore said, <sup>u</sup>Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come? 23 And he said unto them, <sup>v</sup>Ye are from beneath; I am from above: <sup>w</sup>ye are of this world; <sup>x</sup>I am not of this world. 24 I said therefore unto you, that ye <sup>y</sup>shall die in your sins: for <sup>z</sup>except ye believe that <sup>1</sup>a I am he, ye shall die in your sins. 25 They said therefore unto him, <sup>b</sup>Who art thou? Jesus said unto them, <sup>c</sup>Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit <sup>d</sup>he that sent me is true; and <sup>e</sup>the things which I heard from him, these speak I <sup>3</sup>s unto the world. 27 They perceived not that <sup>g</sup>he spake to them of the Father. 28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have <sup>h</sup>lifted up the Son of man, <sup>i</sup>then shall ye know that <sup>4</sup>j I am he, and <sup>k</sup>that <sup>l</sup>I do nothing of myself, but <sup>m</sup>as the Father taught me, <sup>n</sup>I speak these things. 29 And <sup>o</sup>he that sent me is with me; <sup>p</sup>he hath not left me alone; for <sup>q</sup>I do always the things that are pleasing to him. 30 As he spake these things, <sup>r</sup>many believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, <sup>s</sup>If ye abide in my word, <sup>t</sup>then are ye truly my disciples; 32 and ye shall <sup>u</sup>know the truth, and the truth <sup>v</sup>shall make you free. 33 They answered unto him, <sup>w</sup>We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? 34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>x</sup>Every one that committeth sin is the bondservant of sin. 35 And <sup>y</sup>the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever: <sup>z</sup>the son abideth for ever. 36 If therefore <sup>1</sup>w the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. 37 I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet <sup>2</sup>x ye seek to kill me, because my word <sup>3</sup>y hath not free course in you. 38<sup>v</sup> I speak the things which I have seen with <sup>4</sup>my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard <sup>5</sup>from your father. 39 They answered and said unto him, <sup>a</sup>Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, <sup>b</sup>If ye <sup>7</sup>were Abraham's children, <sup>8</sup>ye would do the works of Abraham. 40 But now <sup>c</sup>ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, <sup>d</sup>which I heard from God: this did not Abraham. 41 Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, <sup>e</sup>We were not born of fornication; we have <sup>f</sup>one Father, <sup>even</sup> God. 42 Jesus said unto them, <sup>g</sup>If God were your Father, ye would love me: for <sup>h</sup>I came forth and <sup>i</sup>am come from God; for <sup>j</sup>neither have I come of myself, but <sup>k</sup>he sent me. 43<sup>l</sup> Why do ye not <sup>o</sup>understand my speech? <sup>Even</sup> because <sup>m</sup>ye cannot hear my word. 44<sup>n</sup> Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. <sup>o</sup>He was a murderer from the beginning, and <sup>p</sup>stood not in the truth, because

God should be made manifest in him. <sup>4</sup> We must <sup>5</sup> work the works of him that sent me, <sup>6</sup> while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. <sup>5</sup> When I am in the world, <sup>6</sup> I am the light of the world. <sup>6</sup> When he had thus spoken, <sup>7</sup> he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, <sup>8</sup> and anointed his eyes with the clay, <sup>9</sup> and said unto him, Go, wash in <sup>10</sup> the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and <sup>11</sup> came seeing. <sup>8</sup> The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, <sup>9</sup> Is not this he that sat and begged? <sup>9</sup> Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. <sup>10</sup> They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? <sup>11</sup> He answered, <sup>12</sup> The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight. <sup>12</sup> And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

<sup>13</sup> They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. <sup>14</sup> Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. <sup>15</sup> Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. <sup>16</sup> Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not <sup>17</sup> from God, <sup>18</sup> because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, <sup>19</sup> How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And <sup>20</sup> there was a division among them. <sup>17</sup> They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, <sup>18</sup> He is a prophet. <sup>18</sup> The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, <sup>19</sup> and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? <sup>20</sup> His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: <sup>21</sup>but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. <sup>22</sup>These things said his parents, <sup>o</sup>because they feared the Jews: for <sup>p</sup>the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should <sup>q</sup>confess him to be Christ, <sup>r</sup>he should be put out of the synagogue. <sup>23</sup>Therefore said his parents, <sup>s</sup>He is of age; ask him. <sup>24</sup>So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, <sup>t</sup>Give glory to God: we know that <sup>u</sup>this man is a sinner. <sup>25</sup>He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I <sup>v</sup>was blind, now I see. <sup>26</sup>They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? <sup>27</sup>He answered them, <sup>w</sup>I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his disciples? <sup>28</sup>And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but <sup>x</sup>we are disciples of Moses. <sup>29</sup>We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, <sup>y</sup>we know not whence he is. <sup>30</sup>The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is <sup>z</sup>the marvel, that <sup>a</sup>ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened mine eyes. <sup>31</sup>We know that <sup>b</sup>God heareth not sinners: but <sup>c</sup>if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. <sup>32</sup>Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man born blind. <sup>33</sup>If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. <sup>34</sup>They answered and said unto him, <sup>d</sup>Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they <sup>e</sup>cast him out.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on <sup>f</sup>the Son of God? <sup>36</sup>He answered and said, <sup>g</sup>And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? <sup>37</sup>Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and <sup>h</sup>he it is that speaketh with thee. <sup>38</sup>And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. <sup>39</sup>And Jesus said, <sup>i</sup>For judgement came I into this world, <sup>k</sup>that they which see not may see; and <sup>l</sup>that they which see may become blind.

<sup>40</sup>Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, <sup>m</sup>Are we also blind? <sup>41</sup>Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, <sup>n</sup>ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

<sup>7</sup>Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>s</sup>I am the door of the sheep. <sup>8</sup>All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. <sup>9</sup>I am the door: by me if any man enter in, <sup>t</sup>he shall be saved, and shall <sup>u</sup>go in and go out, and <sup>v</sup>shall find pasture. <sup>10</sup>The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and <sup>w</sup>kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may <sup>x</sup>have <sup>it</sup> abundantly. <sup>11</sup><sup>4</sup>I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd <sup>y</sup>layeth down his life for the sheep. <sup>12</sup>He that is <sup>z</sup>a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and <sup>b</sup>leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and <sup>c</sup>scattereth them: <sup>13</sup>he fleeth because <sup>a</sup>he is a hireling, and <sup>e</sup>careth not for the sheep. <sup>14</sup>I am the good shepherd; and <sup>d</sup>I know mine own, and <sup>h</sup>mine own know me, <sup>15</sup>even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and <sup>i</sup>I lay down my life for the sheep. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>k</sup>other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: <sup>l</sup>them also I must <sup>m</sup>bring, and <sup>n</sup>they shall hear my voice; and <sup>o</sup>they shall become <sup>one</sup> flock, <sup>p</sup>one shepherd. 17<sup>a</sup> Therefore doth the Father love me, <sup>b</sup>because <sup>c</sup>I lay down my life, that I may take it again. 18<sup>d</sup> No one <sup>e</sup>taketh it away from me, but <sup>f</sup>I lay it down <sup>g</sup>of myself. I have <sup>h</sup>2 power to lay it down, and <sup>i</sup>I have <sup>j</sup>2 power to take it again. <sup>k</sup>This commandment received I from my Father.

19<sup>l</sup> There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. 20 And many of them said,
<sup>m</sup>He hath a <sup>n</sup>devil, and <sup>o</sup>is mad;
<sup>p</sup>why hear ye him? 21 Others said,
 These are not the sayings of one possessed with a <sup>q</sup>devil. <sup>r</sup>Can a <sup>s</sup>devil open the eyes of the blind?

22<sup>t</sup> And it was the feast of <sup>u</sup>the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; 23 and Jesus was walking in the temple <sup>v</sup>in Solomon's porch.
 24 The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense?
 If thou art <sup>w</sup>the Christ, <sup>x</sup>tell us plainly. 25 Jesus answered them,
 I told you, and ye believe not: <sup>y</sup>the works that I do <sup>z</sup>in my Father's name, these bear witness of me.
 26 But <sup>a</sup>ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. 27<sup>b</sup> My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: 28 and <sup>c</sup>I give unto them eternal life; and <sup>d</sup>they shall never perish, and <sup>e</sup>no one shall snatch them out of my hand.
 29<sup>f</sup> <sup>g</sup>My Father, <sup>h</sup>which hath given them unto me, <sup>i</sup>is greater than all;
 and no one is able to snatch <sup>j</sup>them out of <sup>k</sup>the Father's hand. 30<sup>l</sup> I and the Father are one. 31<sup>m</sup> The Jews took up stones again to stone him. 32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? 33 The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but <sup>n</sup>for blasphemy;
 and because that thou, being a man, <sup>o</sup>makest thyself God. 34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in <sup>p</sup>your law, <sup>q</sup>I said, Ye are gods?
 35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be <sup>r</sup>broken), 36 say ye of him, whom <sup>s</sup>the Father <sup>t</sup>sanctified and <sup>u</sup>sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because <sup>v</sup>I said, I am <sup>w</sup>the Son of God? 37<sup>x</sup> If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. 38 But if I do them, <sup>y</sup>though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that <sup>z</sup>the Father is in me, and I in the Father. 39<sup>a</sup> They sought again to take him: and <sup>b</sup>he went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place <sup>c</sup>where John was at the first baptizing;
 and there he abode. 41 And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but <sup>d</sup>all things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. 42 And <sup>e</sup>many believed on him there.

I Now a certain man was II sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of <sup>a</sup>Mary and her sister Martha. 2 And <sup>b</sup>it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, <sup>c</sup>he whom thou lovest is sick. 4 But when Jesus heard it, he said, <sup>d</sup>this sickness is not unto death, but for <sup>e</sup>the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. 5 Now <sup>f</sup>Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When therefore he heard that he was sick, <sup>g</sup>he abode
 at that time two days in the place where he was. 7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, <sup>h</sup>Let us go into Judæa again. 8 The disciples say unto him, <sup>i</sup>Rabbi, <sup>j</sup>the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?
 9 Jesus answered, <sup>k</sup>Are there not twelve hours in the day? <sup>l</sup>If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. 10 But <sup>m</sup>if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not <sup>n</sup>in him. 11 These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus <sup>o</sup>is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will <sup>p</sup>recover. 13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep.
 14 Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.
 15 And I am glad for your sakes

that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. <sup>16</sup> Thomas therefore, who is called <sup>1</sup> Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, <sup>2</sup> that we may die with him.

<sup>17</sup> So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb <sup>a</sup> four days already. <sup>18</sup> Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; <sup>19</sup> and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, <sup>b</sup> to console them concerning their brother. <sup>20</sup> Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. <sup>21</sup> Martha therefore said unto <sup>d</sup> Jesus, Lord, <sup>e</sup> if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. <sup>22</sup> And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, <sup>f</sup> God will give thee. <sup>23</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. <sup>24</sup> Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in <sup>h</sup> the resurrection at the last day. <sup>25</sup> Jesus said unto her, <sup>i</sup> I am the resurrection, and <sup>j</sup> the life: he that believeth on me, <sup>k</sup> though he die, <sup>l</sup> yet shall he live: <sup>26</sup> and whosoever liveth and believeth on me <sup>m</sup> shall never die. Believest thou this? <sup>27</sup> She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: <sup>n</sup> I have believed that <sup>o</sup> thou art the Christ, the Son of God, <sup>p</sup> even <sup>q</sup> he that cometh into the world. <sup>28</sup> And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary <sup>r</sup> her sister secretly, saying, <sup>s</sup> The <sup>t</sup> Master is here, and calleth thee. <sup>29</sup> And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. <sup>30</sup> (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) <sup>31</sup> The Jews then <sup>u</sup> which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to <sup>v</sup> weep there. <sup>32</sup> Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, <sup>w</sup> Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. <sup>33</sup> When Jesus therefore saw her <sup>x</sup> weeping, and the Jews <sup>y</sup> also <sup>z</sup> weeping which came with her, he <sup>aa</sup> groaned in the spirit, and <sup>ab</sup> was <sup>ac</sup> troubled, <sup>34</sup> and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. <sup>35</sup> Jesus wept. <sup>36</sup> The Jews therefore said, Behold <sup>ad</sup> how he loved him! <sup>37</sup> But some of them said, Could not this man, <sup>ae</sup> which opened the eyes of him that was blind, <sup>af</sup> have caused that this man also should not die? <sup>38</sup> Jesus therefore again <sup>ag</sup> groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was <sup>ah</sup> a cave, and <sup>ai</sup> a stone lay <sup>aj</sup> against it. <sup>39</sup> Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for <sup>ak</sup> he hath been dead four days. <sup>40</sup> Jesus saith unto her, <sup>al</sup> Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldst see <sup>am</sup> the glory of God? <sup>41</sup> So they took away the stone. And Jesus <sup>an</sup> lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hearest me. <sup>42</sup> And <sup>ao</sup> I knew that thou hearest me always: but <sup>ap</sup> because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, <sup>aq</sup> that they may believe that thou didst send me. <sup>43</sup> And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. <sup>44</sup> He that was dead came forth, <sup>ar</sup> bound hand and foot with <sup>as</sup> grave-clothes; and <sup>at</sup> his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. <sup>51</sup> Now this he said not of himself: but <sup>a</sup> being high priest that year, <sup>b</sup> he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; <sup>52</sup> and <sup>c</sup> not for the nation only, but <sup>d</sup> that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. <sup>53</sup> So from that day forth they <sup>e</sup> took counsel that they might put him to death.

there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, <sup>w</sup> whom he had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup> But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; <sup>x</sup> because that <sup>y</sup> by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

there shall also my servant be: <sup>r</sup>if any man serve me, <sup>s</sup>him will the Father honour. 27 <sup>t</sup>Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, <sup>u</sup>save me from <sup>v</sup>this <sup>1</sup>hour. But <sup>w</sup>for this cause came I unto <sup>v</sup>this hour. 28 Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore <sup>a</sup>a voice out of heaven, <sup>saying</sup>, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, <sup>y</sup>An angel hath spoken to him. 30 Jesus answered and said, <sup>z</sup>This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. 31 <sup>a</sup>Now is <sup>2</sup>the judgement of this world: now shall <sup>b</sup>the prince of this world <sup>c</sup>be cast out. 32 And I, <sup>d</sup>if I be lifted up <sup>3</sup>from the earth, <sup>e</sup>will draw <sup>f</sup>all men unto myself. 33 But this he said, <sup>g</sup>signifying by what manner of death he should die. 34 The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that <sup>h</sup>the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, <sup>i</sup>The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Jesus therefore said unto them, <sup>j</sup>Yet a little while is <sup>k</sup>the light <sup>4</sup>among you. <sup>1</sup>Walk while ye have the light, that darkness <sup>m</sup>overtake you not: and <sup>n</sup>he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become <sup>o</sup>sons of light. These things spake Jesus, and he departed and <sup>p</sup>hid himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 <sup>q</sup>that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, <sup>r</sup>Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? 39 For this cause they <sup>s</sup>could not believe, for that Isaiah said again, 40 <sup>t</sup>He hath blinded their eyes, and he <sup>u</sup>hardened their heart; Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, And should turn, And I should heal them 41 These things said Isaiah, because <sup>v</sup>he saw his glory; and <sup>w</sup>he spake of him. 42 Nevertheless <sup>x</sup>even of the rulers many believed on him; but <sup>y</sup>because of the Pharisees they did not <sup>z</sup>confess <sup>a</sup>it, lest they should be <sup>b</sup>put out of the synagogue: 43 <sup>b</sup>for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

44 And Jesus cried and said, <sup>c</sup>He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but <sup>d</sup>on him that sent me. 45 And <sup>e</sup>he that <sup>f</sup>beholdeth me beholdeth him that sent me. 46 <sup>g</sup>I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in the darkness. 47 And if any man <sup>h</sup>hear my sayings, and keep them not, <sup>i</sup>I judge him not: for <sup>j</sup>I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 <sup>k</sup>He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: <sup>l</sup>the word that I spake, the same shall judge him <sup>m</sup>in the last day. 49 For <sup>n</sup>I spake not from myself; but the Father <sup>o</sup>which sent me, he hath given me a <sup>p</sup>commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. 50 And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, <sup>j</sup>If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. <sup>g</sup>Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. <sup>i</sup>Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not <sup>h</sup>to save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and <sup>k</sup>ye are clean, <sup>l</sup>but not all. <sup>m</sup>For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

<sup>z</sup>Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, and saith unto him, Tell <sup>a</sup>us who it is of whom he speaketh.

when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and <sup>g</sup>giveth it to Judas, <sup>h</sup>the son of Simon Iscariot. <sup>i</sup>And after the sop, then <sup>j</sup>entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, <sup>k</sup>That thou doest, do quickly. <sup>l</sup>Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. <sup>m</sup>For some thought, <sup>n</sup>because Judas had the <sup>o</sup>bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of <sup>p</sup>for the feast; or, that he should <sup>q</sup>give something to the poor. <sup>r</sup>He then having received the sop went out straightway: <sup>s</sup>and it was night.

<sup>q</sup>Let not your heart be troubled: <sup>r</sup>ye believe in God, believe also in me. <sup>s</sup>In <sup>t</sup>my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for <sup>u</sup>I go to prepare a place for you. <sup>v</sup>And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive you <sup>w</sup>unto myself; that <sup>x</sup>where I am, there ye may be also. <sup>y</sup>And whither I go, ye know the way. <sup>z</sup>Thomas saith unto him, Lord, 12 Or, believe in God. 13 Or, abiding-places. 14 Many ancient authorities read And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

o we know not whither thou goest; how know we the way? 6 Jesus saith unto him, I am <sup>2</sup>the way, and <sup>2</sup>the truth, and <sup>2</sup>the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but <sup>1s</sup>by me. 7 If ye had known me, ye would have <sup>u</sup>known my Father also: from henceforth ye know him, and <sup>v</sup>have seen him. 8 <sup>w</sup>Philip saith unto him, Lord, <sup>a</sup>shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? <sup>v</sup>he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; how sayest thou, Shew us the Father? 10 Believest thou not that <sup>a</sup>I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I say unto you <sup>a</sup>I speak not from myself: but the Father abiding in me doeth his works. 11 Believe me that <sup>a</sup>I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else <sup>b</sup>believe me for the very works' sake. 12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>c</sup>He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater <sup>d</sup>works than these shall he do; because I <sup>a</sup>go unto the Father. 13 And <sup>e</sup>whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that <sup>f</sup>the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If ye shall ask <sup>a</sup>me anything in my name, that will I do. 15 If ye love me, ye will <sup>g</sup>keep my commandments. 16 And I will <sup>h</sup>pray the Father, and he shall give you another <sup>i</sup>Comforter, that he may be with you for ever, 17 <sup>even</sup> <sup>k</sup>the Spirit of truth: <sup>l</sup>whom the world cannot receive; for it beholdeth him not, neither knoweth him: ye know him; for he abideth with you, and <sup>m</sup>shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you <sup>n</sup>desolate: <sup>a</sup>I come unto you. 19 Yet a little while, and the world beholdeth me no more; but <sup>p</sup>ye behold me: <sup>q</sup>because I live, <sup>r</sup>ye shall live also. 20 In that day ye shall know that <sup>a</sup>I am in my Father, and <sup>b</sup>ye in me, and <sup>c</sup>I in you. 21 He that hath my commandments, and <sup>d</sup>keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and <sup>e</sup>he that loveth me <sup>f</sup>shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will <sup>g</sup>manifest myself unto him. 22 <sup>a</sup>Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass <sup>b</sup>that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? 23 Jesus answered and said unto him, <sup>c</sup>If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and <sup>d</sup>we will come unto him, and <sup>e</sup>make our abode with him. 24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and <sup>f</sup>the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, while <sup>g</sup>yet abiding with you. 26 But the <sup>h</sup>Comforter, <sup>even</sup> the Holy Spirit, <sup>i</sup>whom the Father will send in my name, <sup>j</sup>he shall teach you all things, and <sup>k</sup>bring to your remembrance all that I said unto you. 27 <sup>l</sup>Peace I leave with you; <sup>m</sup>my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. <sup>n</sup>Let not your heart be troubled, neither <sup>o</sup>let it be fearful. 28 <sup>p</sup>Ye heard how I said to you, <sup>q</sup>I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I <sup>a</sup>go unto the Father: for <sup>r</sup>the Father is greater than I. 29 And <sup>s</sup>now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe. 30 I will no more speak much with you, for <sup>t</sup>the prince of the world cometh: and <sup>u</sup>he hath nothing in me; 31 but <sup>v</sup>that the world may know that I love the Father, and <sup>w</sup>as the Father gave me commandment, <sup>even</sup> so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

I I am the <sup>a</sup>true vine, and my Father is <sup>b</sup>the husbandman. 2 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, <sup>c</sup>he taketh it away: and every <sup>d</sup>branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, <sup>e</sup>that it may bear more fruit. 3 Already <sup>f</sup>ye are clean <sup>g</sup>because of the word which I have spoken unto you. 4 <sup>h</sup>Abide <sup>i</sup>in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. 5 I am the vine, <sup>j</sup>ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same <sup>k</sup>beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye can do nothing. 6 If a man abide not in me, <sup>1</sup>he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; <sup>2</sup>and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. 7 If <sup>3</sup>ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, <sup>4</sup>ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

 8 <sup>5</sup>Herein <sup>1</sup>is my Father glorified, <sup>2</sup>that ye <sup>3</sup>bear much fruit; and <sup>4</sup>so shall ye <sup>5</sup>be my disciples. 9 Even <sup>6</sup>as the Father hath loved me, <sup>7</sup>I also have loved you: abide ye in my love. 10 <sup>8</sup>If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as <sup>9</sup>I have kept <sup>10</sup>my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. 11 These things have I spoken unto you, <sup>12</sup>that my joy may be in you, and <sup>13</sup>that <sup>14</sup>your joy may be fulfilled. 12 <sup>15</sup>This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have loved you.
 13 <sup>16</sup>Greater love hath no man than this, <sup>17</sup>that a man lay down his life for his friends. 14 Ye are <sup>18</sup>my friends, <sup>19</sup>if ye do the things which I command you. 15 <sup>20</sup>No longer do
 I call you <sup>21</sup>servants; for <sup>22</sup>the <sup>23</sup>servant <sup>24</sup>knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for <sup>25</sup>all things that I heard from my Father <sup>26</sup>I have made known unto you. 16 Ye did not choose me, but <sup>27</sup>I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and <sup>28</sup>bear fruit, and <sup>29</sup>that your fruit should abide: that <sup>30</sup>whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name,
 he may give it you. 17 These things
 I command you, <sup>31</sup>that ye may love one another. 18 <sup>32</sup>If the world hateth you, <sup>33</sup>ye know that it hath hated me before <sup>34</sup>it hated you. 19 <sup>35</sup>If ye were of the world, the world would love its own: but because <sup>36</sup>ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. 20 Remember the word that I said unto you, <sup>37</sup>"A <sup>38</sup>servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, <sup>39</sup>they will also persecute you; <sup>40</sup>if they kept my word, they will keep yours also. 21 But <sup>41</sup>all these things will they do unto you <sup>42</sup>for my name's sake, <sup>43</sup>because they know not him that sent me. 22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, <sup>44</sup>they had not had sin: but now they have no excuse for their sin. 23 <sup>45</sup>He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

 24 <sup>46</sup>If I had not done among them
 the works which none other did, <sup>47</sup>they had not had sin: but now have they both <sup>48</sup>seen and hated both me and my Father. 25 But <sup>49</sup>this cometh to pass, <sup>50</sup>that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, <sup>51</sup>"They hated me without a cause. 26 But <sup>52</sup>when the <sup>53</sup>Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, <sup>54</sup>even the Spirit of truth, which <sup>55</sup>proceedeth
 from the Father, <sup>56</sup>he shall bear witness of me: 27 <sup>57</sup>and <sup>58</sup>ye also bear witness, <sup>59</sup>because ye have been with me <sup>60</sup>from the beginning.

16 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be made to stumble.
 2 <sup>1</sup>They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, <sup>2</sup>the hour cometh, that <sup>3</sup>whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth service unto God. 3 And these things will they do, <sup>4</sup>because they have not known the Father, nor me. 4 But <sup>5</sup>these things have I spoken unto you, that when <sup>6</sup>their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, <sup>7</sup>because I was with you. 5 But now <sup>8</sup>I go unto him that sent me;
 and <sup>9</sup>none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? 6 But because I have spoken these things unto you, <sup>10</sup>sorrow hath filled your heart. 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away:
 for <sup>11</sup>if I go not away, <sup>12</sup>the <sup>13</sup>Comforter will not come unto you; but <sup>14</sup>if <sup>15</sup>I go, <sup>16</sup>I will send him unto
 you. 8 <sup>17</sup>And he, when he is come,
 will <sup>18</sup>convict the world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: 9 of sin, <sup>19</sup>because they believe not on me; 10 <sup>20</sup>of righteousness, <sup>21</sup>because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more;
 11 <sup>22</sup>of judgement, because the prince of this world <sup>23</sup>hath been judged.
 12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them
 now. 13 Howbeit when he, <sup>24</sup>the Spirit of truth, is come, <sup>25</sup>he shall

<sup>b</sup> guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but <sup>c</sup> what things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to come. <sup>14</sup> He shall <sup>d</sup> glorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall declare it unto you. <sup>15</sup> All things whatsoever the Father hath are mine: <sup>e</sup> therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare it unto you. <sup>16</sup> <sup>g</sup> A little while, and ye behold me no more; and <sup>h</sup> again a little while, and ye shall see me. <sup>17</sup> <sup>i</sup> Some of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, <sup>j</sup> A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, <sup>k</sup> Because I go to the Father? <sup>18</sup> They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? <sup>l</sup> We know not what he saith. <sup>19</sup> <sup>m</sup> Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see me? <sup>20</sup> Verily, I say unto you, that <sup>n</sup> ye shall weep and lament, but <sup>o</sup> the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but <sup>p</sup> your sorrow shall be turned into joy. <sup>21</sup> <sup>q</sup> A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. <sup>22</sup> <sup>r</sup> And ye therefore now have sorrow: but <sup>s</sup> I will see you again, and <sup>t</sup> your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you. <sup>23</sup> And <sup>u</sup> in that day ye shall <sup>v</sup> ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, <sup>w</sup> If ye shall ask anything of the Father, <sup>x</sup> he will give it you in my name. <sup>24</sup> Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: <sup>y</sup> ask, and ye shall receive, <sup>z</sup> that your joy may be fulfilled. <sup>25</sup> These things have I spoken unto you in <sup>aa</sup> proverbs: <sup>b</sup> the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in <sup>aa</sup> proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of the Father. <sup>26</sup> In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will <sup>ac</sup> pray the Father for you; <sup>27</sup> <sup>d</sup> for the Father himself loveth you, because <sup>e</sup> ye have loved me, and <sup>f</sup> have believed that I came forth from the Father. <sup>28</sup> <sup>g</sup> I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, <sup>h</sup> I leave the world, and go unto the Father. <sup>29</sup> His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest not <sup>ii</sup> proverb. <sup>30</sup> Now know we that <sup>j</sup> thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that <sup>k</sup> thou camest forth from God. <sup>31</sup> Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? <sup>32</sup> Behold, <sup>l</sup> the hour cometh, yea, is come, that <sup>m</sup> ye shall be scattered, every man to <sup>n</sup> his own, and <sup>o</sup> shall leave me alone: <sup>p</sup> and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. <sup>33</sup> These things have I spoken unto you, that <sup>q</sup> in me ye may have peace. <sup>r</sup> In the world ye have <sup>s</sup> tribulation: but <sup>t</sup> be of good cheer; <sup>u</sup> I have overcome the world.

I <sup>1</sup> These things spake Jesus; and <sup>v</sup> lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, <sup>w</sup> the hour is come; <sup>x</sup> glorify thy Son, that the Son may <sup>y</sup> glorify thee: <sup>z</sup> even as <sup>aa</sup> thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that <sup>ab</sup> whatsoever thou hast given him, <sup>ac</sup> to them he should give eternal life. <sup>3</sup> And this is life eternal, <sup>ad</sup> that they should know thee <sup>ae</sup> the only <sup>af</sup> true God, and <sup>ag</sup> him whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup> I <sup>ah</sup> glorified thee on the earth, <sup>ai</sup> having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do. <sup>5</sup> And now, O Father, <sup>aj</sup> glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory <sup>ak</sup> which I had with thee <sup>al</sup> before the world was. <sup>6</sup> <sup>am</sup> I manifested thy name unto the men <sup>an</sup> whom thou gavest me out of the world: <sup>ao</sup> thine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have kept thy word. <sup>7</sup> Now they know that all things <sup>ap</sup> whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee: <sup>aq</sup> for <sup>ar</sup> the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received <sup>as</sup> them, and knew of a truth that <sup>at</sup> I came forth from thee, and <sup>au</sup> they believed that thou didst send me. <sup>9</sup> I <sup>av</sup> pray for them: <sup>aw</sup> I pray not for the world, hast given me: for thou lovedst me <sup>a</sup>before the foundation of the world. 25 <sup>a</sup>O righteous Father, <sup>a</sup>the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst send me; 26 and <sup>a</sup>I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love <sup>a</sup>wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and <sup>a</sup>I in them.

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, <sup>w</sup>he went forth with his disciples over <sup>a</sup>the <sup>b</sup>brook <sup>7</sup>Kidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, himself and his disciples. 2 Now Judas also, which betrayed him, knew <sup>v</sup>the place: for <sup>a</sup>Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples. 3 <sup>a</sup>Judas then, having received the <sup>b</sup>band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Jesus therefore, <sup>b</sup>knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith unto them, <sup>c</sup>Whom seek ye? 5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am <sup>he</sup>. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing with them. 6 <sup>a</sup>When therefore he said unto them, I am <sup>he</sup>, they went backward, and fell to the ground. 7 Again therefore he asked them, <sup>c</sup>Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered, I told you that I am <sup>he</sup>: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: 9 <sup>a</sup>that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one. 10 Simon Peter therefore <sup>f</sup>having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's <sup>b</sup>servant, and cut off his right ear. Now the <sup>b</sup>servant's name was Malchus. 11 Jesus therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: <sup>a</sup>the cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 So the <sup>b</sup>band and the <sup>10</sup>chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus and bound him, 13 and <sup>b</sup>led him to <sup>a</sup>Annas first; for he was father in law to <sup>j</sup>Caiaphas, which was high priest that year. 14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, <sup>k</sup>that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15<sup>a</sup> And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; 16<sup>m</sup> but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. 17<sup>n</sup> The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. 18 Now the <sup>1</sup>servants and the officers were standing there, having made <sup>2</sup>a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and <sup>o</sup>Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

25<sup>w</sup> Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not. 26 One of the <sup>1</sup>servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of <sup>h</sup>him whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee <sup>i</sup>in the garden with him? 27 Peter therefore denied again: and <sup>j</sup>straightway the cock crew.

fore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye against this man? 30 They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. 31 Pilate therefore said unto them, <sup>g</sup>Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 32<sup>h</sup> that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, <sup>i</sup>signifying by what manner of death he should die.

33<sup>j</sup> Pilate therefore entered again into the <sup>6</sup>palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, <sup>k</sup>Art thou the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me? 35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? 36 Jesus answered, <sup>l</sup>My kingdom <sup>m</sup>is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, <sup>n</sup>then would my <sup>6</sup>servants fight, that <sup>o</sup>I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence, 37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, <sup>p</sup>Thou sayest that I am a king. <sup>q</sup>To this end have I been born, and to this end <sup>r</sup>am I come into the world, that <sup>s</sup>I should bear witness unto the truth. <sup>t</sup>Every one that is <sup>u</sup>of the truth <sup>v</sup>heareth my voice. 38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, <sup>w</sup>he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, <sup>x</sup>I find no crime in him. 39<sup>y</sup> But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 40 They cried out therefore again, saying, <sup>z</sup>Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

1 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and <sup>a</sup>scourged him.

2<sup>b</sup> And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment; 3 and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they struck him <sup>c</sup>with their hands. 4 And Pilate went out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that <sup>a</sup>I find no crime in him. 5 Jesus therefore came out, wearing <sup>e</sup>the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto them, <sup>f</sup>Behold, the man! 6 When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, <sup>g</sup>Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for <sup>h</sup>I find no crime in him. 7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and <sup>i</sup>by that law he ought to die, because <sup>j</sup>he made himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate therefore heard this saying, <sup>k</sup>he was the more afraid; and <sup>l</sup>he entered into the <sup>1</sup>palace again, and saith unto Jesus, <sup>m</sup>Whence art thou? But <sup>n</sup>Jesus gave him no answer. 10 Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have <sup>2</sup>power to release thee, and have <sup>2</sup>power to crucify thee? 11 Jesus answered him, <sup>o</sup>Thou wouldest have no <sup>2</sup>power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore <sup>p</sup>he that delivered me unto thee <sup>q</sup>hath greater sin. 12 Upon this <sup>r</sup>Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend: <sup>s</sup>every one that maketh himself a king <sup>s</sup>speaketh against Cæsar. 13 When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on <sup>t</sup>the judgement-seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. 14 Now it was <sup>u</sup>the Preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, <sup>v</sup>Behold, your King! 15 They therefore cried out, <sup>w</sup>Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar. 16 <sup>x</sup>Then therefore he <sup>v</sup>delivered him unto them to be crucified.

They took Jesus therefore: 17 and <sup>z</sup>he went out, <sup>a</sup>bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha: 18 <sup>b</sup>where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. 19 And Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS. 20 This title therefore read many of the Jews: <sup>4</sup>for <sup>d</sup>the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek. 21 The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews. 22 Pilate answered, <sup>e</sup>What I have written I have written.

23 <sup>f</sup>The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the <sup>5</sup>coat: now the <sup>5</sup>coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 24 They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: <sup>g</sup>that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

<sup>h</sup>They parted my garments among them,

And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

These things therefore the soldiers did. 25 <sup>i</sup>But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. 26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and <sup>j</sup>the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, <sup>k</sup>Woman, behold, thy son! 27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto <sup>l</sup>his own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now <sup>m</sup>finished, <sup>g</sup>that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, <sup>n</sup>I thirst. 29 There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: <sup>o</sup>so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. 30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, <sup>p</sup>It is finished: and he bowed his head, and <sup>q</sup>gave up his spirit.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was <sup>r</sup>the Preparation, <sup>s</sup>that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was <sup>a</sup>a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. <sup>32</sup>The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other <sup>v</sup>which was crucified with him: <sup>33</sup>but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: <sup>34</sup>howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out <sup>v</sup>blood and water. <sup>35</sup>And <sup>w</sup>he that hath seen hath borne witness, and <sup>a</sup>his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, <sup>v</sup>that ye also may believe. <sup>36</sup><sup>a</sup>For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, <sup>a</sup>A bone of him <sup>b</sup>shall not be <sup>1</sup>broken. <sup>37</sup>And again another scripture saith, <sup>c</sup>They shall look on him whom they pierced.

<sup>38</sup><sup>d</sup>And after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly <sup>e</sup>for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. <sup>39</sup>And there came also <sup>f</sup>Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, <sup>g</sup>bringing a <sup>2</sup>mixture of <sup>h</sup>myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. <sup>40</sup>So they took the body of Jesus, and <sup>i</sup>bound it in <sup>j</sup>linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. <sup>41</sup>Now in the place where he was crucified there was a <sup>k</sup>garden; and <sup>l</sup>in the garden a new tomb <sup>m</sup>wherein was never man yet laid. <sup>42</sup>There then because of the Jews' <sup>n</sup>Preparation (<sup>o</sup>for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

and came first to the tomb; <sup>5</sup>and stooping and looking in, he seeth <sup>u</sup>the linen cloths lying; yet entered he not in. <sup>6</sup>Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen cloths lying, <sup>7</sup>and <sup>v</sup>the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. <sup>8</sup>Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, <sup>w</sup>which came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. <sup>9</sup>For as yet <sup>x</sup>they knew not the scripture, <sup>y</sup>that he must rise again from the dead. <sup>10</sup>So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

24 But <sup>a</sup>Thomas, one of the twelve, called <sup>b</sup>Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, <sup>c</sup>Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, <sup>b</sup>the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, <sup>b</sup>Peace be unto you. 27 Then saith he to Thomas, <sup>c</sup>Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach <sup>b</sup>hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. 28 Thomas answered and said unto him, <sup>d</sup>My Lord and my God. 29 Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, <sup>e</sup>thou hast believed: <sup>e</sup>blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 <sup>f</sup>Many other signs therefore did Jesus <sup>g</sup>in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book: 31 <sup>h</sup>but these are written, that ye may <sup>i</sup>believe that Jesus is the Christ, <sup>j</sup>the Son of God; and that believing <sup>k</sup>ye may have life <sup>l</sup>in his name.

the boat; and <sup>t</sup>that night they took nothing. 4 But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples <sup>u</sup>knew not that it was Jesus. 5 <sup>v</sup>Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye ought to eat? They answered him, No. 6 <sup>w</sup>And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. 7 That disciple therefore <sup>x</sup>whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, <sup>y</sup>he girt his coat about him (for he was <sup>z</sup>naked), and <sup>z</sup>cast himself into the sea. 8 But the other disciples came in <sup>a</sup>the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. 9 So when they got out upon the land, they see <sup>a</sup>a fire of coals there, and <sup>b</sup>fish laid thereon, and <sup>b</sup>bread. 10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. 11 Simon Peter therefore went <sup>c</sup>up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, the net was not rent. 12 Jesus saith unto them, <sup>d</sup>Come and <sup>d</sup>break your fast. And <sup>d</sup>none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. 13 Jesus cometh, and <sup>e</sup>taketh the <sup>e</sup>bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise. 14 <sup>f</sup>This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

time, <sup>11</sup> Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, <sup>2</sup> thou knowest all things; thou <sup>1</sup> knowest that I <sup>11</sup> love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed <sup>2</sup> my sheep. <sup>18</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, <sup>2</sup> thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldst; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldst not. <sup>19</sup> Now this he spake, signifying <sup>7</sup> by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, <sup>20</sup> Follow me. <sup>20</sup> Peter, turning about, seeth <sup>4</sup> the disciple whom Jesus loved following; <sup>21</sup> which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee? <sup>21</sup> Peter therefore seeing him

<sup>25</sup> And <sup>2</sup> there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that <sup>2</sup> even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

the Father hath <sup>2</sup> set within his own authority. <sup>8</sup> But ye shall receive <sup>2</sup> power, <sup>2</sup> when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and <sup>2</sup> ye shall be <sup>2</sup> my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and <sup>2</sup> Samaria, and <sup>2</sup> unto the uttermost part of the earth. <sup>9</sup> And when he had said these things, as they were looking, <sup>2</sup> he was taken up; and <sup>2</sup> a cloud received him out of their sight. <sup>10</sup> And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, <sup>2</sup> two <sup>2</sup> men stood by them in <sup>2</sup> white apparel; <sup>11</sup> which also said, <sup>2</sup> Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, <sup>2</sup> shall <sup>2</sup> so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven.

15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of <sup>k</sup>the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of <sup>81</sup>persons gathered together, about a hundred and twenty), 16 Brethren, <sup>m</sup>it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, <sup>n</sup>who was guide to them that took Jesus. 17 For <sup>o</sup>he was numbered among us, and received his <sup>p</sup>portion in <sup>r</sup>this ministry. 18 (Now this man <sup>q</sup>obtained a field with <sup>r</sup>the reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. 19 And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch that <sup>s</sup>in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The field of blood.) 20 For it is written in the book of Psalms,

And let no man dwell therein: and,

21 Of the men therefore which have companied with us <sup>v</sup>all the time that the Lord Jesus <sup>w</sup>went in and went out <sup>z</sup>among us, 22 <sup>x</sup>beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that <sup>y</sup>he was received up from us, of these must one become <sup>a</sup>a witness with us of his resurrection. 23 And they put forward two, Joseph called <sup>b</sup>'Barsabbas, who was surnamed <sup>c</sup>'Justus, and <sup>c</sup>'Matthias. 24 And <sup>d</sup>they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, <sup>e</sup>which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two the one whom thou hast chosen, 25 to take the place in <sup>f</sup>this ministry and <sup>g</sup>apostleship, from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. 26 And they gave lots <sup>7</sup>for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

1 And when <sup>h</sup>the day of Pentecost <sup>8</sup>was now come, they were all together in one place.

2 And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of <sup>4</sup>the rushing of a mighty wind, and <sup>j</sup>it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 And there appeared unto them tongues <sup>9</sup>parting asunder, <sup>k</sup>like as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. 4 And they were all <sup>1</sup>filled with the Holy Spirit, and began <sup>m</sup>to speak with other tongues, <sup>n</sup>as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. 6 And <sup>o</sup>when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. 7 And <sup>p</sup>they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these which speak <sup>q</sup>Galileans? 8 And how hear we, every man in our own language, wherein we were born? 9 Parthians and <sup>r</sup>'Medes and <sup>s</sup>'Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, 10 in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and <sup>t</sup>'proselytes, 11 Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. 12 And <sup>u</sup>they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What meaneth this? 13 But others <sup>v</sup>mocking said, They are filled with new wine.

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. 15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; <sup>w</sup>seeing it is but the third hour of the day; 16 but this is that which hath been spoken <sup>x</sup>by the prophet Joel;

17 <sup>y</sup>'And it shall be in the last days, saith God, <sup>z</sup>'I will pour forth of my Spirit <sup>a</sup>upon all flesh:

And your sons and <sup>a</sup>your daughters shall prophesy,

And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream
dreams:

18 Yea and on my <sup>1</sup>servants and on my <sup>2</sup>handmaidens in those days

Will I pour forth of my Spirit;
and <sup>b</sup>they shall prophesy.

19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath;
Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

20 <sup>c</sup>The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before <sup>d</sup>the day of the Lord come,

That great and notable day:

21 And it shall be, that <sup>e</sup>whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, <sup>f</sup>a man approved of God unto you <sup>g</sup>by <sup>h</sup>mighty works and wonders and signs, which <sup>i</sup>God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; <sup>j</sup>23 him, <sup>j</sup>being delivered up by <sup>k</sup>the determinate counsel and <sup>l</sup>foreknowledge of God, <sup>m</sup>ye by the hand of <sup>n</sup>lawless men did crucify and slay: <sup>o</sup>24 <sup>o</sup>whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death: because <sup>p</sup>it was not possible that he should be holden of it.
25 For David saith concerning him,

<sup>q</sup>I beheld the Lord always before my face;

For he is on my right hand,
that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore my heart was glad,
and my tongue rejoiced;
Moreover my flesh also shall <sup>r</sup>dwell <sup>r</sup>in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in <sup>s</sup>Hades, <sup>t</sup>Neither wilt thou give thy <sup>u</sup>Holy One to <sup>u</sup>see corruption.

28 Thou madest known unto me
the ways of life;

Thou shalt make me full of gladness <sup>v</sup>with thy countenance.

29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of <sup>w</sup>the patriarch David, <sup>x</sup>that he both died and <sup>y</sup>was buried, and <sup>z</sup>his tomb is with us unto this day. <sup>30</sup><sup>a</sup>Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that <sup>b</sup>God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins <sup>c</sup>he would set one upon his throne; <sup>31</sup>he foreseeing

this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that <sup>d</sup>neither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. <sup>32</sup>The Jesus did <sup>d</sup>God raise up, <sup>e</sup>whereof we all are witnesses. <sup>33</sup><sup>f</sup>Being therefore <sup>g</sup>by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of <sup>h</sup>the Father <sup>i</sup>the promise of the Holy Ghost, <sup>j</sup>he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. <sup>34</sup>For <sup>k</sup>David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,

<sup>l</sup>The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,

35 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

36 Let <sup>10</sup>all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that <sup>m</sup>God hath made him <sup>n</sup>both Lord and Christ, this Jesus <sup>o</sup>whom ye crucified.

37 Now when <sup>p</sup>they heard this,
they were pricked in their heart,
and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, <sup>q</sup>what shall we do? <sup>38</sup>And Peter said unto them, <sup>r</sup>Repent ye, and <sup>s</sup>be baptized every one of you <sup>t</sup>in the name of Jesus Christ <sup>u</sup>unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive <sup>v</sup>the gift of the Holy Ghost. <sup>39</sup>For <sup>w</sup>to you is the promise, and <sup>x</sup>to your children, and to all <sup>y</sup>that are afar off, even <sup>z</sup>as many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. <sup>40</sup>And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, <sup>a</sup>Save yourselves from this <sup>b</sup>crooked generation. <sup>41</sup>They then <sup>c</sup>that received his word were baptized: and <sup>d</sup>there were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls. <sup>42</sup>And <sup>d</sup>they continued stedfastly in the apostles' <sup>e</sup>teaching and <sup>f</sup>fellowship, in <sup>g</sup>the breaking of bread and the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and <sup>h</sup>many wonders and signs were done <sup>i</sup>by the apostles <sup>14</sup>.

44 And all that believed were together, and <sup>j</sup>had all things com-

1 And as they spake unto the 4 people, <sup>1</sup>the priests and <sup>2</sup>the captain of the temple and <sup>3</sup>the Sadducees came upon them, <sup>2</sup>being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed <sup>4</sup>in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and <sup>5</sup>put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now eventide. 4 But many of them that heard the word believed; and <sup>6</sup>the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; 6 and <sup>7</sup>Annas the high priest was there, and <sup>8</sup>Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest. 7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, <sup>9</sup>By what power, or <sup>10</sup>in what name, have ye done this? 8 Then Peter, <sup>11</sup>filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders, 9 if we this day are examined <sup>12</sup>concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, <sup>13</sup>by what means this man is <sup>14</sup>made whole; 10 be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that <sup>15</sup>in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, <sup>16</sup>whom God raised from the dead, even in <sup>17</sup>him doth this man stand here before you whole. 11 <sup>18</sup>He is the stone which was <sup>19</sup>set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of the corner. 12 And <sup>20</sup>in none other is there <sup>21</sup>salvation; for <sup>22</sup>neither is there any other <sup>23</sup>name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. 14 And seeing the man which was healed <sup>24</sup>standing with them, <sup>25</sup>they could say nothing against it. 15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 saying, <sup>26</sup>What shall we do to these men? for that indeed <sup>27</sup>is a notable <sup>28</sup>miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. 17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, <sup>29</sup>that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. 18 And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. 19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, <sup>30</sup>Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: 20 for <sup>31</sup>we cannot but speak the things which <sup>32</sup>we saw and heard. 21 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, <sup>33</sup>because of the people; for all men glorified God <sup>34</sup>for that which was done. 22 For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this <sup>35</sup>miracle of healing was wrought.

23 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. 24 And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God <sup>36</sup>with one accord, and said, O <sup>37</sup>Lord, <sup>38</sup>thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 25 <sup>39</sup>who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

And the peoples <sup>41</sup>imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth set themselves in array,
And <sup>42</sup>the rulers were gathered together,

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. 8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much. 9 But Peter <sup>i</sup>said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together <sup>i</sup>to tempt <sup>j</sup>the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out. 10 And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. 11 And <sup>k</sup>great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard <sup>k</sup>these things.

keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. <sup>24</sup> Now when <sup>f</sup> the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would grow. <sup>25</sup> And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison <sup>g</sup> are in the temple standing and teaching the people. <sup>26</sup> Then went <sup>h</sup> the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for <sup>i</sup> they feared the people, lest they should be stoned. <sup>27</sup> And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, <sup>28</sup> saying, <sup>j</sup> We straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and <sup>k</sup> intend to bring this man's blood upon us. <sup>29</sup> But Peter and the apostles answered and said, <sup>l</sup> We must obey God rather than men. <sup>30</sup> <sup>m</sup> The God of our fathers <sup>n</sup> raised up Jesus, <sup>o</sup> whom ye slew, hanging him on <sup>p</sup> a tree. <sup>31</sup> <sup>q</sup> Him did God exalt <sup>r</sup> with his right hand to be <sup>s</sup> a Prince and <sup>t</sup> a Saviour, <sup>u</sup> for to <sup>v</sup> give repentance to Israel, and <sup>w</sup> remission of sins. <sup>32</sup> And <sup>x</sup> we are witnesses <sup>y</sup> of these <sup>z</sup> things; <sup>aa</sup> and <sup>ab</sup> so is the Holy Ghost, <sup>ac</sup> whom God hath given to them that obey him.

<sup>33</sup> But they, when they heard this, <sup>ad</sup> were cut to the heart, and were minded to slay them. <sup>34</sup> But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named <sup>ae</sup> Gamaliel, <sup>af</sup> a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. <sup>35</sup> And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. <sup>36</sup> For <sup>ag</sup> before these days rose up Theudas, <sup>ah</sup> giving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought. <sup>37</sup> After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of <sup>ai</sup> the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. <sup>38</sup> And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for <sup>aj</sup> if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: <sup>ak</sup> but <sup>al</sup> if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; <sup>am</sup> lest haply ye be found even to be fighting against God. <sup>40</sup> And to him they agreed: and <sup>an</sup> when they had called the apostles unto them, <sup>ao</sup> they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. <sup>41</sup> They therefore departed from the presence of the council, <sup>ap</sup> rejoicing that they were counted worthy <sup>aq</sup> to suffer dishonour for <sup>ar</sup> the Name. <sup>42</sup> And every day, <sup>as</sup> in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to <sup>at</sup> preach <sup>au</sup> Jesus as the Christ.

<sup>8</sup> And Stephen, full of grace and <sup>bo</sup> power, wrought great wonders and signs among the people. <sup>9</sup> But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen. <sup>10</sup> And <sup>bp</sup> they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake. <sup>11</sup>Then <sup>h</sup>they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. <sup>12</sup>And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, <sup>13</sup>and <sup>i</sup>set up <sup>j</sup>false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against <sup>k</sup>this holy place, and the law: <sup>14</sup>for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth <sup>l</sup>shall destroy this place, and shall <sup>m</sup>change <sup>n</sup>the customs which Moses delivered unto us. <sup>15</sup>And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face <sup>o</sup>as it had been the face of an angel.

favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and <sup>n</sup>he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. <sup>11</sup>Now <sup>o</sup>there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. <sup>12</sup>But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time. <sup>13</sup>And <sup>p</sup>at the second time <sup>q</sup>Joseph was made known to his brethren; and <sup>r</sup>Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. <sup>14</sup>And <sup>s</sup>Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, <sup>t</sup>threescore and fifteen souls. <sup>15</sup>And <sup>u</sup>Jacob went down into Egypt; and <sup>v</sup>he died, himself, <sup>w</sup>and our fathers; <sup>x</sup>and <sup>y</sup>they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that <sup>z</sup>Abraham bought for a price in silver of the sons of <sup>1</sup>Hamor in Shechem. <sup>17</sup>But <sup>a</sup>as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, <sup>b</sup>the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, <sup>18</sup>till there arose another king over Egypt, <sup>c</sup>which knew not Joseph. <sup>19</sup>The same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, <sup>d</sup>that <sup>e</sup>they should cast out their babes to the end they might not <sup>f</sup>live. <sup>20</sup>At which season Moses was born, and was <sup>g</sup>exceeding fair; and he was nourished three months in his father's house: <sup>21</sup>and <sup>h</sup>when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. <sup>22</sup>And Moses <sup>i</sup>was instructed in <sup>j</sup>all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was <sup>k</sup>mighty in his words and works. <sup>23</sup>But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart <sup>l</sup>to visit his brethren the children of Israel. <sup>24</sup>And seeing one <sup>m</sup>of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: <sup>25</sup>and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them <sup>n</sup>deliverance; but they understood not. <sup>26</sup>And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? <sup>27</sup>But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying,

 Or what is the place of my rest?
 50 Did not my hand make all these things?
 51 <sup>l</sup>Ye stiffnecked and <sup>m</sup>uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: <sup>n</sup>as your fathers did; so do ye. 52 <sup>o</sup>Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of <sup>p</sup>the Righteous One; <sup>q</sup>of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers; 53 ye who received the law <sup>r</sup>as it was ordained by angels, and <sup>s</sup>kept it not.
 54 Now when they heard these things, <sup>t</sup>they were cut to the heart, and they <sup>u</sup>gnashed on him with their teeth. 55 But he, <sup>v</sup>being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw <sup>w</sup>the glory of God, and Jesus standing <sup>x</sup>on the right hand of God, 56 and said, Behold, I see <sup>a</sup>the heavens opened, and <sup>a</sup>the Son of man standing <sup>a</sup>on the right hand of God. 57 But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; 58 and <sup>a</sup>they cast him out of the city, and <sup>b</sup>stoned him: and <sup>c</sup>the witnesses laid down their garments <sup>a</sup>at the feet of a young man named Saul. 59 And they stoned Stephen, <sup>c</sup>calling upon the Lord, and saying, Lord Jesus, <sup>f</sup>receive my spirit. 60 And he <sup>a</sup>kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, <sup>h</sup>Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, <sup>i</sup>he fell 8 asleep. 1 And <sup>j</sup>Saul was <sup>k</sup>consenting unto his death.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and <sup>l</sup>they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles. 2 And devout men buried Stephen, and <sup>m</sup>made great lamentation over him. 3 But <sup>n</sup>Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and <sup>o</sup>haling men and women committed them to prison.

<sup>p</sup>4<sup>p</sup> They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word. 5 And <sup>q</sup>Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ. 6<sup>r</sup> And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, <sup>s</sup>and saw the signs which he did. 7<sup>t</sup> 1<sup>u</sup> For from many of those which had <sup>v</sup>unclean spirits, they came out, crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that were lame, <sup>w</sup>were healed. 8 And <sup>x</sup>there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city <sup>y</sup>used sorcery, and amazed the <sup>z</sup>people of Samaria, <sup>y</sup>giving out that himself was some great one: 10 to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, <sup>a</sup>This man is that power of God which is called <sup>b</sup>Great. 11 And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had <sup>a</sup>amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when <sup>a</sup>they believed

Philip preaching good tidings <sup>b</sup>concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, <sup>a</sup>they were baptized, both men and women. 13 And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and <sup>c</sup>beholding signs and <sup>d</sup>great <sup>e</sup>miracles wrought, <sup>e</sup>he was amazed.

14 Now when <sup>f</sup>the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that <sup>g</sup>Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: 15 who, when they were come down, prayed for them, <sup>h</sup>that they might receive the Holy Ghost: 16 for <sup>i</sup>as yet he was <sup>j</sup>fallen upon none of them: only <sup>k</sup>they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then <sup>l</sup>laid they their hands on them, and <sup>m</sup>they received the Holy Ghost. 18 Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the <sup>n</sup>Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. 20 But Peter said unto him, <sup>o</sup>Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God <sup>o</sup>with money. 21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this <sup>p</sup>matter: for <sup>q</sup>thy heart is not right before God. 22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, <sup>r</sup>if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee. 23 For I see that thou <sup>s</sup>art in <sup>t</sup>the gall of bitterness and in <sup>u</sup>the bond of iniquity. 24 And Simon answered and said, <sup>v</sup>Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and <sup>w</sup>preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But <sup>x</sup>an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go <sup>y</sup>toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the same is desert. 27 And he arose and went: and behold, <sup>z</sup>a man of <sup>a</sup>Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, <sup>b</sup>who was over all her treasure, <sup>c</sup>who had come to Jerusalem for to worship; 28 and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And <sup>b</sup>the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. 30 And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? 31 And he said, <sup>c</sup>How can I, except some one shall <sup>d</sup>guide me? And <sup>e</sup>he besought Philip to come up and sit with him. 32 Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

<sup>f</sup>He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;

And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,

So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his <sup>g</sup>humiliation his judgment was taken away:

His generation who shall declare?

For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other? 35 And Philip opened his mouth, and <sup>h</sup>beginning from this scripture, <sup>i</sup>preached unto him Jesus. 36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; <sup>j</sup>what doth hinder me to be baptized? <sup>k</sup>1 38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they came up out of the water, <sup>l</sup>the Spirit of the Lord <sup>m</sup>caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing. 40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

9 <sup>n</sup>But Saul, <sup>o</sup>yet <sup>p</sup>breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto <sup>q</sup>the high priest, 2 and asked of him letters to Damascus <sup>r</sup>unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of <sup>s</sup>the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. 3 <sup>t</sup>And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven: 4 and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou <sup>u</sup>me? 5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus <sup>v</sup>whom thou persecutest: 6 but <sup>w</sup>rise, and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee <sup>x</sup>what thou must do. 7 And <sup>y</sup>the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, <sup>z</sup>hearing the <sup>aa</sup>voice, but beholding no man. 8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, <sup>ab</sup>he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named <sup>ac</sup>Ananias; and the Lord said unto him in vision, Ananias. And he said, <sup>ad</sup>Behold, I am here, Lord. 11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man <sup>ae</sup>of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth; 12 and he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and <sup>af</sup>laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight. 13 But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, <sup>ag</sup>how much evil he did to <sup>ah</sup>thy <sup>ai</sup>saints at Jerusalem: 14 and here he hath authority from <sup>aj</sup>the chief priests to bind all that <sup>ak</sup>call upon thy name. 15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for <sup>al</sup>he is <sup>am</sup>a <sup>an</sup>chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name <sup>ao</sup>before the Gentiles and <sup>ap</sup>kings, and the children of Israel: 16 for <sup>aq</sup>I will shew him how many things <sup>ar</sup>he must suffer <sup>as</sup>for my name's sake. 17 And <sup>at</sup>Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and <sup>au</sup>laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, and <sup>av</sup>be filled with the Holy Ghost. 18 And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and <sup>aw</sup>he received his sight; and <sup>ax</sup>he arose and was baptized; 19 and <sup>ay</sup>he took food and was strengthened.

And <sup>az</sup>he was certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus. <sup>20</sup> And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, <sup>v</sup> that he is the Son of God. <sup>21</sup> And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he <sup>w</sup> that in Jerusalem <sup>a</sup> made havock of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. <sup>22</sup> But Saul <sup>v</sup> increased the more in strength, and <sup>z</sup> confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving <sup>a</sup> that this is the Christ.

<sup>26</sup> And <sup>f</sup> when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. <sup>27</sup> But <sup>g</sup> Barnabas took him, and <sup>h</sup> brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them <sup>i</sup> how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and <sup>j</sup> how at Damascus he had <sup>k</sup> preached boldly in the name of Jesus. <sup>28</sup> And he was with them <sup>l</sup> going in and going out at Jerusalem, <sup>29</sup> preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against <sup>m</sup> the <sup>1</sup> Grecian Jews; but <sup>n</sup> they went about to kill him; <sup>30</sup> And when <sup>o</sup> the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth <sup>p</sup> to Tarsus.

<sup>32</sup> And it came to pass, <sup>t</sup> as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at <sup>u</sup> Lydda. <sup>33</sup> And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied. <sup>34</sup> And Peter said unto him, Æneas, <sup>v</sup> Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And straightway he arose. <sup>35</sup> <sup>w</sup> And all that dwelt at Lydda and in <sup>x</sup> Sharon saw him, and <sup>y</sup> they turned to the Lord.

<sup>36</sup> Now there was at <sup>z</sup> Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called <sup>a</sup> Dorcas: this woman was full of <sup>a</sup> good works and almsdeeds which she did. <sup>37</sup> And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in <sup>b</sup> an upper chamber. <sup>38</sup> And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, <sup>c</sup> Delay not to come on unto us. <sup>39</sup> And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into <sup>d</sup> the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. <sup>40</sup> But Peter <sup>e</sup> put them all forth, and <sup>f</sup> kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, <sup>g</sup> he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up. <sup>41</sup> And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. <sup>42</sup> And it became known throughout all Joppa: and <sup>h</sup> many believed on the Lord. <sup>43</sup> And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa <sup>i</sup> with one Simon a tanner.

vants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; 8 and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, <sup>a</sup>Peter went up <sup>a</sup>upon the housetop to pray, about <sup>a</sup>the sixth hour: 10 and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into <sup>a</sup>a trance; 11 and he beheldeth <sup>a</sup>the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four corners upon the earth: 12 wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of the heaven. 13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; <sup>a</sup>for I have never eaten anything that is <sup>a</sup>common and <sup>a</sup>unclean. 15 And a voice came unto him again the second time, <sup>a</sup>What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 16 And this was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what <sup>b</sup>the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, <sup>c</sup>the men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before the gate, 18 and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 19 And while Peter thought on <sup>b</sup>the vision, <sup>d</sup>the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and <sup>e</sup>go with them, nothing doubting: for I have sent them. 21 And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? 22 And they said, Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and <sup>f</sup>one that feareth God, and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews, was warned of God by <sup>a</sup>a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and <sup>h</sup>to hear words from thee. 23 So he called them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and certain of <sup>j</sup>the brethren from Joppa accompanied him. 24 And on the morrow <sup>i</sup>they entered into Cæsa-

rea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen and his near friends. 25 And when it came to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and <sup>k</sup>fell down at his feet, and <sup>l</sup>worshipped him. 26 But Peter raised him up, saying, <sup>m</sup>Stand up; I myself also am a man. 27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and findeth many come together: 28 and he said unto them, Ye yourselves know <sup>n</sup>how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew <sup>o</sup>to join himself or come unto one of another nation; and <sup>p</sup>yet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man common or unclean: 29 wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent ye sent for me. 30 And Cornelius said, <sup>q</sup>Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping <sup>r</sup>the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, <sup>s</sup>a man stood before me in bright apparel, 31 and saith, Cornelius, <sup>t</sup>thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea side. 33 Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord. 34 And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that <sup>u</sup>God is no <sup>v</sup>respector of persons: 35 but <sup>w</sup>in every nation he that feareth him, and <sup>x</sup>worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36 <sup>y</sup>3 The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, <sup>z</sup>preaching <sup>a</sup>good tidings of <sup>b</sup>peace by Jesus Christ (<sup>c</sup>he is Lord of all)—37 that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, <sup>d</sup>beginning <sup>e</sup>from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; 38 <sup>f</sup>even Jesus of Nazareth, how that <sup>g</sup>God anointed him <sup>h</sup>with the Holy Ghost and with <sup>i</sup>power; who went about doing good, and healing all <sup>j</sup>that were oppressed of the devil; <sup>k</sup>for God was with him. 39 And <sup>h</sup>we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; <sup>i</sup>whom also they slew, hanging him on a tree. 40 <sup>j</sup>Him God raised up <sup>k</sup>the third day, and gave him to be <sup>l</sup>made manifest, 41 <sup>m</sup>not to all the people, but unto <sup>n</sup>witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, <sup>o</sup>who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. 42 And <sup>p</sup>he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify <sup>q</sup>that this is he which is ordained of God to be the Judge <sup>r</sup>of quick and dead. 43 <sup>s</sup>To him bear <sup>t</sup>all the prophets witness, that <sup>u</sup>through his name <sup>v</sup>every one that believeth on him shall receive <sup>w</sup>remission of sins.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, <sup>x</sup>the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. 45 And <sup>y</sup>they of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also <sup>z</sup>was poured out <sup>a</sup>the gift of the Holy Ghost. 46 For they heard them <sup>b</sup>speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 <sup>c</sup>Can any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost <sup>d</sup>as well as we? 48 And he <sup>e</sup>commanded them <sup>f</sup>to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

II Now the apostles and <sup>g</sup>the brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they <sup>h</sup>that were of the circumcision contended with him, 3 saying, <sup>i</sup>Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst <sup>j</sup>eat with them. 4 But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, 5 <sup>k</sup>I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: 6 upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the heaven. 7 And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Cæsarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, <sup>l</sup>making no distinction. And <sup>m</sup>these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: 13 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; 14 <sup>n</sup>who shall speak unto thee words, whereby <sup>o</sup>thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. 15 And as I began to speak, <sup>p</sup>the Holy Ghost fell on them, <sup>q</sup>even as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said, <sup>r</sup>John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized <sup>s</sup>with the Holy Ghost. 17 If then <sup>t</sup>God gave unto them <sup>u</sup>the like gift as he did also unto us, <sup>v</sup>when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>w</sup>who was I, <sup>x</sup>that I could withstand God? 18 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and <sup>y</sup>glorified God, saying, <sup>z</sup>Then to the Gentiles also hath God <sup>a</sup>granted <sup>b</sup>repentance unto life.

19 <sup>b</sup>They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews. 20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the <sup>c</sup>Greeks also, <sup>d</sup>preaching the Lord Jesus. 21 And <sup>e</sup>the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believed <sup>f</sup>turned unto the Lord. 22 And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch: 23 who, when he was come, and had seen <sup>g</sup>the grace of God, was glad; and he ex-

And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. <sup>9</sup>And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done <sup>i</sup>by the angel, but <sup>j</sup>thought he saw a vision. <sup>10</sup>And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; <sup>j</sup>which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. <sup>11</sup>And when Peter <sup>k</sup>was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that <sup>l</sup>the Lord hath sent forth his angel and <sup>m</sup>delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. <sup>12</sup>And when he had considered <sup>n</sup>the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of <sup>n</sup>John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and <sup>o</sup>were praying. <sup>13</sup>And when he knocked at the door of the gate, <sup>p</sup>a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. <sup>14</sup>And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate <sup>q</sup>for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. <sup>15</sup>And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is <sup>r</sup>his angel. <sup>16</sup>But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. <sup>17</sup>But he, <sup>s</sup>beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto <sup>t</sup>James, and to <sup>u</sup>the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. <sup>18</sup>Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. <sup>19</sup>And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and <sup>v</sup>commanded that they should be <sup>w</sup>put to death. And he went down from Judæa to Cæsarea, and tarried there.

horted them all, <sup>1</sup>that <sup>2</sup>with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord: <sup>24</sup>for he was a good man, and <sup>3</sup>full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people <sup>4</sup>was added unto the Lord. <sup>25</sup>And he went forth to <sup>5</sup>Tarsus to seek for Saul: <sup>26</sup>and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. asked for peace, because <sup>a</sup>their country was fed from the king's country. <sup>21</sup> And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the <sup>1 v</sup> throne, and made an oration unto them. <sup>22</sup> And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. <sup>23</sup> And immediately <sup>z</sup> an angel of the Lord smote him, because <sup>a</sup>he gave not God the glory: and <sup>b</sup>he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

<sup>4</sup> So they, being sent forth <sup>o</sup> by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. <sup>5</sup> And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God <sup>p</sup>in the synagogues of the Jews; and they had also <sup>q</sup>John as their <sup>r</sup>attendant. <sup>6</sup> And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain <sup>s</sup>sorcerer, <sup>t</sup>a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; <sup>7</sup> which was with <sup>u</sup>the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God.

righteousness, wilt thou not cease <sup>a</sup>to pervert <sup>b</sup>the right ways of the Lord? <sup>11</sup> And now, behold, <sup>c</sup>the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun <sup>d</sup>for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking <sup>e</sup>some to lead him by the hand. <sup>12</sup> Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at <sup>f</sup>the teaching of the Lord.

Men of Israel, and <sup>p</sup>ye that fear God, hearken. <sup>17</sup> <sup>q</sup>The God of this people Israel <sup>r</sup>chose our fathers, and <sup>s</sup>exalted the people <sup>t</sup>when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and <sup>u</sup>with a high arm led he them forth out of it. <sup>18</sup> And for about the time of <sup>v</sup>forty years <sup>w</sup>he suffered he their manners in the wilderness. <sup>19</sup> And <sup>x</sup>when he had destroyed <sup>y</sup>seven nations in the land of Canaan, <sup>z</sup>he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years: <sup>20</sup> and after these things <sup>a</sup>he gave them judges until <sup>b</sup>Samuel the prophet. <sup>21</sup> And afterward <sup>c</sup>they asked for a king: and <sup>d</sup>God gave unto them Saul <sup>e</sup>the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. <sup>22</sup> And <sup>f</sup>when he had removed him, <sup>g</sup>he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, <sup>h</sup>I have found David the son of Jesse, <sup>i</sup>a man after my heart, <sup>j</sup>who shall do all my <sup>k</sup>will. <sup>23</sup> <sup>k</sup>Of this man's seed hath God <sup>l</sup>according to promise brought unto Israel <sup>m</sup>a Saviour, Jesus; <sup>24</sup> <sup>n</sup>when John had first preached <sup>o</sup>before his <sup>p</sup>coming

the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. 25 And as John was fulfilling his course, he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unloose. 26 Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of this salvation sent forth. 27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. 28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain. 29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb. 30 But God raised him from the dead: 31 and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses unto the people. 32 And we bring you good tidings of the promise made unto the fathers, 33 how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. 34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, I will give you the holy and sure blessings of David. 35 Because he saith also in another psalm, Thou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption. 36 For David, after he had in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: 37 but he whom God raised up saw no corruption. 38 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins: 39 and by him every one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. 40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets; 41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish; For I work a work in your days, A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you. 42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to them the next sabbath. 43 Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God. 44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God. 45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and blasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. 47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee for a light of the Gentiles, That thou shouldest be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth. 48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of God: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. 49 And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders. 51 But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. 52 And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost. 1 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of Greeks believed. <sup>2</sup> But the Jews that were <sup>a</sup>disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against <sup>a</sup>the brethren. <sup>3</sup> Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in <sup>b</sup>the Lord, which bare witness unto <sup>c</sup>the word of his grace, <sup>d</sup>granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. <sup>4</sup> But the multitude of the city <sup>e</sup>was divided; and <sup>f</sup>part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. <sup>5</sup> And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, <sup>g</sup>to entreat them shamefully, and <sup>h</sup>to stone them, <sup>6</sup>they became aware of it, and <sup>i</sup>fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, <sup>j</sup>Lystra and Derbe, and the region round about: <sup>7</sup> and there they preached the gospel.

<sup>19</sup> But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, <sup>a</sup>they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. <sup>20</sup> But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe. <sup>21</sup> And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had <sup>b</sup>made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, <sup>22</sup> confirming the souls of the disciples, <sup>c</sup>exhorting them <sup>d</sup>to continue in <sup>e</sup>the faith, and that <sup>f</sup>through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. <sup>23</sup> And when they had <sup>g</sup>appointed for them <sup>h</sup>elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, <sup>i</sup>they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed. <sup>24</sup> And they passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. <sup>25</sup> And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; <sup>26</sup> and thence they sailed to Antioch, <sup>g</sup>from whence they had been <sup>h</sup>committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. <sup>27</sup> And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, <sup>i</sup>they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and <sup>j</sup>how that he had <sup>k</sup>opened <sup>a</sup>a door of faith unto the Gentiles. <sup>28</sup> And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

claring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren. 4 And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and the apostles and the elders, and they rehearsed all things that God had done with them. 5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this matter. 7 And when there had been much questioning,
 Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. 8 And God, which knoweth the heart,
 bare them witness, giving them
 the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; and he made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. 10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?
 11 But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them. 13 And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying,

Brethren, hearken unto me:
 14 Symeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After these things I will return,
 And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen;
 And I will build again the ruins thereof,

And I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord,

And all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called,

18 Saith the Lord, who maketh these things known from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my judgement is, that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles turn to God; but that we write unto them, that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from what is strangled, and from blood. 21 For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas;
 namely, Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren: 23 and they wrote thus by them, The apostles and the elder brethren unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, greeting: 24 For-asmuch as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

 27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; 29 that ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you.
 Fare ye well.

30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.
 31 And when they had read it,
 they rejoiced for the consolation.
 32 And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, exhorted the brethren with many words, and

<sup>1</sup> And he came also to Derbe 16 and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named <sup>y</sup> Timothy, <sup>z</sup> the son of a Jewess which believed; but his father was a Greek. <sup>2</sup> The same was well reported of by <sup>a</sup> the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium. <sup>3</sup> Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he <sup>b</sup> took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek. <sup>4</sup> And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them <sup>c</sup> the decrees for to keep, <sup>d</sup> which had been ordained of <sup>e</sup> the apostles and elders that were at Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> So the churches were strengthened in <sup>f</sup> the faith, and increased in number <sup>h</sup> daily.

to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. <sup>10</sup> And when he had seen the vision, straightway <sup>l</sup> we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, <sup>1</sup> being Romans. 22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the <sup>1</sup> magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded <sup>m</sup> to beat them with rods. 23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely: 24 who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner <sup>n</sup> prison, and made their feet fast in <sup>c</sup> the stocks. 25 But <sup>p</sup> about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; 26 and suddenly <sup>q</sup> there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately <sup>r</sup> all the doors were opened; and <sup>s</sup> every one's bands were loosed. 27 And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and <sup>t</sup> was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. 29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, <sup>u</sup> fell down before Paul and Silas, 30 and brought them out, and said, Sirs, <sup>v</sup> what must I do to be <sup>w</sup> saved? 31 And they said, <sup>x</sup> Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou <sup>y</sup> and thy house. 32 And they spake the word of <sup>z</sup> the Lord unto him, with all that were in his house. 33 And he took them <sup>a</sup> the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and <sup>b</sup> was baptized, he and all his, immediately. 34 And he brought them up into his house, and set <sup>b</sup> meat before them, and <sup>c</sup> rejoiced greatly, with all his house, <sup>d</sup> having believed in God.

35 But when it was day, the <sup>1</sup> magistrates sent the <sup>e</sup> serjeants, saying, Let those men go. 36 And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The <sup>1</sup> magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. 37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, <sup>d</sup> uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison: and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily;

but let them come themselves and bring us out. 38 And the <sup>6</sup> serjeants reported these words unto the <sup>1</sup> magistrates: and <sup>d</sup> they feared, when they heard that they were Romans; 39 and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, <sup>e</sup> they asked them to go away from the city. 40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of <sup>f</sup> Lydia: and when they had seen <sup>g</sup> the brethren, they <sup>6</sup> comforted them, and departed.

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to <sup>h</sup> Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: 2 and Paul, <sup>i</sup> as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three <sup>j</sup> sabbath days reasoned with them <sup>j</sup> from the scriptures, 3 <sup>k</sup> opening and alleging, that it behoved <sup>l</sup> the Christ to suffer, and <sup>m</sup> to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. 4 And <sup>n</sup> some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout <sup>o</sup> Greeks <sup>p</sup> a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. 5 <sup>q</sup> But the Jews, being moved with <sup>r</sup> jealousy, took unto them <sup>s</sup> certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of <sup>t</sup> Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the people. 6 And when they found them not, <sup>u</sup> they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned <sup>v</sup> the world upside down are come hither also; 7 whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to <sup>w</sup> the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is <sup>x</sup> another king, one Jesus. 8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. 9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And <sup>y</sup> the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they were come thither <sup>z</sup> went into the synagogue of the Jews. 11 Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so. 12 Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few. 13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the multitudes. 14 And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and Timothy abode there still. 15 But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the city full of idols. 17 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met with him. 18 And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, 'What would this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached Jesus and the resurrection. 19 And they took hold of him, and brought him unto the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by thee? 20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. 21 (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.) 22 And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat superstitious. 23 For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this set I forth unto you. 24 The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; 26 and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; 27 that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from each one of us: 28 for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. 29 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 30 The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: 31 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee concerning this yet again. 33 Thus Paul went out from among them. 34 But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto them; 3 and because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers. 4 And he reasoned in the synagogue entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. <sup>20</sup>And when they asked him to abide a longer time, he consented not; <sup>21</sup>but taking his leave of them, and saying, I will return again unto you, <sup>22</sup>if God will, he set sail from Ephesus. <sup>22</sup>And when he had landed at Cæsarea, he <sup>23</sup>went up and saluted the church, and went down to Antioch. <sup>23</sup>And having spent some time <sup>24</sup>there, he departed, and <sup>25</sup>went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, <sup>26</sup>establishing all the disciples.

<sup>19</sup>And it came to pass, that, while <sup>43</sup>Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed <sup>44</sup>through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples: <sup>45</sup>and he said unto them, <sup>46</sup>Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, <sup>47</sup>we did not so much as hear whether <sup>48</sup>the Holy Ghost was given. <sup>49</sup>And he said, <sup>50</sup>Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into <sup>51</sup>John's baptism. <sup>52</sup>And Paul said, <sup>53</sup>John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, <sup>54</sup>that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Jesus. <sup>55</sup>And when they heard this, <sup>56</sup>they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 6 And <sup>h</sup>when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and <sup>i</sup>they spake with tongues, and <sup>j</sup>prophesied. 7 And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And <sup>k</sup>he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading <sup>as to</sup> the things <sup>l</sup>concerning the kingdom of God. 9 <sup>m</sup>But when some were hardened and <sup>n</sup>disobedient, speaking evil of <sup>o</sup>the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. 10 And this continued for the space of <sup>p</sup>two years; so that <sup>q</sup>all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks. 11 And <sup>r</sup>God wrought special <sup>1</sup>miracles by the hands of Paul: 12 <sup>s</sup>inasmuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and <sup>t</sup>the evil spirits went out. 13 But certain also of the strolling Jews, <sup>u</sup>exorcists, <sup>v</sup>took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, <sup>w</sup>I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth. 14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, which did this. 15 And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, <sup>x</sup>Jesus I <sup>2</sup>know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? 16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house <sup>y</sup>naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and <sup>z</sup>the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of them that had believed came, <sup>a</sup>confessing, and declaring their deeds. 19 And not a few of them that practised <sup>b</sup>curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand <sup>c</sup>pieces of silver. 20 So <sup>b</sup>mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit,

two hours cried out, <sup>v</sup>Great is <sup>1</sup>Diana of the Ephesians. <sup>35</sup>And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great <sup>1</sup>Diana, and of the image which fell down from <sup>2</sup>Jupiter? <sup>36</sup>Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. <sup>37</sup>For ye have brought hither <sup>2</sup>these men, which are neither <sup>v</sup>robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. <sup>38</sup>If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, <sup>3</sup>the courts are open, and there are <sup>2</sup>proconsuls: let them accuse one another. <sup>39</sup>But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. <sup>40</sup>For indeed we are in danger to be <sup>4</sup>accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. <sup>41</sup>And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 <sup>1</sup>And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and <sup>a</sup>departed for to go into Macedonia. <sup>2</sup>And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. <sup>3</sup>And when he had spent three months there, and <sup>b</sup>a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. <sup>4</sup>And there accompanied him <sup>5</sup>as far as Asia <sup>c</sup>Sopater of Beroea, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, <sup>d</sup>Aristarchus and Secundus; and <sup>e</sup>Gaius of Derbe, and <sup>f</sup>Timothy; and of Asia, <sup>g</sup>Tychicus and <sup>h</sup>Trophimus. <sup>5</sup>But these <sup>6</sup>had gone before, and were waiting for <sup>7</sup>us at <sup>i</sup>Troas. <sup>6</sup>And we sailed away from Philippi after <sup>j</sup>the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we tarried seven days.

coursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. <sup>8</sup>And there were many lights in <sup>m</sup>the upper chamber, where we were gathered together. <sup>9</sup>And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he <sup>n</sup>fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. <sup>10</sup>And Paul went down, and <sup>o</sup>fell on him, and embracing him said, <sup>p</sup>Make ye no ado; for his life is in him. <sup>11</sup>And when he was gone up, and <sup>q</sup>had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, <sup>r</sup>so he departed. <sup>12</sup>And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.

<sup>13</sup>But we, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go <sup>s</sup>by land. <sup>14</sup>And when he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. <sup>15</sup>And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we touched at Samos; and <sup>t</sup>the day after we came to Miletus. <sup>16</sup>For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, <sup>u</sup>to be at Jerusalem <sup>v</sup>the day of Pentecost.

<sup>17</sup>And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him <sup>w</sup>the <sup>x</sup>elders of the church. <sup>18</sup>And when they were come to him, he said unto them,

And when it came to pass 21 that <sup>af</sup> we were parted from them, and had set sail, we <sup>ag</sup> came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: <sup>2</sup> and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœnicia, we went aboard, and set sail. <sup>3</sup> And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden. <sup>4</sup> And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul <sup>5</sup> through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, <sup>6</sup> brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and <sup>7</sup> kneeling down on the beach, we prayed, <sup>8</sup> and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.

And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we saluted <sup>9</sup> the brethren, and abode with them one day. <sup>8</sup> And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and entering into the house of <sup>10</sup> Philip <sup>11</sup> the evangelist, who was one of the seven, we abode with him. <sup>9</sup> Now this man had four daughters, virgins, <sup>12</sup> which did prophesy. <sup>10</sup> And as we tarried there <sup>13</sup> many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named <sup>14</sup> Agabus. <sup>11</sup> And coming to us, and <sup>15</sup> taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, <sup>12</sup> Thus saith the Holy Ghost, <sup>13</sup> So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and <sup>14</sup> shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. <sup>12</sup> And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place <sup>15</sup> besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> Then Paul

1 Or, in comparison of accomplishing my course the Lord. 4 Gr. acquired. 5 Some ancient authorities read the Lord. 6 Or, some answered, <sup>a</sup>What dost ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for <sup>i</sup>I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem <sup>u</sup>for the name of the Lord Jesus. <sup>14</sup>And when he would not be persuaded, <sup>v</sup>we ceased, saying, <sup>w</sup>The will of the Lord be done.

<sup>15</sup>And after these days we <sup>1</sup>took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Caesarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

<sup>37</sup>And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? <sup>38</sup>Art thou not then <sup>e</sup>the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out <sup>f</sup>into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? <sup>39</sup>But Paul said, <sup>g</sup>I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. <sup>40</sup>And when he had given him

1 Or, made ready 2 Gr. myriads. 3 Or, enjoined Many ancient authorities read sent. 4 Or, took the men the next day, and purifying himself &c. 5 Or, military tribune Gr. chiliarch: and so throughout this book. 6 Or, cohort leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, <sup>h</sup>beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in <sup>i</sup>the Hebrew language, saying,

<sup>j</sup>Brethren and fathers, 22 hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

<sup>k</sup>And when they heard that he spake unto them in <sup>k</sup>the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

God of our fathers <sup>i</sup>hath appointed thee <sup>j</sup>to know his will, and <sup>k</sup>to see <sup>l</sup>the Righteous One, and <sup>m</sup>to hear a voice from his mouth. <sup>15</sup>For <sup>n</sup>thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what <sup>o</sup>thou hast seen and heard. <sup>16</sup>And now why tarriest thou? <sup>p</sup>Arise, and be baptized, and <sup>q</sup>wash away thy sins, <sup>r</sup>calling on his name. <sup>17</sup>And it came to pass, that, <sup>s</sup>when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while <sup>t</sup>I prayed in the temple, I fell into <sup>u</sup>a trance, <sup>18</sup>and saw him saying unto me, <sup>v</sup>Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee testimony concerning me. <sup>19</sup>And I said, Lord, they themselves know that <sup>w</sup>I imprisoned and <sup>x</sup>beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: <sup>20</sup>and when the blood of Stephen <sup>y</sup>thy witness was shed, <sup>z</sup>I also was standing by, and <sup>a</sup>consenting, and <sup>b</sup>keeping the garments of them that slew him. <sup>21</sup>And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth <sup>b</sup>far hence unto the Gentiles.

knew that he was a Roman, and because <sup>k</sup> he had bound him.

30 But on the morrow, <sup>l</sup> desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

1 And Paul, looking sted-

23 fastly on the council, said,

Brethren, <sup>m</sup> I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. 2 And the high priest <sup>n</sup> Ananias commanded them that stood by him <sup>o</sup> to smite him on the mouth. 3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou <sup>p</sup> whited <sup>q</sup> wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and <sup>r</sup> commandest me to be smitten <sup>r</sup> contrary to the law? 4 And they that stood by said, Revilest thou <sup>s</sup> God's high priest? 5 And Paul said, <sup>t</sup> I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, <sup>u</sup> Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. 6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were <sup>v</sup> Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, <sup>w</sup> I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: <sup>x</sup> touching the <sup>y</sup> hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. 7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees:

and the assembly was divided. 8 For the Sadducees <sup>z</sup> say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both. 9 And there arose a great clamour: and some of <sup>a</sup> the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, <sup>b</sup> We find no evil in this man: and what <sup>c</sup> if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel?

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into <sup>d</sup> the castle.

11 And <sup>e</sup> the night following <sup>f</sup> the Lord stood by him, and said, <sup>g</sup> Be of good cheer: for <sup>h</sup> as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou <sup>i</sup> bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, <sup>j</sup> the Jews banded together, and <sup>k</sup> bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which made this conspiracy. 14 And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed

Paul. 15 Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to slay him. 16 But <sup>l</sup> Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, and he came and entered into <sup>m</sup> the castle, and told Paul. 17 And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath something to tell him. 18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul

<sup>n</sup> the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say to thee. 19 And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately,

What is that thou hast to tell me? 20 And he said, <sup>o</sup> The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him.

21 Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which <sup>p</sup> have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. 22 So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. 23 And he called unto him

two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spear-

men two hundred, at the third hour of the night: 24 and <sup>q</sup> he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto <sup>r</sup> Felix <sup>r</sup> the governor. 25 And he wrote a letter after this form:

excellent governor Felix, <sup>q</sup>greeting. 27 "This man was seized by the Jews, and <sup>r</sup>was about to be slain of them, <sup>s</sup>when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, <sup>t</sup>having learned that he was a Roman. 28 And <sup>u</sup>desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, <sup>v</sup>I brought him down unto their council: 29 whom I found to be accused <sup>w</sup>about questions of their law, but <sup>x</sup>to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. 30 And <sup>y</sup>when it was shewn to me <sup>z</sup>that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, <sup>a</sup>charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.<sup>2</sup>

31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris. 32 But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to <sup>d</sup>the castle: 33 and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. 34 And when he had read it, he asked of what <sup>e</sup>province he was; and when he understood <sup>f</sup>that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will hear thy cause, said he, <sup>g</sup>when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's <sup>h</sup>palace.

1 And <sup>i</sup>after five days the high priest <sup>j</sup>Ananias came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed <sup>k</sup>the governor against Paul. 2 And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much <sup>l</sup>peace, and that by thy <sup>m</sup>providence evils are corrected for this nation, 3 we accept it in all ways and in all places, <sup>n</sup>most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. 4 But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy clemency a few words. 5 For we have found this man <sup>o</sup>a pestilent fellow, and <sup>p</sup>a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout <sup>q</sup>the world, and a ring-leader of <sup>r</sup>the sect of the Nazarenes: 6 <sup>s</sup>who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom also we laid hold: 7 8 from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him. 9 And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: 11 seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that <sup>t</sup>it is not more than twelve days since I <sup>u</sup>went up <sup>v</sup>to worship at Jerusalem: 12 and <sup>w</sup>neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. 13 <sup>x</sup>Neither can they prove to thee the things whereof they now accuse me. 14 But this I confess unto thee, that after <sup>y</sup>the Way which they call <sup>z</sup>a sect, <sup>a</sup>so serve I <sup>b</sup>the God of our fathers, believing all things which are <sup>c</sup>according to the law, and which are written in the prophets: 15 <sup>d</sup>having <sup>e</sup>hope toward God, which these also themselves <sup>f</sup>look for, that there shall be <sup>g</sup>a resurrection <sup>h</sup>both of the just and unjust. 16 Herein do I also <sup>i</sup>exercise myself to have a conscience <sup>j</sup>void of offence toward God and men alway. 17 Now <sup>k</sup>after <sup>l</sup>many years <sup>m</sup>I came to bring alms to <sup>n</sup>my nation, and <sup>o</sup>offerings: 18 <sup>p</sup>amidst which they found me <sup>q</sup>purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but <sup>r</sup>there were certain Jews from Asia — 19 <sup>s</sup>who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had aught against me. 20 Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I stood before the council, 21 except it be for this one voice, <sup>t</sup>that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.

22 But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning <sup>u</sup>the Way, centurion that he <sup>a</sup>should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and <sup>v</sup>not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

<sup>24</sup> But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, <sup>1</sup>his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul,
and heard him concerning <sup>s</sup>the faith <sup>t</sup>in Christ Jesus. <sup>25</sup> And as he reasoned <sup>u</sup>of righteousness, and <sup>2</sup>temperance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time;
and <sup>v</sup>when I have a convenient season, I will call thee unto me. <sup>26</sup> He hoped withal <sup>w</sup>that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore
also he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him. <sup>27</sup> But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius <sup>a</sup>Festus;
and <sup>v</sup>desiring to gain favour with the Jews, <sup>2</sup>Felix left Paul in bonds.

<sup>25</sup> Festus therefore, <sup>8</sup>having come into <sup>a</sup>the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea. <sup>2</sup> And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews <sup>b</sup>informed him against Paul; and they besought him, <sup>3</sup>asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem;
<sup>c</sup>laying wait to kill him on the way.
<sup>4</sup> Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea, and that he himself was about to depart <sup>thither</sup> shortly. <sup>5</sup> Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss
in the man, let them accuse him.

<sup>6</sup> And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea;
and on the morrow he sat on <sup>d</sup>the judgement-seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. <sup>7</sup> And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Jerusalem stood round about him, bringing against him many and grievous charges, <sup>e</sup>which they could not prove;
<sup>8</sup> while Paul said in his defence, Neither <sup>f</sup>against <sup>g</sup>the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor <sup>h</sup>against Cæsar, have I sinned at all. <sup>9</sup> But Festus, <sup>i</sup>desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered

Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me? <sup>10</sup> But Paul said, I am standing before Cæsar's <sup>j</sup>judgement-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest. <sup>11</sup> If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if none of those things is <sup>true</sup>, whereof these accuse me, no man can <sup>k</sup>give me up unto them.
<sup>12</sup> I appeal unto Cæsar. <sup>12</sup> Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar: unto Cæsar shalt thou go.

<sup>13</sup> Now when certain days were passed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived at Cæsarea, <sup>5</sup>and saluted Festus. <sup>14</sup> And as they tarried
there many days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, <sup>1</sup>There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix: <sup>15</sup><sup>m</sup>about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed <sup>me</sup>, asking for sentence against him.
<sup>16</sup> <sup>n</sup>To whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man, <sup>o</sup>before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter laid against him. <sup>17</sup> <sup>p</sup>When therefore they were come together here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on <sup>a</sup>the judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be brought. <sup>18</sup> Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed; <sup>19</sup> but <sup>r</sup>had certain questions against him of their own <sup>s</sup>religion, and of <sup>t</sup>one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. <sup>20</sup> And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, <sup>u</sup>asked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. <sup>21</sup> But <sup>v</sup>when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of <sup>w</sup>the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him to Cæsar. <sup>22</sup> And <sup>x</sup>Agrippa said unto Festus, I also <sup>8</sup>could wish to hear the man myself.

<sup>23</sup> So on the morrow, when <sup>24</sup> Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus Paul was brought in. <sup>24</sup> And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom <sup>25</sup> all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, <sup>26</sup> crying that he ought not to live any longer. <sup>25</sup> But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and <sup>26</sup> as he himself appealed to <sup>27</sup> the emperor I determined to send him. <sup>26</sup> Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat to write. <sup>27</sup> For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.

<sup>30</sup> I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day <sup>31</sup> touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews: <sup>32</sup> especially because thou art expert in all <sup>33</sup> customs and <sup>34</sup> questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. <sup>35</sup> My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among <sup>36</sup> mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; <sup>37</sup> having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that <sup>38</sup> after the straitest <sup>39</sup> sect of our <sup>40</sup> religion I lived <sup>41</sup> a Pharisee. <sup>42</sup> And now I stand <sup>43</sup> here to be judged for the hope of <sup>44</sup> the promise made of God unto our fathers; <sup>45</sup> <sup>46</sup> unto which <sup>47</sup> promise <sup>48</sup> our twelve tribes, earnestly serving <sup>49</sup> God night and day, hope to <sup>50</sup> attain. And concerning this hope <sup>51</sup> I am accused by the Jews, O king! <sup>52</sup> Why is it judged

'incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead? <sup>53</sup> I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of <sup>54</sup> Jesus of Nazareth. <sup>55</sup> And <sup>56</sup> this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority <sup>57</sup> from the chief priests, and <sup>58</sup> when they were put to death, I gave my vote against them. <sup>59</sup> And <sup>60</sup> punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them <sup>61</sup> blaspheme; and <sup>62</sup> being exceedingly mad against them, I <sup>63</sup> persecuted them even unto foreign cities. <sup>64</sup> Whereupon <sup>65</sup> as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests, <sup>66</sup> at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me. <sup>67</sup> And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me <sup>68</sup> in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against <sup>69</sup> the goad. <sup>70</sup> And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. <sup>71</sup> But arise, and <sup>72</sup> stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, <sup>73</sup> to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things <sup>74</sup> wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; <sup>75</sup> <sup>76</sup> delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, <sup>77</sup> unto whom I <sup>78</sup> send thee, <sup>79</sup> to open their eyes, <sup>80</sup> that they may turn <sup>81</sup> from darkness to light, and from <sup>82</sup> the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive <sup>83</sup> remission of sins and <sup>84</sup> an inheritance among them that are sanctified <sup>85</sup> by faith in me. <sup>86</sup> Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto <sup>87</sup> the heavenly vision: <sup>88</sup> but <sup>89</sup> declared both <sup>90</sup> to them of Damascus first, and <sup>91</sup> at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judæa, and also <sup>92</sup> to the Gentiles, that they should <sup>93</sup> repent and <sup>94</sup> turn to God, doing works <sup>95</sup> worthy of <sup>96</sup> repentance. <sup>97</sup> For this cause <sup>98</sup> the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. <sup>99</sup> Having the winds were contrary. <sup>at</sup>5 And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, <sup>au</sup>a city of Lycia. <sup>av</sup>6 And there the centurion found <sup>aw</sup>e a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. <sup>ax</sup>7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not <sup>ay</sup>5 further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Salmone; <sup>az</sup>8 and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; <sup>ba</sup>nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

<sup>bb</sup>9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because <sup>bc</sup>f the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, <sup>bd</sup>10 and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with <sup>be</sup>g injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. <sup>bf</sup>11 But the centurion gave more heed to <sup>bg</sup>h the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. <sup>bh</sup>12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter <sup>bi</sup>there; <sup>bj</sup>which is a haven of Crete, looking <sup>bk</sup>6 north-east and south-east. <sup>bl</sup>13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. <sup>bm</sup>14 But after no long time there <sup>bn</sup>c beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo: <sup>bo</sup>15 and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way <sup>bp</sup>to it, and were driven. <sup>bq</sup>16 And running under the lee of a small island called <sup>br</sup>7 Cauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: <sup>bs</sup>17 and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should <sup>bt</sup>j be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven. <sup>bu</sup>18 And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began <sup>bv</sup>k to throw <sup>bw</sup>the freight overboard: <sup>bx</sup>19 and the third day they cast out with their own hands the <sup>by</sup>8 tackling of the ship. <sup>bz</sup>20 And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us

21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs,

<sup>1</sup>ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this <sup>1</sup>injury and loss. 22 And now I exhort you to be of <sup>m</sup>good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. 23 For <sup>n</sup>there

25 Wherefore, sir, be of good cheer: for <sup>u</sup>I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. 26 Howbeit <sup>v</sup>we must be <sup>w</sup>cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country; 28 and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. 29 And fearing lest haply we should be <sup>x</sup>cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and <sup>y</sup>wished for the day. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered <sup>z</sup>the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. 33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. 34 Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for <sup>a</sup>there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, <sup>a</sup>he gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of <sup>b</sup>good cheer, and themselves also took food. 37 And we were in all in the ship <sup>c</sup>two hundred threescore and sixteen <sup>c</sup>souls. 38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, <sup>d</sup>throwing out the wheat into the sea. 39 And when it was day, <sup>e</sup>they knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could <sup>f</sup>drive the ship upon it. 40 And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. 41 But lighting upon a place where two seas met, <sup>f</sup>they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves. 42 And <sup>g</sup>the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. 43 But the centurion, <sup>h</sup>desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land: 44 and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that <sup>i</sup>they all escaped safe to the land.

28 <sup>i</sup>And when we were escaped, <sup>j</sup>then we knew that <sup>k</sup>the island was called <sup>l</sup>Melita.

2 And <sup>m</sup>the barbarians shewed us no common <sup>m</sup>kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. 3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out <sup>n</sup>by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. 4 And when <sup>n</sup>the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, <sup>o</sup>No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, <sup>p</sup>yet <sup>q</sup>Justice hath not suffered to live. 5 Howbeit he <sup>r</sup>shook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. 6 But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, *they changed their minds, and †said that he was a god.

7 Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. 8 And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and †prayed, and †laying his hands on him healed him. 9 And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: 10 who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we set sail in †a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was †x The Twin Brothers. 12 And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. 13 And from thence we †made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: 14 where we found † brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. 15 And from thence †the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, †he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we entered into Rome, †a Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together †those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, †though I had done nothing against the people, or †the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: 18 who, when they had examined me, †desired to set me at liberty, †because there was no cause of death in me. 19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained †to appeal unto Cæsar; not that I had aught to accuse †my nation of. 20 For this cause therefore did I †intreat you to see and to speak with me: for †because of †the hope of Israel I am bound with †this †chain. 21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judæa concerning thee, nor did any of †the brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. 22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this †sect, it is known to us that everywhere †it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; †to whom he expounded the matter, testifying †the kingdom of God, and †persuading them concerning Jesus, †both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening. 24 And †some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. 25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, †Well spake the Holy Ghost †by Isaiah the prophet unto your fathers, 26 saying,

†Go thou unto this people, and say,

†By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

27 †For this people's heart is waxed gross,

And their ears are dull of hearing,

And their eyes they have closed; Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,

And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And †should turn again, And I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that †this †salvation of God †is sent unto the Gentiles: †they will also hear. 7

30 And he abode two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and †received all that went in unto him, 31 †preaching †the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, †with all boldness, †none forbidding him.

ver. 24, 26. have God in their knowledge, <sup>a</sup> God gave them up unto <sup>a</sup> a reprobate mind, to do those things <sup>b</sup> which are not fitting; <sup>29</sup> being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; whisperers, <sup>30</sup> backbiters, <sup>1</sup> hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, <sup>31</sup> without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful: <sup>32</sup> who, knowing <sup>c</sup> the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things <sup>d</sup> are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also <sup>e</sup> consent with them that practise them.

2 Wherefore thou art <sup>f</sup> without excuse, O man, whosever thou art that judgest: for <sup>g</sup> wherein thou judgest <sup>2</sup> another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost practise the same things. <sup>23</sup> And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things. <sup>3</sup> And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? <sup>4</sup> Or despisest thou <sup>h</sup> the riches of his goodness and <sup>i</sup> forbearance and <sup>j</sup> longsuffering, <sup>k</sup> not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? <sup>5</sup> but after thy hardness and impenitent heart <sup>l</sup> treasurest up for thyself <sup>m</sup> wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God; <sup>6</sup> <sup>n</sup> who will render to every man according to his works: <sup>7</sup> to them that <sup>o</sup> by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: <sup>8</sup> but unto them that are factious, and <sup>p</sup> obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, <sup>9</sup> tribulation and anguish, <sup>q</sup> upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew <sup>r</sup> first, and also of the Greek; <sup>10</sup> but glory and honour and <sup>s</sup> peace to every man that worketh good, <sup>t</sup> to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: <sup>11</sup> for <sup>u</sup> there is no respect of persons with God. <sup>12</sup> For as many as have sinned <sup>v</sup> without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; <sup>13</sup> for <sup>w</sup> not the hearers of a law are <sup>x</sup> just before God, but the doers of a law shall be <sup>y</sup> justified: <sup>14</sup> for when Gentiles which have no law do <sup>z</sup> by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; <sup>15</sup> in that they shew the work of the law <sup>1</sup> written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their <sup>2</sup> thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; <sup>16</sup> <sup>3</sup> in the day when God <sup>4</sup> shall judge <sup>a</sup> the secrets of men, <sup>b</sup> according to my gospel, <sup>c</sup> by Jesus Christ.

17 But if thou bearest the name of a Jew, and <sup>d</sup> retestest upon <sup>e</sup> the law, and gloriest in God, <sup>f</sup> and knowest <sup>g</sup> his will, and <sup>h</sup> approvest the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, <sup>i</sup> and art confident that thou thyself art <sup>j</sup> a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, <sup>11</sup> a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law <sup>k</sup> the form of <sup>l</sup> knowledge and of the truth; <sup>21</sup> <sup>m</sup> thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? <sup>22</sup> thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou <sup>12</sup> rob temples? <sup>23</sup> thou who <sup>n</sup> gloriest in <sup>o</sup> the law, through thy transgression of the law <sup>p</sup> dishonourest thou God? <sup>24</sup> For <sup>q</sup> the name of God is blasphemed <sup>r</sup> among the Gentiles because of you, even <sup>s</sup> as it is written. <sup>25</sup> For circumcision indeed profiteth, <sup>t</sup> if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. <sup>26</sup> If therefore <sup>u</sup> the uncircumcision keep <sup>v</sup> the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? <sup>27</sup> and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, <sup>w</sup> judge thee, who with <sup>x</sup> the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law? <sup>28</sup> For <sup>y</sup> he is not a Jew, <sup>z</sup> which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: <sup>29</sup> but he is a Jew, which is one <sup>1</sup> inwardly; and <sup>2</sup> circumcision is that of the heart, in <sup>a</sup>the spirit, not in the letter; <sup>a</sup>whose praise is not of men, but of God.

And mightest prevail when thou <sup>f</sup>comest into judgement.

<sup>11</sup> There is none that understandeth, There is none that seeketh after God;

<sup>12</sup> They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;

There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

<sup>13</sup> <sup>p</sup> Their throat is <sup>q</sup> an open sepulchre; With their tongues they have used deceit:

Be it not so: and so elsewhere. 2 Many ancient authorities read For. ourselves? 4 Gr. out of. 5 Or, works of law. 6 Or, accounted righteous. 7 Or, through law. 8 Or, of. 9 Some ancient authorities add and upon all. 10 Or, purposed. 11 Or, to be propitiatory. 12 Or, faith in his blood. 13 Gr. is of faith. 14 Many ancient authorities read For we reckon. 15 Or, through the faith. 16 Or, law. 17 Some ancient authorities read of Abraham, our forefather according to the flesh?

found? <sup>2</sup>For if Abraham was justified <sup>1</sup>by works, he hath whereof to glory; but <sup>w</sup>not toward God. <sup>3</sup>For what saith the scripture? <sup>w</sup>And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. <sup>4</sup>Now <sup>v</sup>to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. <sup>5</sup>But to him that worketh not, but <sup>z</sup>believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. <sup>6</sup>Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart from works, <sup>7</sup>saying,

<sup>9</sup>Is this blessing then pronounced upon <sup>c</sup>the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for <sup>d</sup>we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness. <sup>10</sup>How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision: <sup>11</sup>and <sup>e</sup>he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that <sup>f</sup>he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto them; <sup>12</sup>and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had in uncircumcision. <sup>13</sup>For not <sup>2</sup>through the law was <sup>g</sup>the promise to Abraham or to his seed, <sup>h</sup>that he should be heir of the world, but through the righteousness of faith. <sup>14</sup>For <sup>i</sup>if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect: <sup>15</sup>for <sup>j</sup>the law worketh wrath; but <sup>k</sup>where there is no law, <sup>l</sup>neither is there transgression. <sup>16</sup>For this cause it is of faith, <sup>m</sup>that it may be according to grace; <sup>n</sup>to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, <sup>o</sup>who is the father of us all <sup>17</sup>(as it is written, <sup>p</sup>A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, <sup>q</sup>who quickeneth the dead, and calleth <sup>r</sup>the things that are not, as though they were. <sup>18</sup>Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, <sup>s</sup>So shall thy seed be. <sup>19</sup>And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body <sup>t</sup>now <sup>u</sup>as good as dead (<sup>v</sup>he being about a hundred years old), and <sup>w</sup>the deadness of Sarah's womb: <sup>20</sup>yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving glory to God, <sup>21</sup>and being fully assured that, what he had promised, <sup>w</sup>he was able also to perform. <sup>22</sup>Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. <sup>23</sup>Now <sup>x</sup>it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; <sup>24</sup>but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, <sup>y</sup>who believe on <sup>z</sup>him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, <sup>25</sup><sup>a</sup>who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised <sup>b</sup>for our justification.

bid. We who <sup>r</sup>died to sin, how shall we any longer live therein? <sup>3</sup>Or are ye ignorant that all we <sup>s</sup>who were baptized <sup>t</sup>into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? <sup>4</sup>We were <sup>u</sup>buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as <sup>v</sup>Christ was raised from the dead through <sup>w</sup>the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in <sup>x</sup>newness of life. <sup>5</sup>For <sup>v</sup>if we have become <sup>b</sup>united with him by <sup>z</sup>the likeness of his death, we shall be also <sup>by the likeness</sup> of his resurrection; <sup>6</sup>knowing this, that <sup>a</sup>our old man <sup>b</sup>was crucified with him, that <sup>c</sup>the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin; <sup>7</sup>for <sup>d</sup>he that hath died <sup>e</sup>is justified from sin. <sup>8</sup>But <sup>f</sup>if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; <sup>9</sup>knowing that <sup>g</sup>Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; <sup>h</sup>death no more hath dominion over him. <sup>10</sup>For <sup>i</sup>the death that he died, he died unto sin <sup>j</sup>once: but <sup>k</sup>the life that he liveth, he liveth unto God. <sup>11</sup>Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be <sup>l</sup>dead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.

cause of the infirmity of your flesh :
 for <sup>1</sup>as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members <sup>2</sup>as servants
 to righteousness unto sanctification.
 20 For <sup>3</sup>when ye were <sup>1</sup>servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. 21 <sup>5</sup>What fruit then had ye at that time in the things <sup>6</sup>whereof ye are now ashamed? <sup>4</sup>for the end of those things is death.
 22 But now <sup>7</sup>being made free from sin, and <sup>8</sup>become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and <sup>9</sup>the end eternal life.
 23 <sup>1</sup>For the wages of sin is death ;
 but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? 2 For <sup>1</sup>the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth ; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband liveth, <sup>2</sup>she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress ; but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. 4 Wherefore, my brethren, <sup>3</sup>ye also were made dead <sup>4</sup>to the law <sup>5</sup>through the body of Christ ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, <sup>6</sup>that we might bring forth fruit unto God. 5 For when we were in the flesh, the <sup>7</sup>sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought <sup>8</sup>in our members <sup>9</sup>to bring forth fruit unto death. 6 But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden ; so that we serve <sup>1</sup>in newness of <sup>2</sup>the spirit, and not in old-ness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, <sup>1</sup>I had not known sin, except through the law : for I had not known <sup>2</sup>coveting, except <sup>3</sup>the law had said,
 Thou shalt not <sup>4</sup>covet : 8 but sin, <sup>5</sup>finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of <sup>6</sup>coveting : <sup>7</sup>for apart from the law sin <sup>1</sup>is dead. 9 And I was alive apart from <sup>2</sup>the law once : but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died ; 10 and the commandment, <sup>3</sup>which <sup>4</sup>was unto life, this I found <sup>5</sup>to be unto death :

 11 for sin, <sup>6</sup>finding occasion, through the commandment <sup>7</sup>beguiled me,
 and through it slew me. 12 So that <sup>8</sup>the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good.
 13 Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid.
 But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good ;— that through the commandment sin
 might become exceeding sinful.
 14 For we know that the law is spiritual : but I am carnal, <sup>1</sup>sold under sin. 15 For that which I <sup>2</sup>do I know not : for <sup>3</sup>not what I would,
 that do I practise ; but what I hate, that I do. 16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto <sup>4</sup>the law that it is good. 17 So now <sup>5</sup>it is no more I that <sup>6</sup>do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 18 For I know that <sup>7</sup>in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing : for to will is present with me, but to <sup>8</sup>do that which is good <sup>9</sup>is not. 19 <sup>1</sup>For the good which I would I do not : but the evil which I would not, that I practise. 20 But if what I would not, that I do, <sup>2</sup>it is no more I that <sup>3</sup>do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 21 I find then <sup>4</sup>the law, that,
 to me who would do good, evil is present. 22 For <sup>1</sup>I delight <sup>2</sup>in the law of God after <sup>3</sup>the inward man : 23 but I see <sup>4</sup>a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity <sup>5</sup>under the law of sin which is in my members. 24 O wretched man that I am ! who shall deliver me out of <sup>6</sup>the body of this death? 25 <sup>10</sup>m I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God ; but with the flesh
 the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of <sup>1</sup>the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus <sup>2</sup>made me free from the law of sin and of death. 3 For <sup>3</sup>what the law could not do, <sup>11</sup>n in that it was weak

through the flesh, <sup>r</sup> God, sending his own Son <sup>s</sup> in the likeness of <sup>1</sup> sinful flesh <sup>2</sup> and <sup>t</sup> as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: <sup>4</sup> that <sup>u</sup> the <sup>3</sup> ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, <sup>v</sup> who walk not <sup>w</sup> after the flesh, but after the spirit. <sup>5</sup> For <sup>w</sup> they that are after the flesh do mind <sup>x</sup> the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit <sup>y</sup> the things of the spirit. <sup>6</sup> For <sup>z</sup> the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life and peace: <sup>7</sup> because the mind of the flesh is <sup>a</sup> enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, <sup>b</sup> neither indeed can it be: <sup>8</sup> and they that are in the flesh cannot please God. <sup>9</sup> But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that <sup>c</sup> the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But <sup>d</sup> if any man hath not <sup>e</sup> the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. <sup>10</sup> And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of righteousness. <sup>11</sup> But if the Spirit of <sup>f</sup> him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies <sup>4</sup> <sup>g</sup> through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

<sup>12</sup> So then, brethren, we are debtors, <sup>h</sup> not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: <sup>13</sup> for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye <sup>i</sup> mortify the <sup>6</sup> deeds of the body, ye shall live. <sup>14</sup> For as many as are <sup>j</sup> led by the Spirit of God, these are <sup>k</sup> sons of God. <sup>15</sup> For <sup>l</sup> ye received not <sup>m</sup> the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of <sup>n</sup> adoption, whereby we cry, <sup>o</sup> Abba, Father. <sup>16</sup> <sup>p</sup> The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: <sup>17</sup> and if children, then <sup>q</sup> heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; <sup>r</sup> if so be that we suffer with <sup>him</sup>, that we may be also glorified with <sup>him</sup>.

tion <sup>v</sup> was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but <sup>w</sup> by reason of him who subjected it, <sup>x</sup> in hope <sup>y</sup> that <sup>z</sup> the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. <sup>22</sup> For we know that <sup>a</sup> the whole creation <sup>b</sup> groaneth and travaileth in pain <sup>c</sup> together until now. <sup>23</sup> And not only so, but ourselves also, which have <sup>d</sup> the firstfruits of the Spirit, <sup>e</sup> even we ourselves groan within ourselves, <sup>f</sup> waiting for our adoption, <sup>to wit</sup>, <sup>g</sup> the redemption of our body. <sup>24</sup> For <sup>h</sup> by hope were we saved: but <sup>i</sup> hope that is seen is not hope: <sup>j</sup> for who <sup>k</sup> hopeth for that which he seeth? <sup>25</sup> But if we hope for that which we see not, <sup>then</sup> do we with <sup>l</sup> patience wait for it.

<sup>26</sup> And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for <sup>m</sup> we know not how to pray as we ought; but <sup>n</sup> the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; <sup>27</sup> and <sup>h</sup> he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is <sup>t</sup> the mind of the Spirit, <sup>11</sup> because he <sup>j</sup> maketh intercession for the saints <sup>k</sup> according to the will of God. <sup>28</sup> And we know that to them that love God <sup>12</sup> all things work together <sup>l</sup> for good, <sup>even</sup> to <sup>m</sup> them that are called according to <sup>his</sup> purpose. <sup>29</sup> For whom he <sup>n</sup> foreknew, he also <sup>o</sup> foreordained <sup>p</sup> to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be <sup>q</sup> the firstborn among many brethren: <sup>30</sup> and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also <sup>r</sup> justified: and whom he justified, them he also <sup>s</sup> glorified.

hand of God, <sup>a</sup> who also maketh intercession for us. <sup>35</sup> Who shall separate us from the love <sup>1</sup> of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? <sup>36</sup> Even as it is written,

We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

of <sup>x</sup> him that calleth, <sup>12</sup> it was said unto her, <sup>y</sup> The elder shall serve the younger. <sup>13</sup> Even as it is written, <sup>z</sup> Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

<sup>14</sup> What shall we say then? <sup>a</sup> Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. <sup>15</sup> For he saith to Moses, <sup>b</sup> I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. <sup>16</sup> So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that hath mercy. <sup>17</sup> For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, <sup>c</sup> For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. <sup>18</sup> So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will <sup>d</sup> he hardeneth.

<sup>19</sup> Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For <sup>e</sup> who withstandeth his will? <sup>20</sup> Nay but, O man, who art thou <sup>f</sup> that repliest against God? <sup>g</sup> Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? <sup>21</sup> Or <sup>h</sup> hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make <sup>i</sup> one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? <sup>22</sup> What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering <sup>j</sup> vessels of wrath <sup>k</sup> fitted unto destruction: <sup>23</sup> <sup>l</sup> and that he might make known <sup>m</sup> the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he <sup>n</sup> afore prepared unto glory, <sup>24</sup> even us, whom he also <sup>o</sup> called, <sup>p</sup> not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? <sup>25</sup> As he saith also in Hosea,

<sup>q</sup> I will call that my people, which was not my people;

And her beloved, which was not beloved.

<sup>26</sup> <sup>r</sup> And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,

There shall they be called sons of <sup>s</sup> the living God.

<sup>27</sup> And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, <sup>t</sup> If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, <sup>u</sup> it is the remnant that shall be saved: <sup>28</sup> for the Lord will execute Others punctuate, flesh, who is over all. God be (is) blessed for ever. 5 Gr. unto the ages. 6 Some ancient authorities omit and.

his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah hath said before,

"Except <sup>v</sup> the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,

<sup>w</sup> We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.

IO Brethren, my heart's <sup>3</sup> desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that <sup>g</sup> they have a zeal for God, <sup>h</sup> but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of <sup>i</sup> God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For <sup>j</sup> Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 For <sup>k</sup> Moses writeth that <sup>l</sup> the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But <sup>m</sup> the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, <sup>n</sup> Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:) 7 or, Who shall descend into the <sup>o</sup> abyss? (that is, <sup>p</sup> to bring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? <sup>q</sup> The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 <sup>a</sup> because if <sup>r</sup> thou shalt <sup>b</sup> confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt <sup>c</sup> believe in thy heart <sup>d</sup> that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, <sup>e</sup> Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 <sup>v</sup> For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for <sup>w</sup> the same Lord is Lord of all, and is <sup>x</sup> rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, <sup>y</sup> Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him <sup>z</sup> whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear <sup>a</sup> without a preacher? 15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, <sup>b</sup> How beautiful are the feet of them that bring <sup>c</sup> glad tidings of good things! 16 But <sup>d</sup> they did not all hearken to the <sup>e</sup> glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, <sup>f</sup> Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So <sup>g</sup> belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

And their words unto the ends of <sup>h</sup> the world.

19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,

<sup>h</sup> I will <sup>i</sup> provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,

With a nation <sup>j</sup> void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,

<sup>k</sup> I was found of them that sought me not;

I became manifest unto them that asked not of me,

21 But as to Israel he saith, <sup>l</sup> All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

II I say then, <sup>m</sup> Did God cast off his people? God forbid.

For <sup>n</sup> I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 <sup>o</sup> God did not cast off his people which he <sup>p</sup> foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith <sup>q</sup> of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel, 3 <sup>r</sup> Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? <sup>s</sup> I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

1 Or, Because, doing it not by faith, but as it were by works, they stumbled pleaseure. 4 Or, that 5 Some ancient authorities read confess the word with thy mouth, that Jesus is Lord. 6 Or, a gospel 7 Or, gospel 8 Gr. the inhabited earth. 9 Or, in

5 Even so then at this present time also there is <sup>a</sup>a remnant according to the election of grace. 6 <sup>b</sup>But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? <sup>c</sup>That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the rest <sup>d</sup>were hardened: 8 according as it is written, <sup>e</sup>God gave them a spirit of stupor, <sup>f</sup>eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith,

And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their <sup>1</sup>fall <sup>a</sup>salvation <sup>is</sup> come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as <sup>b</sup>I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy <sup>them that are</sup> my flesh, and <sup>c</sup>may save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them <sup>is</sup> <sup>d</sup>the reconciling of the world, what <sup>shall</sup> the receiving of <sup>them be</sup>, but life from the dead?

16 And <sup>e</sup>if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if <sup>f</sup>some of the branches were broken off, and thou, <sup>g</sup>being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them <sup>2</sup>of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; 18 glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. 19 Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. 20 Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou <sup>h</sup>standest by thy faith. <sup>i</sup>Be not highminded, but <sup>j</sup>fear: 21 for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare thee.

22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, <sup>k</sup>if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise <sup>l</sup>thou also shalt be cut off. 23 And <sup>m</sup>they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again. 24 For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural <sup>n</sup>branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, <sup>o</sup>lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that <sup>a</sup>a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, <sup>p</sup>until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; 26 and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are <sup>w</sup>beloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and <sup>x</sup>the calling of God are <sup>y</sup>without repentance. 30 For as ye <sup>z</sup>in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy. 32 For God <sup>aa</sup>hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

1 Or, trespass 2 Many ancient authorities read of the root and of the fatness. 3 Gr. ungodlinesses.
4 Gr. the covenant from me. 5 Gr. not repented of. 6 Or, of the riches and the wisdom &c. 7 Or, both of wisdom &c. 8 Gr. unto the ages.

<sup>13</sup> For I say, <sup>14</sup> through the grace that was given me, to every man that is among you, <sup>15</sup> not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but so to think as to think soberly, <sup>16</sup> according as God hath dealt to each man <sup>17</sup> a measure of faith.

that are lowly. <sup>55</sup> Be not wise in your own conceits. <sup>56</sup> Render to no man evil for evil. <sup>57</sup> Take thought for things honourable in the sight of all men. <sup>58</sup> If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, <sup>59</sup> be at peace with all men. <sup>60</sup> Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto <sup>61</sup> wrath: for it is written, <sup>62</sup> Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. <sup>63</sup> But <sup>64</sup> if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. <sup>65</sup> Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every soul <sup>2</sup> be in subjection to the higher powers: for <sup>3</sup> there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are ordained of God. <sup>4</sup> Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgement. <sup>5</sup> For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have <sup>6</sup> praise from the same: <sup>7</sup> for <sup>8</sup> he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for <sup>9</sup> he beareth not the sword in vain: for <sup>10</sup> he is a minister of God, <sup>11</sup> an avenger for wrath to him that doeth evil. <sup>12</sup> Wherefore <sup>13</sup> ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also <sup>14</sup> for conscience sake. <sup>15</sup> For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. <sup>16</sup> Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you <sup>2</sup>to awake out of sleep: <sup>3</sup>for now is <sup>2</sup>salvation nearer to us than when we <sup>1</sup>first believed. 12 <sup>k</sup>The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore <sup>l</sup>cast off <sup>m</sup>the works of darkness, and <sup>n</sup>let us put on the armour of light. 13 <sup>o</sup>Let us walk honestly, as in the day; <sup>p</sup>not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, <sup>q</sup>not in strife and jealousy. 14 But <sup>r</sup>put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, <sup>s</sup>to fulfil the lusts thereof.

14 <sup>t</sup>But <sup>u</sup>him that is weak in faith receive ye, <sup>v</sup>yet not <sup>3</sup>to doubtful disputations. 2 <sup>w</sup>One man hath faith to eat all things: but he that is weak eateth herbs. 3 Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and <sup>x</sup>let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him. 4 <sup>y</sup>Who art thou that judgest the <sup>4</sup>servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make him stand. 5 <sup>z</sup>One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day <sup>aa</sup>alike. <sup>ab</sup>Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. 6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for <sup>ac</sup>he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks. 7 For <sup>ad</sup>none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. 8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: <sup>ae</sup>whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. 9 For to this end Christ <sup>af</sup>died, and lived <sup>ag</sup>again, that he might be Lord <sup>ah</sup>of both the dead and the living. 10 But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for <sup>ai</sup>we shall all stand before <sup>aj</sup>the judgement-seat of God. 11 For it is written,

And every tongue shall <sup>5</sup>confess to God.

12 So then <sup>5</sup>each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 <sup>5</sup>Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, <sup>6</sup>that no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. 14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, <sup>7</sup>that nothing is unclean of itself: <sup>8</sup>save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, <sup>9</sup>thou walkest no longer in love. <sup>10</sup>Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died. 16 <sup>11</sup>Let not then your good be evil spoken of: 17 <sup>12</sup>for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but <sup>13</sup>righteousness and <sup>14</sup>peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. 18 For he that herein serveth Christ is <sup>15</sup>well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. 19 So then <sup>16</sup>let us <sup>17</sup>follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may <sup>18</sup>edify one another. 20 <sup>19</sup>Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. <sup>20</sup>All things indeed are clean; howbeit <sup>21</sup>it is evil for that man who eateth with offence. 21 <sup>22</sup>It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to <sup>23</sup>do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth. 22 The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. <sup>24</sup>Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he <sup>25</sup>approveth. 23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because <sup>26</sup>he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

15 <sup>27</sup>Now <sup>28</sup>we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 <sup>29</sup>Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, unto edifying. 3 For <sup>30</sup>Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, <sup>31</sup>The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. 4 For <sup>32</sup>whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our <sup>33</sup>learning, that through patience and through <sup>34</sup>comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you <sup>35</sup>to be of the same mind

one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify <sup>1</sup>the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received <sup>1</sup>you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ <sup>2</sup>hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that <sup>k</sup>he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, and <sup>9</sup>that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

10 And again he saith,

11 And again,

12 And again, Isaiah saith,

And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all <sup>a</sup>joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And <sup>i</sup>I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with <sup>a</sup>all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. 15 But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, <sup>v</sup>because of the grace that was given me of God,

16 that I should be <sup>w</sup>a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, <sup>x</sup>ministering the gospel of God, that <sup>y</sup>the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. 17 I have therefore <sup>z</sup>my glorying in Christ Jesus <sup>a</sup>in things pertaining to God. 18 For I will not dare to speak of any <sup>4</sup>things save those <sup>b</sup>which Christ wrought through me, <sup>c</sup>for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, 19 <sup>d</sup>in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of <sup>e</sup>the Holy Ghost; so that <sup>f</sup>from Jerusalem, and round about <sup>g</sup>even unto Illyricum, I have <sup>6</sup>fully preached the gospel of Christ; 20 yea, <sup>7</sup>making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, <sup>8</sup>that I might not build upon another man's foundation; 21 but, as it is written,

<sup>h</sup>They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,

And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also <sup>i</sup>I was hindered these many times from coming to you: 23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and <sup>j</sup>having these many years a longing to come unto you, 24 whosoever I go <sup>k</sup>unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and <sup>l</sup>to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company) — 25 but now, I say, <sup>m</sup>I go unto Jerusalem, ministering unto the saints. 26 For <sup>n</sup>it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. 27 Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, <sup>o</sup>they owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. 28 When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you <sup>p</sup>unto Spain. 29 And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by <sup>a</sup>the love of the Spirit, that ye <sup>q</sup>strive together with me in your prayers to God for me; 31 <sup>r</sup>that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judea, and that <sup>s</sup>my ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; 32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together with you <sup>t</sup>find rest. 33 Now <sup>v</sup>the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 I commend unto you Phœbe our sister, who is <sup>8</sup>servant of the church that is at <sup>w</sup>Cenchreæ: 2 that ye <sup>x</sup>receive her in the Lord, worthy of the saints, and that ye assist her in what-

Salute Epenetus my beloved, who is <sup>a</sup> the firstfruits of Asia unto Christ. 6 Salute Mary, who bestowed much labour on you. 7 Salute Andronicus and <sup>1</sup> Junias, my kinsmen, and my <sup>b</sup> fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also have been in Christ before me. 8 Salute Ampliatius my beloved in the Lord. 9 Salute Urbanus our fellow-worker in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. 10 Salute Apelles the approved in Christ. Salute them <sup>c</sup> which are of the household of Aristobulus. 11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Salute them of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord. 12 Salute Tryphæna and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute Persis the beloved, which laboured much in the Lord. 13 Salute <sup>d</sup> Rufus the chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine. 14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brethren that are with them. 15 Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints that are with them. 16 <sup>e</sup> Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, <sup>f</sup> contrary to the <sup>2</sup> doctrine which ye learned: and <sup>g</sup> turn away from them. 18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but <sup>h</sup> their own belly; and <sup>i</sup> by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts of the innocent. 19 For <sup>j</sup> your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I rejoyce therefore over you: but I would have you <sup>k</sup> wise unto that which is good, and simple unto that which is evil. 20 And <sup>l</sup> the God of peace <sup>m</sup> shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly.

25 <sup>v</sup> Now to him that is able to stablish you <sup>w</sup> according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, <sup>x</sup> according to the revelation of the mystery <sup>y</sup> which hath been kept in silence through <sup>z</sup> times eternal, 26 but <sup>a</sup> now is manifested, and <sup>b</sup> by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known unto all the nations <sup>c</sup> unto obedience <sup>d</sup> of faith; 27 to <sup>e</sup> the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, <sup>f</sup> to whom be the glory <sup>g</sup> for ever. 1 PAUL, <sup>α</sup> called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ <sup>β</sup> through the will of God, and <sup>γ</sup> Sosthenes our brother, <sup>δ</sup> unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are <sup>ε</sup> sanctified in Christ Jesus, <sup>ζ</sup> called to be saints, with all that <sup>η</sup> call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: <sup>θ</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no <sup>ω</sup> divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together <sup>α</sup> in the same mind and in the same judgement. <sup>β</sup> 11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are <sup>γ</sup> contentions among you. <sup>δ</sup> 12 Now this I mean, that <sup>ε</sup> each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of <sup>ζ</sup> Apollos; and I of <sup>η</sup> Cephas; and I of Christ. <sup>θ</sup> 13 <sup>ι</sup> <sup>κ</sup> Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye <sup>λ</sup> baptized into the name of Paul? <sup>μ</sup> 14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, save <sup>ν</sup> Crispus and <sup>ξ</sup> Gaius; <sup>ο</sup> 15 lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. <sup>π</sup> 16 And I baptized also <sup>ρ</sup> the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. <sup>σ</sup> 17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: <sup>τ</sup> not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18 For the word of the cross is to <sup>υ</sup> them that are perishing <sup>φ</sup> foolishness; but unto us <sup>χ</sup> which are being saved it is <sup>ψ</sup> the power of God.

19 For it is written,

<sup>ω</sup> I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,

And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

20 <sup>α</sup> Where is the wise? <sup>β</sup> where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this <sup>γ</sup> world? <sup>δ</sup> hath not God made foolish the wisdom of the world?

21 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the <sup>ε</sup> preaching to save them that believe. <sup>ζ</sup> 22 Seeing that <sup>η</sup> Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom: <sup>θ</sup> 23 but we preach <sup>ι</sup> Christ

should glory before God. 30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us <sup>w</sup>wisdom from God, <sup>1</sup>and <sup>v</sup>righteousness and <sup>w</sup>sanctification, and <sup>w</sup>redemption: 31 that, according as it is written, <sup>v</sup>He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. 1 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, <sup>2</sup>came not with excellency of <sup>2</sup>speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you <sup>a</sup>the <sup>3</sup>mystery of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save <sup>b</sup>Jesus Christ, and him crucified. 3 And <sup>c</sup>I was with you <sup>d</sup>in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. 4 And my <sup>2</sup>speech and my <sup>4</sup>preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of <sup>f</sup>the Spirit and of power: 5 that your faith should not <sup>g</sup>stand in the wisdom of men, but <sup>h</sup>in the power of God. 6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among <sup>k</sup>the <sup>6</sup>perfect: yet <sup>i</sup>a wisdom not of this <sup>j</sup>world, <sup>j</sup>which are the rulers of this <sup>j</sup>world, <sup>j</sup>which are coming to nought: 7 but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, *even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God foreordained before the worlds unto our glory: 8 which none of <sup>l</sup>the rulers of this world knoweth: for <sup>m</sup>had they known it, they would not have crucified <sup>n</sup>the Lord of glory: 9 but as it is written, <sup>o</sup>Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,
And which entered not into the heart of man,
Whatsoever things God <sup>p</sup>prepared <sup>q</sup>for them that love him.

paring spiritual things with spiritual. 14 Now the <sup>z</sup>natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are <sup>a</sup>foolishness unto him; and <sup>b</sup>he cannot know them, because they are spiritually <sup>12</sup>judged. 15 But he that is <sup>c</sup>spiritual <sup>13</sup>judgeth all things, and he himself is <sup>12</sup>judged of no man. 16 <sup>d</sup>For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But <sup>e</sup>we have the mind of Christ. 1 And I, brethren, could not <sup>3</sup>speak unto you as unto <sup>f</sup>spiritual, but as unto <sup>g</sup>carnal, as unto <sup>h</sup>babes in Christ. 2 <sup>i</sup>I fed you with milk, not with meat; for <sup>j</sup>ye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not even now are ye able; 3 for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you <sup>k</sup>jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? 4 For <sup>l</sup>when one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; <sup>m</sup>are ye not men? 5 What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? <sup>n</sup>Ministers through whom ye believed; and <sup>o</sup>each as the Lord gave to him. 6 <sup>p</sup>I planted, <sup>q</sup>Apollos watered; <sup>r</sup>but God gave the increase. 7 So then <sup>s</sup>neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. 8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: but each <sup>t</sup>shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. 9 For we are <sup>u</sup>God's fellow-workers: ye are God's <sup>14</sup>husbandry, <sup>v</sup>God's building. 10 <sup>w</sup>According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder I laid a <sup>x</sup>foundation; and <sup>y</sup>another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. 11 For <sup>z</sup>other foundation can no man lay <sup>a</sup>than that which is laid, <sup>b</sup>which is Jesus Christ. 12 But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; 13 <sup>c</sup>each man's work shall be made manifest: for <sup>d</sup>the day shall declare it, because it is revealed <sup>e</sup>in fire; 15 and <sup>f</sup>the fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it is. <sup>14</sup>If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, <sup>15</sup>he shall receive a reward. <sup>16</sup>If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; <sup>17</sup>yet so as through fire.

and <sup>b</sup>what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? <sup>8</sup>Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. <sup>9</sup>For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, <sup>c</sup>as men doomed to death: for we <sup>d</sup>are made a spectacle unto the world, <sup>e</sup>and to angels, and to men. <sup>10</sup><sup>e</sup>We are fools for Christ's sake, but <sup>f</sup>ye are wise in Christ; <sup>g</sup>we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have dishonour. <sup>11</sup>Even unto this present hour <sup>h</sup>we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and <sup>i</sup>are buffeted, and <sup>j</sup>have no certain dwellingplace; <sup>12</sup>and we <sup>k</sup>toil, working with our own hands: <sup>l</sup>being reviled, we bless; <sup>m</sup>being persecuted, we endure; <sup>13</sup>being defamed, we intreat: <sup>n</sup>we are made as the <sup>o</sup>filth of the world, <sup>p</sup>the offscouring of all things, even until now.

rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. <sup>3</sup> For I verily, <sup>a</sup> being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, <sup>4</sup> in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, <sup>5</sup> to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, <sup>6</sup> that the spirit may be saved. <sup>7</sup> In the day of the Lord <sup>1</sup> Jesus. <sup>6</sup> Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that <sup>a</sup> a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? <sup>7</sup> Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: <sup>8</sup> wherefore let us <sup>2</sup> keep the feast, <sup>a</sup> not with old leaven, neither with <sup>o</sup> the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

them to judge who are of no account in the church? <sup>5</sup> I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, <sup>6</sup> but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? <sup>7</sup> Nay, already it is altogether <sup>a</sup> a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. <sup>c</sup> Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? <sup>8</sup> Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that <sup>d</sup> your brethren. <sup>9</sup> Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: <sup>e</sup> neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, <sup>10</sup> nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. <sup>11</sup> And <sup>f</sup> such were some of you: but <sup>g</sup> ye <sup>10</sup> were washed, but <sup>h</sup> ye were sanctified, but <sup>i</sup> ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup> All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. <sup>13</sup> Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it <sup>1</sup> and them. But the body is not for fornication, but <sup>m</sup> for the Lord; and <sup>n</sup> the Lord for the body: <sup>14</sup> and <sup>o</sup> God both raised the Lord, and <sup>p</sup> will raise up us <sup>q</sup> through his power. <sup>15</sup> Know ye not that <sup>r</sup> your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? God forbid. <sup>16</sup> Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, <sup>s</sup> The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh. <sup>17</sup> But he that is joined unto the Lord <sup>t</sup> is one spirit. <sup>18</sup> Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication <sup>v</sup> sinneth against his own body. <sup>19</sup> Or <sup>w</sup> know ye not that your body is a <sup>x</sup> temple of the <sup>12</sup> Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and <sup>y</sup> ye are not your own; <sup>20</sup> <sup>z</sup> for ye were bought with a price: <sup>a</sup> glorify God therefore in your body.

<sup>8</sup> But I say to the unmarried and to widows, <sup>j</sup> It is good for them if they abide <sup>k</sup> even as I. <sup>9</sup> But if they have not continency, <sup>l</sup> let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. <sup>10</sup> But unto the married <sup>m</sup> I give charge, <sup>n</sup> yea not I, but the Lord, <sup>o</sup> That the wife depart not from her husband <sup>11</sup> (but and if she depart, <sup>o</sup> let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and <sup>n</sup> that the husband leave not his wife. <sup>12</sup> But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. <sup>13</sup> And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. <sup>14</sup> For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: <sup>p</sup> else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. <sup>15</sup> Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called <sup>2</sup> us <sup>q</sup> in peace. <sup>16</sup> For how knowest thou, O wife, <sup>r</sup> whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife? <sup>17</sup> Only, <sup>a</sup> as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. <sup>18</sup> And so ordain I in <sup>a</sup> all the churches. <sup>19</sup> Was any man called being uncircumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? <sup>v</sup> let him not be circumcised. <sup>19</sup> <sup>w</sup> Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but <sup>x</sup> the keeping of the commandments of God. <sup>20</sup> <sup>v</sup> Let each man abide in that calling <sup>wherein</sup> he was called. <sup>21</sup> Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: <sup>3</sup> but if thou canst become free, use <sup>it</sup> rather. <sup>22</sup> For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is <sup>2</sup> the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called, being free, is <sup>a</sup> Christ's bondservant. <sup>23</sup> <sup>b</sup> Ye were bought with a price; <sup>c</sup> become not bondservants of men. <sup>24</sup> Brethren, <sup>d</sup> let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

please his <sup>1</sup>wife. <sup>34</sup> And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. <sup>35</sup> And this I say for your own profit; not that I may <sup>p</sup>cast a <sup>2</sup>snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. <sup>36</sup> But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his <sup>3</sup>virgin daughter, if she be <sup>q</sup>past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. <sup>37</sup> But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own <sup>8</sup>virgin daughter, shall do well. <sup>38</sup> So then both he that giveth his own <sup>3</sup>virgin daughter in marriage <sup>r</sup>doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. <sup>39</sup> <sup>a</sup>A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be <sup>4</sup>dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only <sup>u</sup>in the Lord. <sup>40</sup> But she is happier if she abide as she is, <sup>v</sup>after my judgement: and I think <sup>w</sup>that I also have the Spirit of God.

through whom are all things, and we <sup>k</sup>through him. <sup>7</sup>Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, <sup>l</sup>being used until now to the idol, eat as <sup>m</sup>of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and <sup>m</sup>their conscience being weak is defiled. <sup>8</sup>But <sup>n</sup>meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, <sup>o</sup>are we the worse; nor, if we eat, <sup>p</sup>are we the better. <sup>9</sup>But take heed <sup>q</sup>lest by any means this <sup>8</sup>liberty of yours become a stumblingblock <sup>r</sup>to the weak. <sup>10</sup>For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in <sup>2</sup>an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, <sup>9</sup>be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? <sup>11</sup>For <sup>10</sup>through thy knowledge he that is weak <sup>r</sup>perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. <sup>12</sup>And thus, sinning against the brethren, and <sup>s</sup>wounding their conscience when it is weak, <sup>t</sup>ye sin against Christ. <sup>13</sup>Wherefore, <sup>u</sup>if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. 11 If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? 12 If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. 13 Know ye not that we they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar? 14 Even so did the Lord ordain that we they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. 15 But we I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make me my glorying void. 16 For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for we necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. 17 For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship intrusted to me. 18 What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, we I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel. 19 For we though I was free from all men, we I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might we gain the more. 20 And we to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; 21 to we them that are without law, we as without law, not being without law to God, but we under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. 22 To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: we I am become all things to all men, that we I may by all means save some. 23 And I do all things for the gospel's sake; we that I may be a joint partaker thereof. 24 Know ye not that they which run in a we race run all, but one receiveth we the prize? Even so we run, that ye may attain. 25 And every man that we striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we we an incorruptible. 26 I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so we fight I, as not we beating the air: 27 but I we buffet my body, and we bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, we I myself should be we rejected.

10 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under we the cloud, and all we passed through the sea; and were all baptized we unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; 3 and we did all eat the same we spiritual meat; 4 and we did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Christ. 5 Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for we they were overthrown in the wilderness. 6 Now we these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as we they also lusted. 7 we Neither be ye idolaters, we as were some of them; as it is written, we The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 8 we Neither let us commit fornication, we as some of them committed, and we fell in one day three and twenty thousand. 9 Neither let us tempt the we Lord, we as some of them tempted, and we perished by the serpents. 10 Neither murmur ye, we as some of them murmured, and we perished by we the destroyer. 11 Now these things happened unto them we by way of example; and we they were written for our admonition, we upon whom the ends of the ages are come. 12 Wherefore we let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. 13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but we God is faithful, we who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it.

14 Wherefore, my beloved, we flee from idolatry. 15 I speak we as to wise men; judge ye what I say. 16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a we communion of the blood of Christ? we The we bread which we break, is it not a we com-

2. Can eat at friend's sure but not sacrificed

munition of the body of Christ? <sup>17</sup> seeing that we, who are many, are one <sup>2</sup> bread, <sup>a</sup> one body: for we all partake <sup>3</sup> of the one <sup>2</sup> bread. <sup>18</sup> Behold Israel <sup>a</sup> after the flesh: <sup>a</sup> have not they which eat the sacrifices communion with the altar? <sup>19</sup> What say I then? that a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that <sup>a</sup> an idol is anything? <sup>20</sup> But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, <sup>a</sup> they sacrifice to <sup>a</sup> devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have communion with <sup>a</sup> devils. <sup>21</sup> <sup>w</sup> Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and <sup>a</sup> the cup of <sup>a</sup> devils: ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of <sup>a</sup> the table of <sup>a</sup> devils. <sup>22</sup> Or <sup>a</sup> do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? <sup>a</sup> are we stronger than he?

have you know, that <sup>a</sup> the head of every man is Christ; and <sup>a</sup> the head of the woman is the man; and <sup>a</sup> the head of Christ is God. <sup>4</sup> Every man praying or <sup>a</sup> prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. <sup>5</sup> But every woman praying or <sup>a</sup> prophesying <sup>a</sup> with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same thing <sup>a</sup> as if she were shaven. <sup>6</sup> For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. <sup>7</sup> For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as <sup>a</sup> he is the image and glory of God: but <sup>a</sup> the woman is the glory of the man. <sup>8</sup> For <sup>a</sup> the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man: <sup>9</sup> for neither was the man created for the woman; but <sup>a</sup> the woman for the man: <sup>10</sup> for this cause ought the woman to <sup>a</sup> have a sign of authority on her head, <sup>a</sup> because of the angels. <sup>11</sup> Howbeit <sup>a</sup> neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. <sup>12</sup> For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but <sup>a</sup> all things are of God. <sup>13</sup> Judge ye <sup>a</sup> in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled? <sup>14</sup> Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him? <sup>15</sup> But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering. <sup>16</sup> But <sup>a</sup> if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither <sup>a</sup> the churches of God.

<sup>17</sup> But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. <sup>18</sup> For first of all, when ye come together <sup>a</sup> in the church, <sup>a</sup> I hear that <sup>a</sup> divisions exist among you; and I partly believe it. <sup>19</sup> For <sup>a</sup> there must be also <sup>a</sup> heresies among you, <sup>a</sup> that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. <sup>20</sup> When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper: <sup>21</sup> for in your eating each one taketh before <sup>a</sup> other his own supper; and one is hungry, and <sup>a</sup> another is drunken. <sup>22</sup> What? have ye not houses to eat

<sup>1</sup> church of God, and <sup>n</sup> put them to shame that <sup>2</sup> have not? What shall I say to you? <sup>3</sup> shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. <sup>23</sup> For <sup>o</sup> I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that <sup>p</sup> the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread; <sup>24</sup> and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which <sup>4</sup> is for you: this do in remembrance of me. <sup>25</sup> In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new <sup>5</sup> covenant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.
<sup>26</sup> For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death <sup>q</sup> till he come. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore <sup>r</sup> whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord <sup>s</sup> un-worthily, shall be guilty of <sup>t</sup> the body and the blood of the Lord.
<sup>28</sup> But <sup>u</sup> let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. <sup>29</sup> For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself, if he <sup>v</sup> discern not the body. <sup>30</sup> For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few <sup>w</sup> sleep. <sup>31</sup> But <sup>x</sup> if we <sup>y</sup> discerned ourselves, we should not be judged.
<sup>32</sup> But <sup>z</sup> when we are judged, <sup>a</sup> we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be <sup>b</sup> condemned with the world. <sup>33</sup> Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait
one for another. <sup>34</sup> If any man is hungry, <sup>c</sup> let him eat at home; that your coming together be not unto judgement. And the rest <sup>d</sup> will I set in order <sup>e</sup> whensoever I come.

12 Now <sup>f</sup> concerning spiritual <sup>g</sup> gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. <sup>2</sup> Ye know that <sup>h</sup> when ye were Gentiles <sup>i</sup> ye were led away unto <sup>j</sup> those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. <sup>3</sup> Wherefore I give you to understand, that <sup>k</sup> no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is <sup>l</sup> anathema; and <sup>m</sup> no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup> Now <sup>n</sup> there are diversities of gifts, but <sup>o</sup> the same Spirit. <sup>5</sup> And <sup>p</sup> there are diversities of ministra-tions, and <sup>q</sup> the same Lord. <sup>6</sup> And there are diversities of workings,

but <sup>r</sup> the same God, who worketh all things in all. <sup>7</sup> But <sup>s</sup> to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. <sup>8</sup> For to one is given through the Spirit the word of <sup>t</sup> wisdom; and to another the word of <sup>u</sup> knowledge, according to the same Spirit: <sup>9</sup> to another <sup>v</sup> faith, in the same Spirit; and to another <sup>w</sup> gifts of healings, in the one Spirit;
<sup>10</sup> and to another <sup>x</sup> workings of <sup>y</sup> miracles; and to another <sup>z</sup> prophecy;
and to another <sup>a</sup> discernings of spirits: to another <sup>b</sup> divers kinds of tongues; and to another <sup>c</sup> the interpretation of tongues: <sup>11</sup> but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, <sup>d</sup> dividing to each one severally <sup>e</sup> even as he will.

<sup>12</sup> For as <sup>f</sup> the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many,
are one body; <sup>g</sup> so also is Christ.
<sup>13</sup> For <sup>h</sup> in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether <sup>i</sup> Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and <sup>j</sup> were all made to drink of one Spirit. <sup>14</sup> For the body is not one member, but many. <sup>15</sup> If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body.
<sup>16</sup> And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. <sup>17</sup> If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing?
If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? <sup>18</sup> But now <sup>k</sup> hath God set the members each one of them in the body, <sup>l</sup> even as it pleased him. <sup>19</sup> And if they were all one member, where were the body? <sup>20</sup> But now they are many members, but one body. <sup>21</sup> And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. <sup>22</sup> Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary:
<sup>23</sup> and those <sup>m</sup> parts of the body,
which we think to be less honourable, upon these we <sup>n</sup> bestow more abundant honour; and our un-comely <sup>o</sup> parts have more abundant comeliness; <sup>24</sup> whereas our comely <sup>p</sup> parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that <sup>q</sup> part which lacked; <sup>25</sup> that there should be no <sup>25</sup> schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. <sup>26</sup> And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is <sup>1</sup> honoured, <sup>2</sup> all the members rejoice with it. <sup>27</sup> Now <sup>1</sup> ye are the body of Christ, and <sup>2</sup> severally <sup>3</sup> members thereof. <sup>28</sup> And <sup>2</sup> God hath set some in the church, first <sup>1</sup> apostles, secondly <sup>m</sup> prophets, thirdly <sup>2</sup> teachers, then <sup>3</sup> <sup>o</sup> miracles, then <sup>p</sup> gifts of healings, <sup>q</sup> helps, <sup>4</sup> governments, <sup>o</sup> <sup>divers</sup> kinds of tongues. <sup>29</sup> Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of <sup>3</sup> miracles? <sup>30</sup> have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? <sup>31</sup> But <sup>2</sup> desire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

I <sup>1</sup> If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup> And if I have the gift of <sup>1</sup> prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, <sup>3</sup> so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>4</sup> if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and <sup>5</sup> if I give my body <sup>6</sup> to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. <sup>4</sup> Love suffereth long, and <sup>5</sup> is kind; love <sup>6</sup> envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, <sup>7</sup> is not puffed up, <sup>8</sup> doth not behave itself unseemly, <sup>9</sup> seeketh not its own, is not provoked, <sup>10</sup> taketh not account of evil; <sup>6</sup> rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but <sup>11</sup> rejoiceth with the truth; <sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup> beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, <sup>9</sup> endureth all things. <sup>8</sup> Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away. <sup>9</sup> For <sup>9</sup> we know in part, and we prophesy in part: <sup>10</sup> but <sup>11</sup> when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. <sup>11</sup> When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. <sup>12</sup> For <sup>12</sup> now we see in a mirror, <sup>13</sup> darkly; but <sup>14</sup> then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I <sup>15</sup> know even as also <sup>16</sup> I have been <sup>17</sup> known. <sup>13</sup> But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; <sup>10</sup> and the <sup>11</sup> greatest of these is love.

I <sup>1</sup> Follow after love; yet <sup>2</sup> desire earnestly <sup>3</sup> spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may <sup>4</sup> prophesy. <sup>2</sup> For <sup>2</sup> he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man <sup>12</sup> understandeth; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. <sup>3</sup> But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation. <sup>4</sup> He that speaketh in a tongue <sup>13</sup> edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth <sup>13</sup> edifieth the church. <sup>5</sup> Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but <sup>6</sup> rather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. <sup>6</sup> But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of <sup>7</sup> teaching? <sup>7</sup> Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? <sup>8</sup> For <sup>8</sup> if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? <sup>9</sup> So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be <sup>10</sup> speaking into the air. <sup>10</sup> There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and <sup>11</sup> no kind is without signification. <sup>11</sup> If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh <sup>12</sup> a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian <sup>15</sup> unto me. <sup>12</sup> So also ye, since ye are zealous of <sup>16</sup> spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. <sup>13</sup> Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. <sup>14</sup> For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. <sup>15</sup> What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: <sup>16</sup> I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. <sup>17</sup> Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of <sup>18</sup> the unlearned say <sup>19</sup> the Amen at <sup>20</sup> thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? <sup>21</sup> For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not <sup>22</sup> edified. <sup>23</sup> I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: <sup>24</sup> howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

a revelation be made to another sitting by, <sup>55</sup> let the first keep silence. <sup>56</sup> For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be <sup>57</sup> comforted; <sup>58</sup> and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; <sup>59</sup> for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in <sup>60</sup> all the churches of the saints.

<sup>61</sup> Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but <sup>62</sup> let them be in subjection, as also saith <sup>63</sup> the law. <sup>64</sup> And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. <sup>65</sup> What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

<sup>66</sup> If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. <sup>67</sup> But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

because <sup>9</sup>I persecuted the church of God. <sup>10</sup>But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found <sup>1</sup>vain; but <sup>7</sup>I laboured more abundantly than they all: <sup>8</sup>yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. <sup>11</sup>Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

<sup>12</sup>Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, <sup>13</sup>how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup>But if there is no resurrection of the dead, <sup>14</sup>neither hath Christ been raised: <sup>14</sup>and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching <sup>1</sup>vain, <sup>2</sup>your faith also is <sup>1</sup>vain. <sup>15</sup>Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we witnessed of God that <sup>16</sup>he raised up <sup>17</sup>Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead are not raised. <sup>16</sup>For if the dead are not raised, neither hath Christ been raised: <sup>17</sup>and if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; <sup>18</sup>ye are yet in your sins. <sup>18</sup>Then they also which <sup>19</sup>are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. <sup>19</sup><sup>4</sup>If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, <sup>19</sup>we are of all men most pitiable.

him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that <sup>30</sup>God may be all in all.

<sup>29</sup>Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? <sup>30</sup>why do <sup>31</sup>we also stand in jeopardy every hour? <sup>31</sup>I protest by <sup>32</sup>that glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, <sup>32</sup>I die daily. <sup>32</sup>If after the manner of men <sup>33</sup>I fought with beasts at Ephesus, <sup>33</sup>what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, <sup>34</sup>let us eat and drink, <sup>34</sup>for to-morrow we die. <sup>33</sup>Be not deceived: <sup>34</sup>Evil company doth corrupt good manners. <sup>34</sup><sup>10</sup>Awake up righteously, and sin not; for <sup>35</sup>we some have no knowledge of God: <sup>35</sup>I speak this to move you to shame.

became a living soul. <sup>e</sup>The last Adam became a <sup>f</sup>life-giving spirit. <sup>g</sup>Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual. <sup>h</sup>The first man is of the earth, <sup>i</sup>earthy: <sup>j</sup>the second man is of heaven. <sup>k</sup>As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, <sup>l</sup>such are they also that are heavenly. <sup>m</sup>And <sup>n</sup>as we have borne the image of the earthy, <sup>o</sup>we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

I shall have passed through <sup>az</sup>Macedonia; for <sup>ba</sup>I do pass through Macedonia; <sup>bb</sup>but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may <sup>bc</sup>set me forward on my journey whithersoever I go. <sup>bd</sup>For I do not wish to see you now <sup>be</sup>by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, <sup>bf</sup>if the Lord permit. <sup>bg</sup>But I will tarry at Ephesus until <sup>bh</sup>Pentecost; <sup>bi</sup>for <sup>bj</sup>a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and <sup>bk</sup>there are many adversaries.

1 Many ancient authorities read let us also bear. 2 Many ancient authorities omit this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and. 3 Or, victoriously. 4 Or, will. 5 Or, whomsoever ye shall approve, them will I send with letters. 6 Or, God's will that he should come now. 7 Gr. presence. 8 That is, Our Lord cometh.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

CORINTHIANS.

<sup>x</sup>not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. <sup>13</sup>For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: <sup>14</sup>as also ye did acknowledge us <sup>y</sup>in part, that <sup>z</sup>we are your glorying, even as <sup>aa</sup>ye also are ours, <sup>ab</sup>in the day of our Lord Jesus.

but he that is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; <sup>w</sup>having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart <sup>x</sup>I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But <sup>y</sup>if any hath caused sorrow, <sup>z</sup>he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but <sup>a</sup>in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is <sup>b</sup>this punishment which was inflicted by <sup>1</sup>the many; 7 so that contrariwise <sup>c</sup>ye should <sup>2</sup>rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. 8 Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward him. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know <sup>d</sup>the proof of you, <sup>3e</sup>whether ye are obedient in all things. 10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also; for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it in the <sup>4</sup>person of Christ; 11 that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for <sup>7</sup>we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when <sup>u</sup>I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when <sup>a</sup>a door was opened unto me in the Lord, 13 <sup>i</sup>I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. 14 But <sup>j</sup>thanks be unto God, which always <sup>k</sup>leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us <sup>l</sup>the savour of his knowledge in every place. 15 For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in <sup>m</sup>them that are being saved, and in <sup>n</sup>them that are perishing; 16 <sup>o</sup>to the one a savour from death unto death; <sup>o</sup>to the other a savour from life unto life. And <sup>p</sup>who is sufficient for these things? 17 For we are not as the many, <sup>q</sup>6 corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

1 <sup>r</sup>Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, <sup>s</sup>as do some, <sup>t</sup>epistles of commendation to you or from you? 2 <sup>u</sup>Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; 3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of <sup>v</sup>the living God; not in <sup>w</sup>tables of stone, but in <sup>x</sup>tables that are <sup>y</sup>hearts of flesh. 4 And <sup>z</sup>such confidence have we through Christ to God-ward: 5 <sup>a</sup>not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but <sup>b</sup>our sufficiency is from God; 6 who also made us sufficient as <sup>c</sup>ministers of <sup>d</sup>a new <sup>e</sup>covenant; not of <sup>f</sup>the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but <sup>g</sup>the spirit giveth life. 7 But if <sup>h</sup>the ministration of death, <sup>i</sup>written, and engraven on stones, came <sup>j</sup>with glory, <sup>k</sup>so that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which glory <sup>l</sup>was passing away: 8 how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory? 9 <sup>10</sup>For if <sup>j</sup>the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth <sup>k</sup>the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 11 For if that which <sup>11</sup>passeth away <sup>12</sup>was with glory, much more that which remaineth <sup>13</sup>is in glory.

12 Having therefore such a hope, <sup>1</sup>we use great boldness of speech, 13 and <sup>2</sup>are not as Moses, <sup>3</sup>who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly <sup>13</sup>on the end of that which <sup>9</sup>was passing away: 14 but <sup>4</sup>their <sup>14</sup>minds were <sup>o</sup>hardened: for until this very day <sup>2</sup>at the reading of <sup>4</sup>the old <sup>e</sup>covenant the same veil <sup>15</sup>remaineth unlifted, which <sup>16</sup>veil is done away in Christ. 15 But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. 16 But whensoever <sup>16</sup>it shall turn to the 11 Knowing therefore <sup>b</sup>the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but <sup>c</sup>we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. 12 <sup>d</sup>We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but <sup>e</sup>speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we <sup>f</sup>are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ <sup>g</sup>constraineth us; because we thus judge, that <sup>h</sup>one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, <sup>i</sup>that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but <sup>j</sup>unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth <sup>k</sup>know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know <sup>l</sup>him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is <sup>m</sup>in Christ, <sup>n</sup>he is <sup>o</sup>a new creature: <sup>p</sup>the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 But all things are of God, <sup>q</sup>who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us <sup>r</sup>the ministry of reconciliation; 19 to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, <sup>s</sup>not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having <sup>t</sup>committed unto us <sup>u</sup>the word of reconciliation.

20 <sup>v</sup>We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, <sup>w</sup>as though God were intreating by us: we beseech <sup>x</sup>you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. 21 <sup>y</sup>Him who knew no sin <sup>z</sup>he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become <sup>a</sup>the righteousness of God in him. 22 <sup>b</sup>And <sup>c</sup>working together with <sup>d</sup>him <sup>e</sup>we intreat also <sup>f</sup>that ye receive not the grace of God in vain 2 (for he saith, <sup>g</sup>At an acceptable time I hearkened unto thee, And in a day of salvation did I succour thee: behold, <sup>h</sup>now is the <sup>i</sup>acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): 3 <sup>j</sup>giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; 4 but in everything commending ourselves, <sup>k</sup>as ministers of God, <sup>l</sup>in much patience, <sup>m</sup>in afflictions, <sup>n</sup>in necessities, in distresses, 5 <sup>o</sup>in stripes, in imprisonments, <sup>p</sup>in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; 6 <sup>q</sup>in pureness, <sup>r</sup>in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, <sup>s</sup>in the <sup>t</sup>Holy Ghost, in <sup>u</sup>love unfeigned, 7 in <sup>v</sup>the word of truth, <sup>w</sup>in the power of God; <sup>x</sup>by <sup>y</sup>the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, 8 by glory and dishonour, <sup>z</sup>by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and <sup>a</sup>yet true; 9 as unknown, and <sup>b</sup>yet well known; <sup>c</sup>as dying, and behold, we live; <sup>d</sup>as chastened, and not killed; 10 <sup>e</sup>as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; <sup>f</sup>as poor, yet making many rich; <sup>g</sup>as having nothing, and <sup>h</sup>yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, <sup>i</sup>our heart is enlarged. 12 Ye are not straitened in us, but <sup>j</sup>ye are straitened in your own affections. 13 Now <sup>k</sup>for a recompense in like kind (I speak <sup>l</sup>as unto my children), be ye also enlarged.

And touch no unclean thing; And I will receive you, 18 <sup>y</sup>And will be to you a Father, And ye shall be to me sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. 19 Having therefore these promises, beloved, <sup>z</sup>let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2<sup>12</sup> Open your hearts to us: ° we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man. 3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ° ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. 4 ° Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is ° my glorying on your behalf: ° I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even ° when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; ° without were fightings, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless ° he that comforteth the lowly, even God, ° comforted us by the 2 coming of Titus; 7 and not by his 2 coming only, but also by the comfort where with he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. 8 For ° though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though ° I did regret; 8 for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season. 9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but ° that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. 10 For ° a godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but ° the sorrow of the world worketh death. 11 For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, ° what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause ° that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore ° we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit ° hath been refreshed by you all. 14 For ° if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you ° in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth. 15 And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth ° the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. 16 I rejoice that in everything ° I am of good courage concerning you.

8 1 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been ° given in the churches of Macedonia; 2 how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and ° their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their ° liberality. 3 For ° according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, 4 beseeching us with much intreaty ° in regard of this grace and the fellowship in ° the ministering to the saints: 5 and this, not as we had hoped, but first they ° gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God. 6 Inasmuch that ° we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you ° this grace also. 7 But as ° ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in ° your love to us, ° see that ye abound in this grace also. 8 ° I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. 9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, ° though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. 10 And herein ° I give my judgement: for ° this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning ° a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. 11 But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. 12 For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable ° according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. 13 For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye distressed: 14 but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for ° their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for <sup>a</sup> your want; that there may be equality: <sup>15</sup> as it is written, <sup>b</sup> He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh <sup>4</sup> (for <sup>r</sup> the weapons of <sup>s</sup> our warfare are not of the flesh, but <sup>t</sup> mighty <sup>u</sup> before God <sup>v</sup> to the casting down of strong holds); <sup>5</sup> casting down <sup>1</sup> imaginations, and <sup>w</sup> every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to <sup>x</sup> the obedience of Christ; <sup>6</sup> and <sup>y</sup> being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, <sup>z</sup> when your obedience shall be fulfilled. <sup>7</sup> <sup>a</sup> Ye look at the things that are before your face. <sup>b</sup> If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as <sup>c</sup> he is Christ's, <sup>d</sup> so also are we. <sup>8</sup> For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning <sup>e</sup> our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: <sup>9</sup> that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. <sup>10</sup> For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but <sup>f</sup> his bodily presence is weak, and <sup>g</sup> his speech of no account. <sup>11</sup> Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such <sup>are</sup> we also in deed when we are present. <sup>12</sup> For we are not bold <sup>3</sup> to number or <sup>h</sup> compare ourselves with certain of them that <sup>i</sup> commend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are <sup>j</sup> without understanding. <sup>13</sup> But we will not glory <sup>k</sup> beyond <sup>our</sup> measure, but <sup>l</sup> according to the measure of the <sup>4</sup> province which God apportioned to us as a measure, <sup>m</sup> to reach even unto you. <sup>14</sup> For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for <sup>n</sup> we <sup>5</sup> came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: <sup>15</sup> not glorying beyond <sup>our</sup> measure, <sup>that is</sup>, in other men's labours; but having hope that, <sup>o</sup> as your faith groweth, we shall be <sup>p</sup> magnified in you according to our <sup>4</sup> province unto <sup>further</sup> abundance, <sup>16</sup> so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's <sup>4</sup> province in regard of things ready to our hand. <sup>17</sup> But <sup>q</sup> he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. <sup>18</sup> For <sup>r</sup> not he that commendeth himself is approved, but <sup>s</sup> whom the Lord commendeth.

therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as <sup>v</sup> ministers of righteousness; <sup>w</sup> whose end shall be according to their works.

<sup>x</sup> 16 I say again, <sup>x</sup> Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive me, that I also may glory a little. <sup>y</sup> 17 That which I speak, <sup>y</sup> I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, <sup>z</sup> in this confidence of glorying. <sup>a</sup> 18 Seeing that <sup>a</sup> many glory after the flesh, I will glory also. <sup>b</sup> 19 For ye bear with the foolish gladly, <sup>b</sup> being wise yourselves. <sup>c</sup> 20 For ye bear with a man, if he <sup>c</sup> bringeth you into bondage, <sup>d</sup> if he <sup>d</sup> devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, <sup>e</sup> if he smiteth you on the face. <sup>e</sup> 21 I speak by way of disparagement, <sup>f</sup> as though we had been weak.

Yet whereinsoever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. <sup>g</sup> 22 Are they Hebrews? <sup>g</sup> so am I. Are they Israelites? <sup>h</sup> so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? <sup>i</sup> so am I. <sup>i</sup> 23 Are they <sup>i</sup> ministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) <sup>j</sup> I more; in labours more abundantly, <sup>j</sup> in prisons more abundantly, <sup>k</sup> in stripes above measure, <sup>k</sup> in deaths oft. <sup>k</sup> 24 Of the Jews five times received I <sup>k</sup> forty stripes save one. <sup>l</sup> 25 Thrice was I <sup>l</sup> beaten with rods, <sup>l</sup> once was I stoned, thrice I <sup>m</sup> suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; <sup>m</sup> 26 in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, <sup>n</sup> in perils from <sup>n</sup> my <sup>n</sup> countrymen, <sup>n</sup> in perils from the Gentiles, <sup>o</sup> in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; <sup>o</sup> 27 in labour and travail, in watchings often, <sup>p</sup> in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. <sup>p</sup> 28 Beside those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for <sup>q</sup> all the churches. <sup>q</sup> 29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? <sup>r</sup> 30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. <sup>r</sup> 31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, <sup>s</sup> he who is blessed <sup>s</sup> for evermore, <sup>s</sup> knoweth that I lie not. <sup>t</sup> 32 In Damascus the governor under <sup>t</sup> Aretas the king <sup>t</sup> guarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me: <sup>u</sup> 33 and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

<sup>x</sup> 12 I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and <sup>y</sup> revelations of the Lord. <sup>y</sup> 2 I know a man <sup>y</sup> in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; <sup>z</sup> God knoweth), such a one <sup>z</sup> caught up even to <sup>z</sup> the third heaven. <sup>a</sup> 3 And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; <sup>a</sup> God knoweth), <sup>b</sup> how that he was caught up into <sup>b</sup> Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. <sup>c</sup> 5 On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, <sup>c</sup> save in my weaknesses. <sup>d</sup> 6 For if I should desire to glory, <sup>d</sup> I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or heareth from me. <sup>e</sup> 7 And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, <sup>f</sup> that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me <sup>f</sup> a <sup>f</sup> thorn in the flesh, <sup>f</sup> a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. <sup>g</sup> 8 Concerning this thing I besought the Lord <sup>g</sup> thrice, that it might depart from me. <sup>g</sup> 9 And he hath said unto me, <sup>h</sup> My grace is sufficient for thee: for <sup>h</sup> my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that <sup>i</sup> the power of Christ may <sup>i</sup> rest upon me. <sup>j</sup> 10 Wherefore, <sup>j</sup> I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, <sup>k</sup> for Christ's sake: for <sup>k</sup> when I am weak, then am I strong.

1 Cor. 9. except it be that <sup>b</sup> I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, <sup>c</sup> this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for <sup>d</sup> I seek not yours, but you: for <sup>e</sup> the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but <sup>f</sup> the parents for the children. 15 And <sup>g</sup> I will most gladly spend and be <sup>h</sup> spent for your souls. If <sup>i</sup> I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? 16 But be it so, <sup>j</sup> I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. 17 Did I take advantage of you <sup>k</sup> by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? 18 <sup>l</sup> I exhorted Titus, and I sent <sup>m</sup> the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 <sup>n</sup> Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. <sup>o</sup> In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But <sup>p</sup> all things, beloved, are for your edifying. 20 For I fear, lest by any means, <sup>q</sup> when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, <sup>r</sup> tumults; 21 lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them <sup>s</sup> that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and <sup>t</sup> fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

13 <sup>u</sup> This is the third time I am coming to you. <sup>v</sup> At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established. 2 <sup>w</sup> I have said <sup>x</sup> beforehand, and I do say <sup>y</sup> beforehand, <sup>z</sup> as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to <sup>aa</sup> them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, <sup>ab</sup> if I come again, I will not spare; <sup>ac</sup> seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ <sup>ad</sup> that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but <sup>ae</sup> is powerful in you; <sup>af</sup> for <sup>ag</sup> he was crucified through weakness, yet he <sup>ah</sup> liveth through the power of God. For <sup>ai</sup> we also are weak <sup>aj</sup> in him, but <sup>ak</sup> we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. 5 Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; <sup>al</sup> prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that <sup>am</sup> Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. 6 But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. 7 Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, <sup>an</sup> though we be as reprobate. 8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. 9 For we rejoice, when <sup>ao</sup> we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even <sup>ap</sup> your perfecting. 10 For this cause I write these things while absent, <sup>aq</sup> that I may not when present deal <sup>ar</sup> sharply, according to <sup>as</sup> the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

13 <sup>ba</sup> All the saints salute you.

14 <sup>bb</sup> The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and <sup>bc</sup> the love of God, and <sup>bd</sup> the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all.

I PAUL, <sup>a</sup>an apostle (<sup>b</sup>not from men, neither through <sup>1</sup>man, but <sup>c</sup>through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, <sup>d</sup>who raised him from the dead), <sup>2</sup>and all <sup>e</sup>the brethren which are with me, unto <sup>f</sup>the churches of Galatia: <sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace <sup>2</sup>from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>4</sup>who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present <sup>5</sup>evil <sup>6</sup>world, according to the will of <sup>7</sup>our God and Father: <sup>5</sup>to whom <sup>8</sup>be the glory <sup>4</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

of my fathers. <sup>15</sup>But when it was the good pleasure of God, <sup>24</sup>who separated me, even <sup>25</sup>from my mother's womb, and <sup>26</sup>called me through his grace, <sup>16</sup>to reveal his Son in me, <sup>27</sup>that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: <sup>17</sup>neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

maketh no matter to me: *God accepteth not man's person) — they, I say, who were of repute *imparted nothing to me: 7 but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been <sup>b</sup>intrusted with <sup>c</sup>the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with <sup>d</sup>the gospel of the circumcision 8 (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me also unto the Gentiles); 9 and when they perceived <sup>a</sup>the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they <sup>v</sup>who <sup>1</sup>were reputed to be <sup>c</sup>pillars, <sup>f</sup>gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the circumcision; 10 only <sup>they would</sup> that we should remember the poor; <sup>g</sup>which very thing I was also zealous to do.

11 But <sup>h</sup>when Cephas came to Antioch, I resisted him <sup>i</sup>to the face, because he stood condemned. 12 For before that certain came from James, <sup>j</sup>he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing <sup>k</sup>them that were of the circumcision. 13 And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; inasmuch that even Barnabas was carried away with their dissimulation. 14 But when I saw that they <sup>l</sup>walked not uprightly according to <sup>m</sup>the truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas <sup>n</sup>before <sup>them</sup> all, If thou, being a Jew, <sup>o</sup>livest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, how compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews? 15 We being Jews by nature, and not <sup>p</sup>sinners of the Gentiles, 16 yet knowing that <sup>q</sup>a man is not justified by <sup>r</sup>the works of the law, <sup>s</sup>save through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: <sup>t</sup>because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. 17 But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found <sup>u</sup>sinners, is Christ a minister of sin? God forbid. 18 For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a transgressor. 19 For I through <sup>v</sup>the law <sup>w</sup>died unto <sup>x</sup>the law, that I might <sup>y</sup>live unto God.

20 I have been <sup>z</sup>crucified with Christ; <sup>a</sup>yet I live; and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth <sup>b</sup>in me: and that <sup>c</sup>life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, <sup>d</sup>the faith which is in the Son of God, <sup>e</sup>who loved me, and <sup>f</sup>gave himself up for me. 21 I do not make void the grace of God: for <sup>g</sup>if righteousness is through <sup>h</sup>the law, <sup>i</sup>then Christ died for nought.

1 O foolish Galatians, who did <sup>j</sup>3 bewitch you, <sup>k</sup>before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly <sup>l</sup>set forth crucified? 2 This only would I learn from you, <sup>m</sup>Received ye the Spirit by <sup>n</sup>the works of the law, or by <sup>o</sup>the <sup>p</sup>hearing of faith? 3 Are ye so foolish? <sup>q</sup>having begun in the Spirit, <sup>r</sup>are ye now perfected in the flesh? 4 <sup>s</sup>Did ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain. 5 He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and <sup>t</sup>worketh <sup>u</sup>miracles <sup>v</sup>among you, <sup>w</sup>doeth he <sup>x</sup>it <sup>y</sup>by <sup>z</sup>the works of the law, or by the <sup>a</sup>hearing of faith? 6 Even as <sup>b</sup>Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 7 <sup>c</sup>Know therefore that <sup>d</sup>they which be of faith, the same are <sup>e</sup>sons of Abraham. 8 And the scripture, foreseeing that <sup>f</sup>God <sup>g</sup>would justify the <sup>h</sup>Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, <sup>i</sup>saying, <sup>j</sup>In thee shall all the nations be blessed. 9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham. 10 For as many as are of <sup>k</sup>the works of the law are <sup>l</sup>under a curse: for it is written, <sup>m</sup>Cursed is every one which continueth not in <sup>n</sup>all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them. 11 Now that <sup>o</sup>no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, is evident: for, <sup>p</sup>The righteous shall live by faith; 12 and the law is not of faith; but, <sup>q</sup>He that doeth them shall live in them. 13 Christ <sup>r</sup>redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written, <sup>s</sup>Cursed is every one that hangeth <sup>t</sup>on a tree: 14 that <sup>u</sup>upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that <sup>v</sup>we might receive <sup>w</sup>the promise of the Spirit through faith. 15 Brethren, <sup>x</sup>I speak after the manner of men: <sup>d</sup> Though it be but a man's <sup>1</sup> covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. <sup>16</sup> Now <sup>e</sup> to Abraham were <sup>f</sup> the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, <sup>g</sup> And to thy seed, which is Christ. <sup>17</sup> Now this I say; A <sup>1</sup> covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came <sup>h</sup> four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as <sup>i</sup> to make the promise of none effect. <sup>18</sup> For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but <sup>j</sup> God hath granted it to Abraham by promise. <sup>19</sup> What then is the law? <sup>k</sup> It was added because of transgressions, <sup>l</sup> till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and it was <sup>m</sup> ordained through angels <sup>n</sup> by the hand of a mediator. <sup>20</sup> Now <sup>o</sup> a mediator is not a mediator of one; but <sup>p</sup> God is one. <sup>21</sup> Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for <sup>q</sup> if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. <sup>22</sup> Howbeit the scripture <sup>r</sup> hath shut up all things under sin, that <sup>s</sup> the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given <sup>t</sup> to them that believe.

<sup>21</sup> Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law? <sup>22</sup> For it is written, that Abra-

2 Or, the faith

5 Gr. spat out.

6 Or,

ham had two sons, <sup>k</sup>one by the handmaid, and <sup>l</sup>one by the freewoman. <sup>m</sup>23 Howbeit <sup>n</sup>the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but <sup>n</sup>the son by the freewoman <sup>is</sup> born through promise. <sup>24</sup> Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two <sup>o</sup>covenants; <sup>p</sup>one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. <sup>25</sup> <sup>1</sup>Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. <sup>26</sup> But <sup>q</sup>the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. <sup>27</sup> For it is written,

<sup>r</sup>Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not;

Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

<sup>3</sup> Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that <sup>f</sup>he is a debtor to do the whole law.

lump. <sup>10</sup> <sup>q</sup>I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be <sup>r</sup>none otherwise minded: but <sup>s</sup>he that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whosoever he be. <sup>11</sup> But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, <sup>t</sup>why am I still persecuted? then hath <sup>u</sup>the stumbling-block of the cross been done away. <sup>12</sup> I would that <sup>v</sup>they which unsettle you would even <sup>w</sup>cut themselves off.

that we should be <sup>a</sup>unto the praise of his glory, we who <sup>1</sup>had before hoped in Christ: <sup>13</sup>in whom ye also, having heard <sup>e</sup>the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation, — in whom, having also believed, <sup>f</sup>ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit <sup>g</sup>of promise, <sup>14</sup>which is <sup>h</sup>an earnest of our <sup>i</sup>inheritance, unto <sup>j</sup>the redemption of <sup>k</sup>God's own possession, <sup>l</sup>unto the praise of his glory.

grant you, according to <sup>x</sup>the riches of his glory, <sup>y</sup>that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in <sup>z</sup>the inward man; <sup>17</sup>a that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being <sup>b</sup>rooted and <sup>c</sup>grounded in love, <sup>18</sup>may be strong to <sup>d</sup>apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and <sup>e</sup>height and depth, <sup>19</sup>and to know the love of Christ <sup>f</sup>which passeth knowledge, that <sup>g</sup>ye may be filled unto all <sup>h</sup>the fulness of God.

<sup>15</sup><sup>q</sup>Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise; <sup>16</sup><sup>12</sup><sup>g</sup>redeeming the time, because <sup>r</sup>the days are evil. <sup>17</sup>Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what

* the will of the Lord is. 18 And 'be not drunken with wine, wherein is
 'riot, but <sup>v</sup> be filled <sup>1</sup> with the Spirit; 19 speaking <sup>2</sup> one to another in 'psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody
 with your heart to the Lord; 20 <sup>a</sup> giving thanks always for all things <sup>v</sup> in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to <sup>3</sup> God, even the Father; 21 <sup>a</sup> subjecting yourselves
 one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 <sup>a</sup> Wives, <sup>b</sup> be in subjection unto your own husbands, <sup>c</sup> as unto the Lord. 23 For <sup>d</sup> the husband is the head of the wife, as <sup>e</sup> Christ also is the head of the church, <sup>f</sup> being <sup>g</sup> himself the saviour of the body. 24 But as the church is subject to Christ, <sup>h</sup> so let the wives also <sup>i</sup> be to their husbands <sup>j</sup> in everything. 25 <sup>k</sup> Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and <sup>l</sup> gave himself up for it; 26 that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by <sup>m</sup> the <sup>n</sup> washing of water <sup>o</sup> with the word, 27 <sup>p</sup> that he might present
 the church to himself a glorious church, <sup>q</sup> not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
 28 Even so ought <sup>r</sup> husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself: 29 for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the church; 30 because <sup>s</sup> we are members of his body.
 31 <sup>t</sup> For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and <sup>u</sup> the twain shall become one flesh. 32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church.
 33 Nevertheless do ye also severally <sup>v</sup> love each one his own wife even as himself; and <sup>w</sup> let the wife see that she <sup>x</sup> fear her husband.

6 <sup>y</sup> Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.
 2 <sup>z</sup> Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), 3 that it may be well with thee, and thou <sup>a</sup> mayest live long on the <sup>b</sup> earth. 4 And,
 ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: <sup>c</sup> but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord.

5 <sup>d</sup> <sup>w</sup> Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your <sup>e</sup> masters, with fear and trembling, <sup>f</sup> in singleness of your heart, <sup>g</sup> as unto Christ; 6 not in the way of eyeservice, as <sup>h</sup> men-pleasers;
 but as <sup>i</sup> servants of Christ, doing
 the will of God from the <sup>j</sup> heart; 7 with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto men:
 8 <sup>k</sup> knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, <sup>l</sup> whether he be bond or free. 9 And, ye <sup>m</sup> masters, do the same things unto them, <sup>n</sup> and forbear threatening:
 knowing that <sup>o</sup> both their Master and yours is in heaven, and <sup>p</sup> there is no respect of persons with him.

10 <sup>q</sup> Finally, <sup>r</sup> be strong in the Lord, and in <sup>s</sup> the strength of his might. 11 <sup>t</sup> Put on <sup>u</sup> the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against <sup>v</sup> the wiles of the devil. 12 For <sup>w</sup> our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against <sup>x</sup> the principalities, against the powers, against <sup>y</sup> the world-rulers of <sup>z</sup> this darkness, against <sup>a</sup> the spiri-
 venly places. 13 Wherefore <sup>d</sup> take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand <sup>e</sup> the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. 14 Stand therefore, <sup>f</sup> having girded your loins with truth, and <sup>g</sup> having put on the breastplate of righteousness, 15 and <sup>h</sup> having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; 16 withal taking up <sup>i</sup> the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all <sup>j</sup> the fiery darts of <sup>k</sup> the evil one.
 17 And take <sup>l</sup> the helmet of salvation, and <sup>m</sup> the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: 18 <sup>n</sup> with all prayer and supplication praying <sup>o</sup> at all seasons <sup>p</sup> in the Spirit, and <sup>q</sup> watching thereunto in all perseverance and <sup>r</sup> supplication for all the saints, 19 and <sup>s</sup> on my behalf, that utterance may be given unto me <sup>t</sup> in opening my mouth, to make known <sup>u</sup> with boldness <sup>v</sup> the mystery of the gospel, 20 for which I <sup>w</sup> am

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

<sup>3</sup>I thank my God <sup>f</sup>upon all my remembrance of you, <sup>4</sup>always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, <sup>5</sup>for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; <sup>6</sup>being confident of this very thing, that he which began <sup>a</sup>a good work in you <sup>1</sup>will perfect it until <sup>j</sup>the day of Jesus Christ: <sup>7</sup>even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because <sup>4</sup>I have you <sup>k</sup>in my heart, inasmuch as, both <sup>1</sup>in my bonds and in <sup>m</sup>the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are <sup>n</sup>partakers with me of grace. <sup>8</sup>For <sup>o</sup>God is my witness, <sup>p</sup>how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. <sup>9</sup>And this I pray, that <sup>q</sup>your love may abound yet more and more <sup>r</sup>in knowledge and all discernment; <sup>10</sup>so that ye may <sup>s</sup>approve the things that are excellent; <sup>t</sup>that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto <sup>u</sup>the day of Christ; <sup>11</sup>being filled with <sup>v</sup>the <sup>6</sup>fruits of righteousness, which are <sup>w</sup>through Jesus Christ, <sup>x</sup>unto the glory and praise of God.

<sup>12</sup>Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto <sup>v</sup>the progress of the gospel; <sup>13</sup>so that <sup>z</sup>my bonds became manifest in Christ <sup>7</sup>throughout the whole prætorian guard, and <sup>a</sup>to all the rest; <sup>14</sup>and that most of the brethren in the Lord, <sup>8</sup>being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold <sup>b</sup>to speak the word of God without fear. <sup>15</sup>Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: <sup>16</sup>the one do it of love, <sup>d</sup>knowing that I am set for <sup>e</sup>the defence of the gospel: <sup>17</sup>but the other proclaim Christ <sup>f</sup>of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds. <sup>18</sup>What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. <sup>19</sup>For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, <sup>9</sup>through your supplication and <sup>h</sup>the supply of <sup>i</sup>the Spirit of Jesus Christ, <sup>20</sup>according to my earnest expectation and hope, <sup>j</sup>that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all <sup>k</sup>boldness, as always, <sup>20</sup>now also Christ <sup>1</sup>shall be magnified in my body, <sup>m</sup>whether by life, or by death. <sup>21</sup>For to me <sup>n</sup>to live is Christ, and to die is gain. <sup>22</sup><sup>9</sup>But if to live in the flesh, — if this is the fruit of my work, then <sup>10</sup>what I shall choose <sup>11</sup>I wot not. <sup>23</sup><sup>o</sup>But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire <sup>p</sup>to depart and <sup>q</sup>be with Christ; for it is very far better: <sup>24</sup>yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. <sup>25</sup>And <sup>r</sup>having this confidence, <sup>s</sup>I know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your <sup>1</sup>progress and <sup>2</sup>joy <sup>1</sup>in the faith; <sup>26</sup>that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. <sup>27</sup>Only <sup>27</sup>let your manner of life be <sup>27</sup>worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, <sup>27</sup>that ye stand fast in one spirit, with <sup>27</sup>one soul <sup>27</sup>striving <sup>27</sup>for the faith of the gospel; <sup>28</sup>and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them <sup>27</sup>an evident token of perdition, but <sup>27</sup>of your salvation, and that from God; <sup>29</sup>because to you <sup>27</sup>it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also <sup>27</sup>to suffer in his behalf: <sup>30</sup>having the same <sup>27</sup>conflict which <sup>27</sup>ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of <sup>27</sup>love, if any <sup>27</sup>fellowship of the Spirit, if any <sup>27</sup>tender mercies and compassions, <sup>27</sup>fulfil ye my joy, that ye be <sup>27</sup>of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, <sup>27</sup>of one mind; <sup>3</sup>doing nothing through <sup>27</sup>faction or through <sup>27</sup>vainglory, but <sup>27</sup>in lowliness of mind each counting other better than himself; <sup>4</sup>not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. <sup>5</sup>Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: <sup>6</sup>who, <sup>5</sup>being in <sup>27</sup>the form of God, counted it not <sup>6</sup>a prize to be on an equality with God, <sup>7</sup>but <sup>27</sup>emptied himself, taking the form of a <sup>7</sup>servant, <sup>8</sup>being made in the likeness of men; <sup>8</sup>and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, <sup>9</sup>becoming obedient even unto death, <sup>9</sup>yea, the death of the cross. <sup>9</sup>Wherefore also <sup>27</sup>God <sup>27</sup>highly exalted him, and gave unto him <sup>27</sup>the name which is above every name; <sup>10</sup>that in the name of Jesus <sup>27</sup>every knee should bow, <sup>27</sup>of things in heaven and things on earth and <sup>27</sup>things under the earth, <sup>11</sup>and that <sup>27</sup>every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is <sup>27</sup>Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

<sup>12</sup>So then, my beloved, <sup>27</sup>even as ye have always <sup>27</sup>obeyed, not <sup>10</sup>as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; <sup>13</sup>for <sup>27</sup>it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for <sup>27</sup>his good pleasure. <sup>14</sup>Do all things <sup>27</sup>without murmurings and <sup>27</sup>disputings; <sup>15</sup>that ye may be blameless and harmless, <sup>27</sup>children of God <sup>27</sup>without blemish <sup>27</sup>in the midst of <sup>27</sup>a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen <sup>27</sup>as <sup>11</sup>lights in the world, <sup>16</sup>holding forth <sup>27</sup>the word of life; that <sup>27</sup>I may have whereof to glory in <sup>27</sup>the day of Christ, that <sup>27</sup>I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. <sup>17</sup>Yea, and if I am <sup>12</sup>offered upon the sacrifice and <sup>27</sup>service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: <sup>18</sup>and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

<sup>19</sup>But I hope in the Lord Jesus <sup>27</sup>to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state. <sup>20</sup>For I care no man <sup>27</sup>likeminded, who will care <sup>18</sup>truly for your state. <sup>21</sup>For they all <sup>27</sup>seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. <sup>22</sup>But ye know <sup>27</sup>the proof of him, that, as a child serveth a father, <sup>20</sup>he served with me in furtherance of the gospel. <sup>23</sup>Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: <sup>24</sup>but <sup>27</sup>I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. <sup>25</sup>But I counted it necessary to send to you <sup>27</sup>Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and <sup>27</sup>fellow-soldier, and your <sup>27</sup>messenger and <sup>27</sup>minister to my need; <sup>26</sup>since he longed <sup>15</sup>after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: <sup>27</sup>for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. <sup>28</sup>I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. <sup>29</sup>Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy ; and I hold such in honour : 3 because <sup>k</sup> for the work of <sup>1</sup> Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life <sup>l</sup> to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

1 Finally, my brethren, <sup>2m</sup> rejoice in the Lord. <sup>a</sup> To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. <sup>2</sup> Beware of <sup>o</sup> the dogs, beware of <sup>p</sup> the evil workers, beware of the concision : 3 for <sup>a</sup> we are the circumcision, <sup>r</sup> who worship <sup>b</sup> by the Spirit of God, and <sup>g</sup> glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh : 4 <sup>u</sup> though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh : if any other man <sup>s</sup> thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more : 5 <sup>v</sup> circumcised the eighth day, <sup>w</sup> of the stock of Israel, <sup>x</sup> of the tribe of Benjamin, <sup>y</sup> a Hebrew of Hebrews ; as touching the law, <sup>a</sup> a Pharisee ; 6 <sup>z</sup> as touching zeal, <sup>a</sup> persecuting the church ; <sup>b</sup> as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. 7 Howbeit <sup>c</sup> what things were <sup>d</sup> gain to me, <sup>e</sup> these have I counted loss for Christ. 8 Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for <sup>f</sup> the excellency of <sup>g</sup> the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord : for whom I <sup>h</sup> suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but <sup>i</sup> dung, that I may gain Christ, 9 and be found in him, <sup>j</sup> not having <sup>k</sup> a righteousness of mine own, <sup>l</sup> even that which is of the law, but <sup>m</sup> that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God <sup>n</sup> by faith : 10 <sup>o</sup> that I may know him, and <sup>p</sup> the power of his resurrection, and <sup>q</sup> the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed unto his death ; 11 if by any means I may <sup>r</sup> attain unto the resurrection from the dead. 12 Not that I have already <sup>s</sup> obtained, or <sup>t</sup> am already made perfect ; but I press on, if so be that I may <sup>u</sup> apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus. 13 Brethren, I count not myself <sup>v</sup> yet to have apprehended : but one thing I <sup>w</sup> do, <sup>x</sup> forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, 14 I press on toward the goal unto <sup>a</sup> the prize of the <sup>10</sup> high calling of God in Christ Jesus. 15 Let us therefore, as many as be <sup>b</sup> perfect, be thus minded : and if in anything <sup>c</sup> ye are otherwise minded, <sup>d</sup> even this shall God reveal unto you : 16 only, whereunto we have already attained, <sup>e</sup> by that same rule let us walk.

17 Brethren, <sup>w</sup> be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk <sup>x</sup> even as ye have us for an ensample. 18 For <sup>y</sup> many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you <sup>z</sup> even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ : 19 <sup>a</sup> whose end is perdition, <sup>b</sup> whose <sup>c</sup> god is the belly, and <sup>d</sup> whose glory is in their shame, who <sup>e</sup> mind earthly things. 20 For <sup>f</sup> our <sup>11</sup> citizenship is in heaven ; <sup>g</sup> from whence also we <sup>h</sup> wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ : 21 who shall fashion anew <sup>i</sup> the body of our humiliation, that it may be <sup>j</sup> conformed to the body of his glory, <sup>k</sup> according to the working whereby he is able even <sup>l</sup> to subject all things unto himself.

1 Wherefore, my brethren be <sup>4</sup> loved and <sup>1</sup> longed for, <sup>m</sup> my joy and <sup>n</sup> crown, so <sup>o</sup> stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be <sup>p</sup> of the same mind in the Lord. 3 Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, <sup>q</sup> whose names are in the book of life.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are <sup>14</sup> honourable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely,

<sup>10</sup>But I <sup>3</sup>rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length <sup>c</sup>ye have revived your thought for me; <sup>4</sup>wherein ye did indeed take thought, but ye lacked opportunity. <sup>11</sup>Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be <sup>d</sup>content. <sup>12</sup>I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound: in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and <sup>e</sup>to be hungry, both to abound and <sup>f</sup>to be in want. <sup>13</sup>I can do all things <sup>g</sup>in him that strengtheneth me. <sup>14</sup>Howbeit ye did well, that <sup>h</sup>ye had fellowship with my affliction. <sup>15</sup>And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that <sup>i</sup>in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, <sup>j</sup>no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; <sup>16</sup>for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. <sup>17</sup><sup>k</sup>Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for <sup>l</sup>the fruit that increaseth to your account. <sup>18</sup>But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, <sup>m</sup>having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, <sup>n</sup>an odour of a sweet smell, <sup>o</sup>a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God. <sup>19</sup>And my God <sup>p</sup>shall fulfil every need of yours <sup>q</sup>according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup>Now unto <sup>r</sup>our God and Father be <sup>s</sup>the glory <sup>t</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

of Christ on <sup>v</sup>our behalf, <sup>w</sup>who also declared unto us your <sup>x</sup>love in the Spirit.

manner of <sup>w</sup> entering in we had unto you; and how <sup>x</sup> ye turned unto God <sup>y</sup> from idols, to serve a living and <sup>z</sup> true God, <sup>10</sup> and <sup>a</sup> to wait for his Son <sup>b</sup> from heaven, <sup>c</sup> whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, <sup>d</sup> which delivereth us from <sup>e</sup> the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our <sup>f</sup> entering in unto you, <sup>g</sup> that it hath not been found vain: <sup>h</sup> but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, <sup>i</sup> at Philippi, <sup>j</sup> we waxed bold in our God <sup>k</sup> to speak unto you the gospel of God in much <sup>l</sup> conflict. 3 For <sup>m</sup> our exhortation <sup>n</sup> is not of <sup>o</sup> error, nor of <sup>p</sup> uncleanness, nor <sup>q</sup> in guile: <sup>r</sup> 4 but even as we have been approved of God <sup>s</sup> to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as <sup>t</sup> pleasing men, but God <sup>u</sup> which proveth our hearts. 5 For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness, <sup>v</sup> God is witness; 6 nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, <sup>w</sup> when we might have <sup>x</sup> been <sup>y</sup> burdensome, as <sup>z</sup> apostles of Christ. 7 But we were <sup>2y</sup> gentle in the midst of you, <sup>a</sup> as when a nurse cherisheth her own children: 8 even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, <sup>b</sup> but also our own souls, because ye were become very dear to us. 9 For ye remember, brethren, <sup>c</sup> our labour and travail: <sup>d</sup> working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. 10 Ye are witnesses, and <sup>e</sup> God also, <sup>f</sup> how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe: 11 as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, <sup>g</sup> as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, and <sup>h</sup> testifying, 12 to the end that <sup>i</sup> ye should walk worthily of God, <sup>j</sup> who <sup>k</sup> calleth you into <sup>l</sup> his own kingdom and glory.

13 And for this cause <sup>k</sup> we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us <sup>41</sup> the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it <sup>m</sup> not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, <sup>n</sup> which also worketh in you that believe. 14 For ye, brethren, <sup>o</sup> became imitators of <sup>p</sup> the churches of God which are in Judæa in Christ Jesus: for <sup>q</sup> ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, <sup>r</sup> even as they did of the Jews; 15 <sup>s</sup> who both killed the Lord Jesus and <sup>t</sup> the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, and <sup>u</sup> are contrary to all men; 16 <sup>v</sup> forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; <sup>w</sup> to fill up their sins alway: but <sup>x</sup> the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for <sup>5</sup> a short season, <sup>y</sup> in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly <sup>z</sup> to see your face with great desire: 18 because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and Satan <sup>a</sup> hindered us. 19 For what is our hope, or <sup>b</sup> joy, or crown of glorying? <sup>c</sup> Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at his <sup>d</sup> coming? 20 For ye are our glory and our joy.

1 Wherefore when we could 3 no longer forbear, we thought <sup>i</sup> it good <sup>e</sup> to be left behind at Athens alone; 2 and <sup>f</sup> sent Timothy, <sup>g</sup> our brother and <sup>h</sup> God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; 3 that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that <sup>i</sup> hereunto we are appointed. 4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you <sup>8</sup> beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; <sup>j</sup> even as it came to pass, and ye know. 5 For this cause I also, <sup>k</sup> when I could no longer forbear, <sup>l</sup> sent that I might know your faith, <sup>m</sup> lest by any means <sup>n</sup> the tempter had tempted you, and <sup>o</sup> our labour should be in vain. 6 But <sup>p</sup> when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of <sup>o</sup> your faith and love, and <sup>p</sup> that ye have good remembrance of us always, <sup>q</sup> longing to see us, even as we also <sup>r</sup> to see you; 7 for this cause, brethren, <sup>s</sup> we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith: 8 for now we live, if ye <sup>t</sup> stand fast in the Lord. 9 For <sup>u</sup> what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God; <sup>10</sup> "night and day praying exceedingly <sup>v</sup> that we may see your face, and <sup>w</sup> may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

honestly toward them <sup>a</sup> that are without, and may have need of nothing.

<sup>13</sup> But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; <sup>k</sup> that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, <sup>i</sup> which have no hope. <sup>14</sup> For <sup>j</sup> if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so <sup>k</sup> them also that are fallen asleep <sup>7</sup> in Jesus will God bring with him. <sup>15</sup> For this we say unto you <sup>i</sup> by the word of the Lord, that <sup>m</sup> we that are alive, that are left unto <sup>n</sup> the <sup>1</sup> coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. <sup>16</sup> For <sup>o</sup> the Lord himself shall descend <sup>p</sup> from heaven, <sup>q</sup> with a shout, with the voice of <sup>r</sup> the archangel, and <sup>a</sup> with the trump of God: and <sup>t</sup> the dead in Christ shall rise first: <sup>17</sup> then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be <sup>u</sup> caught up <sup>v</sup> in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so <sup>w</sup> shall we ever be with the Lord. <sup>18</sup> Wherefore <sup>8</sup> <sup>a</sup> comfort one another with these words.

1 <sup>a</sup> PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; 2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 <sup>b</sup> We are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth; 4 so that <sup>c</sup> we ourselves glory in you <sup>d</sup> in the churches of God for your patience and faith <sup>e</sup> in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; 5 <sup>f</sup> which is <sup>g</sup> a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be <sup>h</sup> counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer. 6 if so be that it is <sup>i</sup> a righteous thing with God <sup>j</sup> to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, 7 and to you that are afflicted <sup>k</sup> rest with us, <sup>l</sup> at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven <sup>m</sup> with the angels of his power <sup>n</sup> in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them <sup>o</sup> that know not

God, and to them that <sup>p</sup> obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: 9 who shall suffer punishment, <sup>q</sup> even eternal destruction <sup>r</sup> from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 10 <sup>s</sup> when he shall come <sup>t</sup> to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our <sup>u</sup> testimony unto you <sup>v</sup> was believed) in <sup>w</sup> that day. 11 To which end we also <sup>x</sup> pray always for you, that our God may <sup>y</sup> count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every <sup>z</sup> desire of goodness and <sup>aa</sup> every <sup>ab</sup> work of faith, with power; 12 that the name of our Lord Jesus <sup>ac</sup> may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

in any wise: for it will not be, <sup>1</sup>except the falling away come first, and <sup>2</sup>the man of <sup>1</sup>sin be revealed, <sup>3</sup>and the son of perdition, <sup>4</sup>he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or <sup>2</sup>that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the <sup>3</sup>temple of God, <sup>m</sup>setting himself forth as God. <sup>5</sup>Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? <sup>6</sup>And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. <sup>7</sup>For <sup>n</sup>the mystery of lawlessness <sup>o</sup>doth already work: <sup>4</sup>only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. <sup>8</sup>And then shall be revealed <sup>p</sup>the lawless one, whom the Lord <sup>5</sup>Jesus <sup>q</sup>shall <sup>6</sup>slay with <sup>r</sup>the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by <sup>s</sup>the manifestation of his <sup>7</sup>coming; <sup>9</sup>even he, whose <sup>7</sup>coming is according to the working of Satan <sup>t</sup>with all <sup>8</sup>power and signs and lying wonders, <sup>10</sup>and with all deceit of unrighteousness for <sup>u</sup>them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. <sup>11</sup>And for this cause <sup>v</sup>God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe <sup>w</sup>a lie: <sup>12</sup>that they all might be judged <sup>x</sup>who believed not the truth, but <sup>y</sup>had pleasure in unrighteousness.

<sup>17</sup>The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write. <sup>18</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

1 PAUL, <sup>a</sup>an apostle of Christ
I Jesus <sup>b</sup>according to the commandment of <sup>c</sup>God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus <sup>d</sup>our hope; <sup>e</sup>unto Timothy, <sup>f</sup>my true child in faith:
<sup>g</sup>Grace, mercy, peace, from God
the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

<sup>h</sup>As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not <sup>i</sup>to teach a different doctrine, <sup>j</sup>neither <sup>k</sup>to give heed to fables and endless <sup>l</sup>genealogies, the which minister <sup>m</sup>question-ings, rather than <sup>n</sup>a <sup>o</sup>dispensation of God which is in faith; so do I now. <sup>p</sup>But the end of the charge is love <sup>q</sup>out of a pure heart and <sup>r</sup>a good conscience and <sup>s</sup>faith unfeigned: <sup>t</sup>from which things some having <sup>u</sup>swerved have turned aside unto <sup>v</sup>vain talking; <sup>w</sup>desiring to be teachers of the law, <sup>x</sup>though they understand neither what they say, nor whereof they confidently affirm.
But we know that <sup>y</sup>the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, <sup>z</sup>as knowing this, that <sup>a</sup>law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for <sup>b</sup>murderers of fathers and <sup>c</sup>murderers of mothers, for manslayers, <sup>d</sup>for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to <sup>e</sup>the <sup>f</sup>sound <sup>g</sup>doctrine; <sup>h</sup>according to <sup>i</sup>the gospel of the glory of <sup>j</sup>the blessed God, <sup>k</sup>which was committed to my trust.

<sup>l</sup>I thank him <sup>m</sup>that <sup>n</sup>enabled me,
even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, <sup>o</sup>appointing me to <sup>p</sup>his service; <sup>q</sup>though I was before a blasphemer, and <sup>r</sup>a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit <sup>s</sup>I obtained mercy, <sup>t</sup>because I did it ignorantly in unbelief; <sup>u</sup>and <sup>v</sup>the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with <sup>w</sup>faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. <sup>x</sup>Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all accep-tation, that Christ Jesus <sup>y</sup>came into the world to save sinners; <sup>z</sup>of whom I am chief: <sup>a</sup>howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life. <sup>b</sup>Now unto <sup>c</sup>the King <sup>d</sup>eternal, <sup>e</sup>incorruptible, <sup>f</sup>invisible, <sup>g</sup>the only God, <sup>h</sup>be honour and glory

<sup>i</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

<sup>j</sup>This charge <sup>k</sup>I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to <sup>l</sup>the prophecies which <sup>m</sup>went before on thee, that by them thou mayest <sup>n</sup>war the good warfare; <sup>o</sup>holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them <sup>p</sup>made shipwreck concerning the faith: <sup>q</sup>of whom is <sup>r</sup>Hymenæus and <sup>s</sup>Alexander; whom I <sup>t</sup>delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to <sup>u</sup>blaspheme.

<sup>v</sup>I exhort therefore, first of 2 all, <sup>w</sup>that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; <sup>x</sup>for kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and <sup>y</sup>gravity. <sup>z</sup>This is good and <sup>a</sup>acceptable in the sight of <sup>b</sup>God our Saviour; <sup>c</sup>who willeth <sup>d</sup>that all men should be saved, and <sup>e</sup>come to <sup>f</sup>the knowledge of the truth. <sup>g</sup>For <sup>h</sup>there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, <sup>i</sup>himself man, Christ Jesus, <sup>j</sup>who gave himself a ransom for all; <sup>k</sup>the testimony to be borne <sup>l</sup>in its own times; <sup>m</sup>whereunto I was appointed a <sup>n</sup>preacher and an apostle (<sup>o</sup>I speak the truth, I lie not), <sup>p</sup>a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

<sup>q</sup>I desire therefore that the men
pray <sup>r</sup>in every place, <sup>s</sup>lifting up <sup>t</sup>holy hands, without wrath and <sup>u</sup>disputing. <sup>v</sup>In like manner, <sup>w</sup>that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair,
and gold or pearls or costly raiment;
<sup>x</sup>to <sup>y</sup>but (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. <sup>11</sup> Let a woman learn in quietness <sup>12</sup> with all subjection. <sup>13</sup> But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. <sup>14</sup> For Adam was first formed, <sup>15</sup> then Eve; <sup>16</sup> and Adam was not beguiled, but <sup>17</sup> the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression: <sup>18</sup> but she shall be saved through <sup>19</sup> the child-bearing, if they continue in <sup>20</sup> faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

<sup>14</sup> These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; <sup>15</sup> but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know <sup>16</sup> how men ought to behave themselves in <sup>17</sup> the house of God, which is the church of the

all. 16<sup>c</sup> Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save <sup>d</sup>both thyself and <sup>e</sup>them that hear thee.

17 Let the elders <sup>d</sup>that rule well be counted worthy of <sup>e</sup>double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. <sup>18</sup>For the scripture saith, <sup>f</sup>Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, <sup>g</sup>The labourer is worthy of his hire. <sup>19</sup>Against an elder receive not an accusation, except <sup>h</sup>at the mouth of two or three witnesses. <sup>20</sup>Them that sin <sup>i</sup>reprove in the sight of all, <sup>j</sup>that the rest also may be in fear. <sup>21</sup><sup>k</sup>I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without <sup>2</sup>prejudice, <sup>4</sup>doing nothing by partiality. <sup>22</sup><sup>m</sup>Lay hands <sup>n</sup>hastily on no man, neither <sup>o</sup>be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. <sup>23</sup>Be no longer a drinker of water, but <sup>p</sup>use a little wine <sup>q</sup>for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. <sup>24</sup>Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. <sup>25</sup>In like manner also <sup>3</sup>there are good works that are evident; and <sup>r</sup>such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

1<sup>s</sup> Let as many as are <sup>4</sup>servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, <sup>t</sup>that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. <sup>2</sup>And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are <sup>u</sup>brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that <sup>v</sup>partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. <sup>3</sup>These things teach and exhort.

<sup>11</sup>But thou, <sup>20</sup>O man of God, <sup>0</sup>flee these things; and <sup>p</sup>follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. <sup>12</sup><sup>q</sup>Fight the good fight of the faith, <sup>2</sup>lay hold on the life eternal, <sup>2</sup>whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess <sup>1</sup>the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. <sup>13</sup><sup>1</sup>I charge thee in the sight of God, who <sup>2</sup>quickeneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, <sup>v</sup>who before Pontius Pilate witnessed <sup>1</sup>the good confession; <sup>14</sup>that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until <sup>w</sup>the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: <sup>15</sup>which <sup>2</sup>in <sup>3</sup>its own times he shall shew, who is <sup>v</sup>the blessed and

things; not gainsaying; 10 not perloining, <sup>1</sup>but shewing all good fidelity; <sup>2</sup>that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. 11 For <sup>3</sup>the grace of God <sup>1</sup>hath appeared, bringing salvation <sup>1</sup>to all men, <sup>12</sup>instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and <sup>4</sup>worldly lusts, <sup>1</sup>we should live soberly and righteously and godly in <sup>5</sup>this present <sup>2</sup>world; 13 <sup>6</sup>looking for the blessed <sup>6</sup>hope and <sup>7</sup>appearing of the glory <sup>8</sup>of our great <sup>9</sup>God and Saviour Jesus Christ; 14 <sup>7</sup>who gave himself for us, that he might <sup>8</sup>redeem us from all iniquity, and <sup>9</sup>purify unto himself <sup>10</sup>a people for his own possession, <sup>11</sup>zealous of good works.

his mercy he saved us, through <sup>11</sup>the <sup>12</sup>washing of regeneration <sup>13</sup>and <sup>14</sup>renewing of the <sup>15</sup>Holy Ghost, 6 which he <sup>16</sup>poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; 7 that, <sup>17</sup>being justified by his grace, we might be made <sup>18</sup>heirs <sup>19</sup>according to the hope of eternal life. 8 <sup>20</sup>Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful <sup>21</sup>to <sup>22</sup>maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men: 9 but <sup>23</sup>shun foolish <sup>24</sup>questionings, and <sup>25</sup>genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for <sup>26</sup>they are unprofitable and vain. 10 A man that is <sup>27</sup>heretical <sup>28</sup>after a first and second admonition <sup>29</sup>refuse; 11 knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned.

12 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or <sup>30</sup>Tychicus, give diligence to come unto me <sup>31</sup>to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter. 13 Set forward Zenas the lawyer and <sup>32</sup>Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. 14 And let our people also learn <sup>33</sup>to <sup>34</sup>maintain good works for necessary <sup>35</sup>uses, that they be not <sup>36</sup>unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Salute them that love us in faith.

I God, having of old time spoken unto the fathers in the prophets by divers portions and <sup>a</sup> in divers manners, <sup>2</sup> hath <sup>b</sup> at the end of these days <sup>c</sup> spoken unto us in <sup>7</sup> his Son, whom he appointed <sup>e</sup> heir of all things, <sup>f</sup> through whom also he made <sup>o</sup> the <sup>3</sup> worlds; <sup>3</sup> who being <sup>h</sup> the effulgence of his glory, and <sup>9</sup> <sup>i</sup> the very image of his substance, and <sup>j</sup> upholding all things by the word of his power, when <sup>k</sup> he had made purification of sins, <sup>l</sup> sat down <sup>m</sup> on the right hand of the Majesty on high; <sup>4</sup> having become by so much better than the angels, as <sup>n</sup> he hath inherited a more excellent name than they. <sup>5</sup> For unto which of the angels said he at any time,

<sup>o</sup> Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee?

and again,

<sup>p</sup> I will be to him a Father,
And he shall be to me a Son?

<sup>6</sup> <sup>10</sup> And when he again <sup>11</sup> bringeth in <sup>q</sup> the firstborn into <sup>12</sup> the world he saith, <sup>r</sup> And let all the angels of God worship him. <sup>7</sup> And of the angels he saith,

<sup>s</sup> Who maketh his angels <sup>13</sup> winds,
And his ministers a flame of fire:

<sup>8</sup> but of the Son he saith,

<sup>t</sup> Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;

And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of <sup>14</sup> thy kingdom.

<sup>w</sup> Thou, Lord, in the beginning

hast laid the foundation of the earth,

And the heavens are the works of thy hands:

11 They shall perish; but thou continuest:

And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,

As a garment, and they shall be changed:

But thou art the same,

And thy years shall not fail.

13 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,

<sup>a</sup>Sit thou on my right hand,

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, <sup>b</sup>sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?

1 Therefore we ought to give <sup>c</sup>the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them.

2 For if <sup>d</sup>the word spoken through angels proved stedfast, and <sup>e</sup>every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward; 3 how shall we escape, if we <sup>f</sup>neglect so great salvation?

which <sup>g</sup>having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was <sup>h</sup>confirmed unto us <sup>i</sup>by them that heard;

4 <sup>j</sup>God also bearing witness with them, both <sup>k</sup>by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by <sup>l</sup>1<sup>m</sup> gifts of the <sup>n</sup>Holy Ghost, <sup>o</sup>according to his own will.

5 For not unto angels did he subject <sup>p</sup>the world <sup>q</sup>to come, whereof we speak. 6 But one hath somewhere testified, saying,

<sup>r</sup>What is man, that thou art mindful of him?

Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him <sup>s</sup>a little lower than the angels;

Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,

<sup>t</sup>And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now <sup>u</sup>we see not yet all things subjected to him. 9 But we behold him <sup>v</sup>who hath been made <sup>w</sup>a little lower than the angels, <sup>x</sup>even Jesus, <sup>y</sup>because of the suffering of death <sup>z</sup>crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should <sup>aa</sup>taste death <sup>ab</sup>for every man. 10 For it <sup>ac</sup>became him, <sup>ad</sup>for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, <sup>ae</sup>in bringing many sons <sup>af</sup>unto glory, to make the <sup>ag</sup>author of their salvation <sup>ah</sup>perfect through sufferings. 11 For both <sup>ai</sup>he that sanctifieth and <sup>aj</sup>they that are sanctified <sup>ak</sup>are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them <sup>al</sup>brethren, 12 saying,

<sup>am</sup>I will declare thy name unto my brethren,

In the midst of the <sup>an</sup>congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, <sup>ao</sup>I will put my trust in him. And again, <sup>ap</sup>Behold, I and the children <sup>aq</sup>which God hath given me. 14 Since then the children are sharers in <sup>ar</sup>flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner <sup>as</sup>partook of the same; that <sup>at</sup>through death he <sup>au</sup>might <sup>av</sup>bring to nought <sup>aw</sup>him that <sup>ax</sup>had the power of death, that is, the devil; 15 and <sup>ay</sup>might deliver all them who <sup>az</sup>through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. 16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he <sup>ba</sup>taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. 17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things <sup>bb</sup>to be made like unto his brethren, <sup>bc</sup>that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest <sup>bd</sup>in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. 18 <sup>be</sup>For <sup>bf</sup>in that he himself hath suffered <sup>bg</sup>being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

he that <sup>1</sup>built the house hath more honour than the house. <sup>4</sup>For every house is <sup>1</sup>built by some one; but <sup>2</sup>he that <sup>1</sup>built all things is God. <sup>5</sup><sup>u</sup>And Moses indeed was faithful in all <sup>2</sup>his house <sup>2</sup>as a servant, <sup>a</sup>for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; <sup>6</sup>but Christ <sup>b</sup>as a son, over <sup>2</sup>his house; <sup>c</sup>whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm <sup>d</sup>unto the end. <sup>7</sup>Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,

<sup>e</sup>To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
<sup>8</sup>Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,

Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

<sup>9</sup><sup>3</sup>Wherewith your fathers tempted <sup>me</sup> by proving <sup>me</sup>,
And saw my works <sup>f</sup>forty years.

<sup>10</sup>Wherefore I was displeased with this generation,

And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways;

<sup>4</sup>They shall not enter into my rest.

<sup>12</sup>Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from <sup>h</sup>the living God: <sup>13</sup>but <sup>i</sup>exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by <sup>j</sup>the deceitfulness of sin: <sup>14</sup>for we are become partakers <sup>k</sup>of Christ, <sup>k</sup>if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto the end: <sup>15</sup>while it is said,

Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

<sup>16</sup>For <sup>l</sup>who, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not <sup>m</sup>all they that came out of Egypt by Moses?

<sup>17</sup>And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, <sup>n</sup>whose <sup>o</sup>carcasses fell in the wilderness? <sup>18</sup>And to whom sware he that <sup>o</sup>they should not enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? <sup>19</sup>And we see that <sup>p</sup>they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem <sup>q</sup>to have come short of it. <sup>2</sup>For indeed we have had <sup>7</sup>good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but <sup>r</sup>the word of hearing did not profit them, because <sup>s</sup>they were not united by faith with them that heard. <sup>3</sup><sup>8</sup>For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

<sup>t</sup>As I swear in my wrath,

<sup>4</sup>They shall not enter into my rest:

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

<sup>4</sup>For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, <sup>u</sup>And God rested on the seventh day from all his works; <sup>5</sup>and in this place again,

<sup>6</sup>Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter thereinto, and they to whom <sup>10</sup>the good tidings were before preached <sup>w</sup>failed to enter in because of disobedience, <sup>7</sup>he again defineth a certain day, <sup>11</sup>saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

<sup>x</sup>To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.

15 For we have not a high priest<sup>1</sup> that hath been touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points<sup>2</sup> tempted like as we are,<sup>3</sup> yet without sin.<sup>4</sup> 16<sup>a</sup> Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

1 For every high priest, being taken from among men,<sup>5</sup> is appointed for men<sup>6</sup> in things pertaining to God,<sup>7</sup> that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: 2<sup>a</sup> who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also<sup>8</sup> is compassed with infirmity; 3 and by reason thereof is bound,<sup>9</sup> as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of God,<sup>10</sup> even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also<sup>11</sup> glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,

This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh,<sup>12</sup> having offered up prayers and supplications<sup>13</sup> with strong crying and tears unto him<sup>14</sup> that was able to save him<sup>15</sup> from death, and<sup>16</sup> having been heard for his godly fear, 8 though<sup>17</sup> he was a Son, yet<sup>18</sup> learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 9 and<sup>19</sup> having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the<sup>20</sup> author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest<sup>21</sup> after the order of Melchizedek.

11 Of<sup>22</sup> whom we have many things to say, and<sup>23</sup> hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again<sup>24</sup> that some one teach you the rudiments of<sup>25</sup> the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of<sup>26</sup> milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is<sup>27</sup> a babe. 14 But solid food is for<sup>28</sup> fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised<sup>29</sup> to discern good and evil.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that<sup>51</sup> accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for<sup>52</sup> God is not unrighteous to forget<sup>53</sup> your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye<sup>54</sup> ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. 11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the<sup>55</sup> fulness of hope even to the end: 12 that ye be not sluggish, but<sup>56</sup> imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater,<sup>57</sup> he swore by himself, 14 saying,<sup>58</sup> Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. 15 And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. 16 For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs <sup>m</sup> the oath is final for confirmation. 17 Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto <sup>n</sup> the heirs of the promise <sup>o</sup> the immutability of his counsel, 1<sup>p</sup> interposed with an oath: 18 that by two immutable things, in which <sup>q</sup> it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope <sup>r</sup> set before us; 19 which we have as an anchor of the soul, <sup>a</sup> hope both sure and stedfast and entering into that which is <sup>s</sup> within the veil; 20 <sup>t</sup> whether as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, <sup>u</sup> having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

1 For this <sup>v</sup> Melchizedek, king of <sup>w</sup> Salem, priest of <sup>x</sup> God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him, 2 to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all <sup>y</sup> by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; 3 without father, without mother, <sup>y</sup> without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, <sup>z</sup> the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief spoils. 5 And <sup>a</sup> they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the loins of Abraham: 6 but he <sup>b</sup> whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed <sup>c</sup> him that hath the promises. 7 But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better. 8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, <sup>d</sup> of whom it is witnessed that <sup>e</sup> he liveth. 9 And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, hath paid tithes; 10 for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need <sup>f</sup> was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also <sup>g</sup> of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said <sup>h</sup> belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung <sup>i</sup> out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. 15 And <sup>j</sup> what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, 16 who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an <sup>k</sup> endless life: 17 for it is witnessed of him,

After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment <sup>i</sup> because of its weakness and unprofitableness 19 (for <sup>j</sup> the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of <sup>k</sup> a better hope, through which <sup>l</sup> we draw nigh unto God. 20 And inasmuch as <sup>m</sup> it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath <sup>n</sup> by him that saith <sup>o</sup> of him,

<sup>p</sup> The Lord sware and will not repent himself,

Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of <sup>q</sup> a better <sup>r</sup> covenant. 23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing: 24 but he, because he abideth <sup>s</sup> for ever, <sup>t</sup> hath his priesthood <sup>u</sup> unchangeable. 25 Wherefore also he is able to save <sup>v</sup> to the uttermost <sup>w</sup> them that draw near unto God <sup>x</sup> through him, seeing he ever liveth <sup>y</sup> to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, <sup>z</sup> holy, guileless, undefiled, <sup>a</sup> separated from sinners, and <sup>b</sup> made higher than the heavens; 27 who needeth not daily, like those high

Use ch. 5.3. priests, to offer up sacrifices, <sup>v</sup>first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did <sup>w</sup>once for all, when he offered up himself. <sup>28</sup> For the law appointeth men high priests, <sup>x</sup>having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, <sup>y</sup>perfected for evermore.

<sup>1</sup> Now <sup>2</sup> in the things which 8 we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, <sup>z</sup>who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, <sup>2a</sup> a minister of <sup>3</sup>the sanctuary, and of <sup>a</sup>the true tabernacle, which the Lord <sup>b</sup>pitched, not man. <sup>3</sup> For <sup>c</sup>every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore <sup>d</sup>it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. <sup>4</sup> Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law; <sup>5</sup> who serve that which is <sup>e</sup>a copy and <sup>f</sup>shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to <sup>g</sup>make the tabernacle for, <sup>o</sup>See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the mount. <sup>6</sup> But now hath he obtained a ministry <sup>h</sup>the more excellent, by how much also he is <sup>i</sup>the mediator of <sup>j</sup>a better <sup>5</sup>covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. <sup>7</sup> <sup>k</sup>For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second. <sup>8</sup> For finding fault with them, he saith,

That I will <sup>m</sup>make a new <sup>5</sup>covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

9 Not according to the <sup>5</sup>covenant that I made with their fathers In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt; For they continued not in my <sup>5</sup>covenant,

And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the <sup>5</sup>covenant that <sup>n</sup>I will make with the house of Israel

After those days, saith the Lord;

I will put my laws into their mind,

And <sup>o</sup>on their heart also will I write them:

And I will be to them a God, And they shall be to me a people:

11 And they shall not teach every man his fellow-citizen, And every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: For <sup>p</sup>all shall know me, From the least to the greatest of them.

12 For I will be merciful to their iniquities,

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But <sup>r</sup>that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

<sup>1</sup> Now even the first covenant 9 had ordinances of divine service, and <sup>s</sup>its sanctuary of this world. <sup>2</sup> For there was <sup>t</sup>a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein <sup>3</sup>were <sup>u</sup>the candlestick, and <sup>v</sup>the table, and <sup>w</sup>the shewbread; and this is called the Holy place. <sup>3</sup> And after <sup>x</sup>the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies; <sup>4</sup> having a golden <sup>10</sup>censer, and <sup>y</sup>the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein <sup>11</sup>was <sup>z</sup>a golden pot holding the manna, and <sup>a</sup>Aaron's rod that budded, and <sup>b</sup>the tables of the covenant; <sup>5</sup> and above it <sup>c</sup>cherubim of glory overshadowing <sup>12</sup>the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak severally. <sup>6</sup> Now these things having been thus prepared, <sup>e</sup>the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the services; <sup>7</sup> but into the second <sup>f</sup>the high priest alone, <sup>8</sup>once in the year, not without blood, <sup>g</sup>which he offereth for himself, and for the <sup>13</sup>errors of the people: <sup>8</sup> the Holy Ghost this signifying, that <sup>h</sup>the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle is yet standing; <sup>9</sup> which <sup>i</sup>is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices <sup>j</sup>that cannot, as touching the conscience, make the worshipper perfect, ro being only (with j meats and drinks and k divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest 1 of 1 the good things to come, through m the greater and more perfect tabernacle, n not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, 12 nor yet through o the blood of goats and calves, but p through his own blood, q entered in r once for all into the holy place, s having obtained eternal redemption. 13 For if t the blood of goats and bulls, and u the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh: 14 how much more shall v the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit w offered himself without blemish unto God, x cleanse y your conscience z from dead works a to serve the living God? 15 And for this cause he is a the mediator of a new b covenant, b that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first c covenant, c they that have been called may d receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. 16 For where a e testament is, there must of necessity f be the death of him that made it. 17 For g a g testament is of force h where there hath been death: h for doth it ever avail while he that made it liveth? 18 Wherefore even the first i covenant hath not been dedicated j without blood. 19 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took k the blood of the calves and the goats, k with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, 20 saying, 'This is the blood of the l covenant which God commanded to you-ward. 21 Moreover j the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. 22 And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and k apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It was necessary therefore that 1 the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these;

but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. 24 For Christ entered not into a holy place m made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God n for us: 25 nor yet that he should offer himself often; as o the high priest entereth into p the holy place year by year with blood not his own; 26 else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now q once r at the 7 end of the ages s hath he been manifested to put away sin t by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And inasmuch as u 'it is u appointed unto men once to die, and v after this cometh judgement; 28 so Christ also, having been once offered v to bear the sins of w many, shall appear x a second time, y apart from sin, to them that z wait for him, unto salvation.

IO For the law having a a shadow b of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, 10 c they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect them that draw nigh. 2 Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? 3 But d in those sacrifices e there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. 4 For f it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. 5 Wherefore g when he cometh into the world, he saith, h Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not,

But a body didst thou prepare for me;

6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come (In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, h Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldst not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), 9 then hath he said, i 'Lo, I am come j to do thy will. He tak-eth away the first, that he may establish the second. <sup>10</sup> <sup>1</sup>By which will <sup>j</sup>we have been sanctified through the offering of <sup>k</sup>the body of Jesus Christ <sup>l</sup>once for all. <sup>11</sup> And every <sup>2</sup>priest indeed standeth <sup>m</sup>day by day ministering and <sup>n</sup>offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the <sup>o</sup>which can never take away sins: <sup>12</sup> but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for <sup>a</sup>sins for ever, <sup>p</sup>sat down on the right hand of God; <sup>13</sup> from henceforth expecting <sup>q</sup>till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. <sup>14</sup> For by one offering <sup>r</sup>he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. <sup>15</sup> And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

<sup>16</sup> <sup>a</sup>This is the <sup>4</sup>covenant that <sup>5</sup>I will make with them

After those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws on their heart,

And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

<sup>18</sup> Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

<sup>19</sup> <sup>a</sup>Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into <sup>v</sup>the holy place by the blood of Jesus, <sup>20</sup> by <sup>w</sup>the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through <sup>x</sup>the veil, that is to say, his flesh; <sup>21</sup> and <sup>having</sup> <sup>y</sup>a great priest over the house of God; <sup>22</sup> let us draw near with a true heart in <sup>6</sup>fulness of faith, having our hearts <sup>z</sup>sprinkled <sup>a</sup>from an evil <sup>7</sup>conscience, and our body <sup>b</sup>washed with pure water: <sup>23</sup> <sup>c</sup>let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for <sup>d</sup>he is faithful that promised: <sup>24</sup> and <sup>e</sup>let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works; <sup>25</sup> <sup>f</sup>not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting <sup>one another</sup>; and <sup>g</sup>so much the more, as ye see <sup>h</sup>the day drawing nigh.

of judgement, and <sup>m</sup>a <sup>8</sup>fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. <sup>28</sup> <sup>a</sup>A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion <sup>o</sup>on the word of two or three witnesses: <sup>29</sup> of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, <sup>p</sup>who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted <sup>q</sup>the blood of the covenant, <sup>r</sup>wherewith he was sanctified, <sup>s</sup>an unholy thing, and <sup>t</sup>hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? <sup>30</sup> For we know him that said, <sup>4</sup>Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, <sup>u</sup>The Lord shall judge his people. <sup>31</sup> <sup>v</sup>It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

<sup>32</sup> But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after <sup>w</sup>ye were enlightened, ye endured <sup>a</sup>a great conflict of sufferings; <sup>33</sup> partly, being made <sup>y</sup>a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them that were so used. <sup>34</sup> For <sup>z</sup>ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and <sup>a</sup>took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing <sup>10</sup> <sup>b</sup>that <sup>11</sup>ye yourselves have <sup>c</sup>a better possession and an abiding one. <sup>35</sup> Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great <sup>d</sup>recompense of reward. <sup>36</sup> For <sup>e</sup>ye have need of patience, that, <sup>f</sup>having done the will of God, ye may <sup>g</sup>receive the promise.

<sup>38</sup> <sup>j</sup>But <sup>12</sup>my righteous one shall live by faith:

And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.

<sup>39</sup> But we are not <sup>13</sup>of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the <sup>14</sup>saving of the soul.

<sup>2</sup> For therein the elders had witness borne to them. <sup>3</sup> By faith we understand that <sup>l</sup>the <sup>17</sup>worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of <sup>m</sup>things which do appear. 4 By faith <sup>a</sup>Abel offered unto God <sup>a</sup>a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, <sup>1</sup>God bearing witness <sup>2</sup>in respect of his gifts: and <sup>3</sup>through it he being dead yet <sup>a</sup>speaketh. 5 By faith <sup>7</sup>Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: 6 and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God <sup>s</sup>must believe that he is, <sup>a</sup>and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith <sup>t</sup>Noah, being warned of God concerning <sup>u</sup>things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, <sup>a</sup>prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of <sup>v</sup>the righteousness which is according to faith. 8 By faith <sup>w</sup>Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place <sup>x</sup>which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in <sup>v</sup>the land of promise, as in a land not his own, <sup>s</sup>dwelling in tents, <sup>a</sup>with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: 10 for he looked for <sup>b</sup>the city which hath <sup>c</sup>the foundations, <sup>d</sup>whose <sup>4</sup>builder and maker is God. 11 By faith even <sup>a</sup>Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted <sup>f</sup>him faithful who had promised: 12 wherefore also there sprang of one, and <sup>g</sup>him as good as dead, <sup>h</sup>so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

13 These all died <sup>i</sup>in faith, <sup>i</sup>not having received the promises, but <sup>j</sup>having seen them and greeted them from afar, and <sup>k</sup>having confessed that they were <sup>l</sup>strangers and pilgrims on the earth. 14 For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a country of their own. 15 And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, <sup>m</sup>they would have had opportunity to return. 16 But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, <sup>n</sup>to be called their God: for <sup>o</sup>he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith <sup>p</sup>Abraham, being tried, <sup>q</sup>offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son; 18 even he <sup>r</sup>to whom it was said, <sup>a</sup>In Isaac shall thy seed be called: 19 <sup>a</sup>accounting that God is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable receive him back. 20 By faith <sup>t</sup>Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. 21 By faith <sup>u</sup>Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and <sup>v</sup>worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. 22 By faith <sup>v</sup>Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. 23 By faith <sup>w</sup>Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of <sup>x</sup>the king's commandment. 24 By faith Moses, when he was grown up, <sup>y</sup>refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; 25 <sup>z</sup>choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy <sup>a</sup>the pleasures of sin for a season; 26 <sup>b</sup>accounting the reproach of <sup>b</sup>Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked unto <sup>c</sup>the recompense of reward. 27 By faith he <sup>d</sup>forsook Egypt, <sup>e</sup>not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, <sup>f</sup>as seeing him who is invisible. 28 By faith <sup>g</sup>he <sup>g</sup>kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. 29 By faith <sup>h</sup>they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were swallowed up. 30 By faith <sup>i</sup>the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. 31 By faith <sup>j</sup>Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, <sup>k</sup>having received the spies with peace. 32 And what shall I more say? for the time will fail me if I tell of <sup>1</sup>Gideon, <sup>2</sup>Barak, <sup>3</sup>Samson, <sup>4</sup>Jephthah; of <sup>5</sup>David and <sup>6</sup>Samuel and the prophets: <sup>33</sup>who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, <sup>7</sup>obtained promises, <sup>8</sup>stopped

 the mouths of lions, <sup>34</sup>quenched
 the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, <sup>9</sup>waxed mighty in war, <sup>10</sup>turned to flight armies of aliens. <sup>35</sup><sup>11</sup>Women received their dead by a resurrection: and others <sup>12</sup>were <sup>13</sup>tortured, not accepting <sup>14</sup>their deliverance; <sup>15</sup>that they might obtain a better resurrection:
<sup>36</sup>and others had trial of <sup>16</sup>mock-ings and scourgings, yea, moreover of <sup>17</sup>bonds and imprisonment:
<sup>37</sup><sup>18</sup>they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, <sup>19</sup>they were slain with the sword:
<sup>20</sup>they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated <sup>38</sup>(of whom the world was not worthy), <sup>21</sup>wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth. <sup>39</sup>And these all, <sup>22</sup>having had witness borne to them through their faith, <sup>23</sup>received not the promise, <sup>40</sup>God having <sup>24</sup>provided some better thing concerning us, <sup>25</sup>that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside <sup>1</sup>every weight, and <sup>2</sup>the sin which <sup>3</sup>doth so easily beset us, and <sup>4</sup>let us run <sup>5</sup>with patience the race that is <sup>6</sup>set before us, <sup>7</sup>looking unto Jesus the <sup>8</sup>author and perfecter of our faith, <sup>9</sup>who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising <sup>10</sup>shame, and <sup>11</sup>hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.
<sup>3</sup>For <sup>12</sup>consider him that hath endured such gainsaying of sinners against <sup>13</sup>themselves, that ye wax not weary, <sup>14</sup>fainting in your souls.
<sup>4</sup>Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin: <sup>5</sup>and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

<sup>1</sup>My son, <sup>2</sup>regard not lightly
 the chastening of the Lord,

Nor faint when thou art re-
 proved of him;

<sup>6</sup>For <sup>7</sup>whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,

And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

<sup>7</sup><sup>8</sup>It is for chastening that ye endure; <sup>9</sup>God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father chasteneth not? <sup>8</sup>But if ye are without chastening, <sup>10</sup>whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.
<sup>9</sup>Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto <sup>11</sup>the Father of <sup>12</sup>spirits, <sup>13</sup>and live?
<sup>10</sup>For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, <sup>11</sup>that we may be partakers of his holiness.
<sup>11</sup>All chastening seemeth <sup>12</sup>for the present to be not joyous, but grievous:
 yet afterward it yieldeth <sup>13</sup>peaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the fruit of righteousness. <sup>12</sup>Wherefore <sup>14</sup>lift up the hands that hang down, and the palsied knees; <sup>13</sup>and <sup>15</sup>make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not <sup>16</sup>turned out of the way, <sup>17</sup>but rather be healed.

<sup>14</sup>Follow after peace with all men, and the <sup>15</sup>sanctification <sup>16</sup>without which no man shall see the Lord: <sup>15</sup>looking carefully <sup>17</sup>lest
there be any man that <sup>18</sup>falleth short of the grace of God; lest any <sup>19</sup>root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; <sup>16</sup><sup>12</sup>lest there be any <sup>20</sup>for-nicator, or profane person, as Esau, <sup>21</sup>who for one mess of meat sold his own birthright. <sup>17</sup>For ye know that even when <sup>22</sup>he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no <sup>23</sup>place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

<sup>18</sup>For ye are not come unto <sup>24</sup>a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, <sup>19</sup>and <sup>25</sup>the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; <sup>26</sup>which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken

For <sup>40</sup> if they escaped not, when they refused him that warned them on earth, much more shall not we escape, who turn away from him <sup>41</sup> that warneth from heaven: <sup>42</sup> 26 <sup>43</sup> whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, <sup>44</sup> Yet once more will I make to tremble not the earth only, but also the heaven. <sup>45</sup> And this word, Yet once more, signifieth <sup>46</sup> the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. <sup>47</sup> Wherefore, receiving <sup>48</sup> a kingdom that cannot be shaken, <sup>49</sup> let us have <sup>50</sup> grace, whereby we may offer service well-pleasing to God with <sup>51</sup> reverence and awe: <sup>52</sup> for our <sup>53</sup> God is a consuming fire.

I 3 continue. <sup>2</sup> Forget not to shew love unto strangers: for thereby <sup>3</sup> some have entertained angels unawares. <sup>4</sup> Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; them that are evil entreated, as being yourselves also in the body. <sup>5</sup> Let marriage be had in honour among all, and let the bed be undefiled: <sup>6</sup> for fornicators and adulterers God will judge. <sup>7</sup> Be ye <sup>8</sup> free from the love of money; <sup>9</sup> content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, <sup>10</sup> I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. <sup>11</sup> So that with good courage we say,

What shall man do unto me?

<sup>3</sup> Remember them <sup>4</sup> that had the rule over you, which spake unto you the word of God; and considering the issue of their <sup>5</sup> life, <sup>6</sup> imitate their faith. <sup>7</sup> Jesus Christ <sup>8</sup> is <sup>9</sup> the same yesterday and to-day, <sup>10</sup> yea and <sup>11</sup> for ever. <sup>12</sup> Be not <sup>13</sup> carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be established by grace; <sup>14</sup> not by meats, wherein they that <sup>15</sup> occupied themselves were not profited. <sup>16</sup> We have an altar, <sup>17</sup> whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. <sup>18</sup> For <sup>19</sup> the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place <sup>20</sup> by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned <sup>21</sup> without the camp. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people <sup>23</sup> through his own blood, <sup>24</sup> suffered <sup>25</sup> without the gate. <sup>26</sup> Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bearing <sup>27</sup> his reproach. <sup>28</sup> For <sup>29</sup> we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is to come. <sup>30</sup> Through him <sup>31</sup> then let us offer up <sup>32</sup> a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, <sup>33</sup> the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. <sup>34</sup> But to do good and <sup>35</sup> to communicate forget not: for with such <sup>36</sup> sacrifices God is well pleased. <sup>37</sup> Obey them <sup>38</sup> that have the rule over you, and submit to them: <sup>39</sup> for they watch in behalf of your souls, as they that shall <sup>40</sup> give account; <sup>41</sup> that they may do this with joy, and not with <sup>42</sup> grief: for this were unprofitable for you.

<sup>1</sup> Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things. <sup>2</sup> And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, <sup>3</sup> that I may be restored to you the sooner.

this man's religion is vain. 27 Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspeckled from the world.

My brethren, hold not the 2 faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 are ye not divided in your own mind, and become judges with evil thoughts? 5 Harken, my beloved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them that love him? 6 But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before the judgement-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable name by the which ye are called? 8 Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: 9 but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty of all. 11 For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. 12 So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by a law of liberty. 13 For judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can that faith save him? 15 If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself. 18 Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 Thou believest that God is one; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and shudder. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect; 23 and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the friend of God. 24 Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? 26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive heavier judgement. 2 For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. 3 Now if we put the horses' bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 4 Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willet. 5 So the tongue also is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 6 And the tongue is a fire: the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth

1 Or, do ye, in accepting persons, hold the faith . . . glory? 2 Or, assembly 3 Or, do ye not make distinctions 4 Or, among yourselves 5 Or, which was called upon you. 6 Or, But some one will say 7 Some ancient authorities read there is one God. 8 Or, demons. 9 Or, Seest thou . . . perfect? 10 Or, greater. 11 Or, how great a forest 12 Or, a fire, that world of iniquity: the tongue is among our members that which &c. 13 Or, that world of iniquity, the tongue, is among our members that which &c.

<sup>13</sup> Who is wise and understanding among you? <sup>14</sup> let him shew by his good life his works <sup>15</sup> in meekness of wisdom. <sup>14</sup> But if ye have bitter <sup>16</sup> jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against the truth. <sup>15</sup> This wisdom is not <sup>17</sup> a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is earthly, <sup>18</sup> sensual, <sup>19</sup> devilish. <sup>16</sup> For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. <sup>17</sup> But <sup>18</sup> the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then <sup>19</sup> peaceable, <sup>20</sup> gentle, easy to be intreated, <sup>21</sup> full of mercy and good fruits, without <sup>22</sup> variance, <sup>23</sup> without hypocrisy. <sup>18</sup> And <sup>24</sup> the fruit of righteousness <sup>25</sup> is sown in peace <sup>26</sup> for them that make peace.

to dwell in us long unto envying? <sup>6</sup> But <sup>7</sup> he giveth <sup>8</sup> more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, <sup>9</sup> God resisteth the proud, but <sup>10</sup> giveth grace to the humble. <sup>7</sup> Be subject therefore unto God; but <sup>8</sup> resist the devil, and he will flee from you. <sup>8</sup> Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. <sup>9</sup> Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and <sup>10</sup> purify your hearts, <sup>11</sup> ye doubleminded. <sup>9</sup> Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. <sup>10</sup> Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

<sup>11</sup> Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or <sup>12</sup> judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. <sup>12</sup> One only is <sup>13</sup> the lawgiver and <sup>14</sup> judge, even he who is able to save and <sup>15</sup> to destroy: but <sup>16</sup> who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

<sup>13</sup> Go to now, ye that say, <sup>14</sup> To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain: <sup>15</sup> whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For <sup>16</sup> ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then <sup>17</sup> vanisheth away. <sup>15</sup> For that ye ought to say, <sup>16</sup> If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that. <sup>16</sup> But now ye glory in your vauntings: <sup>17</sup> all such glorying is evil. <sup>17</sup> To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

<sup>7</sup> Be patient therefore, brethren, until the <sup>1</sup> coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until <sup>2</sup> it receive <sup>q</sup> the early and latter rain. <sup>8</sup> Be ye also patient; <sup>r</sup> establish your hearts: for the <sup>1</sup> coming of the Lord <sup>s</sup> is at hand. <sup>9</sup> Murmur not, brethren, one against another, <sup>t</sup> that ye be not judged: behold, <sup>u</sup> the judge standeth <sup>v</sup> before the doors. <sup>10</sup> Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, <sup>w</sup> the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord. <sup>11</sup> Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of <sup>x</sup> the <sup>3</sup> patience of Job, and have seen <sup>y</sup> the end of the Lord, how that <sup>z</sup> the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

<sup>12</sup> But above all things, my brethren, <sup>a</sup> swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but <sup>4</sup> let your yea

be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.

<sup>13</sup> Is any among you suffering? let him pray. Is any cheerful? let him <sup>b</sup> sing praise. <sup>14</sup> Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, <sup>5</sup> <sup>c</sup> anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: <sup>15</sup> and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and <sup>d</sup> if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. <sup>16</sup> <sup>e</sup> Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, <sup>f</sup> that ye may be healed. <sup>g</sup> The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. <sup>17</sup> Elijah was a man <sup>h</sup> of like <sup>6</sup> passions with us, and <sup>i</sup> he prayed <sup>7</sup> fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for <sup>j</sup> three years and six months. <sup>18</sup> <sup>k</sup> And he prayed again; and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

<sup>19</sup> My brethren, <sup>l</sup> if any among you do err from the truth, and one <sup>m</sup> convert him; <sup>20</sup> <sup>8</sup> let him know, that he which converteth a sinner from the error of his way <sup>n</sup> shall save a soul from death, and <sup>o</sup> shall cover a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

<sup>3</sup> Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who <sup>h</sup> according to his great mercy <sup>i</sup> begat us again unto a living hope <sup>j</sup> by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, <sup>4</sup> unto <sup>k</sup> an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and <sup>l</sup> that fadeth not away, <sup>m</sup> reserved in heaven for you, <sup>5</sup> who by the power of God are guarded <sup>n</sup> through faith unto a salvation <sup>o</sup> ready to be revealed in the last time. <sup>6</sup> Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in <sup>p</sup> manifold <sup>9</sup> temptations, <sup>7</sup> that <sup>q</sup> the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth <sup>r</sup> though it is proved by <sup>s</sup> fire, might be found unto <sup>t</sup> praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ: <sup>8</sup> <sup>u</sup> whom not having seen ye love; <sup>v</sup> on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and <sup>10</sup> full of glory: <sup>w</sup> receiving <sup>x</sup> the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls. <sup>10</sup> Concerning which salva-

heart fervently: 23<sup>e</sup> having been begotten again, <sup>f</sup>not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of <sup>g</sup>God, <sup>h</sup>which liveth and abideth. 24 For,

<sup>i</sup>All flesh is as grass,
And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass.

The grass withereth, and the flower falleth:

25 <sup>j</sup>But the <sup>k</sup>word of the Lord abideth for ever.

And this is the <sup>l</sup>word <sup>m</sup>of good tidings which was preached unto you.

1<sup>n</sup> Putting away therefore all <sup>o</sup>wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, 2<sup>p</sup>as newborn babes, long for the <sup>q</sup>spiritual<sup>r</sup> milk which is without guile, that ye may grow thereby unto salvation; 3 if ye have <sup>s</sup>tasted that the Lord is gracious: 4 unto whom coming, a living stone,

7<sup>ah</sup> For you therefore which <sup>ai</sup>believe is the <sup>aj</sup>16<sup>ak</sup> preciousness: but for such as <sup>al</sup>disbelieve,

<sup>am</sup>The stone which the builders <sup>an</sup>rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner;

8 and,

17 for they <sup>aq</sup>18<sup>ar</sup> stumble at the word, being disobedient: <sup>as</sup>whereunto also they were appointed. 9 But ye are

<sup>at</sup>an elect race, <sup>au</sup>a royal <sup>av</sup>priesthood, <sup>aw</sup>a holy nation, <sup>ax</sup>a people for <sup>ay</sup>God's own possession, that ye may shew forth the excellencies of him who called you <sup>az</sup>out of darkness into

<sup>ba</sup>his marvellous light: 10<sup>bb</sup> which in time past were no people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Beloved, I beseech you <sup>1</sup>as sojourners and pilgrims, <sup>2</sup>to abstain from fleshly lusts, <sup>3</sup>which war against the soul; <sup>4</sup>having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, <sup>5</sup>they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in <sup>6</sup>the day of visitation.

<sup>7</sup>Be subject to every <sup>8</sup>ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; <sup>9</sup>or unto governors, as sent <sup>10</sup>by him <sup>11</sup>for vengeance on evil-doers and <sup>12</sup>for praise to them that do well. <sup>13</sup>For so is the will of God, <sup>14</sup>that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: <sup>15</sup>as free, and not <sup>16</sup>using your freedom for a cloke of <sup>17</sup>wickedness, but <sup>18</sup>as bondservants of God. <sup>19</sup>Honour all men. <sup>20</sup>Love the brotherhood. <sup>21</sup>Fear God. Honour the king.

<sup>22</sup>Servants, <sup>23</sup>be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward. <sup>24</sup>For this is <sup>25</sup>acceptable, <sup>26</sup>as if for conscience <sup>27</sup>toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully. <sup>28</sup>For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted <sup>29</sup>for it, ye shall take it patiently? but <sup>30</sup>if, when ye do well, and suffer <sup>31</sup>for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is <sup>32</sup>acceptable with God. <sup>33</sup>For <sup>34</sup>hereunto were ye called: <sup>35</sup>because Christ also suffered for you, <sup>36</sup>leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps: <sup>37</sup>who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: <sup>38</sup>who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but <sup>39</sup>committed <sup>40</sup>himself to him that judgeth righteously: <sup>41</sup>who his own self <sup>42</sup>bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, <sup>43</sup>having died unto sins, <sup>44</sup>might live unto righteousness; <sup>45</sup>by whose <sup>46</sup>stripes ye were healed. <sup>47</sup>For <sup>48</sup>ye were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto <sup>49</sup>the Shepherd and <sup>50</sup>Bishop of your souls.

<sup>51</sup>In like manner, ye wives, <sup>52</sup>be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any

without the word <sup>53</sup>be gained by the <sup>54</sup>behaviour of their wives; <sup>55</sup>beholding your <sup>56</sup>chaste <sup>57</sup>behaviour <sup>58</sup>coupled with fear. <sup>59</sup>Whose <sup>60</sup>adorning <sup>61</sup>let it not be the outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; <sup>62</sup>but <sup>63</sup>let it be <sup>64</sup>the hidden man of the heart, in the incorrupt-ible <sup>65</sup>apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. <sup>66</sup>For after this manner aforetime the holy women
also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own <sup>67</sup>husbands: <sup>68</sup>as Sarah obeyed Abraham, <sup>69</sup>calling him lord:
whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and <sup>70</sup>are not <sup>71</sup>put in fear by any terror.

<sup>72</sup>Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with <sup>73</sup>your wives according to knowledge, giving honour <sup>74</sup>unto the woman, as unto the weaker <sup>75</sup>vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

<sup>76</sup>Finally, <sup>77</sup>be ye all likeminded, <sup>78</sup>compassionate, <sup>79</sup>loving as brethren, <sup>80</sup>tenderhearted, <sup>81</sup>humble-minded: <sup>82</sup>not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise <sup>83</sup>blessing; for <sup>84</sup>here-unto were ye called, that ye should inherit a blessing. <sup>85</sup>For,

<sup>86</sup>He that would love life,
And see good days,
Let him refrain his tongue from evil,
And his lips that they speak no
guile:

<sup>87</sup>And let him turn away from evil, and do good;
Let him seek peace, and pursue it.
<sup>88</sup>For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

<sup>89</sup>And <sup>90</sup>who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good? <sup>91</sup>But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed <sup>92</sup>are ye: and <sup>93</sup>fear not their fear, <sup>94</sup>neither be troubled; <sup>95</sup>but <sup>96</sup>sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: <sup>97</sup>being <sup>98</sup>ready always to give answer to every man that asketh

you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet <sup>k</sup>with meekness and <sup>l</sup>fear: <sup>16</sup>m having a good conscience; that, <sup>n</sup>wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Christ. <sup>17</sup>For <sup>o</sup>it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing. <sup>18</sup>Because Christ also <sup>1p</sup>suffered for sins <sup>q</sup>once, the righteous for the unrighteous, <sup>r</sup>that he might bring us to God; being put to death <sup>s</sup>in the flesh, but quickened <sup>t</sup>in the spirit; <sup>19</sup>in which also he went and <sup>u</sup>preached unto the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup>which aforetime were disobedient, <sup>v</sup>when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, <sup>w</sup>while the ark was a preparing, <sup>2</sup>wherein few, that is, <sup>x</sup>eight souls, were saved through water: <sup>21</sup>which also <sup>y</sup>after a true likeness <sup>z</sup>doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but <sup>aa</sup>the <sup>ab</sup>interrogation of a good conscience toward God, <sup>ac</sup>through the resurrection of Jesus Christ; <sup>22</sup><sup>ad</sup>who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; <sup>ae</sup>angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

<sup>1</sup>Forasmuch then as <sup>af</sup>Christ <sup>4</sup>suffered in the flesh, <sup>ag</sup>arm ye yourselves also with the same <sup>ah</sup>mind; for <sup>ai</sup>he that hath suffered in the flesh <sup>aj</sup>hath ceased <sup>ak</sup>from sin; <sup>al</sup>that <sup>am</sup>ye no longer should live <sup>an</sup>the rest of your time in the flesh to <sup>ao</sup>the lusts of men, but <sup>ap</sup>to the will of God. <sup>3</sup>For the time past <sup>aq</sup>may suffice <sup>ar</sup>to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, winebibbings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries; <sup>4</sup>wherein they think it strange that ye run not with <sup>as</sup>them into the same <sup>at</sup>excess of <sup>au</sup>riot, <sup>av</sup>speaking evil of you: <sup>5</sup>who shall give account to him that is ready <sup>aw</sup>to judge the quick and the dead. <sup>6</sup>For unto this end <sup>ax</sup><sup>ay</sup>was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

1 <sup>11</sup>a SIMON Peter, a <sup>12</sup>servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained <sup>13</sup>b a like precious faith with us <sup>c</sup>in the righteousness of <sup>14</sup>our <sup>d</sup>a God and Saviour Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup>e Grace to you and peace be multiplied <sup>f</sup>in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord; <sup>3</sup>seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him <sup>4</sup>that called us <sup>5</sup>by his own glory and virtue; <sup>6</sup>whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become <sup>7</sup>partakers of <sup>8</sup>the divine nature, <sup>9</sup>having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust. 5 Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply <sup>10</sup>virtue; and in <sup>11</sup>your virtue <sup>12</sup>knowledge; and in <sup>13</sup>your knowledge <sup>14</sup>temperance; and in <sup>15</sup>your temperance <sup>16</sup>patience; and in <sup>17</sup>your patience

12 Wherefore I shall be ready <sup>1</sup>always to put you in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in <sup>2</sup>the truth which is with <sup>3</sup>you. 13 And I think it right, as long as I am in this <sup>4</sup>tabernacle, <sup>5</sup>to stir you up by putting you in remembrance; 14<sup>a</sup> knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, <sup>b</sup>even as our Lord Jesus Christ signified unto me. 15 Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my <sup>1</sup>decease to call these things to remembrance. 16 For we did not follow <sup>c</sup>cunningly devised <sup>d</sup>fables, when we made known unto you <sup>e</sup>the power and <sup>2</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but <sup>3</sup>we were eye-witnesses of his majesty. 17 For he <sup>4</sup>received from God the Father honour and glory, when there <sup>5</sup>came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, <sup>6</sup>This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: 18 and this voice we ourselves heard <sup>7</sup>come out of heaven, when we were with him in <sup>8</sup>the holy mount. 19 And <sup>9</sup>we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, <sup>10</sup>as unto a lamp shining in a <sup>6</sup>dark place, until the day dawn, and <sup>11</sup>the day-star <sup>12</sup>arise in your hearts: 20 knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of <sup>7</sup>private interpretation. 21 For <sup>13</sup>no prophecy ever <sup>8</sup>came by the will of man: but men spake from God, <sup>9</sup>being moved by the <sup>9</sup>Holy Ghost.

2 But <sup>14</sup>there arose false prophets also among the people, as <sup>15</sup>among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall <sup>16</sup>privily bring in <sup>10</sup>destructive heresies, <sup>17</sup>denying even the Master <sup>18</sup>that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 2 And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth <sup>19</sup>shall be evil spoken of. 3 And <sup>20</sup>in covetousness shall they <sup>21</sup>with feigned words <sup>22</sup>make merchandise of you: <sup>23</sup>whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. 4 For if God spared not <sup>24</sup>angels when they sinned, but <sup>25</sup>cast them down to <sup>12</sup>hell, and <sup>26</sup>committed them to <sup>13</sup>a pits of darkness, <sup>27</sup>to be reserved unto judgement; 5 and spared not the ancient world, but <sup>28</sup>preserved Noah with seven others, <sup>29</sup>a preacher of righteousness, when he brought <sup>30</sup>a flood upon the world of the ungodly; 6 and <sup>31</sup>turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, <sup>32</sup>having made them an example unto those that should <sup>33</sup>live ungodly; 7 and <sup>34</sup>delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the wicked 8 (for <sup>35</sup>that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, <sup>36</sup>was vexed his righteous soul from day to day with <sup>37</sup>their lawless deeds): 9 <sup>38</sup>the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; 10 but chiefly <sup>39</sup>them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and <sup>40</sup>despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not <sup>41</sup>to rail at <sup>16</sup>dignities: 11 <sup>42</sup>whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before the Lord. 12 <sup>43</sup>But these, as creatures without reason, <sup>44</sup>born <sup>17</sup>mere animals <sup>18</sup>to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their <sup>19</sup>destroying surely be destroyed, <sup>13</sup>suffering wrong as <sup>45</sup>the hire of wrong-doing; <sup>46</sup>men that count it pleasure <sup>47</sup>to revel in the day-time, <sup>48</sup>spots and blemishes, revelling <sup>49</sup>in their <sup>20</sup>love-feasts while <sup>50</sup>they feast with you; 14 having eyes full of <sup>21</sup>adultery, and <sup>51</sup>that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart <sup>52</sup>exercised in covetousness; <sup>53</sup>children of cursing; 15 forsaking the right way, <sup>54</sup>they went astray, having followed <sup>55</sup>the way of Balaam the son of <sup>22</sup>Beor, who loved <sup>56</sup>the hire of wrong-doing; 16 but he was rebuked for his own transgression: <sup>57</sup>a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the prophet. 17 <sup>58</sup>These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; <sup>59</sup>for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved. 18 For, <sup>60</sup>uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just <sup>61</sup>escaping from them that live in error; 19 promising them <sup>62</sup>liberty, <sup>63</sup>while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of <sup>1</sup>whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. <sup>20</sup>For if, <sup>1</sup>after they have escaped the defilements of the world <sup>2</sup>through the knowledge of <sup>2</sup>the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, <sup>3</sup>the last state is become worse with them than the first. <sup>21</sup>For <sup>1</sup>it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from <sup>m</sup>the holy commandment delivered unto them. <sup>22</sup>It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The <sup>n</sup>dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

<sup>1</sup>This is now, beloved, the 3 second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them <sup>o</sup>I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; <sup>2</sup>that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by <sup>q</sup>the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles: <sup>3</sup>knowing this first, that <sup>r</sup>in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, <sup>s</sup>walking after their own lusts, <sup>t</sup>and <sup>u</sup>saying, Where is the promise of <sup>u</sup>his <sup>4</sup>coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. <sup>5</sup>For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth <sup>v</sup>compacted out of water and <sup>w</sup>amidst water, <sup>w</sup>by the word of God; <sup>6</sup>by which means the world that then was, <sup>x</sup>being overflowed with water, <sup>y</sup>perished: <sup>7</sup>but <sup>z</sup>the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been <sup>z</sup>stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and <sup>a</sup>destruction of ungodly men.

<sup>8</sup>But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the

<sup>1</sup> Or, what presence. <sup>2</sup> Many ancient authorities read our. <sup>3</sup> Gr. in the last of the days. <sup>4</sup> Gr. presence. <sup>5</sup> Or, through. <sup>6</sup> Or, stored with fire. <sup>7</sup> Or, heavenly bodies. <sup>8</sup> The most ancient manuscripts read discovered. <sup>9</sup> Or, hastening. <sup>10</sup> Gr. unto the day of eternity.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN.

I <sup>1</sup>THAT which was <sup>b</sup>from the beginning, that <sup>c</sup>which we have heard, that <sup>d</sup>which we have seen with our eyes, <sup>e</sup>that which we beheld, and <sup>f</sup>our hands handled, concerning the <sup>1</sup>Word of life <sup>2</sup>(and <sup>3</sup>the life <sup>4</sup>was manifested, and we have seen, and <sup>5</sup>bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, <sup>6</sup>which was with the Father, and <sup>7</sup>was manifested unto us); <sup>3</sup>c that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and <sup>4</sup>our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: <sup>4</sup>and these things we write, <sup>8</sup>that <sup>2</sup>our joy may be fulfilled.

<sup>5</sup>And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that <sup>m</sup>God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. <sup>6</sup>If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and <sup>9</sup>do not the truth: <sup>7</sup>but <sup>2</sup>if we walk in the light, <sup>9</sup>as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and <sup>r</sup>the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. <sup>8</sup>If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and <sup>t</sup>the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup>If we confess our sins, he is <sup>v</sup>faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and <sup>r</sup>to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup>If we say that we have not sinned, <sup>w</sup>we make him a liar, and <sup>u</sup>his word is not in us.

<sup>1</sup>My little children, these 2 things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, <sup>y</sup>we have an <sup>3</sup>Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: <sup>2</sup>and <sup>a</sup>he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but <sup>b</sup>also for the whole world. <sup>3</sup>And hereby know we that we know him, if we <sup>c</sup>keep his commandments. <sup>4</sup>He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, <sup>d</sup>is a liar, and <sup>e</sup>the truth is not in him: <sup>5</sup>but whose <sup>f</sup>keepeth his word, in him verily hath <sup>f</sup>the love of God been perfected. <sup>6</sup>Hereby know we that we are in him: <sup>6</sup>he that saith he <sup>h</sup>abideth in him <sup>i</sup>ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, <sup>j</sup>no new commandment write I unto you, but <sup>k</sup>an old commandment <sup>l</sup>which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye heard. <sup>8</sup>Again, <sup>m</sup>a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because <sup>n</sup>the darkness is passing away, and <sup>o</sup>the true light already shineth. <sup>9</sup>He that saith he is in the light, and <sup>p</sup>hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now. <sup>10</sup>He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none <sup>q</sup>occasion of stumbling in him. <sup>11</sup>But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and <sup>r</sup>walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

<sup>12</sup>I write unto you, <sup>my</sup> little children, because <sup>s</sup>your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. <sup>13</sup>I write unto you, fathers, because ye know <sup>t</sup>him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because <sup>u</sup>ye have overcome the evil one. <sup>4</sup>I have written unto you, little children, because <sup>v</sup>ye know the Father. <sup>14</sup>I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know <sup>w</sup>him which is from the beginning. <sup>4</sup>I have written unto you, young men, because <sup>y</sup>ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the evil one. <sup>15</sup>Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. <sup>2</sup>If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. <sup>16</sup>For all that is in the world, <sup>v</sup>the lust of the flesh, and <sup>2</sup>the lust of the eyes, and <sup>a</sup>the vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. <sup>17</sup>And <sup>b</sup>the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, <sup>c</sup>it is the last hour: and as ye heard that <sup>d</sup>antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen <sup>e</sup>many antichrists; <sup>f</sup>whereby we know that it is the last hour.

19 <sup>g</sup>They went out from us, but they were not of us; for <sup>h</sup>if they had been of us, they would have continued with us; but they went out, <sup>i</sup>that they might be made manifest <sup>j</sup>how that they all are not of us. <sup>k</sup>20 And ye have <sup>l</sup>an anointing from <sup>m</sup>the Holy One, <sup>n</sup>and <sup>o</sup>ye know all things. <sup>p</sup>21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and <sup>q</sup>because no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is the liar but <sup>r</sup>he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is <sup>s</sup>the antichrist, even he that denieth the Father and the Son. <sup>t</sup>23 <sup>u</sup>Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father also. <sup>v</sup>24 As for you, let that abide in you <sup>w</sup>which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you,

known that, <sup>ci</sup>if <sup>ci</sup>10 he shall be manifested, <sup>ch</sup>we shall be like him; for <sup>ci</sup>we shall see him even as he is. <sup>ci</sup>3 And every one that hath this hope <sup>ci</sup>set on him <sup>ci</sup>purifieth himself, even as he is pure. <sup>ci</sup>4 Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness; and <sup>ci</sup>sin is lawlessness. <sup>ci</sup>5 And ye know that <sup>ci</sup>he was manifested to <sup>ci</sup>take away sins; and <sup>ci</sup>in him is no sin. <sup>ci</sup>6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: <sup>ci</sup>whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither <sup>ci</sup>knoweth him. <sup>ci</sup>7 My little children, <sup>ci</sup>let no man lead you astray: <sup>ci</sup>he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: <sup>ci</sup>8 he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, <sup>ci</sup>that he might destroy the works of the devil. <sup>ci</sup>9 Whosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. <sup>ci</sup>10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, <sup>ci</sup>neither he that <sup>ci</sup>loveth not his brother. <sup>ci</sup>11 For <sup>ci</sup>this is the message which ye heard from the beginning, <sup>ci</sup>that we should love one another: <sup>ci</sup>12 not as <sup>ci</sup>Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? <sup>ci</sup>Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

<sup>ci</sup>13 Marvel not, brethren, <sup>ci</sup>if the world hateth you. <sup>ci</sup>14 We know that <sup>ci</sup>we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. <sup>ci</sup>15 Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that <sup>ci</sup>no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. <sup>ci</sup>16 Hereby know we love, because <sup>ci</sup>he laid down his life for us: and <sup>ci</sup>we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. <sup>ci</sup>17 But <sup>ci</sup>whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, <sup>ci</sup>how doth the love of God abide in him? <sup>ci</sup>18 My little children, let us not <sup>ci</sup>love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and <sup>ci</sup>truth. <sup>ci</sup>19 Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall

<sup>1</sup> Beloved, <sup>v</sup> believe not every spirit, but <sup>w</sup> prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because <sup>x</sup> many <sup>y</sup> false prophets <sup>z</sup> are gone out into the world. <sup>2</sup> Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: <sup>a</sup> every spirit which confesseth that <sup>b</sup> Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: <sup>3</sup> and every spirit <sup>c</sup> which <sup>3</sup> confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and <sup>d</sup> now it is in the world already. <sup>4</sup> Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because <sup>e</sup> greater is he that is in you than <sup>f</sup> he that is in the world. <sup>5</sup> <sup>g</sup> They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, and <sup>h</sup> the world heareth them. <sup>6</sup> We are of God: <sup>i</sup> he that knoweth God heareth us; he who is not of God heareth us not. By this we know <sup>j</sup> the spirit of truth, and <sup>k</sup> the spirit of error.

<sup>7</sup> Beloved, <sup>l</sup> let us love one another: for love is of God; and <sup>m</sup> every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. <sup>8</sup> <sup>n</sup> He that loveth not knoweth not God; for <sup>o</sup> God is love. <sup>9</sup> Herein was the love of God manifested <sup>4</sup> in us, that <sup>p</sup> God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. <sup>10</sup> Herein is love, <sup>q</sup> not that we loved God, <sup>r</sup> but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be <sup>v</sup> the propitiation for our sins. <sup>11</sup> Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

<sup>12</sup> No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and <sup>t</sup> his love is perfected in us: <sup>13</sup> <sup>u</sup> hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>v</sup> we have beheld and bear witness that <sup>w</sup> the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of <sup>x</sup> the world. <sup>15</sup> <sup>y</sup> Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. <sup>16</sup> And <sup>z</sup> we know and have believed the love which God hath <sup>4</sup> in us. <sup>a</sup> God is love; and <sup>b</sup> he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. <sup>17</sup> Herein <sup>c</sup> is love made perfect with us, that <sup>d</sup> we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because <sup>e</sup> as he is, even so are we in this world. <sup>18</sup> There is no fear in love: but <sup>f</sup> perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not <sup>c</sup> made perfect in love. <sup>19</sup> <sup>g</sup> We love, because he first loved us. <sup>20</sup> <sup>h</sup> If a man say, I love God, and <sup>i</sup> hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, <sup>j</sup> cannot love God <sup>j</sup> whom he hath not seen. <sup>21</sup> And <sup>k</sup> this commandment have we from him, that <sup>l</sup> he who loveth God love his brother also.

<sup>1</sup> <sup>m</sup> Whosoever believeth that <sup>5</sup> <sup>n</sup> Jesus is the Christ <sup>o</sup> is begotten of God: and <sup>p</sup> whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. <sup>2</sup> <sup>q</sup> Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments. <sup>3</sup> For <sup>r</sup> this is the love of God, that we <sup>s</sup> keep his commandments: and <sup>t</sup> his commandments are not grievous. <sup>4</sup> For <sup>u</sup> whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, <sup>v</sup> even our faith. <sup>5</sup> And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth <sup>w</sup> that Jesus is the Son of God? <sup>6</sup> This is he that came <sup>x</sup> by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not <sup>y</sup> with the water only, but <sup>z</sup> with the water and <sup>6</sup> with the blood. <sup>7</sup> And <sup>1</sup> it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because <sup>2</sup> the Spirit is the truth. <sup>8</sup> For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood:

and the three agree in one. <sup>9</sup> If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, <sup>b</sup> that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. <sup>10</sup> He that believeth on the Son of God <sup>c</sup> hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God <sup>d</sup> hath made him a liar; <sup>e</sup> because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son.

<sup>11</sup> And the witness is this, that God gave unto us <sup>f</sup> eternal life, and <sup>g</sup> this life is in his Son. <sup>12</sup> <sup>h</sup> He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

<sup>13</sup> These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that <sup>i</sup> believe on the name of the Son of God. <sup>14</sup> And this is <sup>k</sup> the boldness which we have toward him, that, <sup>l</sup> if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: <sup>15</sup> and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. <sup>16</sup> If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, <sup>m</sup> he shall ask, and <sup>n</sup> God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. <sup>17</sup> There is <sup>2a</sup> a sin unto death: <sup>o</sup> not concerning this do I say that he should make request. <sup>17</sup> <sup>p</sup> All unrighteousness is sin: and there is <sup>2a</sup> a sin not unto death.

<sup>1</sup> <sup>a</sup> THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, <sup>b</sup> whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that <sup>c</sup> know <sup>d</sup> the truth; <sup>2</sup> <sup>e</sup> for the truth's sake which abideth in us, and it shall be with us for ever: <sup>3</sup> <sup>f</sup> Grace, mercy, peace shall be with us, from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1<sup>a</sup> THE elder unto Gaius the beloved, <sup>b</sup> whom I love in truth.
2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.
3 For <sup>c</sup> I <sup>1</sup> rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. 4 Greater <sup>2</sup> joy have I none than <sup>3</sup> this, to hear of <sup>d</sup> my children walking in the truth.
5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward <sup>e</sup> them that are brethren and <sup>f</sup> strangers withal; 6 who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey <sup>g</sup> worthily of God: 7 because that for the sake of <sup>h</sup> the Name they went forth, <sup>i</sup> taking nothing of the Gentiles. 8 We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, <sup>j</sup> who lov-

eth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. 10 Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words; and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeth, and casteth <sup>k</sup> them out of the church. 11 Beloved, <sup>l</sup> imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. <sup>m</sup> He that doeth good is of God: <sup>n</sup> he that doeth evil hath not seen God. 12 Demetrius <sup>o</sup> hath the witness of all <sup>p</sup> men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and <sup>q</sup> thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 <sup>r</sup> I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write <sup>s</sup> them to thee with ink and pen: 14 but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace <sup>t</sup> be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends <sup>u</sup> by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JUDE.

1<sup>a</sup> JUDAS, a <sup>b</sup> servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, <sup>c</sup> to them that are called, <sup>d</sup> beloved in God the Father, and <sup>e</sup> kept for Jesus Christ: 2 <sup>f</sup> Mercy unto you and <sup>g</sup> peace and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our <sup>h</sup> common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you <sup>i</sup> to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints. 4 For <sup>j</sup> there are certain men <sup>k</sup> crept in privily, <sup>l</sup> even <sup>m</sup> they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning <sup>n</sup> the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and <sup>o</sup> denying <sup>p</sup> our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Now I desire <sup>q</sup> to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that <sup>r</sup> the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, <sup>s</sup> afterward destroyed them that believed not. 6 And <sup>t</sup> angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day. 7 Even as <sup>u</sup> Sodom and Gomorrah, and <sup>v</sup> the cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication, and <sup>w</sup> gone after strange flesh, are set forth <sup>x</sup> as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. 8 Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set at nought dominion, and "rail at dignities. <sup>9</sup> But <sup>v</sup> Michael <sup>w</sup> the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed <sup>x</sup> about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, <sup>y</sup> The Lord rebuke thee. <sup>10</sup> But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they <sup>2</sup> destroyed. <sup>11</sup> Woe unto them! for they went in <sup>a</sup> the way of Cain, and <sup>b</sup> ran riotously <sup>b</sup> in the error of Balaam for hire, and <sup>c</sup> perished in the gainsaying of Korah. <sup>12</sup> These are they who are <sup>d</sup> hidden rocks <sup>d</sup> in your love-feasts when they feast with you, <sup>e</sup> shepherds that without fear feed themselves; <sup>f</sup> clouds without water, <sup>g</sup> carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, <sup>h</sup> plucked up by the roots; <sup>i</sup> wild waves of the sea, foaming out <sup>j</sup> their own <sup>b</sup> shame; <sup>k</sup> wandering stars, <sup>l</sup> for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever. <sup>14</sup> And to these also Enoch, <sup>m</sup> the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, "Behold, the Lord came with <sup>e</sup> ten thousands of his holy ones, <sup>15</sup> <sup>o</sup> to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have <sup>p</sup> ungodly wrought, and of all <sup>q</sup> the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. <sup>16</sup> These are murmurers, complainers, <sup>r</sup> walking after their lusts (and <sup>s</sup> their mouth speaketh great swelling words), <sup>t</sup> shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.

<sup>17</sup> But ye, beloved, "remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; <sup>18</sup> how that they said to you, <sup>v</sup> In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after <sup>7</sup> their own ungodly lusts. <sup>19</sup> These are they who make separations, <sup>8</sup> <sup>w</sup> sensual, <sup>x</sup> having not the Spirit. <sup>20</sup> But ye, beloved, <sup>y</sup> building up yourselves on your most holy faith, <sup>z</sup> praying in the Holy Spirit, <sup>21</sup> <sup>a</sup> keep yourselves in the love of God, <sup>b</sup> looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. <sup>22</sup> <sup>9</sup> And on some have mercy, <sup>10</sup> who are in doubt; <sup>23</sup> and some save, <sup>c</sup> snatching them out of <sup>d</sup> the fire; and on some have mercy <sup>e</sup> with fear; hating even <sup>f</sup> the garment spotted by the flesh.

and <sup>o</sup> the ruler of the kings of the earth. Unto <sup>p</sup> him that loveth us, and <sup>1a</sup> loosed us from our sins <sup>2b</sup> by his blood; <sup>6</sup> and he made us to be <sup>a</sup> a kingdom, to be <sup>r</sup> priests unto <sup>s</sup> his God and Father; to him be <sup>t</sup> the glory and <sup>u</sup> the dominion <sup>3</sup> for ever and ever. Amen. <sup>7</sup> Behold, <sup>v</sup> he cometh with the clouds; and <sup>w</sup> every eye shall see him, and they which pierced him; and all the tribes of the earth shall mourn over him. Even so, Amen.

having turned I saw <sup>i</sup> seven golden <sup>7</sup> candlesticks; <sup>13</sup> and in the midst of the <sup>j</sup> candlesticks <sup>j</sup> one like unto <sup>8a</sup> a son of man, <sup>i</sup> clothed with a garment down to the foot, and <sup>m</sup> girt about at the breasts with a golden girdle. <sup>14</sup> And his head and <sup>n</sup> his hair were white as white wool, white as snow; and <sup>o</sup> his eyes were as a flame of fire; <sup>15</sup> and <sup>p</sup> his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and <sup>q</sup> his voice as the voice of many waters. <sup>16</sup> And <sup>r</sup> he had in his right hand seven stars: and <sup>s</sup> out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: and <sup>t</sup> his countenance was as the sun shineth <sup>u</sup> in his strength. <sup>17</sup> And <sup>v</sup> when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And <sup>w</sup> he laid his right hand upon me, <sup>w</sup> saying, Fear not; <sup>x</sup> I am the first and the last, <sup>x8</sup> and the Living one; and <sup>y</sup> I <sup>9</sup> was dead, and behold, I am alive

<sup>10</sup> for evermore, and <sup>z</sup> I have the keys of death and of Hades. <sup>19a</sup> Write therefore <sup>b</sup> the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass hereafter; <sup>20</sup> the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest <sup>11</sup> in my right hand, and <sup>c</sup> the seven golden <sup>7</sup> candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and <sup>d</sup> the seven <sup>7</sup> candlesticks are seven churches.

These things saith <sup>e</sup> he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, <sup>f</sup> he that walketh in the midst of the seven golden <sup>7</sup> candlesticks: <sup>2v</sup> I know thy works, and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and <sup>h</sup> didst try them <sup>i</sup> which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them false; <sup>3</sup> and thou hast patience and didst bear <sup>j</sup> for my name's sake, and <sup>k</sup> hast not grown weary. <sup>4</sup> But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave <sup>l</sup> thy first love. <sup>5</sup> Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do <sup>m</sup> the first works; or else <sup>n</sup> I come to thee, and will move thy <sup>12</sup> candlestick out of its place, except thou repent. <sup>6</sup> But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of <sup>o</sup> the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. <sup>7p</sup> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. <sup>q</sup> To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of <sup>r</sup> the tree of life, which is in <sup>s</sup> the <sup>13</sup> Paradise of God.

These things saith <sup>t</sup> the first and the last, <sup>u</sup> which <sup>v</sup> was dead, and lived again: <sup>9</sup> I know thy tribulation, and <sup>w</sup> thy poverty (<sup>v</sup> but thou art rich), and the <sup>14</sup> blasphemy of <sup>w</sup> them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. <sup>10</sup> Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, <sup>w</sup> that ye may be tried; <sup>15</sup> and <sup>x</sup> ye shall have <sup>16</sup> tribulation <sup>y</sup> ten days. <sup>z</sup> Be thou faithful <sup>a</sup> unto death, and I will give thee <sup>b</sup>the crown of life. <sup>11</sup> <sup>c</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. <sup>c</sup>He that overcometh shall not be hurt of <sup>d</sup>the second death.

<sup>15</sup> So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of <sup>l</sup>the Nicolaitans in like manner. <sup>16</sup> Repent therefore; or else <sup>m</sup>I come to thee quickly, and <sup>n</sup>I will make war against them with <sup>e</sup>the sword of my mouth.

<sup>17</sup> <sup>c</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. <sup>c</sup>To him that overcometh, to him will I give of <sup>o</sup>the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone <sup>p</sup>a new name written, <sup>q</sup>which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it.

These things saith the Son of God, <sup>r</sup>who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished brass: <sup>19</sup> <sup>i</sup>I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than the first. <sup>20</sup> But I have <sup>s</sup>this against thee, that thou sufferest <sup>2</sup>the woman <sup>t</sup>Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants <sup>u</sup>to commit fornication, and <sup>u</sup>to eat things sacrificed to idols. <sup>21</sup> And I gave her time that she should repent; and <sup>v</sup>she willeth not to repent of her fornication. <sup>22</sup> Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of <sup>3</sup>her works. <sup>23</sup> And I will kill her children with <sup>4</sup>death; and all the churches shall know that I am he <sup>w</sup>which searcheth the reins and hearts; and <sup>x</sup>I will give unto each one of you according to your works. <sup>24</sup> But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not <sup>y</sup>the deep things of Satan, as they say; I <sup>z</sup>cast upon you none other burden. <sup>25</sup> Howbeit <sup>a</sup>that which ye have, hold fast till I come. <sup>26</sup> And <sup>b</sup>he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works <sup>c</sup>unto the end, <sup>d</sup>to him will I give authority over the nations: <sup>27</sup> and <sup>e</sup>he shall <sup>f</sup>rule them with a rod of <sup>g</sup>iron, <sup>g</sup>as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my Father: <sup>28</sup> and I will give him <sup>h</sup>the morning star. <sup>29</sup> <sup>b</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

These things saith he <sup>i</sup>that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name <sup>j</sup>that thou livest, <sup>k</sup>and thou art dead. <sup>2</sup> Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die: for I have <sup>l</sup>found no works of thine <sup>l</sup>fulfilled before my God. <sup>3</sup> <sup>m</sup>Remember therefore how thou hast received and didst hear; and keep <sup>n</sup>it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, <sup>n</sup>I will come <sup>o</sup>as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. <sup>4</sup> But thou hast a few <sup>p</sup>names in Sardis which did not <sup>q</sup>defile their garments; and they shall walk with me <sup>r</sup>in white; for they are <sup>s</sup>worthy. <sup>5</sup> <sup>t</sup>He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments; and I will in no wise <sup>u</sup>blot his name out of <sup>v</sup>the book of life, and <sup>w</sup>I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. <sup>6</sup> <sup>t</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

hath the key of David, <sup>a</sup>he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: 8 I know thy works (behold, I have <sup>1</sup>set before thee <sup>b</sup>a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. 9 Behold, I give of <sup>c</sup>the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, <sup>d</sup>I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that <sup>e</sup>I have loved thee. 10 <sup>f</sup>Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of <sup>g</sup>trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole <sup>h</sup>world, to <sup>i</sup>try <sup>j</sup>them that dwell upon the earth. 11 <sup>k</sup>I come quickly: <sup>l</sup>hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take <sup>m</sup>thy crown. 12 <sup>n</sup>He that overcometh, I will make him <sup>o</sup>a pillar in the <sup>p</sup>temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him <sup>q</sup>the name of my God, and <sup>r</sup>the name of the city of my God, <sup>s</sup>the new Jerusalem, <sup>t</sup>which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and mine own <sup>u</sup>new name. 13 <sup>v</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write;

These things saith the <sup>a</sup>Amen, <sup>b</sup>the faithful and true witness, <sup>c</sup>the beginning of the creation of God: 15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: <sup>d</sup>I would thou wert cold or hot. 16 So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. 17 <sup>e</sup>Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and <sup>f</sup>blind and naked: 18 I counsel thee <sup>g</sup>to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and <sup>h</sup>white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and <sup>i</sup>that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, <sup>j</sup>that thou mayest see. 19 <sup>k</sup>As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. 20 Behold, I stand at the door and <sup>a</sup>knock: <sup>b</sup>if any man hear my voice and open the door, <sup>c</sup>I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. 21 <sup>d</sup>He that overcometh, <sup>e</sup>I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as <sup>f</sup>I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne. 22 <sup>g</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

1 After these things I saw, 4 and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, <sup>a</sup>a voice <sup>b</sup>as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, <sup>c</sup>Come up hither, and <sup>d</sup>I will shew thee the things which must <sup>e</sup>come to pass hereafter. 2 Straightway <sup>f</sup>I was in the Spirit: and behold, <sup>g</sup>there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne; 3 and he that sat <sup>h</sup>was to look upon like a <sup>i</sup>jasper stone and a sardius: and <sup>j</sup>there <sup>k</sup>was <sup>l</sup>a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon. 4 And round about the throne <sup>m</sup>were <sup>n</sup>four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones <sup>o</sup>I saw four and twenty elders sitting, <sup>p</sup>arrayed in white garments; and on their heads <sup>q</sup>crowns of gold. 5 And out of the throne proceed <sup>r</sup>lightnings and voices and thunders. And <sup>s</sup>there <sup>t</sup>were <sup>u</sup>seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, <sup>v</sup>which are the seven Spirits of God; 6 and before the throne, <sup>w</sup>as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal; and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, <sup>x</sup>four living creatures <sup>y</sup>full of eyes before and behind. 7 <sup>z</sup>And the first creature <sup>aa</sup>was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature <sup>ab</sup>was like a flying eagle. 8 And the four living creatures, <sup>ac</sup>having each one of them six wings, are <sup>ad</sup>full of eyes round about and within: and <sup>ae</sup>they have no rest day and night, saying, <sup>af</sup>Holy, holy, holy, <sup>ag</sup>is the Lord God, the Almighty, <sup>ah</sup>which was and which is, and <sup>ai</sup>which is to come. 9 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to <sup>aj</sup>him that liveth <sup>ak</sup>for ever and ever, 10 the four and twenty elders <sup>al</sup>shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth <sup>1</sup>for ever and ever, and shall cast <sup>c</sup>their crowns before the throne, saying, <sup>11</sup>Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for <sup>d</sup>thou didst create all things, and <sup>e</sup>because of thy will they were, and were created.

<sup>1</sup> And I saw <sup>2</sup>in the right hand of him that sat on the throne <sup>a</sup>a book written within and on the back, <sup>b</sup>close sealed with seven seals. <sup>2</sup> And <sup>k</sup>I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? <sup>3</sup> And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look thereon. <sup>4</sup> And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look thereon: <sup>5</sup> and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, <sup>1</sup>the Lion <sup>m</sup>that is of the tribe of Judah, <sup>n</sup>the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the seven seals thereof. <sup>6</sup> And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, <sup>o</sup>a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and <sup>p</sup>seven eyes, which are <sup>q</sup>the <sup>r</sup>seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth. <sup>7</sup> And he came, and he <sup>s</sup>taketh <sup>t</sup>it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. <sup>8</sup> And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders <sup>u</sup>fell down before the Lamb, <sup>v</sup>having each one a harp, and <sup>w</sup>golden bowls full of incense, <sup>x</sup>which are the prayers of the saints. <sup>9</sup> And they sing <sup>y</sup>a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for <sup>z</sup>thou wast slain, and <sup>1</sup>didst purchase unto God with thy blood <sup>men</sup> of <sup>2</sup>every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, <sup>3</sup>and madest them <sup>to be</sup> unto our God <sup>a</sup>a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth. <sup>11</sup> And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was <sup>a</sup>ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; <sup>12</sup> saying with a great voice, <sup>b</sup>Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honour, and glory, and blessing. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>c</sup>every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, <sup>be</sup> the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, <sup>14</sup>for ever and ever. <sup>14</sup> And the four living creatures <sup>d</sup>said, Amen. And the elders <sup>e</sup>fell down and worshipped.

<sup>5</sup> And when he opened the third seal, I heard <sup>r</sup>the third living creature saying, Come <sup>6</sup>. And I saw, and behold, <sup>s</sup>a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a balance in his hand. <sup>6</sup> And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, <sup>t</sup>A <sup>7</sup>measure of wheat for a <sup>8</sup>penny, and three measures of barley for a <sup>8</sup>penny; and the oil and the wine <sup>u</sup>hurt thou not.

<sup>7</sup> And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of <sup>v</sup>the fourth living creature saying, Come <sup>6</sup>. <sup>8</sup> And I saw, and behold, <sup>w</sup>a pale horse; and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto them authority over the fourth part of the earth, to kill <sup>x</sup>with sword, and with famine, and 9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath <sup>w</sup>the altar <sup>x</sup>the souls of them that had been slain <sup>y</sup>for the word of God, and for <sup>z</sup>the testimony which they held: <sup>ro</sup>and they cried with a great voice, saying, <sup>a</sup>How long, O Master, <sup>b</sup>the holy and true, <sup>c</sup>dost thou not judge and <sup>d</sup>avenge our blood on <sup>e</sup>them that dwell on the earth? <sup>11</sup>And there was given them to each one <sup>f</sup>a white robe; and it was said unto them, <sup>g</sup>that they should rest yet for a little time, <sup>h</sup>until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, <sup>i</sup>should <sup>2</sup>be fulfilled.

12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and <sup>j</sup>there was a great earthquake; and <sup>k</sup>the sun became black as <sup>l</sup>sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; <sup>13</sup>and <sup>m</sup>the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, <sup>n</sup>as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a great wind. <sup>14</sup>And <sup>o</sup>the heaven was removed <sup>p</sup>as a scroll when it is rolled up; and <sup>q</sup>every mountain and island were moved out of their places. <sup>15</sup>And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the <sup>r</sup>chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, <sup>s</sup>hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains; <sup>16</sup>and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of <sup>t</sup>him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: <sup>17</sup>for <sup>u</sup>the great day of their wrath is come; and <sup>v</sup>who is able to stand?

7 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding <sup>w</sup>the four winds of the earth, <sup>x</sup>that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. <sup>2</sup>And I saw another angel ascend <sup>y</sup>from the sun-rising, having <sup>z</sup>the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, <sup>3</sup>saying, <sup>a</sup>Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God <sup>b</sup>on their foreheads. <sup>4</sup>And <sup>b</sup>I heard the number of them which were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah <sup>c</sup>were sealed twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand:

6 Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand:

7 Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand:

8 Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Benjamin <sup>c</sup>were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After these things I saw, and behold, <sup>d</sup>a great multitude, which no man could number, <sup>e</sup>out of every nation, and of <sup>f</sup>all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, <sup>g</sup>arrayed in white robes, and <sup>h</sup>palms in their hands; <sup>10</sup>and they cry with a great voice, saying, <sup>i</sup>Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels were standing round about the throne, and <sup>j</sup>about the elders and <sup>k</sup>the four living creatures; and they <sup>l</sup>fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, <sup>12</sup>saying, Amen: <sup>m</sup>Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, <sup>n</sup>be unto our God <sup>o</sup>for ever and ever. Amen. <sup>13</sup>And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are <sup>p</sup>arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and whence came they? <sup>14</sup>And I <sup>q</sup>said unto him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which come out of <sup>r</sup>the great tribulation, and <sup>s</sup>they washed their robes, and <sup>t</sup>made them white <sup>u</sup>in the blood of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>There-

God; and <sup>o</sup> they serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne <sup>p</sup> shall spread his tabernacle over them. <sup>16</sup> <sup>q</sup> They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither <sup>r</sup> shall the sun strike upon them, nor any heat: <sup>17</sup> for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne <sup>s</sup> shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of <sup>t</sup> waters of life: and <sup>u</sup> God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 <sup>v</sup> And when he opened <sup>w</sup> the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of half an hour. <sup>2</sup> And I saw <sup>x</sup> the seven angels <sup>y</sup> which stand before God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

<sup>3</sup> And another angel came and stood <sup>1</sup> over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should <sup>2</sup> add it unto <sup>a</sup> the prayers of all the saints upon <sup>b</sup> the golden altar which was before the throne. <sup>4</sup> And <sup>b</sup> the smoke of the incense, <sup>3</sup> with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. <sup>5</sup> And the angel <sup>4</sup> taketh the censer; and <sup>c</sup> he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it <sup>d</sup> upon the earth: and <sup>d</sup> there followed <sup>e</sup> thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

<sup>7</sup> And the first sounded, and there followed <sup>f</sup> hail and <sup>g</sup> fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast <sup>5</sup> upon the earth: and <sup>h</sup> the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of <sup>i</sup> the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

<sup>8</sup> And the second angel sounded, and as it were <sup>j</sup> a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea <sup>k</sup> became blood; <sup>9</sup> and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, <sup>even</sup> they that had life; and the third part of <sup>l</sup> the ships was destroyed.

<sup>10</sup> And the third angel sounded, and <sup>m</sup> there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon <sup>n</sup> the fountains of the waters; <sup>11</sup> and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters <sup>o</sup> became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, <sup>p</sup> because they were made bitter.

<sup>12</sup> And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of <sup>q</sup> the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

<sup>13</sup> And I saw, and I heard <sup>r</sup> an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, <sup>s</sup> Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

<sup>1</sup> And the fifth angel sounded, 9 and <sup>t</sup> I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him <sup>u</sup> the key of the pit of <sup>v</sup> the abyss. <sup>2</sup> And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up <sup>w</sup> a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and <sup>w</sup> the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. <sup>3</sup> And out of the smoke came forth <sup>x</sup> locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

<sup>4</sup> And it was said unto them <sup>y</sup> that they should not hurt <sup>z</sup> the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not <sup>a</sup> the seal of God on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup> And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented <sup>b</sup> five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man. <sup>6</sup> And in those days <sup>c</sup> men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death flieth from them. <sup>7</sup> And <sup>d</sup> the <sup>7</sup> shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and <sup>e</sup> upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were <sup>f</sup> as men's faces. <sup>8</sup> And they had hair as the hair of women, and <sup>g</sup> their teeth were as the <sup>teeth</sup> of lions. <sup>9</sup> And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and

<sup>13</sup>And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard <sup>2a</sup>a voice from <sup>n</sup>the horns of the golden altar which is before God, <sup>14</sup>one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose <sup>o</sup>the four angels which are bound at <sup>p</sup>the great river Euphrates. <sup>15</sup>And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that <sup>q</sup>they should kill the third part of men. <sup>16</sup>And the number of the armies of <sup>r</sup>the horsemen was <sup>s</sup>twice ten thousand times ten thousand: <sup>t</sup>I heard the number of them. <sup>17</sup>And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates <sup>u</sup>as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are <sup>v</sup>as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and brimstone. <sup>18</sup>By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths. <sup>19</sup>For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads; and with them they do hurt. <sup>20</sup>And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, <sup>v</sup>repented not of <sup>w</sup>the works of their hands, that they should not worship <sup>x</sup>devils, <sup>y</sup>and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk: <sup>21</sup>and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

<sup>1</sup>And I saw another strong IO angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and <sup>a</sup>the rainbow was upon his head, and <sup>b</sup>his face was as the sun, and <sup>c</sup>his feet as pillars of fire; <sup>2</sup>and <sup>d</sup>he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth; <sup>3</sup>and he cried with a great voice, <sup>e</sup>as a lion roareth: and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. <sup>4</sup>And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, <sup>f</sup>Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. <sup>5</sup>And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth <sup>g</sup>lifted up his right hand to heaven, <sup>6</sup>and swore by <sup>h</sup>him that liveth <sup>i</sup>for ever and ever, <sup>j</sup>who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein, <sup>k</sup>that there shall be <sup>l</sup>time no longer: <sup>m</sup>7 but <sup>n</sup>in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, <sup>o</sup>according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets. <sup>8</sup>And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth. <sup>9</sup>And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, <sup>m</sup>Take it, and <sup>n</sup>eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. <sup>10</sup>And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. <sup>11</sup>And they say unto me, <sup>o</sup>Thou must prophesy again <sup>p</sup>over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

holy city shall they tread under foot <sup>a</sup> forty and two months. 3 And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy <sup>a</sup> a thousand two hundred and threescore days, <sup>a</sup> clothed in sackcloth. 4 These are <sup>a</sup> the two olive trees and the two <sup>a</sup> candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. 5 And if any man desireth to hurt them, <sup>a</sup> fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man shall desire to hurt them, <sup>a</sup> in this manner must he be killed. 6 These have the power <sup>a</sup> to shut the heaven, that it rain not during the days of their prophecy: and they have power over the waters <sup>a</sup> to turn them into blood, and <sup>a</sup> to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. 7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, <sup>a</sup> the beast that cometh up out of <sup>b</sup> the abyss <sup>c</sup> shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. 8 And their <sup>a</sup> dead bodies <sup>a</sup> lie in the street of <sup>d</sup> the great city, which spiritually is called <sup>e</sup> Sodom and <sup>f</sup> Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. 9 And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do <sup>a</sup> men look upon their <sup>a</sup> dead bodies three days and a half, and <sup>a</sup> suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. 10 And <sup>a</sup> they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and <sup>a</sup> they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets <sup>a</sup> tormented them that dwell on the earth. 11 And after the three days and a half <sup>a</sup> the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which beheld them. 12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, <sup>a</sup> Come up hither. And <sup>a</sup> they went up into heaven <sup>a</sup> in the cloud; and their enemies beheld them. 13 And in that hour there was <sup>a</sup> a great earthquake, and <sup>a</sup> the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake <sup>a</sup> seven thousand persons: and the rest were affrighted, and <sup>a</sup> gave glory to <sup>a</sup> the God of heaven.

14 <sup>a</sup> The second Woe is past: behold, the third Woe cometh quickly. 15 And <sup>a</sup> the seventh angel sounded; and <sup>a</sup> there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, <sup>a</sup> The kingdom of the world is become <sup>a</sup> the kingdom of our Lord, and of <sup>a</sup> his Christ: and <sup>a</sup> he shall reign <sup>a</sup> for ever and ever. 16 And the four and twenty elders, <sup>a</sup> which sit before God on their thrones, <sup>a</sup> fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, <sup>a</sup> which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and <sup>a</sup> didst reign. 18 And the nations were wroth, and <sup>a</sup> thy wrath came, and <sup>a</sup> the time of the dead to be judged, and <sup>a</sup> the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to <sup>a</sup> them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and <sup>a</sup> to destroy them that destroy the earth.

19 And <sup>a</sup> there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple <sup>a</sup> the ark of his <sup>a</sup> covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and <sup>a</sup> great hail.

1 And a great sign was seen 12 in heaven; a woman <sup>a</sup> arrayed with <sup>a</sup> the sun, and <sup>a</sup> the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; 2 and she was with child: and <sup>a</sup> she crieth out, travailing in birth, and in pain to be delivered. 3 And there was seen another sign in heaven; and behold, a great <sup>a</sup> red dragon, <sup>a</sup> having seven heads and <sup>a</sup> ten horns, and upon his heads <sup>a</sup> seven diadems. 4 And his tail draweth <sup>a</sup> the third part of the stars of heaven, and <sup>a</sup> did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, <sup>a</sup> he might devour her child. 5 And she was delivered of a son, a man child, <sup>a</sup> who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron: and her child was <sup>a</sup> caught up unto God, and unto his throne. 6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that there they may nourish her <sup>a</sup> a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: <sup>a</sup> Michael and <sup>a</sup> his angels <sup>a</sup> going forth to war with the dragon; and the dragon warred and his angels; 8 and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven. 9 And <sup>v</sup>the great dragon was cast down, <sup>e</sup>the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, <sup>a</sup>the deceiver of the whole <sup>1</sup>world; <sup>b</sup>he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him. 10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, <sup>2</sup>Now is come <sup>c</sup>the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, <sup>d</sup>which accuseth them before our God day and night. 11 And <sup>e</sup>they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and <sup>f</sup>they loved not their life <sup>g</sup>even unto death. 12 Therefore <sup>h</sup>rejoice, O heavens, and ye that <sup>i</sup>dwell in them. <sup>j</sup>Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, <sup>k</sup>knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted <sup>k</sup>the woman which brought forth the man child. 14 And there were given to the woman the two <sup>l</sup>wings of the great eagle, that she might fly <sup>m</sup>into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished <sup>n</sup>for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. 15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water <sup>o</sup>as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. 16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away <sup>p</sup>to make war with the rest of <sup>q</sup>her seed, <sup>r</sup>which keep the commandments of God, and hold <sup>s</sup>the testimony of Jesus: 1 and he stood upon the sand of the sea.

13 And I saw <sup>a</sup>a beast coming up out of the sea, <sup>b</sup>having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads <sup>c</sup>names of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was <sup>w</sup>like unto a leopard, and his feet were as <sup>the feet of</sup> <sup>a</sup>a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of <sup>a</sup>a lion: and <sup>2</sup>the dragon gave him his power, and <sup>a</sup>his throne, and great authority. 3 And I saw one of his heads as though it had been <sup>4</sup>smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and <sup>b</sup>the whole earth wondered after the beast; 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, <sup>c</sup>Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? 5 and there was given to him <sup>d</sup>a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority <sup>e</sup>to continue <sup>f</sup>forty and two months. 6 And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, even them that <sup>d</sup>dwell in the heaven. 7 <sup>6</sup>And it was given unto him <sup>f</sup>to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all <sup>g</sup>that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been <sup>7</sup>written in <sup>h</sup>the book of life of <sup>i</sup>the Lamb <sup>j</sup>that hath been slain from the foundation of the world. 9 <sup>k</sup>If any man hath an ear, let him hear. 10 <sup>8</sup>If any man <sup>9</sup>is for captivity, into captivity he goeth: <sup>m</sup>if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. <sup>n</sup>Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And <sup>o</sup>I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. 12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, <sup>p</sup>whose death-stroke was healed. 13 And <sup>q</sup>he doeth great signs, that he should even <sup>r</sup>make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. 14 And <sup>s</sup>he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the judgement is come: and <sup>u</sup>worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and <sup>v</sup>fountains of waters.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man <sup>a</sup>worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth <sup>b</sup>a mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, <sup>c</sup>he also shall drink <sup>d</sup>of the wine of the wrath of God, <sup>e</sup>which is <sup>f</sup>prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and <sup>g</sup>he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: 11 and <sup>h</sup>the smoke of their torment goeth up <sup>i</sup>for ever and ever; and <sup>j</sup>they have no rest day and night, they that <sup>k</sup>worship the beast and his image, and whoso receiveth the mark of his name. 12 <sup>h</sup>Here is the patience of the saints, they that <sup>i</sup>keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud <sup>o</sup>I saw one sitting <sup>p</sup>like unto <sup>q</sup>a son of man, <sup>r</sup>having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. 15 And another angel <sup>s</sup>came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud, <sup>t</sup>Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come; for <sup>u</sup>the harvest of the earth is <sup>v</sup>over-ripe. 16 And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. 18 And another angel came out from the altar, <sup>g</sup>he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; <sup>18</sup>for her grapes are fully ripe. <sup>19</sup>And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress, of the wrath of God. <sup>20</sup>And the winepress was trodden without the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

I And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

<sup>2</sup>And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing by the glassy sea, having harps of God. <sup>3</sup>And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the ages. <sup>4</sup>Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

<sup>5</sup>And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: <sup>6</sup>and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with golden girdles. <sup>7</sup>And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever. <sup>8</sup>And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

<sup>2</sup>And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

<sup>3</sup>And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

<sup>4</sup>And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the waters; and it became blood. <sup>5</sup>And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous art thou, which art and which wast, thou Holy One, because thou didst thus judge: <sup>6</sup>for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: they are worthy. <sup>7</sup>And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

<sup>8</sup>And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto it to scorch men with fire. <sup>9</sup>And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

<sup>10</sup>And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.

<sup>12</sup>And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrising. <sup>13</sup>And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as it were frogs: 14 for they are <sup>g</sup>spirits of <sup>1</sup>devils, <sup>h</sup>working signs; which go forth <sup>2</sup>unto the kings of the whole <sup>3</sup>world, <sup>4</sup>to gather them together unto the war of <sup>j</sup>the great day of God, the Almighty. 15 (Behold, <sup>k</sup>I come as a thief. <sup>l</sup>Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, <sup>m</sup>lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.) 16 And <sup>n</sup>they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-<sup>o</sup>Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon <sup>p</sup>the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, <sup>q</sup>It is done: 18 and there were <sup>r</sup>lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and <sup>s</sup>there was a great earthquake, <sup>t</sup>such as was not since <sup>u</sup>there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And <sup>v</sup>the great city <sup>w</sup>was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and <sup>x</sup>Babylon the great <sup>y</sup>was remembered in the sight of God, <sup>z</sup>to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 And <sup>aa</sup>every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And <sup>ab</sup>a great hail, <sup>ac</sup>every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and <sup>ad</sup>men blasphemed God because of <sup>ae</sup>the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

1 And there came <sup>af</sup>one of the seven angels that had <sup>ag</sup>the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of <sup>ah</sup>the great harlot <sup>ai</sup>that sitteth upon many waters; <sup>aj</sup>2 <sup>ak</sup>with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and <sup>al</sup>they that dwell in the earth <sup>am</sup>were made drunken with the wine of her fornication. 3 And <sup>an</sup>he carried me away in the Spirit <sup>ao</sup>into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon <sup>ap</sup>a scarlet-coloured beast, <sup>aq</sup>full of <sup>ar</sup>names of blasphemy, <sup>as</sup>having seven heads and ten horns. 4 And the woman <sup>at</sup>was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and <sup>au</sup>decked <sup>av</sup>with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand <sup>aw</sup>a golden cup full of abominations, <sup>ax</sup>even the unclean things of her fornication, 5 and upon her forehead a name written, <sup>ay</sup>MYSTERY, <sup>az</sup>BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. 6 And I saw the woman drunken <sup>ba</sup>with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of <sup>bb</sup>the <sup>bc</sup>martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. 7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee <sup>bd</sup>the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 8 The beast that thou sawest <sup>be</sup>was, and is not; and <sup>bf</sup>is about to come up out of <sup>bg</sup>the abyss, <sup>bh</sup>and <sup>bi</sup>to go into perdition. And <sup>bj</sup>they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, <sup>bk</sup>they whose name hath not been written <sup>bl</sup>in <sup>bm</sup>the book of life <sup>bn</sup>from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that <sup>bo</sup>he was, and is not, and <sup>bp</sup>shall come. 9 <sup>bq</sup>Here is the <sup>br</sup>mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: 10 and <sup>bs</sup>they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little while. 11 And the beast <sup>bt</sup>that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. 12 And <sup>bu</sup>the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, with the beast, <sup>bv</sup>for one hour. 13 These have one mind, and they give their power and authority unto the beast. 14 These <sup>bw</sup>shall war against the Lamb, and <sup>bx</sup>the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is <sup>by</sup>Lord of lords, and <sup>bz</sup>King of kings; and they <sup>ca</sup>also shall overcome that are with him, <sup>cb</sup>called and chosen and faithful. 15 And he saith unto me, <sup>cc</sup>The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. 16 And <sup>cd</sup>the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, <sup>ce</sup>these shall hate the harlot, and <sup>cf</sup>shall make her <sup>cg</sup>desolate and <sup>ch</sup>naked, and <sup>ci</sup>shall eat her flesh, and <sup>cj</sup>shall burn her utterly with fire.

17 For <sup>2</sup>God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and <sup>1</sup>to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom thou sawest is <sup>11</sup>the great city, which <sup>1</sup>reigneth over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw <sup>1</sup>another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and <sup>11</sup>the earth was lightened with his glory. 2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, <sup>2</sup>Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become <sup>2</sup>a habitation of <sup>2</sup>devils, and a <sup>3</sup>hold <sup>2</sup>of every unclean spirit, and a <sup>3</sup>hold <sup>2</sup>of every unclean and hateful bird. 3 For <sup>4</sup>by <sup>5</sup>the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and <sup>2</sup>the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and <sup>4</sup>the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her <sup>6</sup>wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, <sup>2</sup>Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues: 5 for <sup>7</sup>her sins <sup>7</sup>have reached even unto heaven, and <sup>2</sup>God hath remembered her iniquities. 6 <sup>2</sup>Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her <sup>2</sup>the double according to her works: <sup>2</sup>in the cup which she mingled, mingle unto her double. 7 <sup>2</sup>How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed <sup>8</sup>wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, <sup>1</sup>I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in no wise see mourning. 8 Therefore <sup>11</sup>in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and <sup>2</sup>she shall be utterly burned with fire; for <sup>2</sup>strong is <sup>2</sup>the Lord God which judged her. 9 And <sup>2</sup>the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived <sup>10</sup>wantonly with her, <sup>2</sup>shall weep and wail over her; <sup>2</sup>when they look upon the smoke of her burning, <sup>10</sup>standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, <sup>2</sup>the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for <sup>2</sup>in one hour is thy judgement come. 11 And <sup>2</sup>the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their <sup>11</sup>merchandise any more; <sup>12</sup>merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; <sup>13</sup>and cinnamon, and <sup>12</sup>spice, and incense, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep; and <sup>2</sup>merchandise of horses and chariots and <sup>13</sup>slaves; and <sup>14</sup>souls of men. 14 And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and <sup>2</sup>men shall find them no more at all. 15 <sup>2</sup>The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, <sup>2</sup>shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; 16 saying, Woe, woe, the great city, <sup>2</sup>she that was arrayed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and <sup>15</sup>decked with gold and precious stone and pearl! 17 for <sup>2</sup>in one hour so great riches <sup>2</sup>is made desolate. And <sup>2</sup>every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as <sup>16</sup>gain their living by sea, stood afar off, 18 and <sup>2</sup>cried out <sup>2</sup>as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, <sup>2</sup>What <sup>2</sup>city is like the great city? 19 And they cast <sup>2</sup>dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, <sup>2</sup>wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for <sup>2</sup>in one hour is she made desolate. 20 <sup>2</sup>Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and <sup>2</sup>ye apostles, and ye prophets; for <sup>2</sup>God hath judged your judgement on her.

thou do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren that hold <sup>2</sup>the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. 2 And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. 5 The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. 6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the second death hath no power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. 9 And they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down out of heaven, and devoured them. 10 And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. 12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. 13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. 14 And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. 15 And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. 2 And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God: 4 and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. 5 And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, Write: for these words are faithful and true. 6 And he said unto me, They are come to pass. 7 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. 8 I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. 9 He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. 10 But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake that
